When Northland Community and Technical College announced it would field a golf program this fall, it was designed for both men and women. But no women reported for the sport – until the end, that is.

Heather Gustafson and Jessica Johnson, a pair of sophomores from Warroad, represented Northland in the women's portion of the combined Minnesota Community College Conference state and National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 tournament Monday and Tuesday at Mankato. It was the first meet of the year for both.

Gustafson had rounds of 114-108 for a two-day ninth place 222. Johnson went 124-118 for a 15th place 242.

Bismarck (ND) State College won the team title. Meet medalist was Jandra Fromm of Rochester with a 93-86–179.

TRF wins 6-1 match

Thief River Falls girls closed out a 12-4 dual meet regular season Thursday with a 6-1 win over Detroit Lakes. The rescheduled match, played at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre, was a make-up from a Sept. 4 weather-forced postponement.

The Tennis Centre will be the site of the 1999 North Sub-Section 8AA tournament, which features team play Wednesday and individual competition Thursday.

TRF 6, Detroit Lakes 1

Singles - 1. Heather Hanson (TRF) def. Lori Hegg 6-3, 6-4; 2. Kris Omberg (DL) def. Jenny Kimball 6-0, 6-4; 3. Heidi Young (TRF) def. Emily Lindquist 6-3, 6-4; 4. Eryn Clow (TRF) def. Liz Shanor 6-0, 6-0.

Doubles - 1. Jenni Gonsorowski-Beth Padilla (TRF) def. Patty Frankborg-Brittany Radke 6-0, 6-2; 2. Karen Christensen-Dede Dally (TRF) def. Amber Buckley-Tonya Torgerson 6-1, 6-0; 3. Stacia Kalinoski-Maggie Stock (TRF) def. Nicole Meier-Lisa Honiges 6-4, 6-3.

Detroit Lakes picks up 3-1 volleyball win over Prowlers on Thursday

Detroit Lakes was a 3-1 winner over host Thief River Falls Thursday in high school volleyball.

The Prowlers started with a lead every game, but the Lakers prevailed 15-11, 15-8, 11-15, 15-10.

"It's not that we played bad, but Detroit Lakes did an excellent job blocking us," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "We had a difficult time getting around their blocks."

Rachel Mathson had 20 kills and Ayla Donlin finished with 34 assists for the 11-10-1 Prowlers.

Thief River Falls will play at Fergus Falls Tuesday and will host Fosston Thursday. Only other match left on the Prowlers' 1999 regular season schedule will be a Tuesday, Oct. 19, contest at home against Roseau.

Late score lifts Moorhead sophomores by TRF 28-21

Moorhead scored the go-ahead touchdown with 1:12 remaining Thursday to edge Thief River Falls 28-21 in sophomore high school football.

The winners led 14-13 at halftime.

Thief River Falls touchdowns came on a 54-yard run by Jon Swanson, a 3-yard run by Dan Almquist and a 5-yard pass from Robbie Anderson to Jason Smsky. Russell Anderson had a conversion kick and Swanson tacked on a conversion run.

MIDDLE SCHOOL

Three Tuesday matches against Crookston produced three wins for the Franklin Middle School eighth grade volleyball program – 15-11, 15-5, 15-6 in the A match; 15-8, 15-6, 12-15 in the B1 match; and 15-12, 15-12, 15-9 in the B2 match.

Thursday, East Grand Forks swept Thief River Falls, winning the A match 15-13, 10-15, 15-8, the B1 match 7-15, 15-8, 15-6; and the B2 match 14-16, 15-8, 15-3.

TRF freshmen lose 36-0 contest against Bemidji

Bemidji handed Thief River Falls a 36-0 loss Monday in freshman high school football, a setback that dropped the Prowlers to 0-7 for the year.

AUCTION
[illegible]. OCT. 16, 1999 ☆ 10:00
155 GEMMEL AVENUE
BEMIDJI, MN

DIRECTIONS: From South Shore Dairy Queen on Paul Bunyan Drive, Take Cross Street South One Block, Then Straight Ahead on Gemmel Ave. (Old Mill Park).

AUCTIONEER'S NOTE Elmer and Elma operated a custom harvesting business from Minnesota to Texas. Elmer did all his own repairs so there is an unbelievable amount of power tools and hand tools on this auction. The collector autos and most everything else have been well cared for!

Pennington County says it won't pay

Pennington County Board of Commissioners told SwisPennCo Tuesday that it won't pay a fine or participate in a supplemental environmental project to reduce a fine SwisPennCo. incurred between 1998 and 1999.

Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA) fined SwisPennCo (Swis) $30,000 for violations that occurred between 1998 and 1999. Howard Person, solid waste officer for Pennington County, explained that Swis asked the county to pay $20,000 of the fine if Swis kicked in $10,000. Person said the county board decided it needed to begin to protecting its interests and said "No".

Kevin Johnson, an attorney for Swis said actually, the MPCA asked Pennington county to participate in a supplemental environmental project that would take the place of $20,000 of the penalty. When MPCA made that suggestion, Swis offered to come up with $10,000 in cash to cover the penalty remaining. Exactly what the supplemental environmental project was, was never determined, but wouldn't involve any outlay of cash, just employee in-kind work.

Rick Nordhagen of Swis said Pennington county was not asked to pay the fine for Swis and emphasized that Swis will honor its contract with the county.

Johnson said because the county turned down the MPCA proposal, Swis will now present a counter proposal to MPCA. Johnson said he's optimistic Swis and MPCA can resolve its differences.

Pennington County and Swis are co-permittees of the solid waste facility operated by Swis. The facility acts as a transfer station for some garbage, but also performs composting, recycling and the manufacture of fuel pellets. Although the contract between the county and Swis states that all fines incurred by Swis will be paid by Swis, the MPCA says that as a co-permittee, Pennington county is responsible to pay the fine if Swis cannot. Swis is reportedly claiming financial inability to pay the fine. Person said MPCA wants a counter offer by October 18 or they go to court.

Person said when the county and Swis entered into a contract a few years ago, the county decided to bring Swis in on the county's permit because it takes at least a year and roughly $20,000 to obtain a permit. It was a matter of expediency, he said. Now the county is reviewing its decision and will decide whether to split the permit in the near future to reduce its liability exposure.

The fine against Swis stems from handling of compost and operation of their building. At the time, the county gave $150,000 to Swis to help with the clean-up costs. Person said Swis spent at least as much of its own money cleaning up the mess.

Person said Swis has been passing the monthly inspections conducted by MPCA since then, which was also emphasized by Johnson.

As a result of the discussion Tuesday, the county is in the process of withdrawing its financial assurance to the Grand Forks Landfill where Swis delivers garbage. A financial assurance says that the county would pay the tipping fees if Swis couldn't. Withdrawing its financial assurance means that Swis will have to provide its own finan-

Mentor - The Mentor School Board recently resolved to divide Mentor School District 604 equitably between Win-E-Mac School District 2609 and Fertile School District 599 as part of a consolidation process.

A letter of request for the proposed consolidation was presented to the Polk County Board of Commissioners and upon its approval, the letter was dispatched to the Department of Children, Families and Learning for final approval.

It was noted in the letter that the reason for the proposed consolidation is the steadily declining and low enrollment in School District 604. The current border proposed by Polk County Auditor, Jerry Amiot would direct the 34 elementary students, who are currently attending school in Mentor to Win-E-Mac School for the year 2000-2001. The Thirteen Towns

Terry Paul promotes Special Olympics as Global Messenger

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Terry Paul is a man who's found [illegible] enjoys public speaking and sharing what he knows and feels about a program that's very important to him.

Last year, Terry was one of nine Minnesota Special Olympic athletes selected to participate in a Global Messenger workshop in Minneapolis. The three-day event provided training on the skills necessary to speak about Special Olympics to civic groups, families and other organizations.

At the workshop, Terry learned about the key components of a speech and a variety of other important aspects that lead to an effective presentation. He and the other athletes also discussed their disabilities and had to become comfortable in telling people about their handicap. Terry is a 51 year old man who has Downs Syndrome.

[illegible] Terry has spent the year sharing his public speaking skills and his enthusiasm for Special Olympics with various organizations including the Kiwanis, Lioness and Women of Today. He has also spoken at the Occupational Development Center, Minnesota Summer Special Olympics and numerous area meets. In addition, Terry made an appearance on KTRF Radio's Coffee Time program.

Terry's efforts have resulted in nine new members for the Thief River Falls Community Special Olympics team as well as a number of financial donations for the program.

His undertakings have brought him personal recognition, also. In 1999, Terry was selected as the Women of Today's Outstanding Person with Developmental Disabilities for this region. He received an engraved plaque and had the opportunity to attend the organization's state convention in May.

For Terry, the best parts of the speaking engagements, travel and recognition have been his chances to meet scores of new people and make many new friends.

One of those people was Governor Jesse Ventura. Shaking the Governor's hand, Terry told him, "Lyle Hanson wants you to come to Thief Rives Falls!", and while Governor Ventura replied, "Okay," Terry says, "We're still waiting."

Lyle Hanson is the owner of Hanson's Boarding Home where he has made his home since, Terry

Opinions differ on farm relief bill among Minnesota delegation

■ Grams approves, but Peterson wants to see it vetoed

United States Senate has approved $8.7 billion in emergency relief to farmers — an estimated $500 million of which will be targeted directly to Minnesota farmers.

While the package was not perfect, U.S. Senator Rod Grams called it "an immediate, solid first step in addressing the problems that farmers face."

Congressman Collin Peterson had a different take on the legislation. Collin C. Peterson (DFL, 7th district) voted against the Agriculture Appropriations Conference Report, which passed the House by a vote of 240 to 175.

"This bill was basically removed from the normal process by the Republican leadership and rewritten without any input from the membership. They 'hijacked' the bill from the committee members and shut us out of the process," Peterson said.

"Spending $7.4 billion on market transition payments under 'Freedom to Farm' is not going to make our situation much better. There will be additional payments going out, but they won't be targeted to the people who have the greatest need for assistance."

"As far as I'm concerned, northwestern Minnesota farmers were totally ignored in this process. The Republican leadership refused to consider our amendments for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) or for multi-year disaster payments. The bill only adds another $1.2 billion for weather related losses, and that is clearly not enough."

Peterson said he was going to ask the President to veto the legislation.

Grams said he achieved a major victory in the legislation by blocking an extension of additional dairy compacts, similar to the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact, throughout the rest of the country. Grams said, "Despite being significantly outnumbered, I had numerous discussions with my colleagues and asked for fairness in our nation's dairy policy. The good news for dairy producers is that our basic appeals to fairness won out over regional politics." While the Congress was poised to allow the

Meetings planned in region to discuss World Trade Organization

World Trade Organization information meetings have been scheduled in Mahnomen, Erskine and Thief River Falls.

Did you know that the World Trade Organization (WTO) can determine domestic farm policy; that while the U.S. has abandoned its price support system, other countries keep high tariffs and subsidies; and that food produced with chemicals that are banned in the U.S. cannot be restricted from this country?

Organizers of the informational meetings are asking the public to join the fight to save rural communities. Representatives at the meeting will include Congressman Collin Peterson, and representatives from the Institute for Agriculture and Trade Policy, Minnesota Fair Trade Coalition, and Minnesota Farmers Union.

The meetings will be held at the following communities, dates and times: Mahnomen at the Red Apple Cafe on Friday, October 15, at 7 p.m.; Erskine Ness Cafe on Saturday, October 16, at 9 a.m.; and Thief River Falls, Northland Community and Technical College, on Saturday, October 16, at 1 p.m.

For more information contact Lori Bergland Olson at 218-681-1877; or "Buck" Jones at 218-687-2618.

Terry Paul is a busy man, speaking to organizations and groups about Special Olympics as one the program's Global Messengers. He also speaks at numerous Special Olympic events, and on Thursday traveled to Roseau where he welcomed participants and gave the invocation at a wheelchair event. As a Global Messenger, Terry has had the opportunity to meet scores of new people, including Governor Jesse Ventura.

Johnson said because the county turned down the MPCA proposal, Swis will now present a counter proposal to MPCA. Johnson said he's optimistic Swis and MPCA can resolve its differences.

Pennington County and Swis are co-permitters of the solid waste facility operated by Swis. The facility acts as a transfer station for some garbage, but also performs composting, recycling and the manufacture of fuel pellets. Although the contract between the county and Swis states that all fines incurred by Swis will be paid by Swis, the MPCA says that as a co-permittee, Pennington county is responsible to pay the fine if Swis cannot. Swis is reportedly claiming financial inability to pay the fine. Person said MPCA wants a counter offer by October 18 or they go to court.

Person said when the county and Swis entered into a contract a few years ago, the county decided to bring Swis in on the county's permit because it takes at least a year and roughly $20,000 to obtain a permit. It was a matter of expediency, he said. Now the county is reviewing its decision and will decide whether to split the permit in the near future to reduce its liability exposure.

The fine against Swis stems from handling of compost and operation of their building. At the time, the county gave $150,000 to Swis to help with the clean-up costs. Person said Swis spent at least as much of its own money cleaning up the mess.

Person said Swis has been passing the monthly inspections conducted by MPCA since then, which was also emphasized by Johnson.

As a result of the discussion Tuesday, the county is in the process of withdrawing its financial assurance to the Grand Forks Landfill where Swis delivers garbage. A financial assurance says that the county would pay the tipping fees if Swis couldn't. Withdrawing its financial assurance means that Swis will have to provide its own finan-

Mentor - The Mentor School Board recently resolved to divide Mentor School District 604 equitably between Win-E-Mac School District 2609 and Fertile School District 599 as part of a consolidation process.

A letter of request for the proposed consolidation was presented to the Polk County Board of Commissioners, and upon its approval, the letter was dispatched to the Department of Children, Families and Learning for final approval.

It was noted in the letter that the reason for the proposed consolidation is the steadily declining and low enrollment in School District 604. The current border proposed by Polk County Auditor Jerry Amiot would direct the 34 elementary students, who are currently attending school in Mentor, to Win-E-Mac School for the year 2000-2001. The Thirteen Towns

Sundberg brothers lucky baseball fans

Grygla - When Ben and Erick Sundberg entered a contest for an autographed baseball from the Minnesota Twins, they knew their names would be among thousands, and while they hoped to win, they didn't really expect it.

Ben, a sixth grader at Grygla school, heard the announcement declaring him a winner while watching a Twins game in August, and he was excited when his baseball arrived in the mail.

The family was surprised to hear the Sundberg name mentioned in a September game, this time announcing that Erick, a fourth grade student, was a winner.

Ben and Erick are the sons of Lee and Kandy Sundberg. The Grygla Eagle

L/W teacher wins national award

Baudette - Mark Nohner, Lake of the Woods junior high teacher, was presented with a $25,000 Milken Educator award recently in the school's auditorium.

The award was a total surprise to Nohner. He is one of four Minnesota educators who along with 168 other outstanding educators nation wide to receive an unrestricted award of $25,000 from the Milken Foundation. The Northern Light

EGF residents should see decrease in taxes

East Grand Forks - If all goes according to plan, it looks like more residents in East Grand Forks will see a decrease in their taxes, according to City Clerk/Treasurer Dave Mack.

Mack explained at a city council meeting last week that because the school district's levy went down by 16 percent, and the tax base in East Grand Forks has increased, taxes in the community will go down.

There are however, two reasons why there wouldn't be a reduction in taxes. First, Mack said, the state could increase evaluations in property, and secondly, the state classification system could increase taxes. The Exponent

Educators meet in TRF

Over 175 educators from throughout Northwest Minnesota attended the North Star Reading Council Fall Workshop held at Challenger Elementary school on Thursday. The organization promotes literacy and holds a fall workshop every year to provide educators with information on various subjects. Subjects this year included Spanish, Intensive Phonics, Whole Brain Development, Poetry Anthology and much more.

Opinions differ on farm relief bill among Minnesota delegation

■ Grams approves, but Peterson wants to see it vetoed

United States Senate has approved $8.7 billion in emergency relief to farmers — an estimated $500 million of which will be targeted directly to Minnesota farmers.

While the package was not perfect, U.S. Senator Rod Grams called it "an immediate, solid first step in addressing the problems that farmers face."

Congressman Collin Peterson had a different take on the legislation. Collin C. Peterson (DFL, 7th district) voted against the Agriculture Appropriations Conference Report, which passed the House by a vote of 240 to 175.

"This bill was basically removed from the normal process by the Republican leadership and rewritten without any input from the membership. They 'hijacked' the bill from the committee members and shut us out of the process," Peterson said.

"Spending $7.4 billion on market transition payments under 'Freedom to Farm' is not going to make our situation much better. There will be additional payments going out, but they won't be targeted to the people who have the greatest need for assistance."

"As far as I'm concerned, northwestern Minnesota farmers were totally ignored in this process. The Republican leadership refused to consider our amendments for the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) or for multi-year disaster payments. The bill only adds another $1.2 billion for weather related losses, and that is clearly not enough."

Peterson said he was going to ask the President to veto the legislation.

Grams said he achieved a major victory in the legislation by blocking an extension of additional dairy compacts, similar to the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact, throughout the rest of the country, Grams said. "Despite being significantly outnumbered, I had numerous discussions with my colleagues and asked for fairness in our nation's dairy policy. The good news for dairy producers is that our basic appeals to fairness won out over regional politics." While the Congress was poised to allow the

World Trade Organization information meetings have been scheduled in Mahnomen, Erskine and Thief River Falls.

Did you know that the World Trade Organization (WTO) can determine domestic farm policy; that while the U.S. has abandoned its price support system, other countries keep high tariffs and subsidies; and that food produced with chemicals that are banned in the U.S. cannot be restricted from this country?

Organizers of the informational meetings are asking the public to join the fight to save rural communities. Representatives at the meeting will include Congressman Collin Peterson, and representatives from the Institute for Agriculture and Trade Policy, Minnesota Fair Trade Coalition, and Minnesota Farmers Union.

The meetings will be held at the following communities, dates and times: Mahnomen at the Red Apple Cafe on Friday, October 15, at 7 p.m.; Erskine Ness Cafe on Saturday, October 16, at 9 a.m.; and Thief River Falls, Northland Community and Technical College, on Saturday, October 16, at 1 p.m.

Terry Paul promotes Special Olympics as Global Messenger

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Terry Paul is a man who's found his niche. Loving the spotlight, he enjoys public speaking and sharing what he knows and feels about a program that's very important to him.

Last year, Terry was one of nine Minnesota Special Olympic athletes selected to participate in a Global Messenger workshop in Minneapolis. The three-day event provided training in the skills necessary to speak about Special Olympics to civic groups, families and other organizations.

At the workshop, Terry learned about the key components of a speech and a variety of other important aspects that lead to an effective presentation. He and the other athletes also discussed their disabilities and had to become comfortable in telling people about their handicap. Terry is a 51 year old man who has Downs Syndrome.

Returning to Thief River Falls, Terry has spent the year sharing his public speaking skills and his enthusiasm for Special Olympics with various organizations including the Kiwanis, Lioness and Women of Today. He has also spoken at the Occupational Development Center, Minnesota Summer Special Olympics and numerous area meets. In addition, Terry made an appearance on KTRF Radio's Coffee Time Program.

Terry's efforts have resulted in nine new members for the Thief River Falls Community Special Olympics team as well as a number of financial donations for the program.

His undertakings have brought him personal recognition, also. In 1999, Terry was selected as the Women of Today's Outstanding Person" with Developmental Disabilities for this region. He received an engraved plaque and had the opportunity to attend the organization's state convention in May.

For Terry, the best parts of the speaking engagements, travel and recognition have been his chances to meet scores of new people and make many new friends.

One of those people was Governor Jesse Ventura. Shaking the Governor's hand, Terry told him, "Lyle Hanson wants you to come to Thief River Falls!", and while Governor Ventura replied, "Okay." Terry says, "We're still waiting."

Lyle Hanson is the owner of Hanson's Boarding Home where he has made his home since, Terry

Terry Paul is a busy man, speaking to organizations and groups about Special Olympics as one the program's Global Messengers. He also speaks at numerous Special Olympic events, and on Thursday traveled to Roseau where he welcomed participants and gave the invocation at a wheelchair event. As a Global Messenger, Terry has had the opportunity to meet scores of new people, including Governor Jesse Venture.

Warroad introduces girls varsity hockey

Warroad - Last year the Warroad girls youth hockey program advanced to the state tournaments in their very first season.

This year coach Ron Tveit is putting together a team of varsity players, and although he expects the first few years to be tough, he has a positive outlook.

This year 80 girls, including youth and varsity players, have signed up and are ready and waiting to begin practice November 1.

The home opener on November 20 against the International Falls Broncos will be followed by an additional 21 regular season games. Warroad Pioneer

Pizza, pizza, everyone loves pizza. Today we have a variety of pizza recipes, from breakfast to lunch to dinner to dessert to a special treat. Surely you'll find one to your liking.

Make this delicious pizza with a tasty whole wheat crust – then use the toppings suggested or your own favorites:

WHEAT CRUST PIZZA

Crust:
1 package active dry yeast
1 1/2 cups warm water
2 tablespoons oil
1 1/4 cups whole wheat flour
2 tablespoons sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 3/4 to 2 cups flour

Toppings:
1 (15 ounce) can pizza sauce
1 teaspoon sugar
1/2 cup sliced mushrooms
1/4 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup sliced ripe olives
1/2 pound Italian sausage, cooked and drained
4 ounces Canadian bacon, chopped
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese

In bowl, dissolve yeast in water. Add oil.

Combine wheat flour, sugar and salt and add to yeast mixture. Stir until smooth. Stir in enough regular flour to form a soft dough. Turn onto floured surface and knead smooth and elastic, 6-8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning once to grease top. Cover and let rise in warm place for 15-20 minutes.

Punch down dough. Pat onto bottom and up sides of greased 14 inch pizza pan.

Combine pizza sauce and sugar and spread over crust. Sprinkle with mushrooms, onion and olives. Layer with sausage, bacon and cheese.

Bake at 350 degrees for 25-30 minutes or until crust is golden and cheese is melted.

Try this hearty pizza this weekend – it has a new twist - pickles:

BACON CHEESEBURGER PIZZA

1/2 pound ground beef
1 small onion, chopped
1 Italian bread shell pizza crust (1 pound)
1 (8 ounce) can pizza sauce
6 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
20 dill pickle slices
2 cups shredded mozzarella cheese
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese
1 teaspoon pizza or Italian seasoning

In skillet, cook beef and onion until meat is done. Drain and set aside.

Place crust on ungreased 12 inch pizza pan. Spread with pizza sauce, then top with beef mixture, bacon, pickles and cheese. Sprinkle with pizza seasoning.

Bake at 450 degrees for 8-10 minutes or until cheese is melted.

Here's a pizza you can serve for dessert:

CREAMY CHERRY PIZZA

Crust:
1 cup flour
1/8 teaspoon baking powder
1/4 cup cold butter
2 tablespoons shortening
3-4 tablespoons water

Center Layer:
1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1/2 cup sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/3 cup chopped pecans or almonds

Topping:
2 1/2 cups fresh or frozen tart pitted cherries (or 1 15 ounce can tart cherries)
1/3 cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon butter
1/8 teaspoon almond extract
1/8 teaspoon red food color

In bowl, combine flour and baking powder. Cut in butter and shortening until mixture resembles coarse crumbs. Gradually add water, tossing with fork until dough forms a ball.

Roll out to 14 inch circle and place on ungreased 12 inch pizza pan. Flute edges to form a rim and prick bottom of crust. Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.

In bowl, beat cream cheese and sugar until smooth. Beat in eggs and vanilla. Stir in nuts. Spread over crust. Bake 10 minutes more. Cool.

Drain cherries, reserving 1/3 cup juice. Set aside cherries and juice.

In saucepan, combine sugar and cornstarch. Stir in reserved juice until smooth. Add cherries. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cook and stir 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat and stir in butter, almond and food color. Cool to room temperature and spread over cream cheese layer.

Serve with whipped cream, if desired.

Use frozen dinner roll dough to make these delicious breakfast treats – use sausage instead of bacon and add your own favorites like a dash of onion and/or green pepper and/or mushrooms for a different breakfast taste:

SUNRISE PIZZAS

8-10 eggs
3 tablespoons milk
Salt and pepper to taste
1 tablespoon butter
10 frozen white dinner rolls, thawed
10 bacon strips, cooked and crumbled
2 cups shredded cheddar cheese

In bowl, beat eggs. Add milk, salt and pepper.

Melt butter in skillet and add egg mixture. Cook and stir over medium heat until eggs are set. Set aside.

Roll each dinner roll into a 5 inch circle. Place on greased baking sheets.

Spoon egg mixture evenly over crusts, sprinkle with bacon and then with cheese.

Bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes or until cheese is melted.

Use this fancy pizza dish as an appetizer before a meal or as a special munching treat for the family some evening:

VEGGIE PIZZA

2 packages crescent rolls
1/3 cup Miracle Whip
1/2 teaspoon minced onion flakes
Assorted vegetables
1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon dill weed
Cheddar cheese

Spread crescent rolls out flat in a jelly roll pan. Bake 10 minutes at 400 degrees.

Blend cream cheese, Miracle Whip, dill weed and onion. Spread on cooled crust.

Top with any or all of the following: radishes, green peppers, green onions, ripe olives, tomatoes, cauliflower, broccoli, celery, carrots, mushrooms. Sprinkle with cheddar cheese.

Cut into small squares for appetizers.

A Personal Note

My office at Vista Optical is my personal optometry practice, which means I work both independently and in harmony with the store. Please contact my office at (218) 681-5606 with any concerns you might have. Since this is my full-time practice, it is important to me that your vision needs be met and we have a continuing relationship over many years.

The most important thing you can do to preserve your eyesight is to visit your optometrist for regular checkups. Like the rest of your body, your eyes will change gradually as you age. However, unlike the rest of your body, your eyes rarely hurt if something is wrong. I will advise you when it's time to be re-examined.

See You Soon

Living with "foot in mouth" disease

by David Hill
Editor

I am constantly amazed by the need to bare one's sole to the press and either claim they have never used drugs or had an illicit affair, or claim to have done it all. It must be some of a deep subconscious desire to be punished.

Unless the candidate is still pursuing those activities or failed to learn a lesson from those activities, I also fail to see the relevance.

Some would obviously disagree arguing that such affairs or lack of will power, reflect poorly on a person's leadership abilities.

Frankly, I would rather hear about the candidates proposals for tax relief/reform, education, law enforcement, and welfare. I believe how our tax dollars are spent is a much more significant issue when compared to whether a candidate inhaled or not. Focusing on candidate's freewheelin' past or peccadillos, takes the focus off much more important issues.

If whether they were being truthful was a real issue, I believe there would be very few people in elected office. Yes, I am very cynical and tend to take everything a politician says with a grain of salt. So, why do candidates keep opening their mouths and inserting their feet? There are plenty of examples — Bill Clinton, Newt Gingrich and more recently George W. Bush. Although, to be quite honest, there was never any evidence brought forth, no Gennifer Flowers or Paula Jones holding press conferences, making serious allegations of wrongdoing in the George W. Bush story. The media was reporting only rumors, a much greater sin.

Rumors aside, if it weren't for the fact that I haven't seen a candidate yet who could gracefully back away from a question about drugs or an alleged affair, I would almost believe they opened their mouth on purpose. Their mistakes make good copy, and as the saying goes, "there's no such thing as bad press." Evidence the fact that stories about George W. Bush have almost disappeared. Such incidents beg the question, "if it was true and you wanted to keep it a secret, why did you say anything in the first place?"

Unfortunately incidents like these are regularly declared as evidence of a moral decline in the United States, and a harbinger of the fall of an empire.

This "evidence of a moral decline" is another invention of media and an element of the public interested in the sordid affairs of the rich and powerful. These hypocrites, journalists included, are equally to blame for creating a perception that will certainly color the history of a generation, and assign its triumphs to footnotes in an appendix. It will be interesting to watch just how far these witch hunts go, but it will be awful watching a generation trying to dig it's way out of a very deep hole.

Speaking of "foot in mouth disease": Suicide is a disease

by David Hill
Editor

The one individual journalists and editorial cartoonists can count on to provide fodder for criticism is Minnesota Governor Jesse Ventura. By his words and deeds he has focused a lot of attention on Minnesota, not all of it good. Sometimes, as in this case, his errors can focus attention on important subjects, like suicide.

In the Playboy article receiving a great deal of attention lately, Ventura is reported to have said he had "no respect for anyone who would kill himself." He further added that it makes no sense because if someone is at the point of considering suicide, "it can only get better."

Unfortunately, his views on suicide are similar to many people. According to a survey by the National Institutes of Mental Health, there is a "massive reservoir of ignorance" about these brain diseases, with 71 percent of people believing that a depressive brain disease is an emotional weakness and 45 percent believing a brain disease is an individual's choice that can be willed away. Only 10 percent of those surveyed knew that depressive brain diseases can be successfully treated with medication, psychotherapy, or a combination of the two.

According to Suicide Awareness Voices of Education (SA\VE), a Minnesota based non-profit organization, dedicated to educating people about suicide, most of the time people who kill themselves are very sick with depression or one of the other types of depressive illnesses which occur when the chemicals in a person's brain get out of balance or become disrupted in some way. Their disease prevents them from being able to look forward to anything. They can only think about Now and have lost the ability to imagine into the future. Many times they don't realize they are suffering from a treatable illness or they feel they can't be helped.

Ignorance needs to be tackled, and the stigma destigmatized. Of the many millions of Americans who suffer from depression in any given year, 80 percent can be effectively treated, but only 30 percent seek help and of that number, slightly more than half are accurately diagnosed and receive appropriate treatment. How serious is suicide? Every year, 500 Minnesotans die of suicide, and 30,000 suicide deaths occur nationally. Many avoid treatment because of ignorance.

If you know a person is contemplating suicide, that person urgently needs to see a doctor or psychiatrist. Don't ignore the symptoms. Don't think depression can go away on its own.

If you would like to know more about suicide and SA\VE write to SA\VE at P.O. Box 24507, Minneapolis, MN 55424-0507; or call (612) 946-7998. They can also be reached at www.save.org.

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

NW Medical Center offers quality mammograms

Northwest Medical Center and the American Cancer Society would like to remind everyone that October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month. Northwest Medical Center has been providing quality mammograms for the area for over 30 years. With its state-of-the-art equipment, and highly-skilled radiologic technologists, it would be pleased to supply this service to all who need mammograms.

Recent changes now allow Northwest Medical Center to accept self-referrals for mammography. This means that if you are planning to have a physical you may now come to Northwest Medical Center and have your mammogram before your physical and have the data available at the time that you see your physician. This is a change in procedure and allows patients to refer themselves for mammography without a doctor's consent. If you have a regular doctor, the report can be directed to him to keep your file current. If you do not have a regular physician and would need assistance in locating one, Northwest Medical Center would be happy to assist you in that task.

Medicare and most insurance companies will cover the cost of annual mammography. If there is a question, you should check with your insurance company to be sure that they do cover the cost of this procedure. If you are a patient who is non-symptomatic and not covered by insurance, you may request a screening mammogram at Northwest Medical Center. This screening mammogram is a service offered by Northwest Medical Center to help those who are underinsured so that they can afford to get an annual mammogram. The cost of the screening mammogram is $55. The $55 must be paid at the time of registration. If you wish your insurance company to process your claim you may inform the staff when you are registered and they would be happy to direct the billing to your insurance company.

In 1999 there is expected to be 180,000 new cases of the disease identified. The best protection is early diagnosis. Annual mammograms for patients 40 years and older are a very important first step in controlling this dreaded disease. Remember, an annual check-up with your physician as well as good eating habits, exercise and self-examination will go a long way in keeping you healthy and happy.

To arrange for your annual mammogram, call Northwest Medical Center at 218-683-4477. This number will put you in touch with the x-ray department and they can answer your questions as well as set up an appointment for you. This service is available to the community Monday through Friday 8 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

cial assurance.

Person said again that the county was protecting its interests. If, for example, Swis did pay the MPCA fine it is at least conceivable that they wouldn't be able to pay its tipping fees at the Grand Forks Landfill.

Swis has never defaulted on a payment at the Grand Forks Landfill. Person estimated that Swis pays about $30,000 per month to the landfill.

Tipping fees at Swis are expected to increase. Person said they could be as high as $63 per ton. Currently, they are at $58.50 per ton. According to the contract between the county and Swis, the tipping fee can increase by as much as the increase in the consumer price index.

The contract also requires the county to fulfill obligations. Person explained that the county is required under the contract to supply a minimum of 8,000 tons of solid waste per year to Swis. Since the violations, the volume of garbage being taken to Swis has dropped by roughly 60 percent, according to Person. At one time Swis was receiving garbage from Pennington, Hubbard and Itasca counties, and White Earth Reservation, and Red Lake Reservation. That amounted to about 25,000 tons of garbage per year. Currently they are receiving garbage from Pennington county and Red Lake Reservation, which amounts to about 10,000 tons of garbage per year.

Under the terms of the contract, if Swis does not receive 8,000 tons of solid waste per year, the county could end up subsidizing Swis anyway.

Because of the past violations, the MPCA is requiring that Swis meet the requirements and duties listed in a stipulation agreement before it grants a permit to operate. The issue regarding who will pay the fine has put the stipulation agreement negotiations on hold. If the MPCA does not receive an answer by the 18th, Person believes it's likely that MPCA will take the issue to court. In court, a judge will determine whether the fines are reasonable and who should pay.

Person said the county has had some other concerns which could end up in arbitration, per their contractual agreement. He said the county has had some concerns regarding maintenance, recycling quotas, and sanitation issues. He feels the concerns regarding maintenance and repair of equipment have been resolved in the stipulation agreement, but Swis has stopped making fuel pellets, and has made no promises about supporting recycling demands and requirements.

In essence, Person said, the action taken Tuesday by the county is telling Swis that it's time for Swis to make the facility work properly or call it quits. The county is not going to pay the fine or subsidize them any more. They'll have to follow the stipulations of the contract.

Also Tuesday, the City of Thief River Falls adopted a resolution supporting the county's position not to pay Swis' fine.

says, "September 7, 1977."

Sharing a comfortable room with another resident, Terry's space is filled with family photographs and mementos, including a very special lap quilt that his sister made for him. The fence rail pattern is pieced from fabric from garments that belonged to Terry's late mother. One of Terry's brothers, who obviously knows him well, made a name plate for his desk which includes his name and the apt title, "Director of Public Relations." Terry's desk also includes the typewriter that he uses to write many of his speeches.

Terry was born in Mahnomen, the youngest and, according to him, "spoiledest" of seven children. He attended St. Michael's School and Mahnomen Public Schools, and prior to coming to Thief River Falls spent time in Duluth, Perham and Brainerd. He enjoys the company of his surviving siblings and recently flew to Seattle with a brother and sister to attend a family reunion.

One of Terry's favorite people is Jody Vigness, the program director at Hanson's Boarding Home. Jody is the one who recognized Terry's potential and nominated him for the Global Messenger program. She also helps him write his speeches and accompanies him to events.

Jody points out that during the 16 years she has worked at the home, there have only been two changes in the facility's 15 resident, a fact which accounts for the strong feelings of family which exist there.

One of the highlights of the year at Hanson's Boarding Home is a group vacation to Adventure North, a resort near Walker that features a lodge large enough to accommodate the entire family of residents and staff. Jody says that Terry can be counted on to gather everyone together to welcome them.

While Terry enjoys public speaking so much that he'd prefer to do it on a full-time basis, he has other responsibilities too. At home, he and the other residents pitch in to help with meals and dishes. They also dust their rooms, do their laundry and pack their lunches for work.

Terry has worked at the Occupational Development Center for 22 years, and while he has had several jobs there over the years, he currently packages hardware for Digi-Key, Corp. and does some commercial sewing.

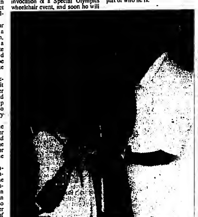
Terry's outgoing nature is complemented by amazing organizational skills and an awareness of the community. He calls all of the birthdays at Hanson's Boarding Home in to the radio station and is a big fan of "Big Red" on KTRF. He also espressed his appreciation to former Times editor Marv Lundin for all of the Special Olympic pictures he's taken throughout the years and passed on his congratulations to Dave Hill on his position as the new Times editor.

Terry's understanding of current events extends beyond the local scene, and he'd watched enough on CNN to display an enlightened disapproval over some of the events that have recently occurred at the nation's capitol. When he isn't taking in the events of the world, however, he admits to enjoying a number of soap operas, including "The Young and the Restless."

Music plays an important role in Terry's life, and his favorite performers include Elvis Presley, Patsy Kline, Glen Campbell and Loretta Lynn. Last year, he dressed up as Tammy Wynette for Halloween, and this year he looks forward to attending the annual Halloween party as Dolly Parton.

Terry enjoys singing in the choir at St. Bernard's Church where he also serves as an usher and assists in serving mass.

Special Olympics is a very important part of his busy life and is what Terry describes as his "very favorite" activity. As an athlete he participates in bowling, the softball throw and 100 meter walk in track and field and unified bowling, an activity that pairs handicapped and non-handicapped people from the community in teams.



His Global Messenger duties keep him constantly on the move. On Thursday, he traveled to Roseau where he delivered a welcome and invocation at a Special Olympics wheelchair event, and soon he will travel to the Twin Cities as one of 10 athletes invited to participate in a Special Olympics fund-raising event. Paired with a professional athlete, Terry will have the opportunity to help a professional athlete in an autograph session. While he doesn't know if his partner will be a current or former athlete, he has his favorites and says he would be delighted if his partner turns out to be Kirby Puckett.

As Special Olympic athletes participate in and travel to the various competitions they have opportunities to do other things that they would not ordinarily get to do such as go shopping, eat out, meet new friends and see the sights between destinations. Without the program, many would never have these opportunities.

Because funding for the program comes from the donations of individuals, organizations and businesses, Terry's role as a Global Messenger is very important and one that he takes very seriously.

The Special Olympic Global Messenger program is lucky to have Terry out there promoting its cause, and those who have the opportunity to meet Terry and hear him speak will learn about much more than the Special Olympics.

They will learn, also, about a happy, sensitive and very talented man whose disability is only a very small part of who he is.

While shaking hands with Governor Jesse Ventura, Special Olympics athlete and Global Messenger Terry Paul extended an invitation to Jesse to visit Thief River Falls.

Opinions differ on farm relief bill

Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact to expire, a recent court ruling extended the regional price-fixing cartel through the end of the year.

The $8.7 billion emergency aid portion of the Agriculture Appropriations bill contains $5.54 billion in market loss payments, $1.2 billion for crop loss assistance for quality and quantity losses in 1999 crops, $475 million in direct payments to soybean and minor oilseed producers, $324 million in assistance to livestock and dairy producers to be administered by the Secretary of Agriculture, $412 million in assistance to producers of certain specialty crops, and an increase in the current loan deficiency payment limits from $75,000 to $150,000.

Grams stressed that this spending package should be but a first step in adequately addressing federal farm policy. "The Senate has deliberated and passed this immediate relief to farmers. Now it is time to work on long-term solutions," said Grams.

Grams has introduced legislation and testified on behalf of several long-term solutions to address current hardships faced by farmers. Grams' initiatives include: adjusting the federal subsidy of crop insurance premiums; extending the marketing assistance loan period from nine months to 36 months, with an additional possibility of a nine-month extension should the market warrant; and reforming existing sanction laws to ensure sanctions exclude the sale of food and medicine.

"Farmers need this immediate, emergency relief, and I'm pleased that our vote today will ensure its arrival. Congress now needs to enact long-term policies that will make last-minute bailouts from Washington unnecessary. Farmers must be given the tools and flexibility they need to be fully equipped to succeed in the marketplace," said Grams.

Karlstad is host to area cross country teams on Tuesday

Josh Larson, JaNae Altepeter, the East Grand Forks boys, and the Crookston girls all won high school cross country titles at Karlstad Tuesday.

Larson, who runs for the Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central/Tri-County cooperative that hosted the meet, and Altepeter, a member of the first place Crookston girls team, were the individual champions.

Thief River Falls boys were fourth in a six-team race. The Prowlers did not have a full girls line-up. "Our teams competed well," reported Prowlers coach Chad Persons, who made a switch in the boys' line-up, and liked the results. "I ran (eighth grader) Jesse Sich on the junior varsity to let him compete for first, and he pulled it off. It was a good individual effort."

Senior Seth Harlow had an eighth place finish for the Thief River Falls boys.

With Sich competing in his own age group, a varsity spot opened up, noted Persons. "It was a new look for us, and I liked how Brandon Boyd and Matt Dimich are fighting for the No. 7 runner spot," he said. "They are really pushing themselves."

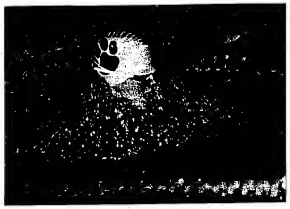
A 16th place showing by sophomore Becky Solem paced the Thief River Falls girls. "We didn't have the numbers, but all of the girls ran hard," said Persons.

Varsity Boys

■ Team totals - East Grand Forks 36, Warroad 43, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central/Tri-County 65, Thief River Falls 100, Roseau 137, Crookston 158.

■ Individuals (43 runners) - 1. Josh Larson, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central/Tri-County, 17:13. TRF places - 8. Seth Harlow, 18:41; 11. Zach Bosh, 18:58; 20. Dewey Worker, 19:31; 21. Tyler Bosh, 19:32; 27. Brandon Boyd, 19:49; 34. Matt Dimich, 20:34.

Varsity Girls



■ Team totals - Crookston 33, Warroad 39, East Grand Forks 53, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central/Tri-County 141.

■ Individuals (36 runners) - 1. JaNae Altepeter, Crookston. TRF places - 16. Becky Solem, 18.44; 17. Janae Harlow, 18:50; 20. Emily Mugaas, 19.29.

Junior Varsity Boys

■ Team totals - East Grand Forks 32, Thief River Falls 33, Warroad 55.

■ Individuals (20 runners) - 1. Jesse Sich, TRF, 19:47. Other TRF places - 5. Tanner Harlow, 20:30; 6. Andre Thibodeau, 20:42; 8. Taylor Froiland, 21:08, 13. Jon Walrath, 22:05.

Butterfly leg of the Thief River Falls 200-yard medley relay was handled by Michelle Johnson during Tuesday's high school swim meet against Roseau at the Franklin Middle School pool. The Prowlers out-scored the Rams 120-61.

TRF swim team beats Roseau

Roseau just didn't have the numbers to stay with Thief River Falls on the scoreboard in Tuesday's girls high school swim meet at the Franklin Middle School pool. The Prowlers beat the Rams 120-61 to go 7-3 in dual meet competition.

"It was a good home win against a small, but fast Roseau team," said Thief River Falls coach Mary Helen Houlihan.

Thief River Falls efforts included a school and pool record 2:19.86 by sophomore Chelsea Haviland in the 200-yard individual medley.

In one of the best races of the meet, Thief River Falls edged Roseau 1:48.30 to 1:48.64 in the 200-yard freestyle relay. Eighth grader Cami Hendrickson swam the opening 50 and Haviland was the anchor following mid-race legs by seniors Kristin Naplin and Andi Sorvig.

Hendrickson also won the 50 freestyle at the varsity level and the 100 freestyle in the junior varsity portion of the meet.

Senior Andrea Olin, sophomore Amanda Bottem, freshman Brittany Haviland, and eighth grader Dani Sorvig turned in personal-best times for the Prowlers, and Houlihan cited the efforts by sophomore Alissa Holmaas, who is back in the water following knee surgery.

With few Roseau swimmers to compete against, the Thief River Falls junior varsity wound up with a 98-12 win.

MCC ends regular season 4-3

A slow start didn't stop Marshall County Central from registering a regular season-ending 20-6 high school football win over Tri-County Tuesday at Karlstad.

The two teams were tied 6-6 at halftime, but the Nordics did all the scoring in the second half to climb above .500 at 4-3. With a final-week bye in the Top of the State Conference, Marshall County Central will be idle until the start of the Section 8 Nine-Man playoffs, where a No. 2 or No. 3 seed awaits a team that was just 1-6 a year ago.

"We started off a little slow, but we started to pick it up in the second half," said second-year Marshall County Central coach Scott Parker.

The Nordics' Bjorn Halvorson rushed for 134 yards on 30 carries, including touchdown runs of 2 and 19 yards. Keegan Halvorson caught a 15-yard touchdown pass from Zach Holthusen to complete the scoring for the winners, who finished with 234 yards on 48 running plays and had a 3-for-11, 54-yard passing night.

Tri-County was limited to 128 yards on 34 rushing attempts and added just 18 yards on 2-for-8 passing.

The 4-3 regular season finish for a program that had won just six games over the previous four years was a "pleasant surprise," according to Parker. "We had higher expectations this year," he said, "and the win over Kittson Central (24-22 in Week 2) got us going. It gave us a shot of confidence."

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Marshall Co. Central	0	6	6	8	20
Tri-County	0	6	0	0	6

T-C - Kyle Levenhagen, 63-yard run; run failed.

MCC - Bjorn Halvorson, 2-yard run; kick failed.

MCC - Halvorson, 19-yard run; pass failed.

Blue Devils looking to pick up first win in final 1999 game

Last chance for Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke to pick up a regular season win will come Monday when the Blue Devils take on Tri-County in a Nine-Man high school football game at Karlstad. Both teams are 0-6.

Tuesday, unbeaten Stephen-Argyle shut out the Blue Devils 40-0 in Grygla.

"We knew it would be a tough one," acknowledged Blue Devils coach John Wilebski, "but actually, it wasn't that bad. It could have been a 14-7 game at halftime."

But instead, it was 28-0, with three of the four touchdowns covering 30 yards or more.

"We had a turnover deep in their territory, then they turned around and scored on a long play," pointed out Wilebski. "There were a lot of broken and missed tackles."

The Blue Devils picked up 149 yards on the ground. Alex Holte was 6-for-9 passing for 89 yards, with Chad Johnson catching four passes for 44 yards.

Defensively, Wilebski said sophomore ends Corey Ostby and Dustin Kotrba played well against the Storm option.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Stephen-Argyle	14	14	12	0	40

S-A - Adolphson, 70-yard run; Adolphson kick.

S-A - Brett Stoltman, 31-yard run; run failed.

S-A - Reece Setterholm, 19-yard run; Safranski run.

S-A - Stoltman, 30-yard pass from Setterholm, pass failed.

S-A - Setterholm, 63-yard run; pass failed.

Otters sweep Prowlers

Fergus Falls got out of a first-game jam and went on to sweep visiting Thief River Falls 16-14, 15-3, 15-13 in Tuesday high school volleyball.

The Prowlers went through four service rotations while at game point in the opener.

"We had a chance to win the first game," mentioned Amy Roche, the Thief River Falls co-head coach, along with Bruce Jean. "The second game we fell apart. We came back and played pretty well the third game, but just couldn't get it done at the end. It was not one of our most consistent performances of the year."

Roehel Mathson led the Prowlers' offense with 13 kills. Becky Bray, despite shoulder problems, had 12 kills. Ayla Donlin finished with 18 assists.

The Prowlers played without Kylie Rogalla, sidelined because of illness. "We missed Kylie, but Sara Jensen filled in and did a nice job," said Roche.

Nordics lose to Bears

Marshall County Central had trouble with both ends of the serve Tuesday in a 3-1 high school volleyball loss to Lake of the Woods in Newfolden.

The Bears won 15-4, 15-12, 12-15, 15-9.

"I'm not totally disappointed in the effort, but two phases of the game – serving and serve receiving – really gave us trouble," explained Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson.

Whitney Stoeckmann had eight of her nine match-high service aces in the first game to give the Bears an early advantage.

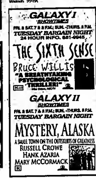
"She (Stoeckmann) is a left-handed server who always seems to give us trouble," noted Jorgenson.

The Nordics regrouped and built an 11-9 lead in a spirited Game 2 battle before falling behind in the match 2-0. They produced a third game victory, but couldn't carry the momentum through Game 4.

"We made some nice attacks," pointed out Jorgenson. "We did some good things at times. They're a good team, and we played with them."

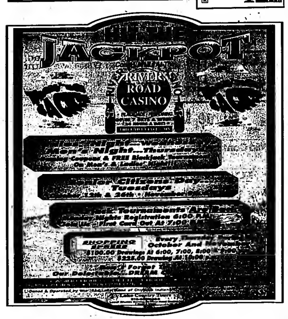
But 80 percent serving – the Nordics' lowest figure of the season – kept Marshall County Central from sustaining an offense, according to Jorgenson, whose team fell to 15-6.

Kristi Kilen had a 17-kill night for Marshall County Central.



Gators lose lead, match against Kittson Central

Kittson Central overcame a first-game double-digit deficit to sweep Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 16-14, 15-8, 15-6 in Monday high school volleyball.



The visiting Gators had leads of 13-2 and 14-4 in Game 1, but couldn't finish the job.

"Our confidence is a little shaken," admitted Gators coach Christine Adnan. "We started out well, but they seem to forget that volleyball is three-out-of-five."

Tabetha Blazek had 4 kills and Kelly Everson wound up with 8 assists for the Gators, who fell to 10-13.

Greyhounds handle early TRF challenge

■ Fosston sweeps Prowlers

Fosston took Thief River Falls' best shot early without flinching and went on to sweep the host Prowlers 15-13, 15-7, 15-1 in Thursday high school volleyball.

The Greyhounds, the No. 2-ranked team in Class AA in the latest Associated Press poll, had their hands full at the start with the Prowlers, who are hovering around the .500 mark. But the winners took over as the match wore on.

A service ace by Becky Bray, a kill by Rachel Mathson, and a Fosston mis-play, gave Thief River Falls a 13-10 first-game lead.

Fosston met the challenge, however, by combining a block by Nicole Sundbom and a kill by Kelly Roysland with a pair of long, out-of-bounds Thief River Falls hits to go up 14-13 before winning it on a tap by Roysland that found a hole in the middle of the Prowlers' defense. Casey Francis served the final five points.

"We played some really good volleyball in the first game," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "That was the best defense we've played all year. But it was just like we used up all of our energy.. and we didn't win it. We were still okay in the second game. The third game got away from us from the start."

The Prowlers found themselves behind 8-1 at the start of Game 2. They came back to pick up a few points, making it 13-7 on an ace by Katy Hook, but never seriously threatened the Greyhounds' lead.

Sundbom served five straight points as Fosston quickly went up 9-1 in the third game. Francis, who had back-to-back aces to make it 13-1, collected the final six service points. A double-block by Sundbom and Nikki Johnson put the Greyhounds ahead 14-1, and a put-back at the net by Sundbom finished the match.

"Fosston has a very nice team," noted Roche. "They do a lot of things really well. Knowing that we can play with them, like we did in the first game, makes you feel pretty good."

Mathson led the Prowlers with 16 kills. Ayla Donlin picked up 17 assists. Hook had two aces. Thief River Falls played a second straight match without starter Kylie Rogalla, sidelined by illness.

The Prowlers will take an 11-12-1 record into their 1999 regular season finale Tuesday at home against Roseau.

Thief River Falls beat Fosston in the junior varsity match 5-15, 15-13, 15-11.

Thief River Falls setter Ayla Donlin put the Prowlers' offense in motion by placing the ball above the net for a teammate during Thursday's high school volleyball match against Fosston. The Greyhounds won 15-13, 15-7, 15-1.

Mustangs top Knights

Katie Halvorson served 10 straight points in an 11-0 second-game start for Red Lake County Central Tuesday that helped carry the visiting Mustangs to a 15-4, 15-5, 15-10 high school volleyball win over Climax/Fisher.

"We played some pretty good defense," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray. "We were picking most things up."

It was a rematch from the finals of Saturday's Red Lake County Central Invitational, won by the Mustangs 2-0.

Sylvia Hilgeman and Heather Schiefert had 11 kills each and Amanda Spong picked up 9 for the winners. Spong also collected 4 service aces. Emily Brustad finished with 23 assists.

The Mustangs are 18-6 heading into a Monday regular season finale at Clearbrook-Gonvick. They will finish the year without the services of Tracy Rosten, who suffered an ankle injury during Saturday's tournament.

Beth Goddard is NSIC all-conference in golf

Beth Goddard, a sophomore from Thief River Falls, was a member of the Bemidji State University women's golf team that won the 1999 Northern Sun Intercollegiate Conference title this fall.

Goddard finished in a tie for eighth place in the meet to earn all-conference honors.

It was the first NSIC golf title for the Bemidji women.

NCTC falls to Itasca rally

Northland, needing to win its final three Minnesota Community College Conference matches against Itasca, Fergus Falls and Central Lakes to clinch a spot in the 1999 MCCC state volleyball tournament, was well on its way to accomplishing the first part of that goal Wednesday with a 2-0 lead in Grand Rapids. But that's when the bottom fell out on the Pioneers, who wound up losing a crucial 3-2 match that all but eliminated them from the playoff picture.

The Itasca turnaround produced a 10-15, 5-15, 15-4, 15-2, 15-2 win.

"We started a little slow in the first game," said Northland coach Mike Zachow, "but we started to pick it up. We played well in the second game, but after that, we didn't."

The Vikings burned the Pioneers with 21 service aces. "That hurt, especially since that's about all we worked on in practice Tuesday," said Zachow. "It was a little disappointing."

Northland played without injured freshman middle hitter Sandy Brekke, the team's top hitter and one of the nation's leading shot-blockers, according to NJCAA statistics.

"It hurts not to have Sandy in there, but that was a match we should have won without her," explained Zachow.

Northland took a 12-10 overall record to Providence (MB) College for a Friday match. The Pioneers, 6-6 in the MCCC, will close out the schedule at home with 6:30 p.m. matches Monday against Fergus Falls and Wednesday vs. Central Lakes.

After losing to Itasca, Northland's bid to land one of the four Northern Division MCCC state tournament spots required the Pioneers to not only beat Fergus Falls and Central Lakes, but to have both of them lose to Itasca in the final week. "Right now, our chances are very slim," admitted Zachow.

Prowlers run at Hawley

Team-wise, it was not a great day for the Thief River Falls boys or girls Thursday at the Hawley/Ulen-Hitterdal Invitational high school cross county meet. The Prowlers trailed the field in a six-team boys race, and did not put a full team on the Hawley course for the girls race.

Fergus Falls boys and Perham girls won team titles.

"A learning experience," was the way Thief River Falls coach Chad Persons summed up the Prowlers' efforts. "We did not run to our capabilities in the boys varsity race," he said. "Our fifth and sixth men came up and helped, but we need our second, third and fourth men to step it up."

There were, however, a few bright spots, mentioned Persons. "Seth Harlow has been really consistent, plus putting Jesse Sich and Brady Anderson on the varsity will help."

Persons was also pleased with the efforts by the Prowlers' small group of varsity girls. "The girls have a great attitude at this point of the season," he said. "The team has not done well due to illness and other incidents, but they continue to compete, and I appreciate that."

Thief River Falls will close out the 1999 regular season schedule with a meet at Park Rapids Monday.

TRF sophomores down East Grand Forks 38-20

Eric Berg (7, 48 yards) and Dan Almquist (42, 20) scored two touchdowns each Monday as Thief River Falls closed out its 1999 sophomore/junior varsity high school football schedule with a 38-20 win in a sophomore match-up with East Grand Forks.

Russell Anderson added a 12-yard touchdown run; Jon Forney caught a 32-yard touchdown pass from Robbie Anderson; and Jon Swanson had a two-point conversion run for the winners.

Thief River Falls led 12-6 at the end of the first quarter, carried a 20-12 lead into halftime and had a 32-12 third quarter cushion.

TRF freshman win final game in overtime, 12-6

Thief River Falls scored in the final half-minute of regulation time and on the first play of overtime Tuesday to beat Crookston 12-6 in freshman high school football.

Walter Smith scored both touchdowns for the winners, reaching the end zone on a 7-yard run for the tie, and scoring from the 10 in overtime for the win.

It was the first win and the final game of a 1-8 season for the Thief River Falls freshmen.

Pioneers win division title

Northland Community and Technical College won its first-ever outright Northern Division football title Thursday with a 24-16 win over Mesabi Range in the 1999 regular season finale at Virginia.

The victory boosted the Pioneers' record to 6-2 and guaranteed them a home field site for a Minnesota Community College Conference state playoff semifinal game Saturday, Oct. 23.

But it wasn't easy. Sixty-eight seconds into the game the Pioneers trailed 8-0; then 16-0.

"Before you knew it, we were down 16-0," said Northland coach Dan Willoughby. "We were a little worried because they (Norsemen) have an outstanding defense."

A long kickoff return to start the game put the Mesabi Range offense on the field inside Northland territory. Two carries by Duwayne Walters resulted in a touchdown.

Walters also scored on a 77-yard pass interception return and added both two-point conversions to put Northland in an early hole.

But the Pioneers came back with a 6-yard Matt Hitchen touchdown run and Ryan Polzin kick to make it 16-7 at halftime.

A 40-yard return of a fumble recovery by defensive lineman Pat Piekarski, along with a conversion kick and 23-yard field goal by Polzin, provided the Pioneers with a 17-16 third quarter edge.

"The play by Piekarski was huge," noted Willoughby. "That turned the tide."

Hitchen provided Northland with an eight-point cushion on a 21-yard touchdown run with four minutes left in the game, but the pesky Norsemen, who ended the year 2-6, weren't done.

With two minutes still on the clock, Mesabi Range had a first-and-goal at the Northland 4-yard line. The Norsemen reached the 2, but could not get through the Pioneers' defense for a shot at a tie and overtime.

"The defense came up big at the end," pointed out Willoughby.

Northland's offense had a pair of 100-yard runners in Scott Olsen (21 carries) with 134 yards and Hitchen (25) with 120.

Mesabi, with just 30 players on the roster at season's end, ran out of gas as the game wore on, according to Willoughby. "Mesabi is a physical, tough football team," he said. "But they don't have the numbers. I have to admit that was a factor; they just kind of wore down. We figured if we stayed close until the fourth quarter, we would be okay."

Three Prowlers advance to Section 8AA tournament...

TRF tennis team reaches finals

Thief River Falls beat Fergus Falls 6-1 in the quarterfinals and knocked off Crookston 4-3 in the semifinals before losing a 5-2 championship match decision to Bemidji in the team portion of the 1999 North Sub-Section 8AA girls high school tennis tournament Wednesday at the Grand Forks Tennis Centre.

Thursday, a third place finish by the Prowlers' Jenni Gonsorowski-Beth Padilla in doubles and a fourth place showing by Jenny Kimball in singles qualified that trio for the individual portion of the Section 8AA tournament, which will be played Wednesday in St. Cloud.

The Sylvio Sjoberg-coached Prowlers finished the year with a 14-5 dual meet record.

After the near-sweep of the Otters, the Prowlers knocked off the Pirates with key wins from Kimball at No. 2 singles and from Dede Dally-Karen Christensen, with a tie-breaker victory at No. 2 doubles when Crookston served three times at match point.

"We played pretty well," said Sjoberg. "We had a couple of key wins against Crookston, and we played Bemidji real tough. But by then, our legs were pretty heavy."

A Demand for Efficiency

Back and forth. Back and forth. I feel like a Yo-yo as I putt my little Lund across the water several times each day. And with each passing day the window of my opportunity gets a little smaller. Sooner or later these fish are going to move somewhere else and then what'll I do? You'd think that the Department of Natural Resources had an investment in some foreign oil stock the way they've structured this "limit" thing, forcing me to burn another four gallons of gas each time I want to go out onto the river and catch my six walleyes. Why can't they just acknowledge that I live next to a world class fishery that blossoms with 'close-to-home fishing' each fall and I've got certain responsibilities and obligations.

Here's how it is. Sometime between now and Thanksgiving, when the inevitable train of friends and relatives begins through my front door, I've got to catch 32 limits of walleyes. One for my Mom, one for my Dad, I've got three sisters, a couple of aunts and uncles, a bunch of cousins, a host of in-law types, the neighbors, the kids' bus driver, the mailman, the guys on my golf team, a friend from Los Angeles, and some lady who lives down the lane whose name escapes me at the moment; but she seems very nice and knits me a pair of socks every Christmas. Oh, yeah, and the bunch of fish that my family needs to get them through, if not the entire winter, at least the four week period of angling inactivity known locally as "freeze-up."

The numbers themselves are not really an issue. I'm a good fisherman and the fish are packed into the Rainy tighter than sardines in a can. Time, effort, and cost, however, are a concern. Working at the rate of six fish per trip, with the possibility of two trips per day, if I've got that day off or if fishing's particularly good, that still translates into a solid month of fishing to achieve the target level. The gas itself, especially at current prices, gets to be an ugly burden too, as this fall's efforts will force me to put several hundred dollars into OPEC's pockets. There's got to be a better way.

Here's where the DNR can help. We've already established the fact that I am in no jeopardy of legal reprisal. Enforcement on such an individual scale is an unwieldy and daunting prospect, likening itself to a "finger in the dike" scenario. Laws that don't reflect the general tones of public practice and acceptance simply create an adversarial situation. And what, really, is the difference between me taking 'one day commercial trips' out to a limit on a daily in July versus me taking me out to a daily limit in October? Why not, then, establish a "Limit of Vulnerability", that is, a special regulation that allows me to take as many fish as I need to fill my seasonal obligations at a time when the fish are particularly easy to get at, saving me the cost and expended energy I need to employ now to achieve those ends. How about a specialized fall limit of 192 walleyes, for instance fillable in any time frame that presents itself-an hour or a day or a week. That should cover it. 192. Or maybe we should make it 198 and I could get two pairs of socks. I mean, come on, it's not like I'm not going to get those fish anyway.

And think of all the benefits to such a plan. Other than the obvious personal satisfaction of being able to hang 192 walleyes on a very long board for a blood-warming photo opportunity, other social advantages would be achieved. Simple little things like the lessened amounts of pollution created by my cronky, two-cycle 20-h.p. outboard as it makes far fewer trips back and forth across the river each fall. Or the lessened amounts of guilt that would invade my daily existence for stressing the fishery.

Or the benefits to the bigger picture, like my ability to spend more time with my wife and children, creating a better family atmosphere and, therefore, a stronger, healthier community overall. The local economy would profit from the extra time I had to take my family out to dinner, or a volleyball game, or perhaps I could even take them fishing.

Now there's an idea. And I could really show my kids how this 'catch and release' thing works. No, of course we wouldn't need to keep any, be real! There'd still be enough fish left in that garbage sack full of fillets in our freezer to feed us until March of next year.

B/G-MR beats Warroad

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River outlasted visiting Warroad 5-15, 15-5, 12-15, 15-3, 15-11 Thursday in high school volleyball.

"They did a good job keeping their composure," said Gators coach Christine Adrian about her team's performance. "That's something we've been working on."

Tabetha Blazek had 11 kills for the winners. Kelly Everson (18 assists) and Sarah Peterson (16) shared the setting duties. Peterson also collected four aces to lead a strong Badger/Greenbush-Middle River showing at the service line. Jessica Smith came up with five blocks and seven kills as the Gators improved to 11-13.

Agriculture businesses can get help with Y2K problems

Agricultural business owners in central and northern Minnesota can get help cutting through the Y2K maze by attending a workshop designed just for them.

Potential Y2K problems aren't restricted to computers and software, says Wayne Hansen, educator with the University of Minnesota Extension Service. He says the workshop will help you learn how Y2K may affect your business and how to develop a contingency plan.

Sessions are scheduled Wednesday, October 20 at the Best Western Motel, Thief River Falls; Wednesday, October 27 at the Red River Inn, Moorhead; and Wednesday, November 3, at the American Heritage National Bank, St. Cloud. All sessions begin with on-site registration at 8:30 a.m. and conclude at noon. The cost is $10 per business.

To reserve a spot for your organization and to get a detailed brochure, call 1-800-367-5363.

The three-hour workshops are sponsored by the University of Minnesota Extension Service. Presenters will include Bruce Brorson from Minnesota Technology, Inc., and the University of Minnesota, Crookston; Hansen, an Extension educator from Redwood Falls; and William Bomash, information technology leader with the Extension Service.

Rod Eastman Christian music concert planned October 24

Rod Eastman of Roseau will be presenting a concert of Christian music at the Viking Covenant Church in Viking on Sunday, October 24 at 7 p.m.

Eastman grew up in Roseau and received his bachelor of arts degree in music from Gustavus Adolphus College and spent two years in full-time youth ministry. He established Eastman Ministries in 1994 and focuses primarily on the local region within a 100 mile radius of Roseau.

Eastman's musical style includes a mix of inspirational contemporary, and traditional. Many of the songs he performs are from well-known recording artists including Steven Curtis Chapman, Larnelle Harris, Steve Green and Clay Crosse, along with others he has written. His recent recording titled "First Things First", will be available at the concert.

All ages will be challenged, inspired and blessed by Rod's music and message. The concert is part of the church's 'Lord's Project' fund-raiser. A free-will offering will be received. A fellowship time will follow. The public is invited to attend.

Norwest Community Scholarship fund Applications available

Norwest Bank Thief River Falls is once again accepting applications from high school seniors for the Norwest Community Scholarship Fund. With the awarding of nearly 100 $1,000 scholarships throughout the region this coming winter, Norwest will have topped $1 million in scholarships and other financial support of higher education over a 10-year period.

"The special part of the Norwest Community Scholarship Fund is that it helps our future leaders reach for their goals of higher education while remaining in their home state area," said Lenoe Iverson, president of Norwest in Thief River Falls. "Not only are we rewarding these young men and women for their dedication to academics, school activities and community involvement, we are investing in our community's most prized resource - our youth. Our future leaders."

As part of Norwest's charitable giving focus on higher education and youth, the Norwest Community Scholarship program was developed to encourage students to remain in their home state area to further their education.

Norwest Community Scholarship program applications are available from a local high school guidance counselor or at your local Norwest bank. The application deadline is January 15, 2000. A local, independent panel of judges selects the winners.

Thief River Falls celebrates Minnesota Manufacturers Week

Thief River Falls will celebrate Minnesota Manufacturers Week October 25-29. Several events are planned during the week including tours of several manufacturer facilities.

Tours during the week begin with a public tour at Arctic Cat from 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.

A tour of Forsbergs will be held for the public from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. on Tuesday. Also on Tuesday, tours open to the public will be offered from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. at Northern Woodwork.

On Wednesday, public tours will be offered at 9 a.m., 2 p.m. and 3 p.m. at Digi-Key.

On Thursday, public tours will be offered at Independent Machine Service Inc. at 10 a.m., 2 p.m. and 3 p.m.

On Friday, public tours of Northern Pride will be offered at 9 a.m. and 11:45 a.m.

Bridge over Mashaug Creek now open

Minnesota Department of Transportation is announcing that they have re-opened T.H. 200 west of Mahnomen with the completion of a new bridge over Mashaug Creek. A detour had been in place since late May to accommodate the work.

According to Larry Randall, MnDOT project supervisor, "the work was scheduled for completion in mid-September, but due to the unexpected amount of rainfall received, the project had been delayed for almost a month."

Randall added, "we still have some clean-up and seeding to do, so we're asking driver's to please slow down in the area for the safety of the workers still on site."

MnDOT would like to thank the public for their cooperation and patience when approaching any construction zone. Remember - when you "see orange", we're in the work zone together.

Law enforcement officials in Thief River Falls recovered several stolen Halloween decorations early Thursday morning. Police were able to recover the stolen yard decorations because of a tip. Charges are pending against three adults. Officials, however, are asking residents to contact them if they believe the decorations were taken from their yard. Some of the items have not been reported missing.

GAME, FISH & ENFORCEMENT

by Mike Ramstorf
MN Conservation Officer

Community Policing is a term common in criminal law enforcement, but not so common in natural resource law enforcement.

This is something that needs to change.

In the last week two separate individuals took it upon themselves to report violations that they had witnessed.

One involved a person illegally shining, and the other, an illegally shot Tundra Swan. One arrest was made and the other is still under investigation.

My hat is off to both people.

My point is that both of these offenses would have gone untouched if it were not for people saying enough is enough and picking up the telephone.

Under Minnesota State Statute 97A.025, Ownership of Animals, it states; "The ownership of wild animals of the state is in the state, in its sovereign capacity for the benefit of all the people of the state. A person may not acquire a property right in wild animals, or destroy them, unless authorized under the game and fish laws 'of the state'."

This is a very powerful statute. What it says in essence, is that if someone is illegally taking an animal, they are taking it from each and every one of you, citizens of the State of Minnesota, not from the DNR as some may think.

In these times of budget belt tightening in the state, Conservation Officers are few and far between. We need your help as eyes and ears more now than ever.

Please, if you see a violation, report it. You can call the Thief River Falls State Patrol Dispatch at 681-0942 or the Turn in Poachers (TIP) hotline at 1-800-652-9093. Rewards are available in some cases, and you may remain anonymous.

I have received several calls about the artificial lights' law. To clarify, you can legally shine until 10 p.m. as long as you do not have a firearm or bow and arrow in your possession. Please have some respect as to others homes and yards though.

Another thing I wanted to mention is emergency vehicles. Please, if you see a squad car, ambulance, or fire truck with red lights and siren on, pull over and let them through. The other day, while on my way to assist at an injury car accident, I was surprised how many people wouldn't take 20 seconds out of their time to let a squad by to help an injured person. This applies to both being passed or met by an emergency vehicle.

Happy hunting and be safe.

Marshall County officials arrest two for theft, forgery

Marshall County Sheriff's department arrested Michael D. Ashmore, 38, Fay, WV, and Joyce A. Lowrance, 38, Morrisville, NC, Thursday, October 7, on charges of theft by swindle and check forgery.

On October 7 at about 4:40 p.m. the Marshall County Sheriff's department received a call from Rural American Bank in Warren. Officials were reporting suspicious persons in the bank. Following the report, Warren Police Chief DeWayne Kostrzewski stopped the vehicle the individuals were reported to be driving. Ashmore and Lowrance were arrested. They were in possession of stolen checks taken from a number of cities in North Dakota.

Ashmore and Lowrance have been charged with felony counts of theft by swindle and check forgery. The case has been turned over to the Marshall County Court for disposition.

Breast cancer Awareness Saves lives

"Fifty percent of Minnesotans are predicted to be diagnosed with cancer in their lifetime," said Carol Johnson of the Cancer Resource Center. "It is imperative that we turn our energies toward preventing cancers."

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month. The Women's Cancer Resource Center in Minneapolis is holding a national conference on October 15 and 16 at RiverCentre in St. Paul. The conference, "turning The Tides: Environmental Action for Cancer Prevention," will feature medical and public health professionals, journalists and government officials discussing steps that must be taken for cancer prevention. "We must begin understanding that the carcinogens in our homes, our food and our schools are dangerous, and taking action to decrease this danger," said Johnson.

Denis McGibbon named U.S. Postmaster in TRF

Denis McGibbon has been named Postmaster of the U.S. Post Office in Thief River Falls.

McGibbon started in his new job at the U.S. Post Office in Thief River Falls on September 13. He's looking forward to living and working in Thief River Falls.

"The people here are good employees, with a good work ethic," McGibbon said. He added that he foresees no major changes at the post office at this time.

McGibbon has been with the U.S. Postal Service for 33 years. He began his career as a carrier in St. Paul. He served as postmaster at Hastings for one and one-half years, and as postmaster at Northfield for 12 years before moving to Thief River Falls.

There have been many changes in the postal service since he began his career, but one change which resulted in predictions of an adverse impact — the advent of Internet — failed to materialize. McGibbon said that even with people receiving their bills and banking by internet or e-mail, the U.S. Postal Service has thrived.

He explained that while people are using the internet more frequently, they are now doing more shopping on the internet. Their choice of delivery service has been the U.S. Postal Service. It has been especially good for priority mail, he said. He added that a lot of companies also prefer the U.S. Postal Service because the U.S. Postal Service goes to every house. In fact, McGibbon said, internet has helped business at the U.S. Postal Service, rather than hurt it as predicted.

The biggest change for the U.S. Postal Service in the near future will be its continuing focus on service. There's always a struggle to balance services and costs, McGibbon said. It's a little more expensive to keep up service in rural areas, he said, but with the work ethic he said he has observed here in Thief River Falls, there won't be any difficulty meeting the challenge.

RETRACTION: A quote from an article in the Thirteen Towns and reprinted in the Watch Around the Region section of the Northern Watch was incorrect. The story stated that, "The current border proposed by Polk County Auditor Jerry [illegible] would direct the 34 elementary students who are currently attending school in Mentor to the E-Mac School for the [illegible] 2000-2001." Under current open enrollment, regulations, students can attend the public school of their choice.

BSU proposes Indian Resource Center

Bemidji - A Bemidji State University official announced Thursday that the college is seeking to build a $2.6 million American Indian Resource Center, culminating efforts that date back as far as 30 years. It has been confirmed that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa became the first nation to make a commitment to the center, pledging money at a recent tribal council meeting. The university plans to increase fund raising efforts through the end of the year. Part of the money raised would be used to enhance the school's Indian studies, to expand the Ojibwe-language minor into a major and for training for Minnesota's Indian leaders. Part of the money would also be used to fund an Indian policy and research institute. The Pioneer

Mahnomen students raise funds for peer

Mahnomen - Students at Mahnomen High School, Mahnomen and Naytahwaush Elementary Schools and St. Michael's Elementary School participated in Money Wars recently, raising $1,100 for Allen Dahl.

Dahl, a freshman at Mahnomen High School, received a head injury during football practice that resulted in surgery and a hospital stay. He is improving and has returned to school.

After the proceeds of the fund-raiser were counted, a check was presented to Dahl's family to help with medical expenses. Mahnomen Pioneer

Two found dead in trailer after fire in Marshall Co.

The bodies of Karlo E. Villarreal, 20, and Zoila E. Villarreal, 17 days old, were found in a trailer house extensively damaged by fire on Monday in the City of Alvarado.

Marshall County Sheriff's department reported receiving a cell phone call from a passer-by at 2:53 p.m. on Monday, October 19. The Alvarado Fire department, and Oslo Fire department were dispatched to the fire at the trailer house located next to Highway 220 in Alvarado. The bodies of Karla and Zoila Villarreal were found in the trailer. Their bodies have been sent to the Ramsey County Medical Center for autopsies.

The exact cause of the fire has not been determined, but officials suspect it was accidental. Marshall County Sheriff Herb Maurstad said he suspects an electric heater. He said they were migrant workers and were preparing to leave for Texas. During this time, they were using an electric heater in the home. Maurstad believes the wife was hanging out clothes to dry when she observed smoke coming from the trailer house. He believes she then rushed back into the house, which provided oxygen to the fire. She was unable to escape in time to save herself or her child.

The fire remains under investigation by the Marshall County Sheriff's department and the Minnesota State Fire Marshal's office.

MEC board has less than $36,000 to raise for Phase I

The Joint Powers Board of the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls has less than $36,000 to raise to complete funding for Phase I of the project.

Darla Towmey, a former board member representing the school district, who now acts as a fund-raiser for the organization, reported Wednesday afternoon that at the last meeting of the board she had $36,000 to raise. She reported that she has since obtained a pledge to match dollar for dollar up to $18,000 from a generous donor. She also reported that she received a donations from KTRF and The Times, but still needed to do some more fund-raising.

A request to consider including a BMX track on facility grounds generated discussion about creating a long-range plan for the property.

Rick Nelson, a project coordinator, said representatives presenting the BMX track plan, are looking at a number of locations in the community. He added that when he broached the subject with the Amateur Sports Commission, they looked at it favorably as another activity directed toward a group of youth who might not be included in activity sites already at the site.

The joint powers board came to the consensus that the operation's committee of the joint powers board should consider the request and a long-range use plan for the property.

A summary of in-kind expenditures on the project was presented to the board. The summary, which was compiled by the architectural and engineering firm of Triebwasser, Helenske and Associates, shows that the county has contributed $305,324 in in-kind work, the city has contributed $588,731, the school district $92,500, and contributions have totaled $313,250. The total in-kind work and donations contributed to the project adds up to $1,299,805.

Bruce Ugelstad of the Triebwasser, Helenske and Associates, also presented copies of letters of commitment or pledges presented to the state at the start of the project. The county pledged $301,070 in in-kind work, the school district pledged $92,500 in in-kind work, and the city pledged $678,141.

Work at the Multi-Events Center site is still in progress. Ugelstad reported that the press box is near completion and a walk-through will be conducted very soon. He said weeds on the field have been sprayed. Construction of a fence at the site is expected to begin on October 25.

School District 564 has requested that they be included in discussions about repairs to the track. They want to see more of the project's specifications and plans so that when future repairs are needed, they will know where to make the repairs and not cause unneeded damage to the track or field. Barb Kalinoski, school board member, also reported that the school board wants a second opinion on the cause of damage to the track and would pay for that second opinion.

The next meeting of the Multi-Events Center Joint Powers Board will be held in December.

Nunavik — Caribou Capital of the World

Local sportsmen enjoy hunt in vast territory of northern Quebec

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

With Minnesota's deer rifle season right around the corner, hunting is on the minds of a lot of folks these days.

That lot includes Ron Broten, Omer Olson and Hilary Stoltman, local outdoorsmen whose enthusiasm for the wild takes them on frequent and sometimes rather exotic adventures.

In September these retired railroad workers got in a little practice while hunting caribou in a land most of us know little about, the fascinating Nunavik region of northern Quebec.

Nunavik is an immense arctic territory, stretching north of the 55th parallel and representing one-third of the providence of Quebec. The borders of the vast 330,000 square mile region include the coasts of Hudson Bay, Hudson Straight and Ungava Bay.

The landscapes of Nunavik include the Torngat mountains, numerous rivers, countless lakes, taiga forest and miles and miles of rocky tundra. Among the region's natural attractions is Pingualuit or Crater Lake. Created by a meteorite striking the earth some 1.4 million years ago, the crater is the only one of its kind in the world, and the lake's water is said to be pure and crystal clear.

Nunavik has been inhabited for more than 3,500 years, first by the non-Dorset of Alaska in about 1500 B.C. and later by the Dorset culture in about 900 B.C.

"Still numerous new things will come, and life will be even more different in the future. All the people of the world, Inuit and white people, will explore and learn together, because we who are breathing on earth are all relatives." — an excerpt from an autobiography of an Inuit elder of Nunavik.

In the twelfth century a new group of occupants from Alaska arrived, direct ancestors of the modern Inuit, introducing the bow and arrow, igloo, kayak and Quamutik or sled dog. Through the centuries these people have evolved a technology suited to their environment and a values system based on respect for human life and nature and centered around the sharing of natural resources and the family network.

The lives of the Inuit were drastically changed by the influence of the Qallunaat or non-Inuit, beginning with explorers seeking the Northwest Passage in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries. Further influence was felt of the whalers, missionaries and fur traders of the nineteenth century.

Controlling Nunavik, today's Inuit no longer live in igloos but simple wooden frame houses in the territory's 14 modern villages. Almost all of these villages are located along the coasts and include schools, government and medical services.

The 8,700 Inuits inhabiting Nunavik are Canadian citizens, subject to the country's federal and provincial tax laws. The populations of the villages range from 150 residents in Aupaluk to near 2,000 in Kuujjuaq, the territory's administrative center.

Inuttitut is the language spoken by Nunavik's Inuit, a language closely tied to the environment and culture of the people. Because their survival has depended on a clear

KEEPING WATCH AROUND THE REGION

RETRACTION:

A quote from an article in the Thirteen Towns and reprinted in the Watch Around the Region section of the Northern Watch was incorrect. The story stated that, "The current border proposed by Polk County Auditor Jerry Amiot would direct the 34 elementary students, who are currently attending school in Mentor, to Win-E-Mac School for the year 2000-2001." Under current open enrollment regulations, students can attend the public school of their choice.

BSU proposes Indian Resource Center

Bemidji · A Bemidji State University official announced Thursday that the college is seeking to build a $2.6 million American Indian Resource Center, culminating efforts that date back as far as 30 years.

It has been confirmed that the Red Lake Band of Chippewa became the first donor to make a commitment to the center, pledging money at a recent tribal council meeting. The university plans to increase its fund raising efforts throughout the end of the year.

Part of the money raised would be used to enhance the school's Indian studies, to expand the Ojibwe language minor into a major and for training for Minnesota's Indian leaders. Part of the money would also be used to fund an Indian policy and research institute. The Pioneer

Mahnomen · Students at Mahnomen High School, Mahnomen and Naytahwaush Elementary Schools and St. Michael's Elementary School participated in Money Wars recently, raising $1,100 for Allen Dahl.

Dahl, a freshman at Mahnomen High School, received a head injury during football practice that resulted in surgery and a hospital stay. He is improving and has returned to school.

After the proceeds of the fund-raiser were counted, a cashier's check was presented to Dahl's family to help with medical expenses. Mahnomen Pioneer

Early Halloween?

Crookston · Public sentiment may cause Crookston to move Halloween ahead this year from October 31 to October 30.

After receiving a handful of calls from concerned parents, Mayor Don Osborne is encouraging Crookston citizens to call City Hall with their opinions.

Tami Wesselink, mother of two and one of those who called Osborne, cites two reasons for the change. Daylight Savings Time is the first reason. Moving the clocks back one hour at 2 a.m. on October 31 will mean that it will be dark an hour earlier on Sunday evening than it had been on Saturday night.

Wesselink's second reason for moving the holiday up a day was the image of tired kids coming off a sugar high in school on Monday. For that reason, the idea of moving Halloween from Sunday to Saturday is supported by Bill Young, school district superintendent. Crookston Daily Times

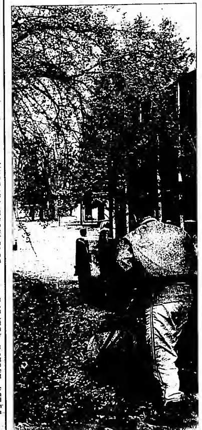
Denis McGibbon has been named Postmaster of the U.S. Post Office in Thief River Falls.

McGibbon started in his new job at the U.S. Post Office in Thief River Falls on September 13. He's looking forward to living and working in Thief River Falls.

"The people here are good employees, with a good work ethic," McGibbon said. He added that he foresees no major changes at the post office at this time.

McGibbon has been with the U.S. Postal Service for 33 years. He began his career as a carrier in St. Paul. He served as postmaster at Hastings for one and one-half years, and as postmaster at Northfield for 12 years before moving to Thief River Falls.

There have been many changes in the postal service since he began his career, but one change which resulted in predictions of an adverse impact — the advent of Internet — failed to materialize. McGibbon said that even with people receiving their bills and banking by internet or e-mail, the U.S. Postal Service has thrived.



He explained that while people are using the internet more frequently, they are now doing more shopping on the internet. Their choice of delivery service has been the U.S. Postal Service. It has been especially good for priority mail, he said. He added that a lot of companies also prefer the U.S. Postal Service because the U.S. Postal Service goes to every house. In fact, McGibbon said, internet has helped business at the U.S. Postal Service rather than hurt it as predicted.

The biggest change for the U.S. Postal Service in the near future will be its continuing focus on service. There's always a struggle to balance services and costs, McGibbon said. It's a little more expensive to keep up service in rural areas, he said, but with the work ethic he said he has observed here in Thief River Falls, there won't be any difficulty meeting the challenge.

Denis McGibbon has been named Postmaster of the U.S. Post Office in Thief River Falls.

Many area communities and residents are busy raking or, in this case, vacuuming up, piles of leafs. City employees in Thief River Falls will be operating the leaf vacuum until snow makes it impossible to continue.

MEC board has less than $36,000 to raise for Phase I

The Joint Powers Board of the Multi-Events Center in Thief River Falls has less than $36,000 to raise to complete funding for Phase I of the project.

Darla Towmey, a former board member representing the school district, who now acts as a fund-raiser for the organization, reported Wednesday afternoon that at the last meeting of the board she had $36,000 to raise. She reported that she has since obtained a pledge to match dollar for dollar up to $18,000 from a generous donor. She also reported that she received a donations from KTRF and The Times, but still needed to do some more fund-raising.

A request to consider including a BMX track on facility grounds generated discussion about creating a long-range plan for the property.

Rick Nelson, a project coordinator, said representatives presenting the BMX track plan, are looking at a number of locations in the community. He added that when he broached the subject with the Amateur Sports Commission, they looked at it favorably as another activity directed toward a group of youth who might not be included in activity sites already at the site.

The joint powers board came to the consensus that the operation's committee of the joint powers board should consider the request and a long-range use plan for the property.

A summary of in-kind expenditures on the project was presented to the board. The summary, which was compiled by the architectural and engineering firm of Triehwasser, Helenske and Associates, shows that the county has contributed $305,324 in in-kind work, the city has contributed $588,731, the school district $92,500, and contributions have totaled $313,250. The total in-kind work and donations contributed to the project adds up to $1,299,805.

Bruce Ugelstad of the Triehwasser, Helenske and Associates, also presented copies of letters of commitment or pledges presented to the state at the start of the project. The county pledged $301,070 in in-kind work, the school district pledged $92,500 in in-kind work, and the city pledged $678,141.

Work at the Multi-Events Center site is still in progress. Ugelstad reported that the press box is near completion and a walk-through will be conducted very soon. He said weeds on the field have been sprayed. Construction of a fence at the site is expected to begin on October 25.

School District 564 has requested that they be included in discussions about repairs to the track. They want to see more of the project's specifications and plans so that when future repairs are needed, they will know where to make the repairs and not cause unneeded damage to the track or field. Barb Kalinoski, school board member, also reported that the school board wants a second opinion on the cause of damage to the track and would pay for that second opinion.

The next meeting of the Multi-Events Center Joint Powers Board will be held in December.

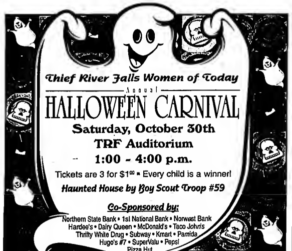
Two found dead in trailer after fire in Marshall Co.

The bodies of Karla E. Villarreal, 20, and Zoila E. Villarreal, 17 days old, were found in a trailer house extensively damaged by fire on Monday in the City of Alvarado.

Marshall County Sheriff's department reported receiving a cell phone call from a passer-by at 2:53 p.m. on Monday, October 19. The Alvarado Fire department, and Oslo Fire department were dispatched to the fire at the trailer house located next to Highway 220 in Alvarado. The bodies of Karla and Zoila Villarreal were found in the trailer. Their bodies have been sent to the Ramsey County Medical Center for autopsies.

The exact cause of the fire has not been determined, but officials suspect it was accidental. Marshall County Sheriff Herb Maurstad said he suspects an electric heater. He said they were migrant workers and were preparing to leave for Texas. During this time, they were using an electric heater in the home. Maurstad believes the wife was hanging out clothes to dry when she observed smoke coming from the trailer house. He believes she then rushed back into the house, which provided oxygen to the fire. She was unable to escape in time to save herself or her child.



The fire remains under investigation by the Marshall County Sheriff's department and the Minnesota State Fire Marshal's office.

Volunteers sought to build playground

Greenbush - Volunteers are needed to install the new playground equipment at the Greenbush and Middle River school sites.

The tentative schedule is to install the equipment at the Greenbush site on October 30-31 and on November 6-7 at the Middle River site.

While the school understands that Halloween and deer hunting may be a problem, it is hoping that it can get 30 to 35 volunteers each day. The Tribune

Little city acquires a big new tractor

Williams - The City of Williams acquired a new 55 horse power John Deere 5310 tractor recently. Purchased from Holte Implement in Baudette, the tractor is equipped with a loader, front snow plow, angle blade, brush cutter and cab.

The city's last tractor was purchased in 1967 and did not have a cab, making maintenance, in Williams uncomfortable during inclement weather. Northern Light

CONRAD HOLTEN
For Council Member At-Large
NOVEMBER 2nd, 1999
Our city's property taxes are ranked 2nd highest in the state. How much higher do they need to be? We must cut taxes.
We have a bond indebtedness of over $12 million. Can we afford to bond for more questionable projects? No.
There are several new fees proposed to generate revenue, such as: Brush Pick-up, Leaf Vacuum Service, Street Lights, and Emergency Services. There is also a Water Rate Increase proposed for March 1, 2000.
Why all the New Fees? Why the Rate Increases? Why keep Raising Taxes? Why keep Spending Reserves? Why keep Bonding for more money?
It's time for a CHANGE. We need to control spending, pay our bills, and build-up our reserves.

A reader reminded me that it's a good time to drag out the crock pot and do some slow cooking, so today we'll have some recipes you can use for that crock pot cooking. Hope you like them.

Wouldn't this be a delicious meal to have waiting for you at the end of the day:

HAM AND SWEET POTATOES

2 to 4 small sweet potatoes, unpeeled
1 1/2 pound boneless ham
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon mustard

Place sweet potatoes in bottom of crock pot. Place ham over sweet potatoes (sweet potatoes are acting as a rack).

Combine remaining ingredients and spread over top of ham. Cover and cook on low setting for 8-10 hours.

To serve, slice ham and sweet potatoes and pour juices over top.

Instead of using the oven, use your crock pot for this special casserole dish that's fancy enough for company:

CHINESE CASHEW TUNA

1 (7 ounce) can tuna, drained and flaked
1 cup diced celery
1/2 cup minced onion
3 tablespoons margarine or butter
1 (10 ounce) can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 (16 ounce) can bean sprouts, drained
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1 cup cashews, coarsely chopped
1 (5 1/2 ounce) can chow mein noodles

Combine all ingredients except chow mein noodles in crock pot, stirring well.

Cover and cook on low setting for 5 to 9 hours (high setting for 2-3 hours).

Serve over chow mein noodles. Recipe serves 4.

One cup of chicken may be used instead of tuna.

Here's a pretty fancy chicken casserole dish that would be great for Saturday supper:

CHICKEN SPECTACULAR

3 cups cut up cooked chicken
1 (16 ounce) can cut green beans or peas, drained
2 cups cooked rice
1 (10 ounce) can condensed cream of celery soup
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 (6 or 8 1/2 ounce) can water chestnuts, drained and sliced
2 tablespoons chopped pimiento
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion

Combine all ingredients thoroughly. Pour into greased crock pot. Cover and cook on low setting for 6 to 8 hours. Recipe serves 4.

This is a perfect fall dish – sounds odd, but turns out special:

BABYSITTER'S FAVORITE

3 cups sliced, peeled apples
1 (16 ounce can) sweet potatoes, sliced
1 pound hot dogs, halved lengthwise
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
1 tablespoon butter

Place half of apples, sweet potatoes and hot dogs in greased crock pot.

Combine sugar, salt, spices and lemon rind and sprinkle half of mixture onto crock pot layers.

Add remaining layers of apples, sweet potatoes and hot dogs and top with remaining spice mixture. Dot with butter. Cover and cook on low setting for 2 to 9 hours. Serves 6 to 8 people.

CANTONESE SWEET-SOUR PORK

2 pounds lean pork shoulder, cut into strips
1 green pepper, seeded and cut into strips
1/2 medium onion, thinly sliced
1/4 cup brown sugar, packed
2 tablespoons cornstarch
2 cups pineapple chunks (drain and reserve juice)
1/4 cup cider vinegar
1/4 cup water
1 tablespoon soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon salt
Chow mein noodles

Place pork strips in crock pot. Add green pepper and sliced onion.

In bowl, mix brown sugar and cornstarch. Add 1 cup of pineapple juice, the vinegar, water, soy sauce and salt, blending smooth. Pour over meat and vegetables. Cover and cook on low for 7 to 9 hours.

One hour before serving, add pineapple chunks and stir.

Serve over chow mein noodles.

PEPPERED MEAT LOAF

2 pounds ground chuck
1/2 pound bulk sausage
1 large onion, finely chopped
3 cloves garlic, minced
1 (8 ounce) can tomato sauce
1/2 cup ketchup
1/4 cup crushed soda crackers
2 eggs
2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
2 teaspoons seasoned salt
1/4 teaspoon seasoned pepper
1 to 2 potatoes, peeled and cut into fingers
Sauce (below)

Combine all ingredients except potatoes and sauce. Mix well and shape into loaf. Place potatoes in bottom of crock pot and top with meat loaf.

Pour sauce over, cover and cook on low setting for 8 to 12 hours.

Sauce:
1 cup ketchup
1/3 cup brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Mix ingredients well.

Greetings
I have some news from my office I want to share with you.
Name Change
In February 1999, Midwest Vision Center changed its name to Vista Optical. In addition to changing our name, we added over 300 new frames to our current frame inventory. This will provide you with over 700 frames to choose from.
A Personal Note
My office at Vista Optical is my personal optometry practice, which means I work both independently and in harmony with the store. Please contact my office at (218) 681-5606 with any concerns you might have. Since this is my full-time practice, it is important to me that your vision needs be met and we have a continuing relationship over many years.
The most important thing you can do to preserve your eyesight is to visit your optometrist for regular checkups. Like the rest of your body, your eyes will change gradually as you age. However, unlike the rest of your body, your eyes rarely hurt if something is wrong. I will advise you when it's time to be re-examined.

Volunteers sought to build playground

Greenbush - Volunteers are needed to install the new playground equipment at the Greenbush and Middle River school sites.

The tentative schedule is to install the equipment at the Greenbush site on October 30-31 and on November 6-7 at the Middle River site.

While the school understands that Halloween and deer hunting may be a problem, it is hoping that it can get 30 to 35 volunteers each day. The Tribune

Greetings
I have some news from my office I want to share with you.

Name Change
In February 1999, Midwest Vision Center changed its name to Vista Optical. In addition to changing our name, we added over 300 new frames to our current frame inventory. This will provide you with over 700 frames to choose from.

A Personal Note
My office at Vista Optical is my personal optometry practice, which means I work both independently and in harmony with the store. Please contact my office at (218) 681-5606 with any concerns you might have. Since this is my full-time practice, it is important to me that your vision needs be met and we have a continuing relationship over many years.

The most important thing you can do to preserve your eyesight is to visit your optometrist for regular checkups. Like the rest of your body, your eyes will change gradually as you age. However, unlike the rest of your body, your eyes rarely hurt if something is wrong. I will advise you when it's time to be re-examined.

See You Soon
Dr. Zipprich

Fall workshops for farmers in transition is offered

The University of Minnesota Extension Service is sponsoring a series of Fall workshops for farmers considering a change of occupation due to tough financial times in production agriculture.

Extension Educator, Nathan Johnson, says the sessions will focus on issues farm families may encounter in this transition. "Things like tax complications from sales of machinery, land or write-downs, unexpected legal issues like judgments, liens on crops and machinery and opportunities for leader mediation." Johnson says, "We will talk about the whole aspect of liquidating a farm so families who are looking at that possibility can avoid some of the pitfalls and make the most informed decisions right from the start."

Management sessions will be held November 3 at the Four Seasons Center in Roseau, November 4 in room D60 at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls, and November 22 at the Rural American Bank in Ada. A light supper will be served beginning at 6 p.m. All sessions begin at 6:30 p.m. There is no charge to attend, but pre-registration is required.

For the Roseau session call the Roseau County Extension office at 1-800-450-1052. For the Thief River Falls session call the Pennington County Extension office at 1-800-681-2116. For the session in Ada call the Norman County Extension office at 1-800-450-7183.

Speakers will include East Grand Forks Attorney John Jeffrey, Certified Public Accounts Michelle Benton and Ray Safranski, and Mary Nell Preisler, farm credit mediation coordinator.

More than 75 farmers attended similar sessions held last spring in Crookston and Thief River Falls. The sessions are free of charge, sponsored through Rural Options, a grant from the University of Minnesota. Everyone is welcome.

Dad and Me classes Tuesday at Challenger

Dad and Me classes will be held Tuesdays at Challenger Elementary school in Thief River Falls. The classes, sponsored by the Thief River Falls Early Childhood Family Education, cost $2 per class. Dads (grandpas and special friends) and children ages 2 up to kindergarten can spend some special time together. Please register by the day before the class by calling 681-8670.

Upcoming events include Gym Night on October 26 between 6:30 and 8 p.m. Put on your tennies and come prepared to use up some energy. Participants will be using the Challenger gym to do some bouncing, throwing, playing catch, jumping and more.

Time for Carpentry will be offered on November 2 between 6:30 and 8 p.m. Bring a hammer and come ready to do some "building." There will be time for hammering, measuring, gluing, painting, sanding and more. Building materials will be provided.

58th Annual Pheasant dinner for veterans set

The 58th Annual Pheasant Dinner for Hospitalized Veterans will take place on November 11, at the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs Medical and Regional Office Center in Fargo, ND.

Started in 1941, this program has become the largest game dinner in America. Sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and Auxiliary, American Legion and Auxiliary and the Sportsmen Clubs, hospitalized veterans receive a pheasant and wild rice dinner on Veterans Day. All pheasants and wild rice are donated to the VA Medical and Regional Office Center.

Someone's Got To Do It

From somewhere amidst the gloom of neither day nor night the rush of humid air across the whispery dryness of tightly bunched feathers signals a hunting dawn. The steady, dull crack of discharging firearms fills the autumn air. A tangy, intoxicating aroma of burnt gunpowder crams itself into the deepest of nasal passages, defying fresh air or the passage of time to dislodge it. Shouts of cheers ring out from some quarters and dejected silences hang heavily upon others.

As the voices subside, the raspy scrape of aluminum against age-old granite draws the attention of the hunters. The boat is pushed further from shore, the engine coughs obediently, directing the small Lund and its operator toward their grim task with a quiet, focused, mortician-like efficiency. One duck is not yet dead. This is the world of the "cripple-killer."

My role in the out of doors at this time of year is not a glorious one. Let us suffice it to say that I fill a necessary void. I finish off the ducks that might not die instantly at the hands of a well-intentioned, but poorly aimed, shotgun. It's a harsh reality of the waterfowling world and I take no particular joy nor do I feel any overwhelming remorse in my job out there. No one claps me on the back with congratulations after I put the finishing touches on a non-flying bird from the somewhat non-challenging distance of 20 yards. Like the grisly chore of gutting a deer, it's just something that needs to be done. I do realize, however, that by drawing a bead on a relatively defenseless, crippled bluebill, for instance, I have put myself in the company of some of history's less than desirable participants. I wonder if they had similar thoughts about their vocations.

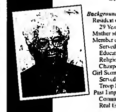
How about, for example, the aging, near-sighted men who fought for the Confederacy during the Civil War? Times were tough in the South then and ammunition was a scarce commodity. After a battle had been waged and the Union troops had been forced to retreat, it was the job of these old-timers, in an effort to conserve precious rounds, to go about and dispatch of the enemy lying wounded on the battlefield. A ballpeen hammer was generally their weapon of choice and, while the thought of that process might not conjure up any very pleasant mental images, it was one of the gruesome realities of a brutal wartime experience. I can't imagine that a whole bunch of hands shot enthusiastically into the air when the question was put to the Confederate troops as to who was interested in fighting this war with a hammer instead of a gun. They simply contributed to the cause in whatever fashion suited them best.

Or how about the incident on the Greek luxury liner, the Achille Lauro, back in 1985? Palestinian terrorists had taken the ship and its 400 passengers hostage in an effort to liberate some of their Israeli-held countrymen. Only one person was killed during the entire episode. Unfortunately for the terrorists' cause it was Leon Klinghoffer, a man who was confined to a wheelchair. The world watched in televised horror as Klinghoffer's dead body, wheelchair and all, was pushed over the side of the Achille Lauro and into the ocean below. The move, obviously, did little to rally any worldwide support for the Palestinians who were eventually captured and sentenced. There are several issues at work here, not the least of which is how the terrorists decided, out of 400 people, to pick the guy in the wheelchair to use as a point-maker. PR must not be a Palestinian strong point. Personally, I've got to wonder if Klinghoffer was being a particularly accommodating hostage. My point is, however, that the guy who actually did the killing could not have viewed the whole mess with any other than an objective eye. He had to have been well-trained to follow such an emotionally toned, obviously misguided and offensive order. He cannot reflect back on his act with any particular satisfaction. Right or wrong, obedience was a fact of his terrorist existence.

Back to the ducks. No, I don't mean to draw any specific parallels between my present day chores and the questionable acts of years past. Mine is a noble occupation that is occasionally at the core of an important sport. Perhaps, in an effort to break from the darkness of these other incidences, a name change is in order. Maybe something cute, like "The Beak Breaker", or "Quack Attacker". We could attach some catchy slogan to my title in an effort to gain acceptance through commercialization - "You drop 'em and we stop 'em".

Or maybe it's just best to call it like it is and not try to candy-coat the out of doors to make it a more socially acceptable place. It is what it is. And my job is to shoot defenseless, crippled ducks.

Tri-County School connects RSVP volunteers and kids



As a new school year gets underway, a group of RSVP volunteers in Karlstad are also eager to get back to the classroom. The three volunteers, Yvonne Boco, Jane Anderson, and Clarice Yngve were recruited last March to work "One-on-one" with elementary students at Tri-County school in Karlstad. After taking the summer off, all three are ready to return to school to work one hour a week with children in grades kindergarten to third grade. Through the coming school year, they will nurture, encourage and support dozens of students.

The Karlstad site is only one of 90 similar sites in Polk, Pennington, Norman, Red Lake, Kittson, Marshall and Roseau counties, where RSVP has matched hundreds of volunteers to causes and concerns that are important to them. Working as little as one hour a week, these volunteers make a difference every day in the lives of children and adults throughout Northwestern Minnesota.

RSVP Coordinator Deanna Patenaude, says the success of the reading program in Karlstad is typical of RSVP efforts across the area. "Our volunteers are capable, dependable, and wonderful and placement is really in the hands of each volunteer. They tell me what their interests are and how much time they want to spend and we connect them to places in their community where they are very much needed. RSVP works for individuals and communities."

RSVP is funded through the Corp for National Service and the Minnesota Board on Aging with support from the University of Minnesota Crookston, local United Ways, and counties throughout the area. For more information contact RSVP toll free 1-800-232-6466 ext. 8288, in Crookston at 281-8288, or through Patenaude's e-mail address dpatenau@mail.crk.umn.edu.

Manufacturers are an important element of our economy

The importance of manufacturing to the state's economy is often not clearly understood. For that reason, the Minnesota Chamber of Commerce, Minnesota Technology, Inc., the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development, and a host of trade and professional organizations are facilitating Manufacturer's Week.

I'm sure everyone in the Thief River Falls community is aware of the importance of manufacturers to our own economy. Did you know, for example, that there are over 3,300 people in our community employed by manufacturers? Since there are so many employed by manufacturers in this community, I'm sure you can name the top 10 manufacturing employers in our community.

According to state figures, every five non-farm jobs in the state is in manufacturing. Manufacturing accounts for 19 percent of Minnesota's total economic output. Between 1990 and 1997, while the manufacturing sector employment fell 2.6 percent nationally, it actually increased 9.1 percent in Minnesota, and reached a 1997 total of nearly 435,503. According to the Minnesota Employment Review (September 1999), a publication of the Minnesota Department of Economic Security Research and Statistics Office, there were over 451,000 manufacturing jobs in Minnesota in August; and, the average weekly earnings were nearly $600.

Manufacturers Week is designed to showcase Minnesota's manufacturing industries and to increase legislative and public awareness of manufacturing's importance in providing high-wage, high-skill jobs for our communities. Among the communities choosing to recognize its manufacturers is Thief River Falls. The Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce will hold a luncheon on Monday at the Best Western to recognize its manufacturers. For their part, many manufacturers in the community (including Thief River Falls), are allowing the public to take tours of their facilities. Those dates and times can be found among the pages of the Northern Watch. If you are interested in going on one of the tours, contact the Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720. There is a limited number of people allowed for each tour.

By the way, in terms of numbers, the top 10 manufacturers are: Arctic Cat (1,500), Digi-Key (875), Occupational Development Center (250), Northern Pride (170), Bridgemen's/Land O'Lakes (83), Independent Machine Service (70), Hydra-Mac International (50), Forsbergs Inc., (49), Thief River Linen (33), Northern Woodwork Inc. (30).

Sex offenders present a high risk to society

With the escape of Kyle Bell in the news it may be an opportune time for everyone to review safety measures with friends and family.

It seems inexcusable that a convicted killer, a child killer for that matter, could escape. How could it happen? How could he be missing for nine hours before someone noticed? Why was he being transported by a private company? The whole story is sad and too horrible for many to contemplate, but contemplate we must.

North Dakota Governor Ed Schafer announced a $50,000 award to the person who privdes information that leads to the capture of Kyle Bell. In doing so, Schafer said, "this escape is additional proof that Kyle Bell is unfit for society and deserves to spend the rest of his life behind bars."

I doubt that safety measures are inadequate. Mistakes are made however, and when they happen, they deserve attention. Hopefully legislators take a close look at what's happening and are able to address the issues and provide adequate solutions.

At one time, people thought it was adequate to identify criminal sex offenders and rote their risk to society. As of June 28, 1999, the Minnesota Department of Corrections had sent information to law enforcement regarding the risk level determinations of 1,117 offenders. Of these, 698 (62.5 percent) are Level 1 (the lowest level), 258 (23.1 percent) are Level 2, and 161 (14.4 percent) are Level 3.

A recent example of how increased attention to an issue can result in legislators taking action crossed my desk this morning. Responding to legal issues highlighted in the Katie Poirier and Jessien, Swanson kidnaping-murder cases, Minnesota House DFL lawmakers unveiled a package of legislation designed to close loopholes that could allow kidnappers and sex offenders to evade prosecution.

The bill offered by the DFL'ers offers to expand Minnesota's sex-offender registration law, which requires newly released sex offenders to inform authorities about their intended place of residence and provides for public notice of the arrival of a released offender. The new proposal would apply the registration law to offenders released from prison before the registration law was enacted in 1991 if they commit another offense today. Had this law been in effect earlier, it might have allowed authorities to track the whereabouts of Donald Blom, the suspect in the Poirier case.

I agree with the DFL'ers, that the goal is to make the system work better and ensure justice is done. I hope that it won't be a partisan issue.

(The state agency responsible for registration of sex offenders in the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension.)

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

"Voices for The Land" seeks essay entrants

Hiking through native prairies and woods, canoeing headwater streams, hunting and fishing backwoods and waters, picking berries at the summer cabin, harvesting bountiful crops from the rich soils of the Red River Valley or wild rice from lakes and rivers — these are just some of the images of the landscape of northwest Minnesota.

Essays about these special places are being sought through a statewide essay contest called "Voices For The Land." The contest is open to everyone to write up to 400 word essays about places in Minnesota that are special to them. There are obviously many "special" places around the state, not the least of which are the special landscapes and lifestyles of northwestern Minnesota.

As we prepare to move into the next century, it's timely to reflect on why we live here and want to continue to live here. What is it about this landscape that we hold dear, why do we value it, what would we like it to be for our children's children — what is the legacy of the landscape that we want to leave for future generations? Our varied landscape is truly unique and has influenced how we work and play.

The deadline for submissions is November 15, 1999. Please send your typed, double-spaced essays to VFL Editor, Milkweed Editions, 430 First Avenue North, Suite 668, Minneapolis, MN 55401. Include your name, address, telephone number and age if you are under 18. All submissions or portions of submissions will be considered for publication. The Voices Project retains the rights to all non-commercial uses including other media and promotions. Entries will not be returned. Winners will be announced on February 1, 2000. If you have any questions contact Voices Regional Coordinator Wayne Goeken at 218-574-2622.

Winning essays will be published by national literary non-profit press, Milkweed Editions, in a special edition chapbook. Winners will be invited to appear at community readings around the state and selected essays will be published by the Star Tribune and newspapers statewide.

Voices for the Land is a project of the St. Croix Valley Community Foundation with additional funding from the Northwest Minnesota Foundation, Duluth-Superior Area Community Foundation and Central Minnesota Initiative Fund.

Local players contribute to Pioneer victory

For the first time in its history, Northland Community and Technical College has won outright the Northern Division of the Minnesota Community College Conference Football Championship title.

Several local athletes contributed to the victory including Ben Hanson of Goodridge, Seth Vettleson of Okiee, and Kelly Fossum of Thief River Falls.

Ben Hanson, a 1998 graduate of Goodridge High School, is an offensive guard for Northland. He is the son of Dale and Dawn Hanson of Goodridge.

Seth Vettleson, a 1999 graduate of Goodridge High School, is a center for Northland. He is the son of Glen and Annette Vettleson of Okiee.

Kelly Fossum, a 1998 graduate of Lincoln High School in Thief River Falls, is a wide receiver for Northland. He is the son of Gary and Diane Fossum of Thief River Falls.

The Pioneer football team went 3-1 in regular season play to win the Northern Conference title, defeating conference rivals Hibbing, Itasca, and Mesabi. On the season, however, the team went 6-2 overall, also taking wins against Central Lakes, Fergus Falls and Minnesota West. In 1986 and 1993, Northland tied for the conference title.

"This has been a great season for our team," said Pioneer Head Coach Dan Willoughby. "We have a line-up of talented players who give 110 percent to the sport, and every single one of them deserve credit for this championship."

The Pioneers have 66 players on the roster. Willoughby is assisted in his coaching efforts by Terry Wiseth, John Ott, Sean Huset, Eric Melcher, Kurt Reynolds and Dan Zubich.

Rhoades named assistant coach for Arctic Lites

Dan Rhoades

Dan Rhoades has been named assistant coach to the Arctic Lites Gymnastics Club. Rhoades brings a warm, energetic spirit to the club. He will work with all classes in the club.

Rhoades is originally from Wyoming and is a former Marine. He is currently a student at the Northland Community and Technical College, and is enrolled in the aviation program.

Rhoades was married in July 1999 and Rhoades and his wife are anxiously awaiting their first child this winter.

Rhoades enjoys many sports including gymnastics, baseball and softball. He welcomes the opportunity to go hunting and ride snowmobiles in northwest Minnesota.

The club's next event will take place at its annual Halloween Haunted House and Carnival. The event will be held Saturday, October 23 from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Arctic Lites Gymnastics building, across from Pennington Main. All gymnasts and friends are invited. The cost is $2. Additional tickets are available for 25 cents apiece. There will be a costume judging contest and pumpkin judging contest, so come dressed for fun with a friend and your newest pumpkin creation.

The next activity is the Cart-Wheel-A-Thon, a fund-raising endeavor, which will take place on November 12. Anyone interested in donating towards the event is encouraged to call the gym at 218-681-8461.

Request for Referendum on soybean promotion offered at FSA

From October 20 through November 16, the Department of Agriculture will provide producers an opportunity to participate in the Request for Referendum on the Soybean Promotion and Research Order at local FSA offices. This request for referendum is being carried out under the authority of the Soybean Promotion, Research, and Consumer Information Act. The order provides that the secretary, five years after the conduct of the initial referendum, which was held on February 9, 1994, will give soybean producers the opportunity to request a referendum on the order.

Producers may request a referendum by mail, facsimile, or in-person in the county FSA offices from October 20, 1999, through November 16, 1999. Individual producers and other producer entities will be provided the opportunity to request a referendum at the county FSA office where FSA maintains and processes the producer's administrative farm records. For the producer not participating in FSA programs, the opportunity to request a referendum would be provided at the county FSA office serving the county where the producer owns or rents land. Mail in requests must be postmarked by November 16, 1999, and received in the county FSA office by December 1, 1999. All other requests made by facsimile or in person, must be received in the county FSA office by November 16, 1999.

To be eligible to request a referendum, you must have been a "person" engaged in the growing of soybeans in the United States who owns, or shares the ownership and risk of loss of such soybeans from January 1, 1997, through November 16, 1999. The term "person" means an individual or a legal entity (for example, a corporation, partnership, estate, etc.) or a group of individuals with a joint ownership interest in soybeans (for example, a family, a cooperative, an association, etc.).

In this Request for Referendum, each eligible "person" may request a referendum once. Spouses who jointly produce soybeans are considered to be a "family" (i.e. a "group of individuals"), and are not entitled to a separate request even in community property states. No one is authorized to request a referendum on behalf of an individual producer.

Questions about eligibility, challenges, the challenge resolution process, appeals of eligibility determinations, county, reporting, and related topics should be directed to county FSA offices. Questions about Request for Referendum procedures (e.g., how to obtain ballot materials, where and when to request a referendum) should be directed to the county FSA office. Any other questions about the Request for Referendum should be referred to Ralph L. Tapp, at the Agricultural Marketing Service, Washington, DC, at 202-720-1115.

If the Secretary determines that at least 10 percent of the U.S. producers engaged in growing soybeans (not in excess of one-fifth of which may be producers in any one State) support the conduct of a referendum, the Secretary must conduct a referendum within one year of that determination. If these requirements are not met, no referendum would be conducted.

NWMC to sponsor Luminary Walk

Northwest Medical Center reminds everyone that October is Breast Cancer Awareness Month.

On Thursday, October 28, the hospital invites the public to join its staff in a Luminary Walk to honor those who have fought a battle with breast cancer.

Luminaries, consisting of lighted candles placed in small paper bags, will be place along the north sidewalk of NWMC, and those who would like to reserve a luminary in honor of a loved one may call (218) 681-4477 or stop by the front desk or X-ray department of the hospital and fill out a card. Names of those honored will be placed on the luminaries.

Everyone is encouraged to observe the event with those participating in the walk invited into the north lobby of the hospital where X-ray department staff will provide refreshments and information about breast cancer.

For more information about the Luminary Walk, call (218) 681-4477.

AAL Branch 9462 to meet October 26

Aid Association for Lutherans Branch 9462 will hold its monthly meeting on Tuesday, October 26 at 7 p.m. at Rodnes Lutheran Church, rural Erskine.

The evening will include the election of officers. It will also be a social activity with members encouraged to dress appropriately for "Hobo Night" and bring box games to share. Pot luck refreshments will be served.

Embassy Center to host antique appraiser Oct. 20

On October 26 at 7 p.m. the Embassy Community Center of Fosston will host a seminar by antique appraiser Dave Walton of Bemidji.

Each person attending may bring two items for Walton to appraise. The $5 admission charge will go into the Embassy Center's general fund.

Flea market at Embassy center today

The Embassy Community Center will hold its semi-annual flea market from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. today (Saturday, October 23).

Offerings will include baked goods, lefse, collectibles, crafts and more. Lunch will be served by the Senior Center's social club.

Singles Fellowship to meet October 24

Singles Christian Fellowship will hold its monthly meeting on Sunday, October 24 at 3 p.m at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

"Hobo Day" will be the event's theme, and members are encouraged to "dress like a bum and come." A short business meeting and other activities will precede the usual potluck supper.

All area singles are invited to attend. For more information about the club, contact Mae Johannessohn at (218) 435-1971.

North Sub-Section 8AAA volleyball tournament to begin matches Thursday

They don't know who they will play, or where, but the Thief River Falls girls know they will be on the road Thursday when the 1999 North Sub-Section 8AAA high school volleyball tournament gets underway at four sites.

Quarterfinal matches will be played that night at the site of the higher seeded teams, with No. 8 at 1; 7 at 2, 6 at 3, and 5 at 4. Pairings will be announced Monday.

Semifinals are scheduled Saturday, Oct. 30, again at the sites of the higher seeded teams. The Thursday, Nov. 4, championship match will be played at a neutral site.

Slow start doesn't stop TRF

■ Prowlers give up early TD, but beat EGF 35-12

Final outcome might have been predictable, but Thief River Falls' 35-12 Wednesday high school football win over East Grand Forks proved a point – victory, even when you carry the role of favorite – requires effort.

An injury-plagued 1-6 East Grand Forks team that was shut out the previous two starts by Warroad 51-0 and Crookston 34-0, ended the scoreless drought with an alarmingly-easy game-opening touchdown, and trailed just 14-6 at halftime.

Thief River Falls shook off the lackluster start, however, and picked up steam through the course of the night en route to a 5-3 regular season finish behind a 151-yard rushing night by Brian Loe, two touchdown passes by Brad Bulger, a perfect 5-for-5 night in conversion kicks by Bailey Nordin, and a bend-but-don't-break defense.

"We were flat at the start," admitted Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "These are high school kids; their mental approach to things isn't always what it should be. But the big thing is, they got through it. We had a good second half. Things started to click. As the game went on, we got better and better."

Mumm had a different view of things in the opening moments of the game when a 31-yard kick return to the East Grand Forks 45 by Tommy Solem was followed by a quick two-play scoring sequence. Both were passes as Kyle Schantzen found tight end John Miles open over the middle on a 25-yard first-snap gain, then flipped a swing pass to the left for Josh Perkerwicz out of the backfield that went for a 30-yard second-play touchdown with just 36 seconds gone off the clock.

Thief River Falls came up with a third-series score to go ahead 7-6. A 69-yard first down Loe burst through left tackle that carried to the East Grand Forks 12 ignited the three-play strike. The touchdown came from that spot when Loe ran under Bulger's soft toss down the left side with 5:15 left in the first quarter.

East Grand Forks' first half success could have been even more stunning if Schantzen hadn't overthrown a wide-open Perkerwicz in the end zone on the visitors' second possession, or if a penalty hadn't erased a 70-yard Schantzen-to-Miles touchdown late in the second quarter. After the latter, Green Wave tried a third down quick-kick with 2:12 left. But it netted just 22 yards – giving the Prowlers the ball at the East Grand Forks 41.

A 13-yard Bulger throw to Brett Johnson and a pair of runs by Nick Drees that produced 20 yards set up a 6-yard touchdown dive by fullback Adam Haviland with 1:15 on the clock.

If that score didn't break the Green Wave upset spirit, the next one certainly did as Loe followed a series of blocks on the left side and broke into the clear for a 46-yard touchdown on just the third play of the second half.

"That was a big touchdown right there," acknowledged Mumm. "That really swung the momentum in our favor."

The following Thief River Falls possession made it 28-6 as Bulger and Johnson hooked up on a 20-yard touchdown pass to finish a six-play, 43-yard drive. Bulger put the throw right on target in the right corner of the end zone, where Johnson, closely covered, took the ball away from the defensive back with a highlight-film catch.

Thief River Falls starters were on the bench when the Prowlers picked up their final touchdown on a nine-play, 68-yard possession that ended when Derek Walseth bounced out wide on the right side and went 22 yards for the score with 3:29 remaining in the game.

Schantzen, a sophomore, finished a 17-for-27, 241-yard passing performance when he found Perkerwicz down the right side for a 60-yard touchdown with 1:54 to play.

Those passing yards were needed since the Green Wave wound up with a minus-17 yards on the ground for the night, compared to the Prowlers' 409 rushing yards.

"Our defense, after that first series, played well," said Mumm. "We don't have the kind of defense that is going to shut out people. We give up some yards, but we make the plays when we have to."

Pioneers' season ends with 3-2 volleyball loss to Raiders Wednesday

Northland's bid for a top-four finish in the Northern Division and a berth in the 1999 Minnesota Community College Conference state volleyball tournament ended Wednesday with a 3-2 loss at the hands of Central Lakes.

The Raiders won the regular season finale played in Thief River Falls 14-16, 15-13, 15-9, 14-16, 15-11. The closely-contested match ended with fifth game rally-point scoring.

Northland would have earned a state tournament spot with a win. They stayed in the playoff picture Monday with an impressive 3-1 victory over Fergus Falls in a similar must-win situation.

"I actually think we played even better than we did Monday," said Northland coach Mike Zachow. We played really awesome. We just happened to be playing a much better team."

Central Lakes had a 14-9 lead and served for game-point on three occasions in the match opener, only to see Northland pull out the extended 16-14 win.

Game 2 was tied at 13-13 and Game 3 was close until the end.

Another dramatic comeback netted the Pioneers a Game 4 victory when the Raiders, after leading 13-9, went through three service rotations at 14-13 before Northland won another longer-than-regulation contest.

The final was no-less nail-biting, with Northland up 10-9 before losing ground at the end.

"The girls have nothing to hang their heads about," said Zachow. "I was very proud of them. The only disappointment would have been to lose and not play well."

Northland ended the year 7-7 in the MCCC and 13-12 overall – a major improvement over last year's 2-19 finish.

Prowlers will host Sabres in playoffs

Third-seeded Thief River Falls will play No. 6-seeded Sartell Tuesday in the opening round of the 1999 Section 8AAAA high school football playoffs. Kickoff at Prowler Field is set for 7 p.m.

Post-season pairings, based upon the regular season point standings, were announced Thursday, with the No. 1 spot and a first-round bye going to Fergus Falls, No. 2 Detroit Lakes, No. 3 Thief River Falls, No. 4 Rocori, No. 5 Little Falls, No. 6 Sartell, and No. 7 Sauk Rapids-Rice.

In addition to Sartell at Thief River Falls, the Tuesday playoff match-ups send Sauk Rapids-Rice to Detroit Lakes and Little Falls to Rocori.

Sartell and Thief River Falls did not meet this fall. The two teams were involved in a home-and-home series to open the 1996 and 1997 seasons that was swept by the Sabres, 31-6 at Sartell the first year and 21-20 in Thief River Falls the following fall.

The Sabres, a member of the Central Lakes Conference, are 2-6. They opened the year with losses to Detroit Lakes 19-14 and Little Falls 16-0; shut out Rocori 28-0; lost to Willmar 26-14 and Brainerd 23-15; knocked off St. Cloud Apollo 32-14; then finished with losses to Alexandria 34-28 and St. Cloud Tech 35-28 Wednesday.

Playoff ticket prices, set by the sectional committee, will be $5 for adults and $3 for students. No regular season passes will be honored.

TRF girls lose matches

Two Thief River Falls entries were beaten in first round matches during the individual portion of the 1999 Section 8AA high school tennis tournament Tuesday at St. Cloud.

Trina Snow of Sartell beat the Prowlers' Jenny Kimball 6-0, 6-1 in singles, while Nicole Lechner and Kelly Seaverson of St. Cloud Tech defeated Thief River Falls' Jenni Gonsorowski and Beth Padilla 7-6, 6-7, 6-2 in doubles.

Kimball and the Gonsorowski-Padilla tandem advanced in post-season play with top-four finishes at the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament a week earlier.

In in Section 8AA team finals Tuesday, Bemidji knocked off St. Cloud Tech 4-3. It was the Lumberjacks' first-ever win over the perennially-strong Tigers.

Bemidji, which last qualified for the state tournament team competition in 1989, is 13-1 in dual meet play this fall under Lincoln High School graduate Scott Engelstad.

Tech beat Bemidji 5-2 in last year's sectional final.

Strong showing still results in 3-0 defeat

It goes down as a 3-0 sweep for Roseau. However, it was anything but an easy victory for the visiting Rams in Thursday's high school volleyball match against Thief River Falls. Roseau hiked its record to 24-1 for the year by beating the Prowlers 15-13, 15-9, 15-10.

The loss was disappointing, but not the effort, according to Amy Roche, who serves as the Thief River Falls co-head coach, along with Bruce Jean. "We played our best-around match of the year," she said. "That was the most aggressive defense we've played. We went after things we haven't gone after all year. We're not happy with the loss, but if there's a silver lining, we did play well against a very good volleyball team."

Thief River Falls challenged Roseau from start to finish. Down 14-9 in Game 1 following a service ace by the Rams' Heidi Evans, the Prowlers came up with play-extending side-out kills by Rachel Mathson, Becky Bray and Kylie Rogalla while picking up points on a tip by Bray, a block by Katy Hook, then two shots by Bray through Roseau blockers. That series of events closed the scoreboard gap to 14-13, but a point-producing double-block by Ada Anderson and Evans cut off the Thief River Falls comeback.

The Prowlers had a similar first-game effort in their previous start against Fosston, another strong area foe, but couldn't sustain the attack in a one-sided finish to a 3-0 loss. This time, their inspired performance carried through the entire match.

With Ayla Donlin serving three aces and Mathson scoring on a put-back at the net, the Prowlers jumped out to a 4-0 lead in Game 2. The Rams then took over, building a 10-5 advantage on a Laura Lundbohm ace.

But Thief River Falls didn't go away. An ace by Mathson made it 11-8, and the Prowlers duplicated their first-game efforts by registering three side-outs – a kill and a block by Bray, along with a spike down the line by Donlin – with Roseau sitting at 14 points. Again, like Game 1, an Anderson-Evans double-block combination ended the dramatics, 15-9.

Aces by Donlin and Kim Almquist helped stake the Prowlers to a 5-3 lead in Game 3. Then came another 10-5 Roseau spread that was followed by another Thief River Falls rally that made it 11-9 off a block-beating kill by Mathson.

Roseau answered with points on an Evans-Lundbohm double-block, a put-back by Emily Erickson, and a kill by Kari DeJong that was blocked out of bounds by the Prowlers to go up 14-9.

Bray came up with a back-row side-out kill and Roseau was called for being in the net to make it 14-10 before Kristi Glassmann put an end to things with a kill.

"They (Prowlers) didn't let up," noted Roche. "They battled the whole night."

Bray finished with 16 kills and Mathson had 14. Donlin picked up 19 assists and four service aces. Hook had three aces. Bray and Rogalla came up with three blocks apiece.

Glassmann led the Rams with 12 kills. Lundbohm accumulated 35 assists; Evans had three aces; and DeJong blocked five shots.

It was the 1999 regular season finale for the 11-13-1 Prowlers.

Roseau was a 15-10, 15-5 winner over the Thief River Falls junior varsity team that ended the year 8-5.

■ Semifinals Saturday, Oct. 23 - Ridgewater at Northland, 1 p.m.; Vermilion at Rochester, 2:30 p.m.
■ Championship Saturday, Oct. 30 - at University of Minnesota-Duluth, 1 p.m.

Katie Jorde went down to the floor to pick up this serve during Thief River Falls' Tuesday night high school volleyball match against Roseau. The Prowlers lost the regular season finale to the once-beaten Rams 15-13, 15-9, 15-10.

Blue Devils put end to 18-game losing streak

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke turned a solid performance on both sides of the ball into a 36-0 high school football win over Tri-County Monday in a regular season-ending match-up of 0-6 teams.

The victory snapped an 18-game losing streak for the Blue Devils, who lost their final four starts in a 3-6 campaign in 1996 and went 0-8 last fall. It was also the first win for second-year Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke head coach John Wilebski.

"Everything clicked," said Wilebski. "There were no letdowns – something that we've had trouble with all year. The kids were pretty excited to finally get a win."

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 16-0 first quarter lead and never looked back. Dustin Marquis rushed for 133 yards on 22 carries and scored once to lead a 263-yard ground game for the winners. Quarterback Alex Holte scored two touchdowns and threw for another in a 7-for-12 passing performance that added 73 yards to the Blue Devils' offensive totals.

Nordics beat Gators

Kristi Kilen had 18 kills Tuesday to lead Marshall County Central past Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 15-1, 15-11, 15-11 in high school volleyball.

The match closed out the regular season for both the 18-6 Nordics and the 11-14 Gators.

"We played pretty well at the start," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We were aggressive; we kept them on defense."

Alicia Halvorson, playing in place of injured Tera Davidson, filled in nicely by picking up 14 first-game service points. Mandi Blawat added 8 kills to the Nordics' attack, and Emily Kragness contributed with a strong performance on defense, pointed out Jorgenson.

Mustangs finish with pair of close defeats

■ Section 7 playoffs start today

If regular season-ending results are indicative of the competitive balance in Section 7 Nine-Man high school football, there could be some dandy playoff match-ups.

Third-seeded Red Lake County Central completed its 1999 schedule with losses to top-seeded Win-E-Mac and second-seeded Climax/Fisher by a combined total of five points. The Mustangs, after dropping a 21-20 decision to the Knights Friday (Oct. 15), fell to the host Patriots 26-22 Tuesday.

"We knew these last two games were going to be tough," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brandt. "We knew we had to step it up. We did. We played some pretty good football against both of them."

The Mustangs scored the first two times they had the ball for a 16-0 head start over the Patriots. Matt Hruby finished a game-opening 12-play drive with a 10-yard touchdown run, then broke off a 74-yard scoring play with 3:20 left in the first quarter. Two-point conversions were tacked on by Wade Westlake and Andy Gustafson.

Win-E-Mac, after chopping the difference to 16-14, went into intermission with a 20-16 advantage when a halfback option pass from Travis Nelson to Nick DeFrang went for 38 yards and a touchdown with just 45 seconds left in the half.

After a defensive standoff in the third quarter, the Patriots' Joe Larson got loose on an 80-yard touchdown sprint 1:44 into the fourth quarter to open up a 10-point scoreboard spread.

■ Championship Wednesday, Nov 3 - at Fargodome, 10 a.m.

Hruby made a game of it by scoring on a 37-yard run with six minutes to play, but the Mustangs could not mount another threat.

It was a 21-carry, 176-yard rushing night for Hruby. Fourteen carries netted 73 yards for Gustafson and 57 for Westlake. The Mustangs netted 316 yards on 52 running plays. They had a quiet 1-for-3 passing night for 29 yards.

The Mustangs' defense featured Heath Rosten with 6 tackles, 4 assisted stops and a sack; Chris Nelson, 6 tackles, 3 assists, 2 sacks; Adam Koralewski, 6 tackles, 3 assists; and Hruby, 4 tackles, 5 assists.

North Sub-Section 8AAA volleyball tournament to begin matches Thursday

They don't know who they will play or where, but the Thief River Falls girls know they will be on the road Thursday when the 1999 North Sub-Section 8AAA high school volleyball tournament gets underway at four sites.

Quarterfinal matches will be played that night at the site of the higher seeded teams, with No. 8 at 1, 7 at 2, 6 at 3, and 5 at 4. Pairings will be announced Monday.

Semifinals are scheduled Saturday, Oct. 30, again at the sites of the higher seeded teams. The Thursday, Nov. 4, championship match will be played at a neutral site.

Slow start doesn't stop TRF

■ Prowlers give up early TD, but beat EGF 35-12

Final outcome might have been predictable, but Thief River Falls' 35-12 Wednesday high school football win over East Grand Forks proved a point – victory, even when you carry the role of favorite – requires effort.

An injury-plagued 1-6 East Grand Forks team that was shut out the previous two starts by Warroad 51-0 and Crookston 34-0, ended the scoreless drought with an alarmingly easy game-opening touchdown, and trailed just 14-6 at halftime.

Thief River Falls shook off the lackluster start, however, and picked up steam through the course of the night en route to a 5-3 regular season finish behind a 151-yard rushing night by Brian Loe, two touchdown passes by Brad Bulger, a perfect 5-for-5 night in conversion kicks by Bailey Nordin, and a bend-but-don't-break defense.

"We were flat at the start," admitted Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "These are high school kids, their mental approach to things isn't always what it should be. But the big thing is, they got through it. We had a good second half. Things started to click. As the game went on, we got better and better."

Mumm had a different view of things in the opening moments of the game when a 31-yard kick return to the East Grand Forks 45 by Tommy Solem was followed by a quick two-play scoring sequence. Both were passes as Kyle Schantzen found tight end John Miles open over the middle on a 25-yard first-snap gain, then flipped a swing pass to the left for Josh Perkerwicz out of the backfield that went for a 30-yard second-play touchdown with just 36 seconds gone off the clock.

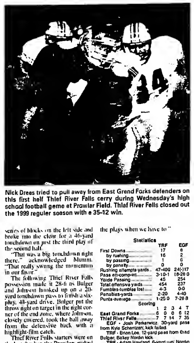
Thief River Falls came up with a third-series score to go ahead 7-6. A 69-yard first down Loe burst through left tackle that carried to the East Grand Forks 12 ignited the three-play strike. The touchdown came from that spot when Loe ran under Bulger's soft toss down the left side with 5:15 left in the first quarter.

East Grand Forks' first half success could have been even more stunning if Schantzen hadn't overthrown a wide-open Perkerwicz in the end zone on the visitors' second possession, or if a penalty hadn't erased a 70-yard Schantzen-to-Miles touchdown late in the second quarter. After the latter, Green Wave tried a third down quick-kick with 2:12 left. But it netted just 22 yards – giving the Prowlers the ball at the East Grand Forks 41.

A 13-yard Bulger throw to Brett Johnson and a pair of runs by Nick Drees that produced 20 yards set up a 6-yard touchdown dive by fullback Adam Haviland with 1:15 on the clock.

If that score didn't break the Green Wave upset spirit, the next one certainly did as Loe followed a series of blocks on the left side and broke into the clear for a 46-yard touchdown on just the third play of the second half.

"That was a big touchdown right there," acknowledged Mumm. "That really swung the momentum in our favor."



The following Thief River Falls possession made it 28-6 as Bulger and Johnson hooked up on a 20-yard touchdown pass to finish a six-play, 48-yard drive. Bulger put the throw right on target in the right corner of the end zone, where Johnson, closely covered, took the ball away from the defensive back with a highlight-film catch.

Thief River Falls starters were on the bench when the Prowlers picked up their final touchdown on a nine-play, 68-yard possession that ended when Derek Walseth bounced out wide on the right side and went 22 yards for the score with 3:29 remaining in the game.

Schantzen, a sophomore, finished a 17-for-27, 241-yard passing performance when he found Perkerwicz down the right side for a 60-yard touchdown with 1:54 to play.

Those passing yards were needed since the Green Wave wound up with a minus-17 yards on the ground for the night, compared to the Prowlers' 409 rushing yards.

"Our defense, after that first series, played well," said Mumm. "We don't have the kind of defense that is going to shut out people. We give up some yards, but we make the plays when we have to."

Nick Drees tried to pull away from East Grand Forks defenders on this first half Thief River Falls carry during Wednesday's high school football game at Prowler Field. Thief River Falls closed out the 1999 regular season with a 35-12 win.

Pioneers' season ends with 3-2 volleyball loss to Raiders Wednesday

Northland's bid for a top-four finish in the Northern Division and a berth in the 1999 Minnesota Community College Conference state volleyball tournament ended Wednesday with a 3-2 loss at the hands of Central Lakes.

The Raiders won the regular season finale played in Thief River Falls 14-16, 15-13, 15-9, 14-16, 15-11. The closely-contested match ended with fifth game rally-point scoring.

Northland would have earned a state tournament spot with a win. They stayed in the playoff picture Monday with an impressive 3-1 victory over Fergus Falls in a similar must-win situation.

"I actually think we played even better than we did Monday," said Northland coach Mike Zachow. "We played really awesome. We just happened to be playing a much better team."

Central Lakes had a 14-9 lead and served for game-point on three occasions in the match opener, only to see Northland pull out the extended 16-14 win.

Game 2 was tied at 13-13 and Game 3 was close until the end.

Another dramatic comeback netted the Pioneers a Game 4 victory when the Raiders, after leading 13-9, went through three service rotations at 14-13 before Northland won another longer-than-regulation contest.

The final was no-less nail-biting, with Northland up 10-9 before losing ground at the end.

"The girls have nothing to hang their heads about," said Zachow. "I was very proud of them. The only disappointment would have been to lose and not play well."

Northland ended the year 7-7 in the MCCC and 13-12 overall – a major improvement over last year's 2-19 finish.

Prowlers will host Sabres in playoffs

Third-seeded Thief River Falls will play No. 6-seeded Sartell Tuesday in the opening round of the 1999 Section 8AAAA high school football playoffs. Kickoff at Prowler Field is set for 7 p.m.

Post-season pairings, based upon the regular season point standings, were announced Thursday, with the No. 1 spot and a first-round bye going to Fergus Falls, No. 2 Detroit Lakes, No. 3 Thief River Falls, No. 4 Rocori, No. 5 Little Falls, No. 6 Sartell, and No. 7 Sauk Rapids-Rice.

In addition to Sartell at Thief River Falls, the Tuesday playoff match-ups send Sauk Rapids-Rice to Detroit Lakes and Little Falls to Rocori.

Sartell and Thief River Falls did not meet this fall. The two teams were involved in a home-and-home series to open the 1996 and 1997 seasons that was swept by the Sabres, 31-6 at Sartell the first year and 21-20 in Thief River Falls the following fall.

The Sabres, a member of the Central Lakes Conference, are 2-6. They opened the year with losses to Detroit Lakes 19-14 and Little Falls 16-0; shut out Rocori 28-0; lost to Willmar 26-14 and Brainerd 23-15; knocked off St. Cloud Apollo 32-14; then finished with losses to Alexandria 34-28 and St. Cloud Tech 35-28 Wednesday.

Playoff ticket prices, set by the sectional committee, will be $5 for adults and $3 for students. No regular season passes will be honored.

TRF girls lose matches

Two Thief River Falls entries were beaten in first round matches during the individual portion of the 1999 Section 8AA high school tennis tournament Tuesday at St. Cloud.

Trina Snow of Sartell beat the Prowlers' Jenny Kimball 6-0, 6-1 in singles, while Nicole Lechner and Kelly Seaverson of St. Cloud Tech defeated Thief River Falls' Jenny Gonsorowski and Beth Padilla 7-6, 6-7, 6-2 in doubles.

Kimball and the Gonsorowski-Padilla tandem advanced in post-season play with top-four finishes at the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament a week earlier.

In in Section 8AA team finals Tuesday, Bemidji knocked off St. Cloud Tech 4-3. It was the Lumberjacks' first-ever win over the perennially-strong Tigers.

Bemidji, which last qualified for the state tournament team competition in 1989, is 13-1 in dual meet play this fall under Lincoln High School graduate Scott Engelstad.

Tech beat Bemidji 5-2 in last year's sectional final.

Strong showing still results in 3-0 defeat

It goes down as a 3-0 sweep for Roseau. However, it was anything but an easy victory for the visiting Rams in Thursday's high school volleyball match against Thief River Falls. Roseau hiked its record to 24-1 for the year by beating the Prowlers 15-13, 15-9, 15-10.

The loss was disappointing, but not the effort, according to Amy Roche, who serves as the Thief River Falls co-head coach, along with Bruce Jean. "We played our best all-around match of the year," she said. "That was the most aggressive defense we've played. We went after things we haven't gone after all year. We're not happy with the loss, but if there's a silver lining, we did play well against a very good volleyball team."

Thief River Falls challenged Roseau from start to finish. Down 14-9 in Game 1 following a service ace by the Rams' Heidi Evans, the Prowlers came up with play-extending side-out kills by Rachel Mathison, Becky Bray and Kylie Rogalla while picking up points on a tip by Bray, a block by Katy Hook, then two shots by Bray through Roseau blockers. That series of events closed the scoreboard gap to 14-13, but a point-producing double-block by Ada Anderson and Evans cut off the Thief River Falls comeback.

The Prowlers had a similar first-game effort in their previous start against Fosston, another strong area foe, but couldn't sustain the attack in a one-sided finish to a 3-0 loss. This time, their inspired performance carried through the entire match.

With Ayla Donlin serving three aces and Mathison scoring on a put-back at the net, the Prowlers jumped out to a 4-0 lead in Game 2. The Rams then took over, building a 10-5 advantage on a Laura Lundbohm ace.

But Thief River Falls didn't go away. An ace by Mathison made it 11-8, and the Prowlers duplicated their first-game efforts by registering three side-outs – a kill and a block by Bray, along with a spike down the line by Donlin – with Roseau sitting at 14 points. Again, like Game 1, an Anderson-Evans double-block combination ended the dramatics, 15-9.

Aces by Donlin and Kim Almquist helped stake the Prowlers to a 5-3 lead in Game 3. Then came another 10-5 Roseau spread that was followed by another Thief River Falls rally that made it 11-9 off a block-beating kill by Mathison.

Roseau answered with points on an Evans-Lundbohm double-block, a put-back by Emily Erickson, and a kill by Kari DeJong that was blocked out of bounds by the Prowlers to go up 14-9.

Bray came up with a back-row side-out kill and Roseau was called for being in the net to make it 11-10 before Kristi Glassmann put an end to things with a kill.

"They (Prowlers) didn't let up," noted Roche. "They battled the whole night."

Bray finished with 16 kills and Mathison had 14. Donlin picked up 19 assists and four service aces. Hook had three aces. Bray and Rogalla came up with three blocks apiece.

Glassmann led the Rams with 12 kills. Lundbohm accumulated 35 assists; Evans had three aces; and DeJong blocked five shots.

It was the 1999 regular season finale for the 11-13-4 Prowlers.

Roseau was a 15-10, 15-5 winner over the Thief River Falls junior varsity team that ended the year 8-5.

Katie Jorde went down to the floor to pick up this serve during Thief River Falls' Tuesday night high school volleyball match against Roseau. The Prowlers lost the regular season finale to the once-beaten Rams 15-13, 15-9, 15-10.

Blue Devils put end to 18-game losing streak

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke turned a solid performance on both sides of the ball into a 36-0 high school football win over Tri-County Monday in a regular season-ending match-up of 0-6 teams.

The victory snapped an 18-game losing streak for the Blue Devils, who lost their final four starts in a 3-6 campaign in 1996 and went 0-8 last fall. It was also the first win for second-year Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke head coach John Wilebski.

"Everything clicked," said Wilebski. "There were no letdowns – something that we've had trouble with all year. The kids were pretty excited to finally get a win."

The Blue Devils jumped out to a 16-0 first quarter lead and never looked back. Dustin Marquis rushed for 133 yards on 22 carries and scored once to lead a 263-yard ground game for the winners. Quarterback Alex Holte scored two touchdowns and threw for another in a 7-for-12 passing performance that added 73 yards to the Blue Devils' offensive totals.

Nordics beat Gators

Kristi Kilen had 18 kills Tuesday to lead Marshall County Central past Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 15-1, 15-11, 15-11 in high school volleyball.

The match closed out the regular season for both the 18-6 Nordics and the 11-14 Gators.

"We played pretty well at the start," reported Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We were aggressive; we kept them on defense."

Alecia Halvorson, playing in place of injured Tera Davidson, filled in nicely by picking up 14 first-game service points. Mandi Blawat added 8 kills to the Nordics' attack, and Emily Krugness contributed with a strong performance on defense, pointed out Jorgenson.

Mustangs finish with pair of close defeats

■ Section 7 playoffs start today

If regular season-ending results are indicative of the competitive balance in Section 7 Nine-Man high school football, there could be some dandy playoff match-ups.

Third-seeded Red Lake County Central completed its 1999 schedule with losses to top-seeded Win-E-Mac and second-seeded Climax/Fisher by a combined total of five points. The Mustangs, after dropping a 21-20 decision to the Knights Friday (Oct. 15), fell to the host Patriots 26-22 Tuesday.

"We knew these last two games were going to be tough," said Red Lake County Central coach Gary Brandt. "We knew we had to step it up. We did. We played some pretty good football against both of them."

The Mustangs scored the first two times they had the ball for a 16-0 lead start over the Patriots. Matt Hruby finished a game-opening 12-play drive with a 10-yard touchdown run then broke off a 74-yard scoring play with 3:20 left in the first quarter. Two-point conversions were tacked on by Wade Westlake and Andy Gustafson.

Win-E-Mac, after chopping the difference to 16-14, went into intermission with a 20-16 advantage when a halfback option pass from Travis Nelson to Nick DeFrang went for 38 yards and a touchdown with just 45 seconds left in the half.

After a defensive standoff in the third quarter, the Patriots' Joe Larson got loose on an 80-yard touchdown sprint 1:44 into the fourth quarter to open up a 10-point scoreboard spread.

Section 7 Nine-Man Football

■ First round Saturday Oct. 23 - Norman County West vs. East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, 6:30 p.m. at Halstad; Norman County East vs. Red Lake County Central, 7 p.m. at Plummer

■ Semifinals Friday Oct. 29 - Win-E-Mac vs. Norman County West or East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, 7 p.m. at Erskine; Climax-Fisher vs. Norman County East or Red Lake County Central, 7 p.m. at Climax

■ Championship Wednesday Nov. 3 - at Fargodome, 10 a.m.

Hruby made a game of it by scoring on a 37-yard run with six minutes to play but the Mustangs could not mount another threat.

It was a 21-carry, 176-yard rushing night for Hruby. Fourteen carries netted 73 yards for Gustafson and 57 for Westlake. The Mustangs netted 316 yards on 52 running plays. They had a quiet 1-for-3 passing night for 29 yards.

The Mustangs' defense featured Heath Rosten with 6 tackles, 4 assisted stops and a sack; Chris Nelson, 6 tackles, 3 assists, 2 sacks; Adam Koralewski, 6 tackles, 3 assists, and Hruby, 4 tackles, 5 assists.

INTENTIONAL DUPLICATE EXPOSURE

and exact method of communication, there are as many as 40 Inuktitut words to describe snow. Today, approximately 95 percent of the Inuit are also fluent in English.

After giving up their nomadic lifestyles to settle in villages, the Inuit continued to carve objects from stone, bone, antler and ivory developing the items which were once utilitarian in nature into what has become a world renowned art form. In addition to the carvings, Nunavik's artisans create traditional atigi (parkas), nasaq (hats) and sealskin kamik (boots) in addition to dolls, wall tapestries and other unique items.

While the native people have experienced many changes through the years, their strong and admirable values system still exists and they continue to rely on their native hunting skills to provide food for their communities.

Not only do the region's modern hunting and fishing lodges permit the inuit to use their cultural skills but have also provided a new source of prosperity for the region.

Nunavik is a nature lover's paradise with caribou, muskox, black bear, polar bear, walrus, beluga, seal, narwhal, wolves, foxes, ptarmigan, geese, ducks, birds of prey, giant arctic char, Atlantic salmon, speckled trout and lake trout all thriving there.

Today, more than a million caribou roam the tundra and forests of Nunavik, giving the territory the "Caribou Capital of the World" distinction and making it the center of a world-class natural phenomenon.

While caribou were seen everywhere in northern Quebec at the end of the last century, something caused the caribou to disappear between 1890 and 1910. No one knows the reason for the decline that resulted in a lack of food for the native groups, nor does anyone know why, after remaining low for decades, the numbers of caribou began to rise in the 1970s and multiply into what has become a true natural phenomenon.

As the caribou herds move from the the icy shores to the mountains to the tundra and forest, not only do they provide hunting opportunities for the native peoples but hunters from all over the world who travel to Nunavik to hopefully enjoy a close encounter with the best-known symbol of arctic life.

In an effort to capitalize on the opportunities afforded by the region's vast wildlife resources, the Nunavik Tourism Association has made numerous marketing efforts.

Igloos have given way to simple wood-framed houses in the Inuit-controlled region of Nunavik in northern Quebec. Nearly all of the approximate 8,700 Inuits inhabiting the region live in the 14 villages which are located along Nunavik's coasts. Local outdoorsman recently hunted in Nunavik where migrating caribou herds now number more than a million animals.

Beautiful photographs enhance the many brochures which describe the wild uniqueness of the region.

Although only three of Nunavik's villages have populations of more than 1,000, separate brochures describe the people, artists and events which make each community unique.

The material depicting Puvirnituq, for example, tells of how much of the lore of the people is captured by its world famous stone carvers and of how the village is situated in a region of Nunavik called "Amaamtisivik, a place where babies are breast-fed." This, according to the brochure, is so the infants will not cry and distract the caribou herd. The printed material also contains photographs of impressively carved snow sculptures and tells of the community's annual week-long snow festival which is held in April.

Nunavik is accessible only by air with two Inuit-owned airlines, First Air and Air Inuit, serving the entire region on a daily basis. From Montreal, First Air's wide-body jets make regular flights to Kuujjuaq in the Ungava region, and on the Hudson coast, Air Inuit provides services to the villages. Once in Nunavik, Air Inuit travels between the villages and offers light and bush plane charter services.

All of the region's villages have established small inns and motels, and accommodations range from "comfortable and cozy" rooms with shared rest rooms and kitchen facilities in Puvirnituq's hotel to the Auberge Inn in Kuujjuaq which hosts a "fine restaurant, comfortable bar, and conveniences for the business traveler."

For caribou hunters, Nunavik's licensed outfitters offer fully guided, semi-guided and self-guided packages for rifle, archery and muzzleloader hunters, and combination hunting and fishing packages are available in late August and early September.

In addition to offering full-service lodges and outpost camps in Nunavik's best locations, outfitters have established a network of temporary hunting camps in remote areas in an attempt to bring hunters as close as possible to the constantly moving migrating caribou herds.

Hopefully, with an understanding of this unique and interesting region of the world, readers will appreciate next week's story in the Northern Watch which will detail the experiences of the local hunters who traveled to Nunavik in September.

The biography of an elder from Inukjuak includes the following passage — "Still numerous new things will come, and life will be even more different in the future. All the people of the world, Inuit and white people, will explore and learn together, because we who are breathing on earth are all relatives."

The excerpt speaks of the values of the people of Nunavik and their willingness to share their vast and wild wonderland.

Treat kids to a safe Halloween

Halloween is a real treat for kids and the trick is to keep them safe from injuries on a potentially risky night.

"The greatest risk to children on Halloween is not candy tampering," said Connie Johnson, coordinator of the Minnesota Safe Kids Coalition. "The majority of injuries result from contact with motor vehicles, falls and burns."

The coalition recommends simple steps to help prevent injuries and suggests that adults take a moment to talk with children about safety before they head out trick-or-treating. Children under age 12 should be accompanied by an adult or older sibling. Recommendations include:

- Attach retro-reflective tape, fabric or decorative patches to costumes and trick-or-treat bags.
- Review basic pedestrian safety rules, including where and how to cross streets. Teach kids never to dart out into the street — it's one of the most common causes of pedestrian deaths among children.
- Use face paint or cosmetics instead of a mask, make costumes short enough to prevent tripping, and provide flashlights. Props should be made of flexible material to lower the risk of injury in case of a fall. Advise children not to cut across yards where tripping hazards may be hidden in the dark.
- Look for "Flame resistant" labels on costumes and use fire resistant material to make costumes; avoid baggy sleeves and billowing skirts, which may be a hazard around candles. Keep candles, matches, lighters and jack-o-lanterns with candles out of children's reach.

The coalition also recommends that drivers be particularly alert on Halloween and watch for children on the street, in alleys and crossing driveways.

Halloween safety brochures for children and adults are available by contacting the Minnesota Safe Kids Coalition at the Minnesota Safety Council at 651-291-9150 or 1-800-444-9150.

Elks launch most valuable student scholarship contest

Elks National Foundation of the BPO Elks of the U.S. will award nearly $2.1 million in college scholarships to a total of 500 high school seniors nationwide through its Most Valuable Student scholarship contest.

The contest is open to students in the graduating class of a high school, or its equivalent, who are citizens of the United States. Applications will be available at the Elks' home page www.elks.org, by October 15; at local Elks lodges or local high schools after November 1; or by sending a self-addressed stamped envelope to the Elks National Foundation, 2750 North Lakeview Avenue, Chicago, IL 60614.

The filing deadline for this year's contest is January 14, 2000. Completed applications must be turned in to the scholarship chairman, exalted ruler or secretary of the Elks lodge in whose jurisdiction the applicant resides. Applicants must advance through local, district and state competition to reach the national judging.

Male and female students will compete separately. Applicants will be judged on financial need, leadership and scholarship. The Elks National Foundation, the charitable arm of the BPO Elks of the USA, will award scholarships to 500 national finalists. The top male and female student will receive scholarships of $7,500 a year for four years. The second-place male and female will receive $4,000 a year for four years, and the third-place male and female will receive $3,000 a year for four years. In addition, the Foundation will award 494 scholarships of $1,000 a year for four years. The 500 winners will be announced in May 2000. Some local lodges, districts and states will also award scholarships to applicants.

The mission of the Elks National Foundation is to provide tomorrow's leaders, our youth, with a healthy beginning. The Foundation annually awards more than $3 million through its five scholarship programs: the Most Valuable Student contest, emergency educational grants to the children of deceased or totally disabled Elks, scholarships for Eagle Scouts and Girl Scout Gold Award winner, and Legacy Awards for children of Elks.

The Elks National Foundation and the BPO Elks of the USA are headquartered at 2750 North Lakeview Avenue, Chicago, IL 60614-1889, 773-775-4732, http://www.elks.org.

Crista Boutain, Marshall Mickelson and Nickolas Mickelson were named winners of the Goodridge Area Fire department poster contest. Nickolas was the third place winner, and is the fifth grade son of Eric and Patty Mickelson.

GAME, FISH & ENFORCEMENT

Duck Hunters are wandering, WHERE DID THEY GO?

The waterfowl populations have been fairly low in the area the past couple weeks. The birds seem to be content sitting in balmy Canada.

Even with our recent cold weather, Northern Canada is seeing relatively nice temperatures.

We are not alone. The rest of the state is seeing the same low numbers and hunters that I have talked to that have been to North Dakota and Southern Canada report the same.

As most of you know, with the shallow water in the area and the possibility of an early freeze, if the weather holds up north, the waterfowl may skip us all together.

Now I don't want to wish ill weather on anyone, but, one small storm in Canada may make the difference in our bird populations for a late fall duck hunt.

Keep your fingers crossed and watch you favorite field or slough, they may still show up.

The deer baiting reports are already pouring in. I spoke with one hunter who told me the baiting is so bad in his area the deer don't even pay attention to it anymore. I remind hunters, baiting is illegal, unethical, and just plain slobish.

Deer activity is also picking up. I have talked with several bow hunters that have bagged nice deer. The pre rut activity is also picking up.

Along with the rut, car/deer accidents have increased. Remember, when traveling, especially at night, deer are unpredictable. Don't assume if it's in the ditch it's going to stay there. When you see a deer near the road, slow down.

Also with winter weather approaching, it's time to dig that old sleeping bag and survival kit out from the garage and get it back into the trunk. As we know, the end of October can produce some nasty weather. Don't get caught off guard.

Be safe, good luck and think ethically.

Denis McGibbon named Postmaster at TRF Post Office

McGibbon said he's looking forward to working here. The lifestyle is a lot more favorable, not slower, but easier and the people are more friendly and open. He said he's an avid hunter and fisherman and there's a lot to offer around here. He said he also enjoys golf, although problems with his shoulder have shortened his swing and kept him off golf courses; also, he's focused on moving with his wife Kathy to Thief River Falls. Kathy is currently employed with Blue Cross in St. Paul.

Fire destroys rural RLF home Wed. morning

The Steve Rhode residence five miles south and one mile east of Red Lake Falls was destroyed by fire Wednesday morning.

Red Lake Falls Fire Chief Dan Geller said they received a report of the fire at about 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, October 20. Geller said Rhode and his son were working in the garage when they noticed smoke coming from the house. They called the fire department from a neighbor's house. By the time the fire department arrived, the home was already engulfed in flames.

There were no injuries. The cause of the fire is unknown.

Riverview now offers chemo

In September Riverview Healthcare Association's Outpatient Services Dept. began offering monitored chemotherapy to its local cancer patients.

Monitored chemotherapy is like other chemotherapy with the exception of the need to closely monitor a patient's vital signs while receiving the medications. Certain medications cause allergic reactions in some patients, leading to serious side effects.

Previously, this service was offered only in cities with larger medical centers with patients having to drive several miles to receive their treatment and then return home, sometimes experiencing the adverse effects of the drugs.

For more information about monitored chemotherapy at Riverview, call (218) 281-9482 or (218) 281-9170.

Taxpayers asked to go to the polls Nov. 2

Election day, Tuesday, November 2, will see voters going to the polls to decide a number of issues and choose between the many candidates vying for seats on school boards and city councils.

Levy Referendums

School District 630 (Red Lake Falls) residents will vote on a proposed levy referendum on Tuesday, November 2. The school district has proposed a levy referendum to raise $201,683, of which $50,172 will be raised locally, and the rest will come from the state.

School District 627 (Dklee) has proposed to increase its generol education revenue with a levy referendum. According to the question posed voters, approval would increase revenue by $760.89 per resident marginal cost pupil unit. The additional revenue will be used to finance school operations. It is expected to raise approximately $200,000. It would be in effect for five years.

School District 676 (Badger) is proposing to increase its general education revenue with a levy referendum. According to the question posed voters, it would increase revenue by $1,251.56 per resident marginal cost pupil unit. A portion of this proposed referendum would replace the school district's prior authorization which has expired. The additional revenue will be used to finance school operotions. It would be in effect for five years.

School board terms

In School District 2683 (Greenbush/Middle River) four candidates are vying for three four-year terms on the school board. The candidates are Lyla G. Smith, Rick Sovde, Richard Churchill and Carrie Taggart. Polls will open at 1 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. on November 2.

Nine candidates are vying for three four-year terms on the board of education for School District 682 (Rnsean). Candidates are Troy Bryan Borgen, Mary Jane Broten, Rhett Hulst, Brian P. Muirhead, William Peterson, Joe Schneider, Daniel Timmersman, William H. Wagner, Patricia Wesman. Polls will open at 1 p.m. and will close at 8 p.m.

In School District 690 (Warroad) eight candidates and one write-in candidate are vying for three four-year terms on the board of education. The candidates include: Brett Bastian, Tim Fish, James L. Hamlin, Patrick Mohrbacher, Dick Meyers, Karen Pederson, Dale A. Zeidlik and write-in candidate Bruce "Buffalo" Fuller.

City Election

Voters will select four from among 10 candidates, and one write-in candidate, for seats on the city council in Thief River Falls. In addition, voters are being asked whether they wish to permit Sunday liquor. Candidates for the offices include Glen Kajewski, Dennis Nubben, and Steven Narverud in Ward 1; Mark Smite and Dale Wennberg in Ward 3; Terence BlackLance and Dennis Rantanen in Ward 5; and Elvera Cullen, Conrad C. Holten, Roger M. Meunier, and Jerry Unruh for Representative-At-Large. Only one candidate from each ward will be selected. Polls in Thief River Falls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Cub Scouts pitch in

"...a Cub Scout gives goodwill," part of the Law of the Pack, was demonstrated at a recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 199. On Tuesday, October 26, the pack presented Pennington County Deputy Terry Bayne with a monetary donation which is to be used for the purchase of a bulletproof vest and tracking collar for his canine partner, Magnum. The pack meeting, held in the basement of the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center, included a presentation by Moorhead police officer Michael Detloff and his two-year-old German shepherd, Rowdy. Surrounded by Cub Scouts are Deputy Terry Bayne (left), Detloff and Rowdy, wearing the bulletproof vest that identifies him as a member of the Moorhead Police Department. Pack 199 includes 15 youth members and is sponsored by St. John Lutheran Church.

Pennington Co. Humane Society receives $6,000

PETsMART Charities, Inc., a Phoenix, AZ, based non-profit organization has awarded $6,000 to the Pennington County Humane Society to help defroy the costs of spaying and neutering pets in the area. The gront will assist Pennington County Humane Society by supporting a program that might otherwise not be funded.

Pennington County Humane Society requested the funding knowing that if the graot was approved, it would funher their life-saving efforts in the communities they serve. The organization is located in Thief River Falls, and assists animals in Pennington, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake, and Roseau counties.

Coupons are being offered to the public on a first-come first-serve basis, with priority being given to those who have adopted a pet from the Penalngton County Humane Society. The coupons provide $25 towards a dog spay, $15 towards a cat spoy, and $10 toward a dog or cat neuter. The coupons are being honored by Clearwater Veterinary Services, Greenbush Veterinary Clinic, Northern Veterinary Services, Red Lake Falls Veterinary Clinic, Roseau Veterinary Services and Valley Animal Hospital.

To obtain a coupon, or if you would like to donate money, supplies or volunteer time to the life saving efforts of Pennington County Humane Society, please call 681-8045.

If you would like more information about PETsMART Charities and their funding programs, please call 1-602-587-2840. It is PETsMART Charities mission to end the unnecessary euthanasia of adoptable companion animals as a means of controlling pet over-population. PETsMART Charities primarily provides financial grants for new programs which assist in ending unnecessary euthanasia and raising pet adoption statistics.

Turn back clocks, daylight-saving time ends Oct. 31

Saturday evening, residents are reminded to turn back their clocks before they go to bed, because Daylight Saving time officially ends this year on October 31. To be specific, it ends at 2 a.m. on Sunday, October 31.

School Dist. 564 receives good financial report

Roy Lunde of Brady Martz, CPAs, presented the School District's annual audit report Monday night during the regular school board meeting. Lunde said, "As we look at the year, it was a good year financially for the district."

Lunde cited a $400,000 increase in the fund balance as a significant improvement. He explained that the district had a good cash balance, and where there's a good cash balance, a good fund balance will be found. Because of the increase in the fund balance, Lunde said his estimate of the district's dollar per pupil unit improved. He estimates that the district now has a $938 per pupil unit, which is in line with other districts. Lunde said he views $950 to $1,000 per pupil unit as acceptable. He said he's optimistic about the financial results, but cautiously so because enrollment declined last year. He explained that if the district loses 25 students, even an increase of two to three percent in costs could mean difficult times for the district.

■ Barb Kalinoski, board representative sitting on the joint powers board for the Multi-Events Center, said the board is still trying to obtain more direct involvement in the future of the track. At the last meeting of the joint powers board, Kalinoski requested that a second opinion on the condition of the track and the repairs needed be obtained at the school district's expense. She explained that if the state determines that the track was built to specifications it could sign off on the project even though there are severe cracks in the track. According to the contract the school district signed with the joint powers board, the school district is responsible for any future repairs and maintenance of the track. A decision to sign off on the track now could leave the district with significant costs. It is the board's position that it should have direct involvement in the decision-making process at this particular time. Kalinoski said she remains optimistic, but the district has to cover its tracks.

■ The school board has authorized the administration to proceed with specifications for installation of an elevator at the District Service Center. Harry Nelson, business manager, said the project could cost as much as $200,000 and would include the elevator and shaft as well as work to make the bathrooms in the building handicapped accessible. He said he would like to get bids in January and February for the project so that the district can get decent prices and do the project in December. Funds for the pro-

Caribou hunt takes TRF sportsmen to arctic

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

The thrill of the hunt — an activity brought on by primal urge and feverishly sought by millions of men and a fewer, but equally enthusiastic, number of women.

In September, three Thief River Falls men, all retired railroad employees, enjoyed a caribou hunting adventure in northern Quebec, the Inuit-controlled Nunavik territory described in a story in last week's Northern Watch.

Hilary Stoltman hunted with a party during the first week in September, and the party that included Ron Broten and Omer Olson made the trip the following week at the peak of the caribou season which runs from August to October.

The caribou hunts were arranged through outfitters who specialize in offering hunting and fishing trips as well as adventure tours in the arctic region.

A typical non-guided fall week hunting package costs approximately $2,500 and includes hotel accommodations in Montreal, shuttle service between the hotel and airport, air transportation from Montreal to the camps, meals, lodging, freezing and storage of game, boxes for game transportation and two caribou hunting licenses. Guided packages are also available.

Each hunter is allowed 70 pounds of gear per person, including two pieces of luggage and one gun case. Because of the rapidly changing weather conditions on the tundra, the following items are suggested: rain suit, wool socks and shirts, long underwear, warm pants, coats, gloves and hats, sweaters, two pair of warm waterproof boots, hunting knife, binoculars, spotting scope, flashlight, cheese cloth, fly repellent or bug jacket, waterproof matches, sunglasses, sleeping bag and towel and wash cloth. An orange vest is required by law for hunters in the province of Quebec.

Also, caribou adventure outfitters suggest the following calibers with scope: 30-06, 308, 270, 7mm and 300 magnum. Because scope lens can easily fog up due to the varying weather conditions, it is recommended that hunters have a detachable cap for the lens. It is also suggested that rifles are sighted in before making the trip and that rifles and bows are in sturdy cases for transportation.

The party that included Ron Broten and Omer Olson, also included Jackie Bertram and her husband, Dan, from Detroit Lakes as well as four other male hunters from Fergus Falls, Lakeville and Faribault.

On September 8, the group met in Montreal and spent the night at the Quality Hotel. The next morning, they boarded the Boeing 727 Inuit-owned First Air cargo plane which would take them 900 miles north to Kuujjuaq.

After landing in Kuujjuaq, an Inuit village of 1,700 people, the hunters were greeted at the one-room airport terminal by a representative from Rapid Lake Lodge. After putting their gear and weapons on a pallet outside, the group waited to be taken to a Rapid Lake Lodge Mobile Camp on a Twin Otter turbo prop.

Once aboard the plane and airborne, the excited hunters enjoyed the view from the sky — miles and miles of rocks, rivers, swamp, tundra and caribou trails. The terrain appeared flat with a few hilly areas until they reached an area further to the north where they saw mountain areas with coniferous forest, lakes and winding rivers.

The hunters got their first view

In September these Thief River Falls outdoorsmen enjoyed a caribou hunt in northern Quebec. Pictured (from left) are Hilary Stoltman, Ron Broten and Omer Olson. The successful experience netted them two caribou apiece as well as a host information about Nunavik, the Inuit-controlled arctic region, its wildlife and people.

Taxpayers asked to go to the polls Nov. 2

Election day, Tuesday, November 2, will see voters going to the polls to decide a number of issues and choose between the many candidates vying for seats on school boards and city councils.

Levy Referendums

School District 630 (Red Lake Falls) residents will vote on a proposed levy referendum on Tuesday, November 2. The school district has proposed a levy referendum to raise $201,683, of which $50,172 will be raised locally, and the rest will come from the state.

School District 627 (Oklee) has proposed to increase its general education revenue with a levy referendum. According to the question posed voters, approval would increase revenue by $760.89 per resident marginal cost pupil unit. The additional revenue will be used to finance school operations. It is expected to raise approximately $300,000. It would be in effect for five years.

School District 676 (Badger) is proposing to increase its general education revenue with a levy referendum. According to the question posed voters, it would increase revenue by $1,251.56 per resident marginal cost pupil unit. A portion of this proposed referendum would replace the school district's prior authorization which has expired. The additional revenue will be used to finance school operations. It would be in effect for five years.

School board terms

In School District 2683 (Greenbush/Middle River) four candidates are vying for three four-year terms on the school board. The candidates are Lyla G. Smith, Rick Sovde, Richard Churchill and Carrie Taggart. Polls will open at 1 p.m. and close at 8 p.m. on November 2.

Nine candidates are vying for three four-year terms on the board of education for School District 682 (Roseau). Candidates are Troy Bryan Borgen, Mary Jane Broten, Rhett Hulst, Brian P. Muirhead, William Peterson, Joe Schmeiler, Daniel Trannerstrom, William H. Wagner, Patricia Westman. Polls will open at 1 p.m. and will close at 8 p.m.

In School District 690 (Warroad) eight candidates and one write-in candidate are vying for three four-year terms on the board of education. The candidates include Brett Bastian, Tim Fish, James L. Hamlin, Patrick Mohrbacher, Dick Meyers, Karen Pederson, Dale A. Zeidlik and write-in candidate Bruce "Buffalo" Fuller.

City Election

Voters will select four from among 10 candidates and one write-in candidate, for seats on the city council in Thief River Falls. In addition, voters are being asked whether they wish to permit Sunday liquor. Candidates for the offices include Glen Kajewski, Dennis Nabben, and Steven Narverud in Ward 1; Mark Stante and Dale Weinberg in Ward 3; Terence Blacklance and Dennis Rantanen in Ward 5; and Elvera Cullen, Conrad C. Holten, Roger M. Meunier, and Jerry Unruh for Representative-At-Large. Only one candidate from each ward will be selected. Polls in Thief River Falls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Farmer Appreciation Breakfast a success

Oklee - The Oklee High School Student Council, assisted by the National Honor Society and area church youth, sponsored a Farmer Appreciate Breakfast on Sunday, October 24 at the Oklee Hall.

Approximately 300 community members enjoyed the meal and visiting with their neighbors.

The youth decided to put on the breakfast to let area farmers know that they are valued in the community. Farmers were presented with name tags with "Thanks far all you do" written on them. The Oklee Herald

Health festival today in Karlstad

Karlstad - Kittson County Rural Health Care Coalition will hold its health festival, "Just for the Health of it!," today (Saturday, October 30) from 9 a.m. to noon at the Tri-County School gymnasium in Karlstad.

The event will feature a number of activities in addition to 32 health related booths.

At 9:30 a.m. Michelle Frank, FNP, Altru Clinic, will speak on women's health issues, and at 10 a.m. Mace, Marshall county's narcotics canine, and his handler Dave Saiger, will present a demonstration. At 11 a.m. Roland Larter, M.D., will discuss the Heart Chec Plus, a coronary risk screening program. North Star News

Unlimited access to Limited Edition

Crookston - An open house was held this week at Limited Edition Gift Shop located at Riverview Hospital in Crookston.

The recently expanded and remodeled shop now has aisles wide enough to accommodate wheelchairs.

The store also features an expanded gift line with proceeds from sales going to the Riverview Auxiliary. Crookston Daily Times

Open house shows off new L/W pool

Baudette - Officials at Lake of the Woods School will show off its new pool and recreational complex with an open house this weekend (Oct. 30-31).

The pool and accompanying "multi-purpose room," effectively an auxiliary gymnasium, opened just in time for the beginning of the school year. Although the project was about a year behind schedule, many agree that the new facility was well worth the wait. The Baudette Region

Drechsel Athletic Field dedicated

Red Lake Falls - The Red Lake Falls football field officially became L.E. Drechsel Athletic Field Wednesday evening when the field was dedicated to the veteran coach.

Drechsel's wife, Snookie, was also honored for her support and enthusiasm at Lafayette High School activities. Of the 386 games Coach Drex has coached in Red Lake Falls, Crookston, Ada and Parkers Prairie, Snookie has missed only three. The Gazette

Cub Scouts pitch in

". . . a Cub Scout gives goodwill," part of the Law of the Pack, was demonstrated at a recent meeting of Cub Scout Pack 199. On Tuesday, October 26, the pack presented Pennington County Deputy Terry Bayne with a monetary donation which is to be used for the purchase of a bulletproof vest and tracking collar for his canine partner, Magnum. The pack meeting, held in the basement of the Pennington County Law Enforcement Center, included a presentation by Moorhead police officer Michael Detloff and his two-year-old German shepherd, Rowdy. Surrounded by Cub Scouts are Deputy Terry Bayne (left), Detloff and Rowdy, wearing the bulletproof vest that identifies him as a member of the Moorhead Police Department. Pack 199 includes 15 youth members and is sponsored by St. John Lutheran Church.

Pennington Co. Humane Society receives $6,000

PETsMART Charities, Inc., a Phoenix, AZ, based non-profit organization has awarded $6,000 to the Pennington County Humane Society to help defray the costs of spaying and neutering pets in the area. The grant will assist Pennington County Humane Society by supporting a program that might otherwise not be funded.

Pennington County Humane Society requested the funding knowing that if the grant was approved, it would further their life-saving efforts in the communities they serve. The organization is located in Thief River Falls, and assists animals in Pennington, Kittson, Marshall, Red Lake, and Roseau counties.

Coupons are being offered to the public on a first-come first-serve basis, with priority being given to those who have adopted a pet from the Pennington County Humane Society. The coupons provide $25 towards a dog spay, $15 towards a cat spay, and $10 toward a dog or cat neuter. The coupons are being honored by Clearwater Veterinary Services, Greenbush Veterinary Clinic, Northern Veterinary Services, Red Lake Falls Veterinary Clinic, Roseau Veterinary Services and Valley Animal Hospital.

To obtain a coupon, or if you would like to donate money, supplies or volunteer time to the life saving efforts of Pennington County Humane Society, please call 681-8045.

If you would like more information about PETsMART Charities and their funding programs, please call 1-602-587-2840. It is PETsMART Charities mission to end the unnecessary euthanasia of adoptable companion animals as a means of controlling pet over-population. PETsMART Charities primarily provides financial grants for new programs which assist in ending unnecessary euthanasia and raising pet adoption statistics.

Turn back clocks, daylight-saving time ends Oct. 31

Saturday evening, residents are reminded to turn back their clocks before they go to bed—because Daylight Saving time officially ends this year on October 31. To be specific, it ends at 2 a.m. on Sunday, October 31.

School Dist. 564 receives good financial report

Ray Lunde of Brady Martz, CPAs, presented the School District's annual audit report Monday night during the regular school board meeting. Lunde said, "As we look at the year, it was a good year financially for the district."

Lunde cited a $400,000 increase in the fund balance as a significant improvement. He explained that the district had a good cash balance, and where there's a good cash balance, a good fund balance will be found. Because of the increase in the fund balance, Lunde said his estimate of the district's dollar per pupil unit improved. He estimates that the district now has a $938 per pupil unit, which is in line with other districts. Lunde said he views $950 to $1,000 per pupil unit as acceptable. He said he's optimistic about the financial results, but cautiously so because enrollment declined last year. He explained that if the district loses 25 students, even an increase of two to three percent in costs could mean difficult times for the district.

■ Barb Kalinoski, board representative sitting on the joint powers board for the Multi-Events Center, said the board is still trying to obtain more direct involvement in the future of the track. At the last meeting of the joint powers board, Kalinoski requested that a second opinion on the condition of the track and the repairs needed be obtained at the school district's expense. She explained that if the state determines that the track was built to specifications it could sign off on the project even though there are severe cracks in the track. According to the contract the school district signed with the joint powers board, the school district is responsible for any future repairs and maintenance of the track. A decision to sign off on the track now could leave the district with significant costs. It is the board's position that it should have direct involvement in the decision-making process at this particular time. Kalinoski said she remains optimistic, but the district has to cover its tracks.

■ The school board has authorized the administration to proceed with specifications for installation of an elevator at the District Service Center. Harry Nelson, business manager, said the project could cost as much as $200,000 and would include the elevator and shaft as well as work to make the bathrooms in the building handicapped accessible. He said he would like to get bids in January and February for the project so that the district can get decent prices and do the project in December. Funds for the pro-

Caribou hunt takes TRF sportsmen to arctic

By Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

The thrill of the hunt — an activity brought on by primal urge and feverishly sought by millions of men and a fewer, but equally enthusiastic, number of women.

In September, three Thief River Falls men, all retired railroad employees, enjoyed a caribou hunting adventure in northern Quebec, the Inuit-controlled Nunavik territory described in a story in last week's Northern Watch.

Hilary Stoltman hunted with a party during the first week in September, and the party that included Ron Broten and Omer Olson made the trip the following week at the peak of the caribou season which runs from August to October.

The caribou hunts were arranged through outfitters who specialize in offering hunting and fishing trips as well as adventure tours in the arctic region.

A typical non-guided full week hunting package costs approximately $2,500 and includes hotel accommodations in Montreal, shuttle service between the hotel and airport, air transportation from Montreal to the camps, meals, lodging, freezing and storage of game, boxes for game transportation and two caribou hunting licenses. Guided packages are also available.

Each hunter is allowed 70 pounds of gear per person, including two pieces of luggage and one gun case. Because of the rapidly changing weather conditions on the tundra, the following items are suggested: rain suit, wool socks and shirts, long underwear, warm pants, coats, gloves and hats, sweaters, two pair of warm waterproof boots, hunting knife, binoculars, spotting scope, flashlight, cheese cloth, fly repellent or bug jacket, waterproof matches, sunglasses, sleeping bag and towel and wash cloth. An orange vest is required by law for hunters in the province of Quebec.

Also, caribou adventure outfitters suggest the following calibers with scope: 30-06, 308, 270, 7mm and 300 magnum. Because scope lens can easily fog up due to the varying weather conditions, it is recommended that hunters have a detachable cap for the lens. It is also suggested that rifles are sighted in before making the trip and that rifles and bows are in sturdy cases for transportation.

The party that included Ron Broten and Omer Olson, also included Jackie Bertram and her husband, Dan, from Detroit Lakes as well as four other male hunters from Fergus Falls, Lakeville and Faribault.

On September 8, the group met in Montreal and spent the night at the Quality Hotel. The next morning, they boarded the Boeing 727 Inuit-owned First Air cargo plane which would take them 900 miles north to Kuujjuaq.

After landing in Kuujjuaq, an Inuit village of 1,700 people, the hunters were greeted at the one-room airport terminal by a representative from Rapid Lake Lodge. After putting their gear and weapons on a pallet outside, the group waited to be taken to a Rapid Lake Lodge Mobile Camp on a Twin Otter turbo prop.

Once aboard the plane and airborne, the excited hunters enjoyed the view from the sky — miles and miles of rocks, rivers, swamp, tundra and caribou trails. The terrain appeared flat with a few hilly areas until they reached an area further to the north where they saw mountain areas with coniferous forest, lakes and winding rivers.

The hunters got their first view

In September these Thief River Falls outdoorsmen enjoyed a caribou hunt in northern Quebec. Pictured (from left) are Hilary Stoltman, Ron Broten and Omer Olson. The successful experience netted them two caribou apiece as well as a host information about Nunavik, the Inuit-controlled arctic region, its wildlife and people.

Evening classes feature Russian

Erskine - At a recent school board meeting, Superintendent Gail Sells reported on the progress of the Russian language currently being taught evenings at Win-E-Mac School.

The Russian Orthodox community that recently moved to the area wants its children to learn the Russian language and preserve their heritage. Currently, the language is being taught to 8 to 10 students by a licensed teacher from within the Russian community as part of adult basic education.

In the future, the class may be expanded to include more students and perhaps adults. Win-E-Mac has also expressed an interest in conducting a Russian festival later in the year to learn more about the Russian community and its culture. [illegible] The McIntosh Times

For Council Member At-Large

It's time to get YOUR voice back in the City Council! I will listen to YOU!
It's time for Honest, Effective, Common Sense Leadership!
I want taxpayers to be better informed. I want the council meeting agendas published in the newspaper.
We have the 2nd highest property taxes in Minnesota. Higher taxes are proposed along with a number of new service fees and a higher water rate.
We MUST have a balanced budget without raising taxes, spending reserves, or bonding for more money! WE NEED TO CONTROL OUR SPENDING!!

Thief River Falls... HOLTEN

Paid for by the committee to elect Conrad Holten for council member at-large, Sherry Borsheim, Treasurer.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Here are some more crock pot recipes. Choose one to make for your busy "Trick and Treatin'" Sunday night meal.

Serve this one with noodles or rice and a lovely fresh loaf of French bread for a real treat:

SIMPLE STROGANOFF
1 1/2 pounds lean ground beef
1/2 cup flour
1/2 cup chopped onion
1 cup cream-style cottage cheese
1 (6 ounce) can tomato paste
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 teaspoon oregano
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
Dash pepper
1 (4 ounce) can sliced mushrooms, drained
1 (14 ounce) can beef broth or 2 cups meat stock

In skillet, brown beef, flour and onion. Drain well. Place in crock pot.

Whip cottage cheese until smooth; add tomato paste and seasonings. Mix well and add to meat mixture with mushrooms and broth. Stir until slightly blended. Cover and cook on low setting for 6 to 8 hours.

This is a little different meat loaf than last week's, so go ahead and try this one too:

BARBECUED MEAT LOAF
2 pounds ground chuck or lean ground beef
1/2 cup uncooked quick or old fashioned oats
1/2 cup dry bread crumbs
2 tablespoons dry milk
1/2 cup water
1/2 cup bottled smoky barbecue sauce
2 eggs
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 small onion, chopped
6 potatoes, cut up

In large bowl, mix all ingredients except potatoes. Shape meat mixture into a loaf.

Place potatoes in bottom of crock pot. Top with meat loaf. Cover and cook on low for 8 to 10 hours.

I have a rather finicky son-in-law who is especially fond of beef (and not many veggies). I told my daughter I would find a recipe that he might enjoy and this sounds like it:

BEEF DIABLO
3 to 4 pound beef arm or boneless pot roast
2 to 3 potatoes, peeled and sliced
1 onion, sliced
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon mustard
1 tablespoon chili sauce
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
1 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon sugar

Trim all excess fat from roast. Place potatoes and onion in bottom of crock pot.

Make a smooth paste of flour, mustard, chili sauce, Worcestershire, vinegar and sugar. Spread over top of roast (cut in half, if necessary, to fit easily into pot).

Place roast in crock pot on top of potatoes and onions. Cover and cook on low setting for 10 to 12 hours or high setting for 5 to 6 hours.

My son-in-law also likes chicken and this one sounds good, although he'd have to have his over potatoes and my daughter would have to substitute something for the mushroom soup (which he doesn't like either):

CHICKEN DELICIOUS
4 to 6 whole chicken breasts, boned and halved
Lemon juice
Salt and pepper
Celery salt
Paprika
1 (10 1/4 ounce) can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 (10 1/4 ounce) can condensed cream of celery soup
1/3 cup dry sherry or white wine
Grated Parmesan cheese
Fluffy rice (or potatoes)

Rinse chicken breasts and pat dry. Season with lemon juice, salt, pepper, celery salt and paprika. Place in crock pot.

In medium bowl or pan, mix soups with sherry. Pour over chicken breasts.

Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Cover and cook on low setting for 8 to 10 hours. Serve over rice (or potatoes).

And this is the one that sounds good to me for Halloween night – hot and spicy, ready and waiting in the crock pot – with plenty of crackers and cold milk – yum:

FAMOUS CHILI
1/2 pound dried pinto or kidney beans, softened as below (or, if you don't want to fuss, 2 or 3 cans of beans - drained)
2 (28 ounces each) cans whole tomatoes
2 large green peppers, seeded and chopped coarsely
2 medium onions, coarsely chopped
2 cloves garlic, crushed
1/2 cup finely chopped parsley
2 pounds lean ground beef
1 pound lean ground pork (or ground turkey would be good too)
2 to 3 tablespoons chili powder
Salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon cumin seed

Probably the night before cooking the chili, completely soften beans by boiling: Cover beans with 3 times their volume of unsalted water and bring to a boil. Boil 10 minutes, reduce heat, cover and allow to simmer 1 1/2 hours or until tender. Discard water used for soaking or boiling. Soften thoroughly before using in recipes with tomatoes or other acidic foods.

Place beans in crock pot. Add tomatoes, green peppers, onions, garlic and parsley.

In large skillet, sauté meat for about 15 minutes to remove fat. Drain and add to crock pot.

Season with chili powder, salt, pepper and cumin seed, mixing thoroughly. Cover and cook on low setting for 8 to 14 hours or on high setting for 4 to 5 1/2 hours.

One hour before serving, taste for seasoning and add additional chili powder, if necessary. Recipe serves 12 and makes 4 quarts.

Lots of Scary Stuff

It becomes a scary season about now. Each year strange creatures arrive at my door late in October-always draped in clothes so hideous and distasteful that one would swear they'd been stolen from a long-rotting corpse dug up from some remote country graveyard. Unnatural combinations of garish eye makeup and pasty face powder clash grotesquely with hair that is neither a shape nor color belonging to this world. Steely, aggressive, inhuman eyes lock against the fear obvious in my own as I sheepishly swing open the front storm door and stammer an invitation for the guests to step inside. Sharp, irregular teeth gnash together in scissor-like fashion, inquiring in brutish, monosyllabic grunts, as to the whereabouts of something to eat. I point toward the kitchen and reassure myself that this won't last too long. Halloween, you see, is but a few days away and my in-laws like to come over and spend that holiday with their grandkids. Then they go home again.

There's more than the prospect of Halloween that alarms me. A lot of what's going on in the out-of-doors should be met with a little trepidation. Here are a few of my present concerns.

It's scary that Pine Island, that thin sand sentinel that offers a protective buffer against the northerly ravages of Big Traverse wind and ice, is only about two-thirds as big as it was 10 years ago. Is it possible that, in an effort to maintain international and intra-state water level fairness, we've overlooked some of the most basic formative forces that govern Lake of the Woods? Erosion can be an impatient, insistent power.

It's scary that Bobby Knight, having been caught once already hunting Wisconsin grouse without a license, not only hunts again but manages to shoot his hunting partner during the course of the second violation. I suppose the scariest part of all this is neither the recidivism nor the firearm injury, but the fact that the state of Indiana has dubbed him a mentor for a handful of their student athletes. Let's just hope his role as a role model extends only as far as the court across which he tosses chairs, and, he remains absent from the wilderness he takes so casually for granted.

It's scary, with deer-hunting just around the corner, that 55 per cent of hunters acknowledged in a recent survey that they've fallen from their stand at one time or another. The tumble from the tree doesn't bother me so much as the fact that these hunters admit it. I thought any red-blooded, macho deer hunter would keep such admissions meekly to himself. You know, kind of like the age-old riddle - Does a hunter who falls in the woods make any noise if there's no one around to hear it? Well, other than the four-letter tirade that accompanies such an event, of course not. Heck, I've fallen three times from the same stand and have yet to confess my stupidity to anyone!

It's scary that I've seen three whitefish caught on a hook and line during the last week. Not tullibees, whitefish. They're the first I've seen hooked during a non-ice situation and I've got to wonder if this isn't an indication of a new abundance. Are the often expressed concerns about booming rough fish populations in the absence of nets becoming a reality? Are we heading in a direction that will re-enlist the help of the commercial fisherman?

It's scary that I keep hearing about how a "good faith" "compromise with the Ontario Ministry of Natural Resources is imminent. Talk of lower limits in exchange for lake-wide parity has the world grinning with a "hands across the border" optimism. What causes me concern, however, is a missive sent by the MNR to its resorters less than a week ago in which they suggested raising non-resident license fees to $135 and then reimbursing the Ontario resorters $100 in Provincial transfer payments for each license sold. In short, instead of having to sleep there to achieve equality, you'll simply have to pay about four times as much for it.

So it's Halloween again and I'm sending my kids off into the night dressed as things that will suck your blood or dismember you and put the parts in a wood chipper. And other kids will arrive at my door under the cover of darkness dressed in equally hideous garb demanding things to eat. Ironically, none of that really scares me very much. It seems there are more than enough scary topics available in the broad daylight of the outdoor world to occupy my attention.

Area students published in student anthology

Joe Vaughn Linder of Plummer and Dan Carpenter of Thief River Falls are among 26 students whose poetry appears in the eighth annual "Rivers Meeting Project" produced by Bemidji State University's Department of English.

Joe Vaughn Linder, a sophomore majoring in music education, had a work titled "The Phantom Players" published in the anthology.

Dan Carpenter, a freshman majoring in English education, had a work titled "The First Wintry Assault on Northern Minnesota" published in the anthology.

"Rivers Meeting Project" is an anthology that allows students to work together to discover new ideas in writing outside of the classroom. It has been distributed throughout the university campus and the Bemidji community.

GAME, FISH & ENFORCEMENT

by Mike Ramstorf
MN Conservation Officer

Deer hunters are gearing up for the firearm's season. One thing easily ignored is your equipment.

Make sure all equipment is in shape for the hunt. Guns, compass', clothes and stands should be thoroughly gone thru well in advance of the season.

Firearms should be cleaned and lubricated even if you did it last fall after the hunt.

Also, sighting in the rifle/slug gun, will make the difference between a clean shot and a poor one.

Children, especially new hunters should be given the opportunity to do some target practicing before the season. If the child is intimidated by shooting a large caliber rifle numerous times, (which can be painful for an adult let alone a 100 lb. child) practice with a .22 rifle. The repetitive squeezing the trigger, breathing and proper sight alignment will give them the confidence it takes to make a good shot at a big game animal.

Sit down with the child and go through the firearm they will be using and make sure they are familiar with it. If the gun is a .30-.30 with an exposed hammer, make sure they are capable of letting the hammer down easily to prevent accidents. For an adult it's easy but for someone with small fingers it can be tricky. Safety, Safety, Safety! The last figures I heard were there are more accidents with 30-30's than all other guns combined.

Make sure everyone in the party has a good compass. This is not an item you want to skimp on. A reliable compass might cost as much as $20 but will last a lifetime if you take care of it. It may be the difference between a hot evening meal back at camp and snuggling up to a fire in the woods wondering if anyone will find you.

Clothes should be checked for damage. Soiled blaze orange is not as effective as clean fabric. Check the labels. Most are machine washable. Don't be afraid to wash your outerwear. Even without soap to avoid human smells, the fabric will be brighter and safer.

Deer stands, whether permanent or portable should also be checked for safety. We already had one death in the state when a bear hunter fell from a stand. It doesn't take much of a fall to seriously injure or kill a person. Clean debris out from under your stand so if an accident where to happen you wouldn't fall on a snag or log. Also, investing in a good safety strap is a smart idea. Some of the ones new on the market are very comfortable and don't restrict movement.

I hope these reminders are helpful. I always thought preparing for the hunt was as fun as the hunt itself.

Have fun and think safety!!!

Halloween safety should be primary concern

Parties in schools and churches and community events all add up to fun and excitement during Halloween.

Traditionally, Halloween may have been a time to celebrate a change in seasons, a time to honor the dead, or simply a time to dress up. Future historians might look back on today's celebration and determine that it was for us, a time to allow the chaos stemming from our busy and hectic lives to spill over into our daily lives, if but for a moment. Regardless of your beliefs, for many children it is a time of joy and excitement.

Unfortunately, we live in a period when we have to lock our doors, and take special precautions when we go out at night. Halloween shouldn't be a scarry time for parents and caregivers, but, . . . a few precautions will help prevent this event from being a traumatic event for everyone.

The following tips were made available to newspapers throughout the nation by Article Resource Association.

• Make sure costumes are short enough to prevent tripping.
• Carry a flashlight or light stick (available in the Halloween section of most discount drug and variety stores) so you can see and be seen.
• Use makeup instead of masks to improve your visibility.
• Help children to decide where and when to trick or treat.
• Go with your children or arrange for them to have some adult supervision.
• Trick or Treat while it is still light out.
• Walk only on well-lighted streets and only on sidewalks.
• If there is no sidewalk, walk on the edge of the street facing traffic.
• Always cross the street at the corner. Never enter the street from between parked cars.
• Have children carry small trick or treat bags in their larger bags to collect candy from people they know. Candy from unfamiliar households should go in the larger bag for later inspection.
• Don't eat any treats until they have been examined at home by an adult.
• Have a party in place of traditional trick-or-treating. Each parent can supply a bag of candy so the children go home with a bag of goodies. Guests can carve pumpkins, bob for apples and win prizes for their costumes.
• Visit only the houses where the lights are on.
• Never go alone — it's more fun with your friends or parents.
• Never enter an unfamiliar house.
• Be cautious of strangers.

Get out and vote on Tuesday, November 2

In Thief River Falls there will be 10 candidates and, an issue on Sunday liquor on the election ballot. Voters in School District 630 (Red Lake Falls), School District 627 (Oklee), and School District 676 (Badger) will be voting on levy referendums. Four candidates are vying from three positions on School Board 2683 (Greenbush/Middle River); and nine candidates are vying for three vacancies on the board for School District 682 (Roseau).

It's wonderful to see so many people interested in participating in local government. It's not an easy job. The rewards are few and far between. I believe what encourages people to continue to run for office is a genuine interest in governing. That interest may have been piqued by reading local newspapers, listening to local radio and television stations or sitting in on local board and council meetings when the issues were important, but what really counts is what takes place at the ballot box and it doesn't take a large commitment of time or effort.

Although this isn't a year for a Presidential election, it's no less important. The people and issues on the election ballot will determine how taxpayer dollars are spent, and indeed, the future of your school district or city.

As U.S. Senator Rod Grams said recently, "By voting this year, Minnesotans exercise their right — indeed, their responsibility — to determine the future of their children's education and their community's development. After all, when it comes to making decisions about our schools, neighborhoods, and how our tax dollars are spent, local citizens and local governments know best. And those decisions begin at the ballot box."

Please, get out and vote on Tuesday, November 2.

Agriculture Dean to meet public in Thief River Falls

The Dean of the University of Minnesota College of Agriculture, Dean Charles Muscoplat, will be in Thief River Falls on Monday, November 1. There will be a gathering from 4 to 6 p.m. at the Evergreen Eating Emporium. Individuals interested in meeting the dean should call Howard Person at the U of M Extension office in Thief River Falls at 683-7030.

Muscoplat's tour is part of his plan to meet people in rural Minnesota and learn more about the university's connection with Greater Minnesota. Other cities on his travel itinerary include Morris, Willmar, Renville, Waseca, Mankato, Lamberton, Grand Rapids, Staples, Rosemount, Roseau, Warroad, and Crookston. Charles Casey, interim dean and director of the University of Minnesota Extension Services, and Jeff Klausner, Interim dean of the College of Veterinary Medicine, will accompany him.

Muscoplat, a native of St. Paul, is a widely recognized scientist and leader in biotechnology and its application to human, plant and animal improvement. He has extensive expertise in academia, basic and applied research, teaching, business, technology transfer, administration, FDA regulatory affairs, public service in agriculture and public policy development. He helped start one of the nation's first biotechnology animal health products and played a key role in the development of the first U.S. biotechnology plant product — herbicide-tolerant corn.

Muscoplat, who will also serve as vice president for agricultural policy and director of the Minnesota Agricultural Experimental Station, received a bachelor degree and a doctorate in veterinary microbiology from the University of Minnesota. He served as a faculty member in veterinary medicine at the university from 1976 to 1983. He has taught courses in immunology, clinical immunology and business, and has published more than 130 research publications. Prior to returning to the university, he was vice president of medical affairs at MGI Pharma Inc.

"Dr. Muscoplat combines the talents and perspectives of a first-rate scientist, academician, businessperson, manager and advocate for agriculture," said University of Minnesota President Mark Yudof. "I believe his appointment as dean and vice president sends a strong signal that the University of Minnesota is committed to the agricultural community, to outreach to support farmers and to technological innovation."

Evangelical Free Church holds Halloween event

Children are invited to the Evangelical Free Church, 211 Arnold Avenue North, on Sunday night, October 31, for a safe time of fun, games and candy.

Activities will begin at 5 p.m. and conclude at 8 p.m. The church's senior high youth ministry team will be running a carnival that will include numerous games for children to enjoy. Some of the games include human foosball, sumo wrestling, football toss, basketball hotshot, mini-golf, cake walk, wacky relays, bean bag toss, and of course, bobbing for apples. The newest Veggie Tale movie "The Rumor Weed" will also be shown.

A costume contest will be held, but it is requested that no scary costumes be worn. Children do not have to come in costume.

New parking lot in Warroad helps casino

Bobby Whiteleather, tribal chairman of the Red Lake Band of Chippewa Indians, lauded the completion of a 150-space parking lot on Main Street in Warroad, situated opposite the Band's Lake of the Woods Casino.

The ribbon-cutting signifying the official opening of the parking lot will be held Tuesday, November 2, at noon. In addition, beginning November 3, a new illuminated sign on Main Street will direct visitors to the casino, as well as display various current and future gaming activities and attractions at the facility.

"For the past eight years, one of the common concerns we shared with the City of Warroad was the lack of enough parking spaces for our casino customers," stated Chairman Whiteleather. "We decided one of the better ways to create community goodwill would be to make the three-quarter million dollar investment (one-half million dollars was spent by the Band to purchase the land two years ago, with the additional one-quarter million dollars to design and pave the lot) to alleviate any parking congestion. We also wished to create a closer working relationship with the city fathers and its citizens, and contribute to even further development of the area for the good of everyone. It's inspiring to be able to share our goals, objectives and endeavors with the people of Warroad, and we're equally pleased with the city for sharing its plans to increase tourism to the attractiveness of the area. Solving this traffic problem with the parking lot is just the beginning of what we hope will be ongoing and long-term benefit to many."

Warroad Mayor Boh Murvin echoed the spirit of cooperation. "This is a large parking lot, and it tangibly demonstrates the community investment in Warroad by the Red Lake Tribal Council, and their belief in Warroad as worth their investment for the parking lot and their beautiful Lakeview Restaurant, which also serves as a beacon for this end of the lake because of its prominence and location," Mayor Marvin continued. "This newest investment also shows the tribal council's concern for the safety of Warroad's citizens. Considerable traffic in that part of town made it difficult to drive, but now the problem will be alleviated. They not only put in the cement-paved lot, but have also offered to put a sidewalk along the roadway as well. They're certainly doing their part being good neighbors and good business citizens. They've been very helpful with the business community and the Chamber of Commerce co-sponsoring various events in town, and this parking lot is just one more example."

Producers have options to repay commodity loans

Producers with Non-recourse Warehouse and Farm Stored Commodity loans can now lock in rates for repayment without selling the grain.

Until receipt of form CCC-697, Request to Lock in a Market Loan Repayment Rate, only producers with farm stored commodity loans could use form CCC-681-1, Authorization for Delivery of Loan Collateral for Sale, to repay a loan by locking in a posted county price. An approved form 681-1 was used by producers who had to sell the grain in order to repay the Commodity Credit Corporation loan.

State Office Program Specialist Lindo Hockert said, "The 681-1 forced produces to sell the grain in order to use the locked-in rate. Now, producers with non-recourse loans can repay the loans with a CCC697 and not sell the grain. Prior to the CCC-697, producers with non-recourse warehouse stored loans could not lock in a posted county rata for repayment."

The effective date of the CCC-697, is the date the form is approved in the county office, after all required signatures are obtained. The new CCC-697 expires the earlier of 60 calendar days from approval, or 14 calendar days before the loan matures. Form CCC-697 cannot be requested by phone or fax.

The CCC-697 quantity can have only one locked in rate; If the quantity is not repaid by the applicable deadline, that quantity can only be repaid at the smaller of principal plus interest or the market rate in effect on the date of receipt of repayments in the county office.

The quantity covered by the CCC-697 can be repaid by the producer any time prior to the expiration date; however, if a producer needs to sell farm stared collateral to repay that quantity, then a CCC-681-1 Authorization for Delivery of Loan Collateral for Sale, must be requested before the collateral is removed from storage. Failure to obtain the CCC-681-1 would result in a loan violation and make the quantity removed ineligible for market repayment.

Producers are encouraged to call their local Farm Service Agency county office for more details on the CCC-697, Request to Lock in a Market Loan Repayment Rate.

MPCA to hold informational meeting in Thief River Falls

One of the seven informational meetings on the proposed changes to the State of Minnesota rule governing the handling of animal waste at feedlots (Rule 7020) will be held in Thief River Falls. The Minnesota Pollution Control Agency will hold meetings at Detroit Lakes, Thief River Falls, Lewiston, North Mankato, Marshall, Melrose, and Mora during the month of November.

The meeting in Thief River Falls will be held at the Best Western on Tuesday, November 4.

The meetings will provide the opportunity to learn what changes are proposed, why they are proposed and what producers would need to do to comply with the rule. MPCA staff will be on hand to talk about the revisions to Rule 7020 and answer questions. Staff from other state agencies and organizations including the Minnesota Department of Agriculture, Minnesota Department of Health, Environmental Quality Board, Board of Water and Soil Resources and University of Minnesota Extension also will be on hand to discuss their roles in feedlot management.

Each meeting will run from 12:30 to 4 p.m. and will be an open-house format to enable attendees to speak one-on-one with staff and have their individual questions answered. There will be a short overview presentation to the entire group at 1 and again at 2:30 p.m.

The changes to Rule 7020 use current scientific and engineering data to address the three main environmental concerns posed by feedlots:

• Water pollution fram manure application;
• Water pollution fram manure run-off fram open-lot feedlots;
• Proper siting, design and construction of new and expanding feedlots.

The rule revisions were also developed to streamline permitting processes and be practical and affordable for farmers. During the process of re-writing the rule, the MPCA was advised by the Feedlot and Manure Management Advisory Committee, a legislatively mandated committee made up of representatives of animal agriculture, environmental groups, and government.

Before a proposed rule can be put in place, the MPCA must undergo a rigorous hearing process mandated by the Legislature. This process should start in December 1999. First, the draft rule will be published in the State Register for public comment. At the same time, the proposed rule will be made available to thousands of interested parties, including local government, farm groups, environmental leaders and other concerned citizens.

Public hearings will then be held before an independent administrative law judge. For the rule to be put in place, the MPCA will need to justify before this judge why each proposed change is needed and reasonable. Any individual or group is welcome to participate in these public hearings to have their voice heard. Public hearing dates are tentatively set for January and February 2000 at several locations around the state. When scheduling the hearings, every effort will be made to be sensitive to farming schedules.

During the public hearings, the MPCA will present highlights from a report called "Statement of Need and Reasonableness." This report must include information on any costs the new rule may impose on state and local government, as well as other direct costs of the proposed regulations.

For more information about the November informational meetings, the Rule Revision or the public hearing process, contact Julie Swiler, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency at 651-296-6706 or (800) 657-3864.

Agassiz Lost Bay drive to close Nov. 1

The Lost Bay Habitat Drive and Maakstad Hiking Trail at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge will close on Monday, November 1, and will remain closed until spring 2000.

Visitors may continue to observe wildlife along Marshall County road 7, which bisects the southern portion of the refuge, and along other roads bordering the refuge. Some of the resident wildlife species observed, heard or signs of their presence observed during the winter months are moose, deer, otter, fisher, common ravens, black-billed magpies, downy and hairy woodpeckers, white-breasted nuthatches, ruffed grouse and several other species of birds and mammals which remain active during the winter months. Visitors are encouraged to stop at the refuge office to observe birds visiting the bird feeder and possibly a deer or two.

The refuge staff hopes that everyone who visited the refuge during the summer months enjoyed the plant species making up each habitat type and wildlife species living in each habitat along the drive and hiking trail. The drive will open again approximately May 1, 2000. A new one-half mile long hiking trail is in the development stage at headquarters and will open sometime in year 2000.

Marshall County Sports Boosters plan banquet

Marshall County Central Sports Boosters met October 14 at the high school. The junior and senior high volleyball tournament was discussed. Those who helped make it a success were thanked. The Fall Sports Banquet was also discussed and has been scheduled for November 9 at the community center. The next meeting is November 18 at 7:30 p.m. in the high school.

Donations given in November included the following: $300 to the Newfolden Lions Club for a Halloween party; $370 for referees of the volleyball tournament; $191.39 for trophies for the volleyball tournament; $1,300 for athletic training services; $200 for Minnesota basketball news for girls and boys basketball; $500 for tennis court repair; and $300 for t-shirts for the summer gym program awards.

Caribou hunt takes sportsmen to arctic

The lake was Lac Aminuajag and the valley where the camp was situated was surrounded by mountains.

After landing on the 1,200-foot gravel runway, the group got a closer look at what would be its home for the next eight days and seven nights.

The wood frames of the three tent cabins were covered with stretched canvas and waterproof plastic tarps. Each had a plywood floor, door and window. The kitchen cabin was 14 feet wide and 24 feet long, and each of the two sleeping cabins, which were 14 feet wide and sixteen feet long, contained four built-in beds with mattresses. Other buildings included a shower house, two outhouses, small cabins for the outfitters and cook, and a meat house.

A generator provided the power that was used in the evenings until "lights out" at 9 or 10 p.m., and water for drinking, cooking and showers was pumped from the crystal clear lake. The camp "refrigerator" was dug into the ground.

The meals served at 7 a.m., noon and 6 p.m. were much more extravagant than expected, and the caribou, roast pork, smoked char, ham, fresh fruit, vegetables and homemade soups and desserts were described as excellent. Dinner always included wine. The tasty meals included a generous portion of lively conversation about the land and caribou, spiced with an endless supply of old hunting tales.

The weather was warmer than expected, in the 50s and 60s, and it slowed down the migration of the constantly moving caribou.

The scenery was described as "unforgettable." Rocks covered the spongy, wet terrain of the tundra. Bursts of colorful bushes dotted the landscape, and berries grew everywhere.

As the days of the Olson/Broten hunt went by, members of the party got their caribou, and by Wednesday, September 15, each of the hunters had two caribou.

The next day the hunters left camp with their gear, eight containers full of caribou meat and their antlers. The plane that came to take them back to Kuujjuaq brought eight new hunters to take their places.

While the size of caribou depends on the species, the animal's huge antlers often lead people to think they are much larger than they actually are. Their broad hooves support them in the spongy tundra and deep snow, and the female caribou is the only American female deer that has antlers. Caribou is the French-Canadian name for wild reindeer.

The average caribou taken during the Nunavik hunt yielded about 100 pounds of meat.

Although he went a week earlier and hunted at a different camp, Hilary Stoltman's experiences were very similar to those of Omer Olson and Ron Broten.

While in danger of nothing more than severe hunger pangs, Hilary did have the opportunity to put his resourcefulness to the test in the wild. Two days before his hunt was over, he had his caribou and decided to hunt ptarmigan, a type of grouse, native to the cold region. Left for the day by his hunting party in an area far from camp, Hilary realized that he had forgotten to bring his lunch and had to make a meal of the berries which grew in plentiful supply.

Ron enjoyed the hunt immensely, appreciating everything from the camp with its hot showers and good food to the arctic scenery. He described a relaxing experience with no great need to get up early, and summing it up, he said the hunt was "one of the best."

The eldest of the trio of retirees, Omer said, "I'm too old, but I did it anyway!" Young at heart, Omer too had a wonderful time.

This is not the first big adventure these gents have embarked on — far from it, in fact. Their excursions have taken them canoeing in the Northwest Territory and snowmobiling in Canada, the western states of America and most everywhere in between. They've hunted and fished for just about every imaginable species. Still, they never lose their enthusiasm for the great outdoors.

All of the men enjoyed the caribou adventure, and all would do it again. For them, the thrill of the hunt involves much more than the kill.

True outdoorsmen, they have an appreciation for nature, and wherever they are, they are interested in everything around them, bringing home a wealth of knowledge about the land, its wildlife and people, and fascinating stories that go on and on.

Marshall county man wins national competition

The National Center of Small Communities (NCSC) has announced that Marville Magnusson, clerk of Alma township in Marshall county, is a recipient of the American Hometown Leadership Award for outstanding leadership of America's smaller communities.

The award recognizes civic accomplishments by elected officials who serve on a local government's board, council or advisory committee in a community with a population of 25,000 or fewer.

In Magnusson's honor, Wal-Mart, which co-sponsors the award to promote strong leadership in small towns, is presenting the community a grant of $1,000. "The winners of the American Hometown Leadership Award demonstrate not only outstanding leadership qualities, but also the creativity and initiative needed to bring a measure of excellence to their work," said Tom Halicki, executive director of NCSC.

The Wal-Mart Economic Development Grant is earmarked for community improvement projects to help boost the economic vitality of Alma township.

"Wal-Mart's traditional customer base is comprised of small communities throughout America," said David Glass, president and chief executive officer of Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. "We are committed to improving these town and townships not only by providing quality retail establishments, but also by lifting up the best leaders who are making a difference. We can all learn from their example."

NCSC is the only national, nonprofit organization devoted to serving the leaders of America's smaller communities. The mission of NCSC is to provide small town decision-makers with the tools to govern effectively and the skills to expand local economies, protect natural resources and preserve community character.

The American Hometown Leadership Award is one of many initiatives Wal-Mart sponsors to support the communities in which the company operates. In 1998, Wal-Mart and its associates raised and donated more than $127 million for charitable organizations.

School Dist. 564 receives good financial report

(Continued from Page 1) ject were included in the levy for accessibility. The levy, however, is expected to raise roughly $192,000, which leaves the district a little short. He said a committee studying the project is proposing to return in November with a preliminary plan, which would include plans on where the elevator would be located in the building and parking.

■ An upgrade to wiring at Lincoln, Franklin and Challenger was approved, but not without some dissent. Board members Lyle Olson and Randy Twistol disagreed with the rest of the board on the use of funds, which would come from a fund that includes proceeds from the sale of Washington Elementary school. The upgrades would include approximately $12,000 in wiring to Challenger to separate the telephone and intercom system, $53,000 in cabling at Lincoln High school, and another $90,000 for voice mail systems at Franklin Middle school and Lincoln High school. Twistol and Olson said the funds should be used for more urgent student needs.

■ The school board is still discussing methods for obtaining information about fund-raising activities in the district. Board Chairman Steve Young proposed that the 30 organizations identified as utilizing students to raise funds for school projects, give five-minute presentations to the board answering a number of questions. The objective, Young said, is to collect information, and give the school board a more comprehensive view of fund-raising activities in the district. The organizations would be asked to answer a number of questions, such as the purpose of the activities, their goals, how the funds are collected, and how accountability is maintained. The broader questions for the board, he said, would include what should be the district's role, what parameters should be developed, whether there should be an annual limit, the district's role in the approval of fund-raising activities, if any, and what internal controls should be in place.

Carl Clark and Barb Kalinoski, board members, disagreed. Clark thought it would be better to let administration collect much of the information before bringing the board and organizations together for discussions. He also had some concerns about requiring these organizations to make fund-raising information public. Clark also thought the board should define its role before discussing the contentious issue with the organizations.

Kalinoski pointed out that this is a big issue, which probably won't be solved in a couple of meetings. She suggested that the administration collect some of the information before bringing it to the board for discussion. She also suggested that the board develop its own set of goals.

■ The school board recognized the following: donations made to the Little Brother/Little Sister by the City of Thief River Falls, Bethany Church of Red Lake Falls, United Way, Kiwanis Club, First National Bank, Sportsmen's Club, Thief River Falls Lioness Club, and American Legion; and the St. Hilaire Community Center which donated $500 to the Lincoln High School Scholarship program.

The school board approved the following personnel items from the Consent Agenda: the resignation of Glenda Mattila as Franklin Middle school volunteer coordinator; the resignation of Brenden Wilde as bus driver; the resignation of Verna Thompson as kitchen helper at Lincoln; the resignation of Mary Almendarez as cleaner; the resignation of Jennifer Hochne as minority program student tutor; extend Heidi Nelson's .5 FTE leave of absence without pay as Title I teacher at Challenger; the employment of Lois Bergland as elementary teacher long-term substitute at Challenger; the employment of Glenda Mattila as building secretary at Franklin; the employment of Dale Svendsgaard as regular route bus driver; the extra-curricular assignment of Brenda Leier as Franklin Middle school math league advisor; and establish and authorize the administration to post for a pupil program support assistant for special education student at Challenger.

Earnings per share up at Arctic Cat

Arctic Cat Inc. has reported a nine percent increase in adjusted net earnings per diluted share on a six percent increase in sales for the second quarter ending September 30. Adjusted net income and adjusted net income per diluted share do not include certain costs related to the discontinued personal watercraft (PWC) business. The after tax charge associated with these costs is $16,899,000, or $0.66 per diluted share. The company previously announced that it planned to exit the PWC business effective September 30.

Net sales were $205,507,000 for the second quarter ended September 30, compared to $193,382,000 for the same period last year. Adjusted net earnings were $19,071,000 or $0.74 per diluted share, for the second quarter compared to $19,039,000, or $0.68 per diluted share, reported for the second quarter of fiscal 1998.

For the six-month period ended September 30, 1999 net sales were $292,435,000 compared to $282,033,000 for the same period last year. Adjusted net earnings were $20,932,000, or $0.81 per diluted share, for the first half of fiscal 1999 compared to $20,568,000, or $0.73 per diluted share, reported for the first six months of fiscal 1998. Including the effects of the PWC exit and related costs, Arctic Cat reported net earnings of $4,033,000, or $0.16 per diluted share, for the six months ended September 30, 1999.

Christopher A. Twomey, president and chief executive officer, commented, "We are pleased with our second quarter sales and adjusted net earnings. Strong increases in ATV sales more than offset the planned decrease in snowmobile sales resulting from last year's mild winter."

Commenting on Arctic Cat's businesses, Twomey said, "Our strong ATV sales continue to outpace the industry's double digit growth again this year. The recently introduced Arctic Cat 500cc automatic is just now reaching our ATV dealers and we expect retail sales of this model to further enhance our rapid growth in this business. The snowmobile retail season is just beginning and our dealers are reporting encouraging early season retail sales activity. Increased attendance at all the major snowmobile consumer shows and events continues to demonstrate this strong consumer interest."

Continuing, Twomey said, "the decision to discontinue the PWC business will strengthen Arctic Cat as we refocus the company's significant financial resources and management time on our profitable and strong snowmobile business and profitable and rapidly growing ATV product line. With nearly $90 million in cash and no debt, we are in a strong position to grow our existing businesses and, as previously announced, we will look for profitable products to add to our business mix."

Commodity payment rates listed by USDA

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced Production Flexibility Contract (PFC) final payment rates for fiscal year (FY) 2000. Eligible producers will share in total FY 2000 contract payments of approximately $5.1 billion.

"Eligible farmers can choose to receive PFC payments all at once or in two equal payments at any time during the fiscal year," said Glickman. "Advancing the payment date will help provide needed financial assistance in a time of great stress for our farmers."

The Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2000, signed into law October 22 by President Clinton, provides farmers greater flexibility in the timing of receiving their PFC payments. Those who do not choose a payment option will receive their full payment near the end of FY 2000, which began October 1, 1999, and ends September 30, 2000.

Producers should contact the Farm Service Agency at their local USDA Service Center to receive information regarding selecting payment options.

The following tables show payment rates and estimated PFC payments by state:

Commodity	Rate
Wheat	58.8 cents/bu
Corn	33.4 cents/bu
Grain Sorghum	40.0 cents/bu
Barley	25.1 cents/bu
Oats	2.8 cents/bu
Upland cotton	7.33 cents/lb
Rice	2.6 $/cwt

FY 2000 Production Flexibility Contracts by State: Alabama $36, Alaska $0, Arizona $42, Arkansas $247, California $217, Colorado $89, Connecticut $1, Delaware $4, Florida $9, Georgia $72, Idaho $66, Nebraska $362, Nevada $1, New Hampshire $0, New Jersey $2, New Mexico $18, New York, $28, North Carolina $59, North Dakota $225, Ohio $142, Oklahoma $137, Oregon $35, Illinois $423, Indiana $209, Iowa $481, Kansas $364, Kentucky $52, Louisiana $131, Maine $1, Maryland $15, Massachusetts $1, Michigan $89, Minnesota $292, Mississippi $124, Missouri $161, Montana $118, Pennsylvania $22, Rhode Island $0, South Carolina $27, South Dakota $147, Tennessee $51, Texas $454, Utah $7, Vermont $1, Virginia $20, Washington $87, West Virginia $2, Wisconsin $114, Wyoming $8.

The total exceeds $5.13 billion because it does not include savings due to application of payment limit decisions.

Human rights rep. visits region

A Spanish-speaking representative from the Minnesota Department of Human Rights will be in Moorhead, November 3 and 4 at the Clay County Family Service Center, Services for the Blind, Suite 205, 715- 11th Street North, Moorhead. The representative will be at that location on November 3 from 1 to 4 p.m., and on November 4 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Persons who have questions about the provisions of the Minnesota Human Rights Act or who believe they may have been discriminated against in violation of the Act can visit the representative for information and assistance by scheduling an appointment by calling Vicki Olivo at 651-296-5678. The Human Rights Department will review potential claims of discrimination to see if a formal charge can be taken.

Technical assistance is available to any employer, landlord, school, business or organization needing information about the Human Rights Act or the operation of the department.

The Minnesota Human Rights Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, education, public services, credit, and business contracts because of a person's race, color, creed, religion, sex disability, age, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, familial status, or status in regard to public assistance. The Human Rights Act forbids reprisal against a person who brings a discrimination complaint, participates in an investigation, or associates with a person who is in a protected class.

Persons who may want to file a discrimination charge, or who simply have questions, may also contact a Department of Human Rights Intake Officer by calling toll-free at 1-800-657-3704. The Department's TDD number is 651-296-1283.

Charges pending following accident

Charges are pending against Karen Hruby of Goodridge following an accident at Highway 1 and County road 22, 10 miles east of Thief River Falls, Tuesday, October 26.

According to the Minnesota State Patrol, Karen Hruby, 44, Goodridge, was driving a 1997 Tahoe north on County road 22 and failed to yield at the intersection with Highway 1. Her vehicle collided with a 1996 semi driven by Dale Haugen of Roseau. The semi clipped a guidewire to a power pole and a live wire from a power pole fell on the road. The live wire was taken care of by Red Lake Electric.

Both vehicles were considered a total loss by State Patrol officials. Injuries to the drivers were unknown.

Private Industry Council establishes youth council

Northwest Private Industry Council (NWPIC) is soliciting potential members to serve on a new Youth Council currently being established to guide policy on the implementation and delivery of youth employment and training services under the federal Workforce Investment Act in Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Roseau counties. The members to the youth council will be appointed by December 1, 1999.

The Workforce Investment Act, which replaces the Job Training Partnership Act (JTPA), creates an opportunity for local areas to assess where they are with youth services, where they want to be and how to get there. The Youth Council will provide the leadership to create a comprehensive employment and training system which will assure that all youth have access to high quality programs and services.

Responsibilities of the Youth Council include:

• Develop youth portions of the local employment and training plan.

• Guide local youth employment and training policy and coordinate services.

• Recommend eligible providers of youth activities to the NWPIC.

• Provide oversight with respect to the eligible providers of youth activities.

• Other appropriate duties determined by the chairperson of the NWPIC board.

The NWPIC is seeking members that are representatives of youth service agencies such as education, youth community-based organizations, juvenile justice, and local law enforcement agencies, representatives of local public housing authorities, parents of youth seeking assistance under WIA, and individuals, including former JTPA participants, representing other organizations that have experience relating to youth activities.

Please contact Rodger Couette at the NWPIC at 1-800-657-3791 or at 218-281-6020 if you are interested in serving on the Council, if your agency would like to nominate a representative for the Council or if you would like more information on the Youth Council.

Prowlers lose final home meet

Thief River Falls girls high school swim team lost a 104-81 decision to Warroad Tuesday in the Prowlers' final home meet of the 1999 season.

Sophomore Chelsea Haviland set a Franklin Middle School pool diving record with 309.20 points to highlight the Prowlers' efforts.

Other notable accomplishments, noted Thief River Falls coach Mary Helen Houlihan, came from freshman Tiffany Sorenson, with a personal-best 1:17.81 in the breaststroke, and eighth grader Carli Cota with a personal-best, sectional-qualifying 6:27.25 in the 500 freestyle.

The loss to a strong Warroad team dropped the Prowlers' dual meet record to 7-4.

It was the final meet of the year for Thief River Falls sixth graders Suzy Rosencrans, Sara Mattison, Casey Engelstad, Lisa Dowers, Ericka Goethe, and Allyson Helling. Their junior varsity and exhibition race efforts, noted Houlihan, included an impressive personal-best 1:09.69 by Rosencrans in the 100 freestyle.

Thief River Falls won the junior varsity portion of the meet 92-77.

Nordics, Knights win 31A debuts

In the revamped three-class high school volleyball post-season, smaller tournament fields result in a quick trip to the finals for winners. Marshall County Central and Climax/Fisher were awarded such status Tuesday with Sub-Section 31A semifinal wins over East Grand Forks and Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, respectively, at Northland Community and Technical College.

Both won in 3-0 fashion. It was easier for the top-seeded Nordics, who swept the Eagles 15-5, 15-3, 15-12. The second-seeded Knights turned back the Wolverines 15-13, 15-7, 15-7.

A balanced Marshall County Central attack that featured Kristi Kilen with 11 kills, Mandi Blawat 9 and Tera Davidson 8 overwhelmed Sacred Heart in the first part of the 31A doubleheader. Those three also combined for seven service aces, with Kilen netting three, Blawat and Davidson two each.

"First two games, I thought we played pretty well," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson. "We set the ball up and had a good, consistent attack. We kept them back on their heels. The last game we got a little sloppy."

Holly Augustine picked up 14 assists and Christa Hagen had 8 for the Nordics.

Sacred Heart's modest offensive numbers included Kerry Stinar with five kills, Jess Letexier with nine assists and Amy Effhauser with four aces.

Christel Berube came up with 17 kills and Kari Thune had 24 assists in the Climax/Fisher win over Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke. The Wolverines were led by Natalee Holte and DaNae Wiseth with nine and seven kills, respectively. Kelsey Johnsrud finished nine assists and a match-high six service aces. Sara Rutherford had five aces to lead the winners.

The Jean Schultz-coached Wolverines, who beat Kittson County North 15-8, 15-8, 8-15, 15-11 in their final regular season start a week earlier, finished the year 11-14.

Tuesday's schedule at Northland also included the Sub-Section 32A semifinals as Kittson Central swept Tri-County 3-0 and Stephen-Argyle beat Kittson Country North 3-1.

Krista Bogestad had 13 kills and Alicia Stechmann collected 18 assists to lead the Wolfpack past the Wildcats 15-8, 15-0, 15-5. Tri-County was led by Sarah Clinton with five kills and Afton Hanson with five assists.

Bree Stoltman (11) and Rachel Sang (10) combined for 21 kills, and Amber Kuznia had 30 assists as the Storm knocked off the Cougars 15-10, 15-13, 9-15, 15-10 in the final match of the day. Kittson County North efforts included six kills by Laura LeDoux and nine assists from Denise Clow.

Marshall County Central hitter Kristi punched the ball over the net against East Grand Forks Sacred Heart defender Jessica Letexier during Tuesday's Sub-Section 31A high school volleyball tournament match in the Northland Community and Technical College gym. The Nordics' Emily Kragness looks on. Marshall County Central won 3-0.

Sartell handles TRF 35-21

Sartell played better than 2-6 Tuesday in beating Thief River Falls 35-21 to open the 1999 Section 8AAAA high school football playoffs.

The Sabres were the No. 6-seed and the 5-3 Prowlers were No. 3 in the seven-team field. But a regular season full of games against strong Central Lakes Conference competition, along with a huge size advantage, made Sartell a formidable first round playoff foe.

"That's the best football team we've faced all year, in every phase of the game," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Mumm. "They were a big-time surprise. We hadn't seen them play. We saw them on film, and knew they had good size. But you really don't know just how big and how physical they are until you see them on the field. They controlled us. We couldn't move them. No team has handled us up front this year like they did."

It didn't take the Prowlers long to realize they were in trouble. The Sabres, after a game-opening kickoff return to the Sartell 44 by Sean Dolan, covered 56 yards in seven plays to grab a 7-0 lead with just 2:56 elapsed. An 18-yard run on a sweep by Brian Gasser and a 17-yard gain on a dive by Nick Winscher were the big gainers on a smartly-executed march that ended with the visitors' line pushing the Prowlers back on a 6-yard touchdown dive by Winscher.

Thief River Falls responded in quick fashion when Nick Drees got to the outside, picked up a block from backfield mate Brian Loe on the corner, and sprinted 72 yards on the Prowlers' second play from scrimmage for a 7-7 tie.

But that just put the Sartell offense back on the field, and the Sabres put together a 14-play, 73-yard drive that ate up nearly six minutes of the first quarter to go ahead 14-7. Double-figure yardage plays on the series included Adam Heathcote-to-Dolan passes that covered 13 and 10 yards, along with a 16-yard run on the inside by Winscher. It was Winscher, a 6-1, 205-pound fullback, who scored on a fourth-and-goal from the Thief River Falls 3-yard line.

Thief River Falls' offense tried to keep up, with a quick pitch to Loe that went for 30 yards and a 19-yard Brad Bulger pass to Loe that carried to the Sartell 23 in the final moments of the first quarter.

However, on the first play of the second quarter, Heathcote, a safety on defense, came up with a fourth down interception at the Sartell 7 and returned it to the Thief River Falls 49.

A methodical 14-play drive that never produced anything bigger than a 6-yard gain led to a 1-yard touchdown for Winscher, who went up and over a pile of players with 5:27 to play in the first half.

The only first half Sartell possession that didn't result in a touchdown reached the Thief River Falls 3 before Heathcote lost six yards on a keeper and then was intercepted by Zach Olson on a fourth down throw into the end zone with 27 seconds left.

Sartell's scoring machine cranked it up again the first time the Sabres got their hands on the ball in the second half, this time in much quicker fashion that required just three plays to cover 56 yards. Heathcote and Dolan hooked up on a 27-yard throw down the right side, and on the next snap Gasser took a pitch to the left, reversed his field and went 28 yards untouched for a touchdown and a 28-7 scoreboard spread.

Another long strike by the Prowlers chopped the difference to 28-14 when Bulger laid a pass in the hands of Loe down the right side and the receiver stepped out of the grasp of two defenders to complete a 47-yard touchdown play with 6:53 remaining in the third quarter.

That score was promptly followed by the first Sartell punt of the night, and when a first-snap Bulger/Loe hook-up covered 19 yards to the Sabres' 43, it looked like the Prowlers might be able to challenge the visitors' lead. But a crunching hit on the next play popped the ball loose, and it was recovered by Sartell defensive tackle P.J. Lande at the 36.

"The second half, we started making plays on defense and took some things away from them," noted Mumm. "And we moved the ball pretty well. I was happy with our execution. We were just a play away. We're not physical enough to control a game, but all season long we've been a play away from breaking one."

Sartell padded its lead on the third play of the final quarter when Gasser turned a short swing pass out of the backfield into a 45-yard touchdown run after he appeared to be stopped in his tracks at the 40. The 6-0, 170-pound sophomore stepped away from the would-be tacklers and sprinted into the open to make it 35-14 with 11:11 left.

Final touchdown came on the last play of the game when Thief River Falls' second offense went 62 yards on a pair of Justin Skjerven passes to Matt Tronvet. The first one covered 12 yards; the second one was a 50-yard touchdown.

Sartell's Ryan Friesen and Thief River Falls' Bailey Nordin combined for a perfect 8-for-8 night in the conversion kick department.

"I'm big-time proud of the kids," said Mumm moments before his traditional last-game farewell to the Thief River Falls seniors. "This is the part I hate most, saying 'goodbye.' This is a great group of kids. Nobody gave us much of a chance this year, but they won five games. It shows what hard work can do."

TRF tennis awards presented

Jenni Gonsorowski was named the most valuable player on the 1999 Thief River Falls girls high school tennis team when the Prowlers handed out their post-season awards Monday.

Gonsorowski was also recognized as the Prowlers' Winners Champion and for leading the team in doubles points – an accomplishment she shared with Section 8AA tournament doubles partner Beth Padilla, a sophomore.

Other award winners were senior Jennifer Kimball, most improved, junior Karen Christensen, Winners Champion and Coaches Award; sophomore Heather Hanson, most dedicated; freshman Eryn Clow, most singles points, Rookie of the Year; and sophomore Heather Fellman, most improved junior varsity player.

Kimball and fellow-senior Diedre Dally received captain plaques for the 1999 season, while juniors Carisa Hendrickson, Heidi Young and Christensen were named captains of the 2000 team.

Athletic letters went to seniors Kara Skiple, Kimball, Gonsorowski, and Dally; juniors Young, Hendrickson and Christensen; sophomores Jennifer Blazejewski, Emily Tweet, Hanson, and Padilla; along with freshmen Stacia Kalinoski, Maggie Stock and Clow.

It was also announced that Kimball was named Minnesota State Tennis Coaches Association Academic All-State, an honor reserved for senior letter winners with a 3.8 grade-point average or higher.

In addition, the Prowlers were recognized as the Section 8AA academic champion with a 3.82 team GPA.

Thief River Falls finished the year with a 14-5 dual meet record and a second place finish in the North Sub-Section 8AA tournament behind Bemidji, the eventual Section 8AA champion.

Individually, Kimball joined Gonsorowski-Padilla as a Section 8AA qualifier.

"Things went pretty much the way we thought they would this year," said Thief River Falls coach Sylvia Sjoberg. "We kept improving throughout the year, and finished strong."

Sjoberg looks for the Prowlers to remain competitive next fall with a team led by the three captains and a strong group of players from this year's sophomore and freshman classes.

YOUTH HOCKEY

Thief River Falls Amateur Hockey Association skating and skill testing for players ages 10-under (as of July 1, 1999) will be held Wednesday and Thursday, Nov. 3 and 4, at the Old Arena.

First-year players ages 6-under will start at Level 1 after the deer hunting season, and if needed, will be moved to different levels at that time.

Ice time for each age group will be the same for both days of the skating and skill testing sessions.

TRFAHA Testing - Old Arena

■ Wednesday/Thursday, Nov. 3/4 - 5-5:30 p.m. second-year players ages 6-under; 5:30-6 p.m. 7-year-olds; 6-6:30 p.m. 8-year-olds; 6:45-7:20 p.m. 9-year-olds; 7:20-8 p.m. 10-year-olds.

MCC rally nets title in 31A tournament

Serving got Marshall County Central in trouble early, but it was the Nordics' biggest asset down the stretch Thursday in a come-from-behind 3-2 Sub-Section 31A high school volleyball tournament championship match win over Climax/Fisher at Northland Community and Technical College.

The Knights won the first two games, but couldn't finish the Nordics, who rallied for a 13-15, 11-15, 15-8, 15-3, 15-11 victory and a spot in the Section 8A tournament next week at Crookston. It will be the first Marshall County Central sectional appearance in 11 years.

"It was a marathon," said Marshall County Central coach Mark Jorgenson after the emotion-draining win over the Knights. "Both teams were equally matched with their strengths, so I knew it would be a tough match. I figured we probably neutralize each other in the middle, and it would be a matter of who did a better job in other areas."

Service line errors plagued the Nordics early, preventing them from putting together a consistent attack. But senior Jill Anderson came off the bench in the middle of the match to help correct those problems. "Jill came in and did a nice job," pointed out Jorgenson. "She had four aces and 10 (service) points. That helped give us some momentum.

Then in Game 5, with the Nordics clinging to a 12-11 lead, junior Missy Jorgenson delivered three serves that were not put in play by the Knights.

"We struggled with serving all night," said Jorgenson. "Serving hurt us, but it also helped us at the end."

The come-from-behind effort was fueled in part, according to Jorgenson, by the Nordics' depth. "We kept chipping away. We had some kids come in and do a nice job for us. We were able to keep the pressure on them, and they started making a few mistakes."

Marshall County Central had a double-edge offense on two fronts as Kristi Kilen (21) and Tera Davidson (18) reached double figures in kills, while Holly Augustine (28) and Christa Hagen (19) did likewise in the assist department. Davidson and Anderson both served up four aces.

The Knights were led by Christel Berube with 15 kills and Kari Thune with 28 assists. Sara Rutherford, Lindsay Wegge, Sarah Sheldon, and Berube had three aces each.

The win improved the Nordics' record to 20-6.

Second half of the championship doubleheader in Thief River Falls Thursday saw Kittson Central outscore Stephen-Argyle 15-6, 15-12, 12-15, 15-8 in the Sub-Section 32A finals.

Krista Bogestad had 15 kills and Jamie Visness produced 10 kills and three service aces for the Wolfpack, who got a 23-assist performance from Alicia Stechmann.

Rachel Sang led the Storm with 13 kills. Amber Kuznia collected 21 assists and Abbey Bergeron had five aces.

Section 8A tournament will be played Nov. 5-6 at Crookston Central High School. The Friday semifinals will match Kittson Central against the Sub-Section 30A champion (Ada-Borup or Norman County West) at 5 p.m., while Marshall County Central takes on the Sub-Section 29 winner (Fosston or Win-E-Mac) at 6:30 p.m. The Saturday championship match will be played at 1 p.m.

Pirates end year for Prowlers, 3-1

Crookston came up with a pivotal 17-15 win in Game 3 Thursday and went on to beat Thief River Falls 11-15, 15-11, 17-15, 15-11 in the Section 8AAA high school volleyball tournament quarterfinals.

The loss ended an 11-14-1 season for the Prowlers, who faced the rival Pirates four times this fall – losing the first two by wide margins, then splitting a pool play match at the Warren-Alvarado-Oslo Invitational.

"We played really well," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Amy Roche. "We played exceptionally well on defense – probably the best we've played all year. We were doing a good job at the net and picking things up that would normally be hitting the floor."

The Prowlers started the night in impressive fashion with a 10-2 Game 1 lead. After that, it was tight to the very end. "It was nip-and-tuck all the way," noted Roche. "We were never out of it. Losing that third game really hurt. We had our chances; we should have won it."

Rachel Mathson had 16 kills and Becky Brsy finished with 14 to lead the Prowlers' attack. Ayla Donlin and Beth Carpenter quarterbacked the offense with with 21 and 14 assists, respectively.

Donlin also had four service aces, and Mathson recorded three. Kylie Rogalla came up with six blocks and Broy had five.

"The kids gave it their all," said Roche. "We were very proud of the way they played. You're not happy when you lose, but we were happy with the way they played."

All four home teams won opening round matches Thursday to start the first year of three-class volleyball in Minnesota. In sweeps, top-seeded Perham beat Park Rapids Area, No. 2-seeded Moorhead defeated East Grand Forks and No. 4-seeded Bemidji eliminated Detroit Lakes. Crookston was the No. 3 seed; Thief River Falls No. 6.

North Sub-Section 8AAA Volleyball

■ Quarterfinals Thursday, Oct. 28 - Perham def. Park Rapids Area 15-2, 15-4, 15-3; Bemidji def. Detroit Lakes 15-4, 15-4, 15-8; Crookston def. Thief River Falls 11-15, 15-11, 17-15, 15-11; Moorhead def. East Grand Forks 15-4, 15-7, 15-7.

■ Semifinals Saturday, Oct. 30 - Bemidji at Perham, 2 p.m.; Crookston at Moorhead, 2 p.m.

■ Championship Thursday, Nov. 4 - neutral site, 7 p.m.

Win-E-Mac downs RLCC

A switch to three-class high school volleyball this fall produced smaller tournament fields for area Class A teams; meaning tougher draws early. That was the case for Red Lake County Central Thursday when the Mustangs, a solid team in their own right, drew traditional power Win-E-Mac a first Sub-Section 29A foe.

The Patriots won the semifinal match at the University of Minnesota-Crookston 15-12, 15-8, 15-12.

"We should have won the first one," said Red Lake County Central coach Nancy Bray after watching the Mustangs let a 12-10 lead slip away.

After that, it was an uphill battle for Red Lake County Central. Win-E-Mac, after going up 2-0 on the scoreboard, finished the match by running up a 14-8 lead in Game 3.

"We didn't play our best match," said Broy. "To beat a team like that, everybody has to playing at the top of their game. We played kind of tight."

Kelsey Lundeen had 12 kills and Heather Schiefert 10 for the Mustangs. Emily Brustad finished with 16 assists and Amanda Spong had two service aces.

The Mustangs' season ended at 19-7.

Sub-Section 29A Volleyball

■ First round Monday, Oct. 25 - Clearbrook-Gonvick def. Red Lake Falls 11-15, 15-14, 15-9, 15-9.

■ Semifinals Thursday, Oct. 28 - Win-E-Mac def. Red Lake County Central 15-12, 15-8, 15-12; Fosston def. Clearbrook-Gonvick 15-2, 15-6, 15-5.

■ Championship Saturday, Oct. 30 - at University of Minnesota-Crookston, 1 p.m.

Backcourt Club meeting is Sunday

A meeting for parents of boys and girls who will be participating in the 1999-2000 Thief River Falls Backcourt Club youth basketball program will be held Sunday, Oct. 31, at 3 p.m. in the Lincoln High School gym.

All parents interested in the future of youth basketball in the community are asked to attend the meeting.

Students in grades 2-5 should have brought a Backcourt Club registration form home from school. Registration deadline is Sunday. Registrations will be accepted at the meeting.

For additional information, contact Sylvia Sjoberg at 681-3533.

TRF boys high school hockey meeting slated

A Thief River Falls boys high school hockey parent-player meeting will be held Thursday, Nov. 4, at 6:30 p.m. in the Lincoln High School gym.

It is mandatory that the players and their parents attend, according to Thief River Falls coach Scott Bergland.

Arena walking program begins on November 1

On Monday, November 1, the Thief River Falls Arena Walking Program will begin its 13th year at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center in Thief River Falls.

The Arena Walking Program, sponsored by the Dakota Clinic - Thief River Falls and Northwest Medical Center, was started as a way to encourage people to walk on a regular basis and include it in their exercise and fitness program.

Interested persons may register at the front desk of Northwest Medical Center beginning October 28. Registration is $3. Registrants will receive a book for recording miles. Walkers reaching goals of 50, 100, 200, 300, 400 and 500 miles are asked to call Gail Holland at Northwest Medical Center to report their miles.

The Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center is available for walking seven days a week, but certain time restrictions are imposed to allow other activities to take place in the arena. Walkers are invited to use the facility daily from 7:30 a.m. to closing. Participants are discouraged from walking during hockey games, recreational skating and other activities taking place in the arena. Walkers are asked to keep safety in mind at all times when walking. The City of Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation department is asking that all walkers treat skaters with courtesy even if it means slowing down. Better yet, when recreational skating is in session, walk forward and back, avoiding the front area altogether.

Any questions regarding the Arena Walking Program can be directed to Gail Holland, public relations coordinator at Northwest Medical Center, 218-683-4210.

Mother of girl injured in Columbine shooting, kills self

(from the Warren Sheaf)

A former Warren woman, the mother of a teenage girl severely injured in the Littleton, CO, school shooting last April, has taken her own life.

Carla June Hochhalter, 48, walked into a pawn shop in Englewood, CO, about 10 a.m. Friday and asked to be shown firearms, according to published news accounts. While examining a .38-calibre handgun, the clerk turned away. During that time Hochhalter allegedly loaded the handgun, fired one shot into a wall and then shot herself.

Hochhalter is the daughter of Charles Engelstad of Warren. She and her husband, Jerrold (Ted) Hochhalter, are the parents of 17-year-old Anne Marie Hochhalter, who suffered injuries to her spinal cord, back and chest when she was shot while in the parking lot at Columbine High School last spring. The Hochhalters' son Nathan, then 14, was also at the high school at the time of the shootings. He managed to stay in hiding and was not injured.

Anne Marie Hochhalter was one of the most severely injured students to survive the shooting. Because of the severity of her injuries, she was hospitalized for four months, and is paralyzed from the waist down. However, just a week before the death of her mother, she had regained some movement in her legs.

According to investigators, Mrs. Hochhalter left a note at the pawn shop where she died, but the contents of the note have not been made public.

Carla Hochhalter was a 1969 graduate of Warren High School and earned a degree at the University of North Dakota. She taught school at Bismarck, ND, for 11 years before the family moved to Colorado in 1988. Ted Hochhalter, a native of New Leipzig, ND, is an emergency services specialist with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation.

HELP WANTED - GOV'T BUILDINGS MAINTENANCE

A full-time custodian is wanted to work primarily with the Government Buildings Department for the City of Thief River Falls. The employee would be scheduled to work 1-9 p.m., Monday through Friday. Flexible scheduling will occasionally be required.

The position involves the maintenance and repair of public buildings owned by the City of Thief River Falls, including daily maintenance of the City Hall, Public Library and Auditorium Buildings. The work may also involve some reading of utility meters. Previous custodial/maintenance experience, including the operation of heating and air conditioning equipment is required.

Individual applications for the position will be accepted through November 9, 1999, until 5:00 p.m. A complete job description and application is available at the office of the Minnesota Job Service, P.O. Box 879, 1301 Highway 1 East, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701. The City of Thief River Falls is an Equal Opportunity Employer.

A roster may be established from interviewed candidates for filling future position vacancies that occur within six months.

Liquor issue on ballot for Red Lake

As tribal members square off on liquor issue $22 million expansion plan for casino unveiled

Since establishment of the diminished Red Lake Indian reservation, the sale of liquor has been banned on the reservation. With the advent of casinos, some opinions have changed and now tribal members will be given an opportunity to decide whether to allow for the sale of alcohol at the River Road Casino near Thief River Falls and the Lake of the Woods Casino in Warroad.

> "In surveys taken, over 60 percent of our guests told us they would prefer to have a drink if they choose to have one." — King

The November 10 vote is an advisory vote to guide the actions of tribal council members. The ballot question states the following. "I agree that the sale of alcohol should be allowed on Tribal trust lands at the River Road Casino Complex located in Thief River Falls, MN, and at the Lake of the Woods Casino located in Warroad, MN, and on Tribally owned fee lands. This does not include any part of the diminished reservation." District polling places will be open between 9 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Dan King, tribal treasurer, supports the measure. King said it's needed because of so many needs on the reservation. King cited housing, unemployment reaching 67 percent, no recreation for children, and not enough police as some of those needs. In information being distributed on the reservation, King states that about $60 out of every $100 of the total Tribal budget comes from the River Road and Lake of the Woods Casino profits. In other words, almost every Tribal program and tribal member directly or indirectly benefits from the non-Indians who provide the money that fuels our Tribal government.

Judy Roy, who has become a spokesperson against the initiative, said her main concern was that the tribe honor its ancestors, who were against liquor on the reservation. Roy said that a distinction between the diminished reservation and the quoted "off-reservation" property is inaccurate. It's all Indian land, she said.

> "The bottom line for the proponents of this action can be summed up in one word: Money." — Roy

It could have a $3 million impact on the reservation, King said, but it is a big concern for tribal members. It could go either way. Many on the reservation hark back to the beginning of the reservation day, when King says one of his ancestors who was chief at the time said, "liquor should never come on the reservation or it will be the ruin of us." King agrees even though he feels prohibition has been a big failure. It's no secret, he said, that liquor can be obtained from bootleggers on the reservation. In addition, alcohol can be obtained at stores located within a mile of the reservation in almost any direction. He noted that over 90 percent of the License to transport game required

Red Lake - When the Minnesota deer hunting season opens today - (Saturday, November 6) the Red Lake Band of Chippewa will require non-band hunters in Minnesota's Northwest Angle to have a tribal license to transport big game across tribal land in that non-contiguous piece of the state.

The new tribal regulation will impact most Northwest Angle deer hunters as the only access road to the angel is through tribal land.

The Red Lake tribal license costs $100 and is applicable for hunting on Red Lake tribal lands which comprise a majority of the Northwest Angle and part of the Red Lake Reservation, located mostly in Beltrami county. A Minnesota Resident Firearms Deer License costs $23 and is applicable for hunting within the state of Minnesota. The Pioneer -

Kittson volunteers receive recognition

Hallock - Two Kittson Unit American Cancer Society volunteers recently received state awards recognizing them for their contributions at the annual meeting of the American Cancer Society in Minneapolis.

Margie Holmgren, president of the Kittson county ACS unit, received the Betty Cunningham Volunteer Involvement award, and Gail Norland, unit secretary and publisher of the Kittson County Enterprise, received the Outstanding Overall Media Partner award. Kittson County Enterprise

Magnum sniffs around in Red Lake Falls

Red Lake Falls - Magnum, the newest member of the Pennington County Sheriff's Department, and his handler, Terry Bayne, visited Lafayette High School recently to search for drugs.

It took Magnum, a 20-month-old German shepherd, about 10 minutes to sniff his way along the lockers and cover every locker bay, finding no drugs in the school. The Gazette -

Osborne elected to fourth mayoral term

Crookston - Crookston voters elected incumbent Mayor Don Osborne to a fourth term Tuesday, casting more ballots for him than his two challengers combined.

Official totals from the City Clerk's office had 1,141 votes cast for Osborne. Gary Willhite came in second with 557 votes and citizen activist Jennifer Peterson received 245 votes. The story repeated itself in each ward with Osborne receiving the most votes, Willhite coming in second and Peterson third. Crookston Daily Times:

Annual craft show today in Fosston

Fosston - The 20th annual fall craft show will be held today (Saturday, November 6) from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Fosston Civic Center/High School with over 100 crafters exhibiting their wares.

The annual event is a fundraiser for the Fosston Swim Club. The Thirteen Towns

Close results posted in TRF election race

With three incumbents not running for re-election, it was a given that Thief River Falls would have three new council representatives on the city council. No one knew how close the election would be between candidates. Seven votes separate two of the candidates in Ward 1, and a write-in candidate in Ward 5, received 181 ones.

Results of the election had not been certified as of Friday morning.

In Ward 1, Glen Kajewski defeated challenger Steven Narverud by seven votes, 165 to 158. Given the closeness of the votes, Narverud is within his rights to request a recount. (It was announced Thursday evening that Narverud had requested a recount.)

There are two precincts in Ward 1. In precinct 1 (a) Kajewski received 116 votes and Narverud 74 votes. Voters in precinct 1 (b) gave Narverud 84 votes, and Kajewski 49 votes.

The third candidate in this race was Dennis Nabben who received 26 votes.

If certified, Kajewaki will replace Milt Burstad, who decided not to run for re-election. Burstad sat on the council from January 1, 1966 to the present.

In Ward 3, the Incumbent Dale Wennberg, defeated challenger Mark Staite. The final vote totals show that Wennberg took both precincts 101 to 22 in precinct 3 (a), and 147 to 35 in precinct 3 (b).

Terry BlackLanee was the only candidate on the ballot in Ward 5, but during the last weeks of the election was challenged by write-in candidate, Dennis Rantanen. The final vote totals show that BlackLanee won 272 to 181. He replaces Frank Hamerlinck on the council. Hamerlinck, who declined to run for re-election, sat on the council from January 1, 1992 to the present.

Elvera M. Cullen will be the next representative-at-large on the city council. She replaces Jean Heinrichs, who decided earlier this

Three area school districts pass levy referendums

Three area school districts passed levy referendums in Tuesday's election, and the residents of a number of area school districts cast their ballots for board of education members. Election day also included a mayoral race in St. Hilaire, and three council members were elected to fill two four-year terms and one two-year term.

Levy Referendums

Voters in School District 670 (Red Lake Falls) turned out to pass a levy referendum by a margin of 246 to 60. The referendum will raise $201,683 of which $50,172 will be raised locally with the remainder coming from the state.

High voter turnout in School District 627 (Dklee) resulted in the passing of a levy referendum by a 274-164 margin. Increasing revenue by $760.89 per resident marginal cost pupil unit, the additional funds will be used to finance school operations. The levy referendum is expected to raise approximately $200,000 and will be in effect for five years.

A levy referendum which will increase revenue by $1,251.56 per resident marginal cost pupil unit passed by an easy 178 to 50 margin in School District 676 (Badger). A portion of the revenue will replace the school district's prior authorization which has expired. The remainder will be used to finance school operations. It will be in effect for five years.

School Board Terms

Incumbents Lyla Smith and Rick Sovde will serve additional four-year terms on the board of School District 2683 and will be joined by Richard Churchill. Four candidates vied for the three spots with Lyla Smith receiving 218 votes; Sovde, 212; Churchill, 152; and the fourth candidate, Carrie Taggert, receiving 140 votes.

Voters in School District 682 (Roseau) elected William Wagner, Patricia Westman and incumbent Mary Jane Braten to serve four-year terms on the district's board of education. Votes for the three positions were divided among nine candidates, including Wagner, 553; Westman, 529; Broten, 491; incumbent Joe Schneider, 337; Daniel Timmersman, 238; William Peterson, 168; Rhett Hulst, 157; Brian Muirhead, 58; and Troy Borgen, 36.

Brett Bastian will join incumbents Patrick Mohrbacher and Dick Meyers for four-year terms on the board of directors of School District 690 (Warroad). The names of seven candidates appeared on the ballot and included Mohrbacher, 432 votes; Bastian, 380 votes; Meyers, 326 votes; Karen Pederson, 315 votes; James Hamlin, 102 votes; Dale Zeidlik, 89 votes; and Tim Fish, 31 votes. Two of the 189 write-in candidates received more than one vote. Write-in Steven Fisher received 94 votes, and Bruce "Buffalo" Fuller, another write-in candidate, received 75 votes.

St. Hilaire Elections

With the majority of votes, Larry Kruse will serve as St. Hilaire's mayor. Kruse received 62 votes while his opponent, Ione Scott, received 45 votes. Ten votes were cast for write-in candidate Lee Rolland.

The St. Hilaire City Council will add two new members, Greg Johnson and Penny Schindler, for four-year terms. Candidates and the number of votes each received is as follows: Johnson, 81; Schindler, 50; Dennis Taylor, 36; Dale Dobias, 23; and Toni Dobias, 21.

Also, Paula Fanfulik was re-elected to the council for a two-year term with 51 votes. Her opponents, Brian Steenerson and Elaine Kruse, had 38 and 23 votes respectively.

MN Deer Hunters Association asks hunters to support Hides for Habitat

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Howard Hovan of Thief River Falls (left) and Joel Olson of Newfolden, members of the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, donate their time to prepare hides for sale as part of the organization's Hides for Habitat program.

Beginning at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, November 17, a group of local guys and gals will be hanging out at Falls Radiator in Thief River Falls. Most likely, hunting stories will dominate the conversation as the volunteers, members of the Thief River Falls Chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association (MDHA), do the important work of the Hides for Habitat program.

It's a simple program with successful deer hunters donating the hide to the local MDHA chapter. Hunters can drop off their hides in the receptacles that have been placed at 13 sites in 10 area communities, including Thief River Falls, Alvarado, Goodridge, Gully, Middle River, Dklee, Plummer, Red Lake Falls, St. Hilaire and Warren.

Volunteers from the Thief River Falls Chapter then pick up the hides and take them to Falls Radiator where they are cleaned and prepared for sale. Once cleaned, the hides are inspected, graded and sold to regional and national hide buyers.

The program originated in 1985, offering deer hunters an opportunity to give something back to the deer. Funds raised by Hides for Habitat are used for much needed habitat preservation and restoration, benefiting not only the state's whitetail deer herd, but all of Minnesota's wildlife.

Since 1985, 190,782 hides have been collected, and $1,288,265 has been generated to help fund habitat projects throughout the state.

A number of variables determine how much money the program raises from year to year, including the number of hides donated as well as the going rate for hides in a particular year.

In 1998, all 61 of Minnesota's MDHA chapters participated in the program. The average price for a hide was $6.03, and after expenses were paid, 75 percent of the net total or $87,134 was returned to the participating chapters, and 25 percent or $29,045 went into the state MDHA account to be used to co-fund special projects.

Because the program qualifies for the state's Reinvest in Minnesota (RIM) matching funds, every dollar raised literally doubles overnight. In some areas, those dollars are matched again by federal funds.

Each local chapter has sole discretion in selecting projects for use of its dollars.

With 637 members from Thief River Falls and surrounding communities, the TRF chapter of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association is the third largest MDHA organization in the state and one of the most active. Other MDHA chapters in the Northern Watch area are located in Roseau, Stephen and East Grand Forks.

Last year, the TRF chapter collected about 600 hides, ranking second in the state, and netting a little more than $4,000 for local habitat projects.

According to Dana Klos, a member of the Thief River Falls MDHA chapter, local funds have been used to purchase corn, grass and sunflower seed to help local landowners who want to plant food plots for wildlife with the exception of 1995-1997 when all of the funds were used to supplement deer feeding programs during severe winters.

During the next three years, the Thief River Falls organization plans to participate in a joint project with the Grygla/Fourtown Sportsmen's Club, improving and maintaining six miles of trail each year.

Hides for Habitat is only one of the activities of the Minnesota Deer Hunting Association which was organized with the goal of achieving the best possible deer herd and promoting high quality deer hunting.

In addition to promoting and maintaining a high-quality deer habitat program, the organization's

Oklee women learn embroidery technique

Oklee - Several women of the Oklee community received instruction in the art of Brazilian embroidery recently in a class sponsored by Oklee Community Education.

Brazilian embroidery, so named as it had its origin in Brazil, is a three dimensional technique accomplished by using a twisted rayon Brazilian thread, which comes in six weights, plus a knotted thread.

The class instructor was NancyLee Fladung of Blackduck. Since first learning of the art in 1986, she has taken advanced courses and started teaching the art not only in Minnesota, but North and South Dakota, Michigan, New Mexico and England. The Oklee Herold

Wal-Mart closes on DL land deal

Detroit Lakes - The patch of land just east of the Detroit Lakes airport with the large 'for sale' sign on it should now read 'sold.'

The deal on the land parcel closed last week, leaving Wal-Mart Stores, Inc. with just under 34 acres of land. According the Detroit Lakes realtor who handled the sale, Wal-mart had been looking into purchasing land in Detroit Lakes for about 10 years, but "serious negotiations" didn't start until January. Becker County Record

Singles Christian Fellowship to meet

Fosston and Area Singles Christian Fellowship will meet on Sunday, November 14 at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

In keeping with the event's Mexican theme, Rev. Nate Hinton and the youth group of Bethel Assembly will present a program on the group's summer mission tour to Mexico.

A potluck supper will be served, and guests are welcome. Proceeds from the offering will go to help with the expenses of Bethel youth group's next trip.

A "No-Win" Proposition

In the 1974 comedy classic, "Monty Python and the Holy Grail", King Arthur, while on his quest for the goblet that Christ employed at the Last Supper, is obstinately confronted by a Black Knight who wishes to do battle. Arthur sees the woodsy path along which both men travel as poor reason for conflict and suggests that they simply pass amicably and go on their respective ways. The Black Knight will have none of this, however, and pushes the reluctant Arthur into a duel. Well, Arthur's skill with a sword is second to none and he quickly ends the contest by slicing off his opponent's right arm. Yet, as the King prepares to resume his journey, the challenge to fight is renewed by his now one-armed foe, claiming the injury is little more than a "flesh wound".

This pattern of dismemberment and denial is repeated until the Black Knight has been reduced to a limbless, blood-spouting torso that can do little more than threaten to bite and chew Arthur into submission. The exasperated hero can only shake his head in disbelief as he starts again his trek through the forest, the irrational invectives continuing to fly from the stumpy, immobile figure rooted in the trail behind him.

Despite what the weekend editions of the Grand Forks Herald might have labeled it, the recent border fishing settlement was certainly not a "victory". Victory implies glory and honor and a cause for celebration. Victory demands that epic battle tales be told and the immortal acts of new heroes be revisited. Victory suggests that what was wrong has been made right and the threat which existed has been permanently squelched. Victory asks for sincere acts of contrition on the part of the vanquished. We have been left with none of that.

Instead, like Arthur, we can only hurry away from the fiasco that is behind us and shake our heads in wonderment at the occasionally irrational behavior of our adversary.

All that has been achieved is a tenuous stretch towards parity- the treating of equals as equals. Realize that no reparations will be made. No money will change hands nor decimated guest lists rejuvenated. No backlog of fish will be forthcoming. Even simple apologies will be lacking. Losses will remain losses. Minnesota resorts along the U.S.- Canadian border have been left the unenviable task of trying to resurrect businesses that have been torn apart by nearly two decades of illegal Ontario impositions. Also realize that the word 'illegal' is no longer a subjective American term as the recent accord was arrived at after Canadian federal officials in Ottawa finally took an objective, lucid look at the actions of their countrymen in Northwestern Ontario and quickly pointed out that things needed to change-immediately! In fact, the Canadian government viewed the violations as serious enough to warrant changing them right away this month, despite the fact that the convenient beginning of a new fishing season was a mere 60 days away. It is indeed ironic that what many southern Minnesota papers labeled ignorantly as frivolous northern whining has been viewed as weighty business by Canadians themselves.

And Ontario, despite the federal directives, continues to rant and rave in near preposterous fashion like the limbless, pitiful creature of Monty Python fame. Press releases over the last few days claim the international victory for conservation, achieved, inexplicably, by raising the limit on Walleye for Ontario residents to a level higher than that of non-residents across the board. Am I expected to believe that in the fisheries management game two negatives actually do make a positive? Minnesota's pledge to a strong fishery is called into question by an MNR that proudly displays a 60 percent buyout of Canadian commercial fisheries as evidence of their commitment. Are they still unaware that a 100 percent Minnesota buyout took place over 15 years ago? In Ontario's recent public statements the province threatens to send guests from their camps into Minnesota waters to harvest fish on this side's more liberal limit. Have they actually been blind to the fact that such an invitation has been extended to their fishermen for the entirety of this border squabble?

This is no victory. As in any long-running, unwinnable war, a generation of friction and ill-will cannot help but continue to sustain itself. Skirmishes will arise again, possibly sooner than any of us care to predict. For the moment, the fisherman of northern Minnesota will have to content themselves with the hollow satisfaction found in an equal treatment that should have been their basic right all along. Like King Arthur, we are simply obliged to continue on our way, shaking our heads in stunned disbelief at the mess behind us.

Halloween's over, the frost has been on the pumpkin and it's time to use that pumpkin to make something delicious. Here are some pumpkin recipes for you.

This pumpkin dessert was served at the Cluster meeting of Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America held recently at Redeemer Lutheran church:

GREAT PUMPKIN DESSERT
1 can solid pack pumpkin
1 (12 ounce) can evaporated milk
3 eggs
4 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
1/2 cup sugar, if desired
Yellow cake mix (dry)
3/4 cup butter or margarine, melted
Chopped nuts
Whipped cream or ice cream

Combine pumpkin, evaporated milk, eggs and pumpkin pie spice. You may wish to add 1/2 cup of granulated sugar to mixture if you like a sweet dessert. Pour into greased 9x13 inch pan.

Sprinkle with dry cake mix and drizzle with melted butter. Top with chopped nuts and bake at 350 degrees for 1 hour.

Serve with whipped cream or ice cream.

Put pumpkin and canned cranberry sauce together to make two tasty, moist quick breads:

CRANBERRY PUMPKIN BREAD
3 1/2 cups flour
1 1/2 cups sugar
2 teaspoons pumpkin pie spice
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
3/4 teaspoon salt
1 (16 ounce) can whole berry cranberry sauce
1 (15 ounce) can solid pack pumpkin
3/4 cup chopped pecans
2/3 cup oil
4 eggs
Glaze:
1 cup confectioner's sugar
1/4 cup orange juice concentrate
1/8 teaspoon allspice

In large bowl, combine flour, sugar, pie spice, soda, baking powder and salt.

In another bowl, combine cranberry sauce, pumpkin, pecans, oil and eggs. Stir into dry ingredients and mix well.

Pour into 2 greased 9x5 inch loaf pans. Bake at 350 degrees for 65 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes on rack then remove from pans.

Combine glaze ingredients and drizzle over loaves.

Make this big batch of bars – serve some now and freeze some for later:

COLONIAL PUMPKIN BARS
3/4 cup butter or margarine
2 cups sugar
16 ounce can pumpkin
4 eggs
2 cups flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup chopped nuts

Cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Blend in pumpkin and eggs.

Add flour, baking powder, cinnamon, soda, salt and nutmeg, mixing well.

Stir in nuts and spread in greased and floured 9x13 inch pan. Bake at 350 degrees for 30-35 minutes or until toothpick in center comes out clean. Frost with Cream Cheese Frosting (below).

Cream Cheese Frosting:
3 ounce package softened cream cheese
1/3 cup butter or margarine
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups sifted powdered sugar

Combine cream cheese, butter and vanilla, mixing well until blended. Add powdered sugar gradually, mixing well after each addition.

I'll give you my own favorite pumpkin pie recipe – my mother got the cookbook on a trip to Pennsylvania and we've used this pumpkin pie recipe ever since:

PENNSYLVANIA DUTCH PUMPKIN PIE
1 1/2 cups pumpkin
3/4 cup brown sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ginger
1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon cloves
3/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 1/2 cups evaporated milk or half and half

Mix pumpkin, brown sugar and eggs slightly with whisk. Add spices, salt and butter and mix with whisk, then whisk in milk. Pour into unbaked pie shell.

Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes, then at 325 until done and table knife inserted off-center comes out clean.

And this recipe for pumpkin muffins is from my Little Muffin Book that my daughter-in-law brought me from "Just Like Grandma's" in Osakis, MN:

PUMPKIN MUFFINS
1 cup sifted flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 cup shortening
2/3 cup sugar
1 egg
1/2 cup canned pumpkin
2 tablespoons milk

Sift flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon. Set aside.

In mixing bowl, cream shortening and sugar until light, using electric mixer at medium speed. Beat in egg.

Combine pumpkin and milk in small bowl. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with pumpkin mixture, stirring well after each addition.

Spoon batter into paper lined muffin cups, filling 2/3 full. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes or until golden brown. (Recipe makes 12.)

One more pumpkin dessert – this one is frozen:

PUMPKIN DESSERT
1 1/2 cups graham cracker crumbs
1/4 cup sugar
1/4 cup butter
16 ounce can pumpkin
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cup salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1/8 teaspoon cloves
1 quart softened vanilla ice cream

Mix graham cracker crumbs, sugar and butter together and press in 9 inch square pan. Set aside.

Mix pumpkin, brown sugar, salt, cinnamon, ginger and cloves. Fold in softened ice cream and pour into crust.

Cover and freeze firm. Remove from freezer 20 minutes before serving. Top with whipped cream, if desired.

No one injured in Northland Village Fire

The Thief River Falls Fire Department was called to a fire at Northland Village Tuesday, November 2, at 9:42 p.m.

No injuries were reported and the blaze was contained to one apartment. The fire department reported some smoke damage to the hallway and gave no estimate of the cost of the damage. The apartment was not occupied when the fire started, however someone had begun moving into the apartment that day.

The cause of the fire is still under investigation.

KKAQ celebrated 20 years of operation Tuesday, November 2. Pictured left to right are Dave Halvorson and Curt Quesnall who have been with the station from the first day of broadcasting. They are part of the morning team on both KKAQ 1460 AM and KKDQ 99.3 FM. Saturday, November 6, from 10 to 11 a.m. the station will re-run Tuesday's "What's Up" program.

Election guesses hit their mark

At the top of this page is a statement which reads: "Editorial opinion published under this heading is intended to stimulate thinking and discussion among our readers. Unless specified otherwise, the editorials are written by Editor Dave Hill and do not represent opinion of other staff members."

There are no right or wrong answers here, only different perspectives. As with all editorials, I hope that we can be respectful in our right to disagree with each other.

As you might have guessed I took a fair amount of heat or criticism for my election predictions. I expected it because it goes with the territory. There's no law or regulation that states I need to make election predictions or endorsements. The "Ivory Tower" experts tell editors that they would be shirking their duty as editors if they didn't. I wonder how many of those "experts" have real work-a-day experience in small town newspapers?

As far as I was concerned all of the candidates were qualified to represent the citizens of Thief River Falls, and it was a very difficult election to predict. On a different day, I probably would have predicted the results differently.

In my editorial stating my election predictions I promised I would eat crow if my guesses were incorrect, but would not crow if they were correct. Some may say that I made lucky guesses. I don't have a staff of editorial writers to help me with writing editorials, or a special team of writers to write just election stories. Nevertheless, my guesses were based on what I know of the community, its past voting history, the personal articles submitted by the candidates, and informal interviews with people on the street. To be precise then, they were informed guesses.

How did I do? I guessed that Glen Kajewski would win in Ward 1 in a "really close" race, Dale Wennberg would win in Ward 3, Terry Blacklance in Ward 5, Elvera Cullen would win the Representative-At-Large position, and that the liquor issue would fail to pass "by a close margin." As it turns out, that's the way it happened. Yes, I made some lucky guesses, because I couldn't possibly know all the reasons why voters vote the way they do. No, I don't seriously believe voters were swayed by what I wrote in the editorial. And, I hope I never take voters (and our readers) for granted. They are quite capable of making their own decisions.

Since I appear to be on a roll I'll make a few more predictions. I can tell you right now for a certainty that my guesses won't always be 100 percent correct in the future, and there will be spelling and grammatical errors in the newspaper. Unfortunately, making the predictions on who would win in this election wasn't as easy.

Thankfully, I didn't feel I had to make election predictions on elections outside of the community of Thief River Falls. I did pass on some information about area elections. I felt uncomfortable with that story which appeared in the Northern Watch because I didn't have the time to be as thorough as I would like. My hunch was correct. I failed to notice that St. Hilaire was holding a city election. Also, you'll notice in this edition of the Northern Watch that voters on the Red Lake Indian Reservation will be deciding whether to allow liquor to be served at their off-reservation casinos.

Mistakes will help us find a sense of humor

So serious are we in our pursuit of news, we sometimes fail to see humor in our mistakes. As we "hopefully" go to print today, many of us at The Times/Northern Watch are still laughing about all the mistakes and errors that led to delays in printing and delivery of the November 3 edition of The Times. In time I hope everyone will be able to laugh at the comedy of errors that took place.

Where the first mistake began is not easy to determine, but I'll give it a whirl. It's not certain, but the probable cause of a burned out computer board in the large printing press was a power surge. The power surge may have been caused by high winds that swept through the area Monday. That kept us from printing on Monday. After considerable time spent in identifying the problem, the manufacturer of the specific computer board needed for the large printing press, was contacted. They promised to send us a replacement part next-day air service. Ooops! The part went to a distribution center but didn't make the overnight flight.

We were beginning to get a little panicky around here on Tuesday, which is the day we print The Times even though it is dated Wednesday and arrives at most of your homes on Wednesday. We contacted the publishing plants for the Crookston Times and the Walsh County Record in Grafton. Grafton was helping Devil's Lake, which was experiencing problems with its printing press at the time and we decided to take The Times to Crookston, which was also 45 miles closer. To make a long story shorter, Crookston was having some difficulties and we decided to take half of The Times to Grafton and let Crookston print the other half. (I'm not even going to try and explain all of the last minute planning it took to get the other newspapers that we print published at other locations.)

Everyone was in a big rush. Ooops! The next big gaff or mistake involved placing the section of The Times printed in Crookston in the wrong pickup Tuesday evening. Yup. "They looked the same. How could one tell?" Then the unthinkable, but predictable happened — of course. That section of the newspaper disappeared when the owner of the pickup left. With help of others, the missing newspaper section was found by a nearby dumpster Wednesday morning. I can't understand why that person didn't return to the newspaper plant in Crookston and ask if they were missing some newspapers. I can't understand why that person just stacked them next to a dumpster without saying anything to anyone. Wouldn't you be a little curious why someone put over 5,700 newspapers in the back of your pickup?

As I said, the newspaper was found and after a bit of rushing around Wednesday morning, the two sections of the newspaper were reunited at The Times in Thief River Falls. The lost computer board arrived at The Times on Wednesday and the printing press is up and running.

We need to thank many people for helping us through this crisis including employees at the Crookston Times, Walsh County Record in Grafton, maker of the computer board, Electrician Art Hinrichs, and employees at The Times.

Some employees in the back shop at The Times are telling us to stop laughing, because it isn't funny. Oh yes it is! I hope you too have a good healthy guffaw at our expense, and can accept our apologies for the delay.

I hope that eventually, everyone at The Times will be able to laugh at the comedy of errors too. We have lost some hair and the rest of it is turning prematurely grey, but at least our serious, somber faces are gone.

Editor's note: This editorial was delivered on the end of a 10-foot pole to the publisher — just kidding. He had the following comments, however:

> Publishers note: Due to an electrical component failure in our electronic controller for the drive motor of our newspaper press, the Thief River Falls Times was published one day late.
> The Times sincerely thanks Art Hinrichs for his valuable assistance on helping diagnose and fix the problem. This is just one of many times when Mr. Hinrichs has come to our immediate assistance in fixing electrical components in machinery crucial to the production of our newspaper. Thanks also goes out to our staff who went the extra mile in getting the paper out too.
> Sincerely,
> John Mattson

GAME, FISH & ENFORCEMENT

by Mike Ramstorf
MN Conservation Officer

Peer Pressure is not always a bad thing.....

When you think of peer pressure, most think of negative things involving alcohol, and drugs. The peer pressure I'm talking about involves hunting and ethics.

If most people in a group act a specific way others will follow. Be a leader and stand up for what you believe and surround yourself with others who think the same way.

Firearm's deer hunting is in full swing. Along with it come many fun stories about the one that got away.

"Buck Fever" is a term most hunters are familiar with. Some know it very well. Those hunters should not be embarrassed by this. It's actually a very natural thing.

Buck Fever is actually a chemical reaction that happens in your body. When you get excited, like when the back of a lifetime or your first deer steps out in front of you, your body's adrenal gland excretes adrenaline, a very powerful drug.

Otherwise known as the "fight or flight" mechanism in our body. This is not new to Law Enforcement. We are trained to recognize the symptoms and act accordingly during high stress situations such as high speed pursuits and volatile calls.

Your body actually fine tunes the senses it needs and shuts off the others. Your vision becomes very acute while your hearing may not. This is the case when many hunters remember seeing a specific hair on the deers body but can't remember hearing the gun going off or feeling the recoil from the rifle. Your heart may pound so hard you think its going to jump out of your chest.

While Buck Fever is natural, keep in mind the symptoms and how to react. A narrowing field of vision is common. Your mind may focus so much on the deer that you forget some very important things, like what is behind your target.

To combat this, if you feel yourself getting excited, take a breath. Think about what's happening and react calmly. It may be the difference between a well-placed shot and watching a white flag bounding away.

Happy Hunting and BE SAFE.

Christmas art and craft fair in Park Rapids Nov. 13-14

Heartland Area Promotions/Mid-Minnesota Craft Fairs announces its 19th annual Christmas Art & Craft Celebration to be held Saturday and Sunday, November 13 and 14 at Park Rapids Middle and High Schools. Among the vendors at the middle school will be quillows, handmade willow and birch furniture, ceramics, table runners, emu eggs, oil candles, machine knitting, herbal sachets, neck wraps, wooden puzzles, wreaths, pine furniture, dried floral arrangements, doll clothes, log bird feeders and more.

Vendors at the high school will feature hand-painted tiles, wood Christmas ornaments, embroidered sweatshirts, Hmong needlework, oak and maple woodwork, potpourri, beveled glass, doll clothes, portrait sketches and more.

Group rates are available, for information call (218) 732-9439.

Former Warren minister charged with theft appears on television

A former Warren minister who is wanted for theft recently appeared with his children on a television talk show to discuss the fact that he is a cross-dresser.

William Craig Dimick, 44, a former minister at the Grace United Methodist Church in Warren, has been charged with two counts of felony theft. The first count is for theft of $3,857 taken between March 1, 1998 and June 31, 1998. The second count is for $4,057 taken between August 1, 1998 and December 31, 1998.

The money was raised by a ministerial association in Warren and was intended to provide assistance to people in Warren for flood relief.

At the time he was charged, Dimick seemed willing to turn himself in to the authorities, according to Marshall county sheriff Herb Maurstad. However, Dimick has since left the state. A warrant for his arrest was signed February 10, 1999.

Maurstad stated that the Marshall county sheriff's office has no current plans to pursue Dimick in California.

If convicted, Dimick faces a sentence of 10 years in prison and/or a $20,000 fine.

Kmart officially opens Big K next Friday in TRF

Kmart will officially open its newest Big K during a ribbon cutting ceremony in Thief River Falls next Friday. The ceremony is expected to take place at about 7:30 a.m. at the store on Highway 59 south. It brings to close a 12-week transformation at the Kmart store, and brings the total number of Big Kmarts in Minnesota to eight.

"Everything customers expect to find, and more, is still here," said Dave Fielding, vice president, Northwest Region. "They'll still find great brands at great prices, but they'll also have a more comfortable and convenient shopping experience thanks to the new Big Kmart design."

Area residents who are familiar with traditional Kmart stores or who haven't visited Kmart for a while will discover the difference as soon as they walk through their new Big Kmart's doors. Brighter, wider aisles lead customers through a store that's been renovated from top to bottom to make shopping a more pleasant, convenient experience.

Big Kmart's affect on Thief River Falls goes beyond shopping convenience. The new store represents a $600,000 investment in the local economy.

Big Kmart team members will continue to get involved in important Thief River Falls causes through the company's Community Volunteers program. In celebration of the stores grand opening, a $500 contribution will be made to an organization that supports children and families during the ribbon cutting ceremony. Each year, Kmart team members raise millions of dollars for both local and national charitable organizations.

On average, Kmart contributes approximately $20 million each year in cash and merchandise to charitable causes. In 1998, Kmart Community team members in the State of Minnesota raised more than $55,096 for the March of Dimes and $39,469 for Give Kids The World, a non-profit that provides terminally ill children and their families a six-day, cost-free vacation to Central Florida. Last year, 44 families from Minnesota were guests of Give Kids the World.

Another way Big Kmart raises funds for local charities is through Kmart Kids Race Against Drugs, a fun, interactive program that educates children about the dangers of drug and alcohol use. Each summer, Kmart Kids Race Against Drugs sets up racetracks at Big Kmart locations across the country and invites 7- to 12-year-olds to maneuver around an obstacle course in specially designed race cars. The kids with the fastest times win the chance to compete for $10,000 college scholarships at the end of the season. All participants walk away with a free t-shirt, hat and anti-drug information. Kmart donates $5 for each participating child to a local drug or alcohol prevention organization — totaling $6 million to date.

The conversion of Thief River Falls' traditional Kmart store brings the nationwide total to 1,809 refurbished stores. Kmart intends to enter 2000 with 90 percent of its stores boasting the Big Kmart designation.

Roseau county men charged with killing wolves

Two Roseau county residents were arrested Wednesday, November 3, by federal agents on charges related to the illegal taking of gray wolves.

Danny Ray Olson, 39, Wannaska, and Verland Lewis Brateng, 63, Roseau, were charged in an indictment returned by a federal grand jury on October 21. The indictment was sealed pending their arrests.

Olson was charged with one count of killing a gray wolf on February 6, 1999 and one count of possessing an unregistered silencer. Brateng is charged with two counts of killing a gray wolf on January 23, 1999 and February 6, 1999.

Gray wolves are currently protected in Minnesota as a "threatened species" under the Federal Endangered Species Act.

If convicted, Olson and Brateng both face a maximum penalty of six months in prison and a $5,000 fine for taking a gray wolf. Olson also faces a maximum potential penalty of ten years in prison and/or a $250,000 fine for possession of a silencer. Any sentence would be determined by a judge based on the federal sentencing guidelines.

Hotline established to help protect wolves

The U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service has established a toll free number for reporting information about anyone killing or harming wolves in the states of Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan.

Callers can remain anonymous and may receive a reward up to $25,000 if information leads to an arrest or conviction. The toll free number is 1-800-523-2887.

Healthcare Advance Directives workshops scheduled in TRF

The public is invited to a workshop on Advance Directives on Tuesday, November 9 at the Courthouse Meeting Room in Thief River Falls. Sessions will be held at 1:30 p.m. and again at 7:00 p.m.

Medical decision-making is a person's right. Adults have the right to control their own medical care by consenting to or refusing medical treatment. However, emergency situations or other conditions often prevent the individual from stating that choice at the time it is needed. Recent Minnesota law has simplified the process of completing a Health Care Directive, a written document used to guide health care decisions when an individual is unable to do so because of incapacity. This new advance directive combines the general purposes of the former living will and durable power of attorney for health care.

Participants will receive materials prepared by the Minnesota Board on Aging and the University of Minnesota Extension Service, that were developed by professionals with expertise in law, health care, and life and death health care decision-making. They will walk participants through the process of writing an advance directive, considering items such as medical treatment preferences for different situations, feelings about quality of life, organ donation, naming a health care agent, leaving written instructions, and making the document legal. Other personal directions regarding health care can also be added.

Advanced health care directives are recommended for all adults, regardless of age or family situation. Such documents are invaluable to any family when faced with making necessary health care decisions for another person.

For further information or questions, call the Pennington County Extension Office at 683-7030.

Tri-County to present "Harvey" November 18-20

Karlstad's Tri-County high school drama department will present 'Harvey,' a classic comedy written by Mary Chase, as its fall production.

The play will open Thursday, November 18, at 8 p.m. with additional performances at 8 p.m. on November 19 and 20. Admissions are $2 for children through grade 6, $3 for students grades 7-12 and $4 for adults. Performances will be held in the Tri-County high school auditorium.

Cast in lead roles are Benjamin Ruud as Elwood P. Dowd, Rachael Freeman as Veta Simmons and Jennifer Fjosne as Myrtle Mae Simmons.

Supporting roles are as follows: Miss Johnson, Katie Crandstrand; Mrs. Ethel Chauvenet, Amanda Kazmierczak, Ruth Kelly, R.N., Elizabeth Stasynski; Duane Wilson, Anders Berggren; Lyman Sanderson, M.D., Brady Swanson; William R. Chumley, M.D., Andrew Halverson; Betty Chumley, Anna Levenhagen; Judge Omar Gaffney, Erich Schaffhauser; and E.J. Lofgren, Shannon Clark.

The production staff includes the following students: student director, Deru Benson; state manager, Anders Berggren; lights, Danielle Langehaug; sound, Katie Crandstrand; set crew, Kyle Levenhagen, Brett Anderson, Brandon Wojciechowski, Karla Fisher, Wayne Voth, Ryan Cullicks, Carrie Hageland and Marc Szklarski; and set construction, Anders Berggren, Shannon Clark; Andrew Halverson and Jennifer Fjosne.

'Harvey' is under the direction of Robert Gust with Kay Bostrom assisting and is produced by special arrangement with Dramatists Play Service, Inc.

Performed on Broadway and perhaps all corners of the world for decades, 'Harvey' has become an icon of classical American comedy. When made into a movie, Jimmy Stewart earned an Oscar for his portrayal of Elwood P. Dowd, an eccentric who believes he has as his constant companion a six-and-a-half foot rabbit named Harvey.

Several communities in the area receive HUD grants

Five area cities and the Northwest Minnesota Multi-County Housing and Redevelopment Authority received grants from the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development. The area cities were among 35 communities in the seventh congressional district to receive grants.

Congressman Collin C. Peterson (D-MN) praised the grants issued from HUD's Comprehensive Improvement Assistance Program (CIAP) that allows the local housing authorities to fund operations or to make necessary improvements to facilities.

"Housing in our rural communities continues to be one of my greatest concerns," Peterson said. "These grants will go a long way toward maintaining and improving our housing stock."

Area community programs receiving grants include:

• Greenbush Housing and Redevelopment Authority received $27,161.

• Red Lake Falls Housing and Redevelopment Authority $21,354.

• Thief River Falls Housing and Redevelopment Authority $101,903.

• Warren Housing and Redevelopment Authority $111,618.

• Warroad Housing and Redevelopment Authority $26,693.

• Northwest Minnesota Multi-County HRA $180,035.

Stumpf encourages students to learn about government

A great opportunity exists for ninth through 12th grade students who are interested in learning first-hand about state government and Senator LeRoy Stumpf is urging area youth to get involved.

Project 120, a non-profit organization that works closely with the Minnesota Legislature, will once again be offering five-day seminars to coincide with the 2000 state legislative session. It is named after the number of days the Minnesota Constitution specifies that the Legislature may be in session.

For eight weeks beginning February 6, Project 120 students will meet with legislative leaders, constitutional officers, judges, attorneys, state agency commissioners and many other folk who work in the three branches of state government. The meetings are very extensive and students will have an opportunity to ask many questions. Project 120 leaders advertize the experience as "hands-on" learning about government.

Students who participate are well-supervised and will stay at the Hilton Hotel in downtown Minneapolis. Cost for the five-day seminar is $250, which covers tuition, meals, lodging, and transportation in the metro area. Scholarships are available for students who qualify for financial assistance.

Any Minnesota high school student who is interested in learning more about government and the legislative process may apply.

For more information, contact Senator Stumpf's office at 651-296-8660 or the Project 120 office at PROJECT 120, 332 Minnesota Street, Suite E-1240, St. Paul, MN 55101 or phone 651-224-2100, E-mail proj120@mtn.org or on their web site at www.project120.org.

Stumpf stated that several of his young constituents have attended and really enjoyed the program.

"I'd like to see more young people from our part of the state take part in this opportunity to learn about how our state government works," stated Stumpf.

Lions Park at Nora and Merriam in Thief River Falls is nearing completion of numerous improvements. Recently, pea rock was moved into place under new playground equipment. The project, which will cost over $50,000 when completed, was completed with assistance and donations from the city, by Lions club members, private citizens, and in-kind contributions by city employees.

Community pulls together to support park improvements

Years of work culminated this fall with the improvements made to Lions Park in Thief River Falls. The cost of the project has been estimated at over $50,000 with cash donations totaling $30,000 to $35,000, and the rest in in-kind labor and services from Lions Club members and employees of the Thief River Falls Parks and Recreation department, and Street Department.

Ron Lindberg, public works director and board member of the Lions Club in Thief River Falls, said the finishing touches were being made to the nine-hole golf course, but for the most part, the park project has been completed. Items to be completed this fall or next spring include planting of 33 trees, the addition of a rubberized surface to make the playground handicapped accessible, installation of a handicapped swing, and a sand volleyball pit. Lindberg said there has also been talk about constructing a second picnic shelter at the park, and replacing the roofs at park building with metal roofs that appear similar to the roofs on some of the playground equipment.

Lindberg said it was pleasing to see the cooperation and effort between Lions club members and city employees. During the major construction effort that took place on October 13, employees and volunteers appeared somewhat skeptical and tentative, but it appeared that they all had a good time working together.

Cooperation was key to the actual construction and completion of the project, but a lot of effort went into raising the needed cash for the project. Lindberg said other than a $5,000 grant from the Minnesota Parks and Recreation Association, the cash came from selling sponsorships, pancake feeds, a brat and hamburger feed at the park, club member pledges and private donations. It took a lot of effort.

The final project was worth it. There's something in the park located near the east side water tower at Nora and Merriam for nearly everyone — climbing apparatus, swings, slides, a braille learning toy, a bituminous walk-way, a frisbee golf course, and in the future, a sand pit volleyball court.

Thief River Falls volleyball award winners...

Mathson, Bray are named MVP

Senior Rachel Mathson was named the most valuable player on offense and junior Becky Bray was selected as the most valuable player on defense during Thief River Falls' 1999 high school volleyball team banquet Monday.

Junior Ayla Donlin was presented with the Coaches Award and the Hustle Award.

It was announced that Mathson and senior Kim Almquist were listed on the Minnesota Volleyball Coaches Association Academic Honor Roll.

Mathson and senior Keli Waterworth received captains plaques for the 1999 season.

Senior awards went to Almquist, Mathson, Waterworth, Beth Carpenter, and Katie Jorde.

Special recognition for 1999 performances also went to Bray, who set a school record with 291 kills; Mathson, who also bettered the previous kill record of 234 by Nicole Kopari in 1998 with 281 this fall; junior Kylie Rogalla, whose 87 blocks this year ranks second on the school single-season list behind the 114 registered by Kopari a year ago; and Donlin, who collected 540 assists, a figure that is second on the school record list to the 693 mark set by Taya Hunt in 1998.

Thief River Falls finished the year 11-14-1. Hovering around the .500 mark all fall, the Prowlers were 11-9-1 after a 3-1 victory at East Grand Forks Oct. 5. But they finished with five straight losses – regular season setbacks at the hands of Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, Fosston, and Roseau, followed by a first round North Sub-Section 8AAA tournament defeat at Crookston.

"We didn't meet expectations, as far as our record goes," admitted Amy Roche, the Prowlers' co-head coach, along with Bruce Jean. "We thought we would be .500 or better. But we succeeded in the fact that we improved, starting from Day 1 to the last match of the season against Crookston."

Thief River Falls went 16-9-1 the year before, but graduated eight seniors off that team. Mathson and Bray were the only varsity regulars returning this fall.

"We started the year with just two players back from last year," pointed out Roche. "With so many kids who had not played together before at the varsity level, it took time, and a lot of hard work, for them to mesh as a team."

Led by Bray, Mathson and Donlin, the Prowlers put together a solid attack. "Our offense was always there," said Roche. "Ayla did an excellent job setting, and our hitters did a good job putting the ball down."

While the offense clicked from the start, the defense, particularly in the back row, took longer to reach that level, according to Roche. "Eventually it fell into place, but it took time," she said. "The last match against Crookston was probably our best effort of the year on defense. They were picking up balls that were hitting the floor on us earlier in the year. It was a strong finish, the kids enjoyed themselves. They were happy with their improvement."

Jean echoed the sentiments of Roche. "We showed a lot of improvement," he said. "For a team not having much varsity experience, I thought things went pretty well."

In some cases, noted Jean, the Prowlers actually out-scored an opponent during the course of a match, but lost on the individual-game basis. "We lost a lot of close ones," he mentioned. "The girls worked hard all year, but we need to work on our mental attitudes; we need to stay aggressive through an entire match, not for just one game."

Bray, Donlin and Rogalla will head the list of players expected to form the nucleus of the Prowlers' 2000 team. Juniors Teri Krogstad and Katy Hook were also in this year's starting line-up, and sophomore Kelly Bendickson gained playing time off the bench.

"I'm looking forward to next year," said Jean.

Northland women's basketball team will have a taller line-up

Numbers remain low, but expectations are higher as Northland Community and Technical College prepares for the 1999-2000 women's basketball season.

Second-year head coach Mike Zachow began practice with eight players – the same number that started the 1998-99 season. That team finished 8-14.

"The numbers haven't gotten any better," acknowledged Zachow, "but we have better talent this year."

Returning sophomores include 5-4 guard Rachel Blazejewski (Strandquist), 5-10 forward Shanna Keskitalo (New York Mills) and 5-8 forward Jessica Johnson (Warroad).

Another sophomore on hand is 5-10 center Jessica Evans (Lakota, ND), who played last winter at the UND-Lake Region.

Miki Waterworth, a sophomore from Marshall County Central, was with the team when drills began, but will not play this year because of an on-going knee problem.

Freshmen reporting for the start of practice were 5-10 forward Karis Flom (Orr), 5-4 guard Andrea Remick (Red Lake Falls), 5-10 forward Beth Burger (St. Thomas, ND), and 5-11 center Nicole Nordin (Lancaster), who attended Mayville State last year, but did not play basketball for the Comets.

"We're big," pointed out Zachow. "We'll probably do a lot of inside play."

While the Pioneers' front line looks solid, the backcourt is suspect, admitted Zachow. "We need guards," he said. "We're not going to be a team that will run a lot, or do a lot of pressing. "We'll probably take 29 seconds off the 30-second shot clock every time we come down the court. It won't take teams long to figure things out, and we'll probably see a lot of pressure defense. But we've been working a lot in practice on moving the ball down the floor, and I think we'll be able to handle the press."

Area teams win section football playoff crowns

Several area teams advanced into the 1999 Minnesota state high school football playoffs with sectional championship game wins at the Fargodome.

Wednesday, Crookston edged Pine River-Backus 14-6 in Section 8AAA; Stephen-Argyle handled Kittson Central 48-14 in Section 8 Nine-Man; and Climax/Fisher got by Win-E-Mac 16-8 in Section 7 Nine-Man.

Thursday, Fertile-Beltrami beat Red Lake Falls 27-8 for the Section 8A title and Sartell out-scored Fergus Falls 33-30 in Section 8AAAA.

State playoff quarterfinals will be played this week at various home sites across Minnesota, with the Knights, Storm, Falcons, Pirates, and Sabres all hosting games. Semifinals Nov. 19-20 and the Prep Bowl finals Nov. 26 will be played at the Metrodome.

Members of Pioneers football team receive post-season honors

Several members of the 1999 Northern Division champion Northland Community and Technical College football team that tied a school record with a 6-3 record this fall have earned post-season honors, it was announced Thursday by Pioneers head coach Dan Willoughby.

Runningback Scott Olsen, linebacker Daryl Weckenfuss and offensive tackle Pete Mooney were named to the National Junior College Athletic Association All-Region 13 team.

Olsen is a freshman from Hillsboro, ND, who led the nation in rushing this year with 1,434 yards. He ranked second in the country with an average of 159.3 rushing yards per game, and was fifth in the NJCAA scoring charts with 94 points.

Weckenfuss, a sophomore from Middle River, was sixth on the Minnesota Community College Conference defensive points chart.

Mooney, a sophomore from Hillsboro, was voted the second-best lineman in the state.

Olsen, Weckenfuss and Mooney were MCCC First Team All-Northern Division picks, along with Kelly Fossum, a freshman wide receiver-punter from Thief River Falls, who led the division with a 36.2-yard punting average; Matt Hitchen, a sophomore runningback from Fertile-Beltrami; Ryan Polzin, a freshman place kicker from Isanti, who led the division kickers with 27 points; Pat Pierkarski, a freshman defensive end from Lowery; and Mike Moore, a sophomore linebacker from Minneapolis.

Pioneers selected Second Team All-Northern Division were defensive backs Nick Waldal (Plummer), Alex Anderson (Grygla) and Mark Besemann (Cherry), plus offensive guards Kevin Baugher (Roseau) and Ben Hanson (Goodridge). Waldal is a freshman, the others are sophomores.

Three Oklee residents, Annamarie Fore, Carman Fore and Zach Fore, recently participated in the relay event of the 1999 Edmund Fitzgerald 100K. A 100 kilometer race is roughly 61 miles in distance. The three were among a team of nine competitors in the relay. The Edmund Fitzgerald 100K road race is named after the Edmund Fitzgerald iron ore carrier which sunk on November 10, 1975. The race starts just outside and east of Finland, MN, on Minnesota Highway 1, and finishes at Brighton Beach at Gitchi Gumi Park. Pictured above are from left: (back row) Patty Henderson, Glencoe, Annamarie Fore, Oklee, Carman Fore, Oklee, Mary Gookins, Proctor; (front row) Curt Henderson, Glencoe, Josh Gookins, Proctor, Zach Fore, Oklee, Jeff Krack, Wahpeton, ND; Jeff Gookins, Proctor. Carman Fore was the team captain. The team manager and driver was Jeff Gookins.

Green Thumb program funded for another year

The Minnesota program of Green Thumb, Inc., has been awarded a $4.7 million Senior Community Service Employment Program grant from the U.S. Department of Labor for the period of July 1, 1999 - June 30, 2000. Green Thumb is the oldest and largest provider of employment and training services to mature workers. Over 7,500 persons have been assisted in Minnesota since 1966.

This grant, funded through the Older Americans Act, will provide a variety of employment and work experience services to approximately 1,200 men and women 55 and older in 62 rural Minnesota counties. These services include career exploration, classes on how to find work, resume preparation, paid occupational skills training, interest and aptitude assessments, part-time community service positions, and full- and part-time private sector jobs.

Services are provided at no cost to qualifying individuals. No applicants will be denied consideration because of physical or mental limitations. Interested persons may call Green Thumb toll-free at 1-800-450-5627. A Green Thumb representative will then arrange an interview at a convenient location to discuss the applicant's training or job needs.

According to State Director Paul Anderson, Green Thumb has helped many seniors find jobs they would have not found without some assistance. "Last year, the average wage for those who found better employment was $6.56 an hour at an average of 29 hours a week. For many seniors living on fixed incomes, this additional income provides the money needed to buy prescriptions and health insurance and/or to put better food on the table. It also may provide the means for a person to remain in their own home and just generally have a more adequate standard of living."

To qualify, a person must be 55 or older and meet an income criteria. Persons 55 and older with disabilities are especially encouraged to apply, as Green Thumb will attempt to find a job or training opportunity which accommodates a person's disability. Approximately 26 percent of participants are disabled. Sixty-nine percent of participants are female.

Volunteer Greg Daily uses three to four pounds of fine salt to preserve one of the hides donated to the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association Hides for Habitat program. Volunteers will be meeting at Falls Radiator on Wednesday evenings, beginning November 17, to prepare the donated hides for sale. Drop-off sites for donated hides have been developed at 13 sites in 10 area communities.

MN Deer Hunters Association ask hunters to support Hides for Habitat

goals are achieved through the following activities: presenting its positions to government, officials, departments and legislators; promoting good sportsmanship, good hunting ethics and safe hunting practices; providing education for hunters and the general public on the value of the sport of deer hunting; supporting the enforcement of regulations which curtail the illegal taking of deer; supporting, when appropriate, emergency winter feeding programs; and establishing a position on predator control.

While all hunters in the Thief River Falls area have to do is drop their hide off at one of the collection points, the MDHA does offer instructions for hunters who wish to prepare their own hides. First, remove excess flesh and fat. Lay the hide on a flat surface, flesh side up, and apply at least four pounds of feed-mix salt (no iodine or rock salt) over the entire hide. Finally, roll up the hide, place it in a non-plastic bag, and deliver it to the drop-off site.

Because, Klos says, most hunters don't have the time to do this themselves, 25 to 30 volunteers will be performing the task at Falls Radiator on Wednesday evenings, continuing through the end of the year to accomodate the bow hunting season.

Not only will the Wednesday evening gatherings provide volunteers with the opportunity to perform a valuable service, but also participate in another important activity of the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association which is to provide opportunities for hunters to meet, share experiences and develop a fraternal spirit.

Additional volunteers are always welcome, and in that fraternal spirit, Dana Klos promises, "We'll make it easy for them to help."

Klos also stresses that every hide, regardless of its size or condition, is valuable to the organization.

Hunters donating hides to the Thief River Falls chapter of MDHA will have the opportunity to sign up for the chance to win one of 31 appreciation prizes, and donors can register to win a rifle or one of 30 boxes of shells at any of the drop-off sites.

For more information about Hides for Habitat or the Minnesota Deer Hunters Association, call 800-450-DEER. In the Thief River Falls area, call Dana Klos at (218) 681-7592. Information about the organization is also available at www.upnorth.com

people who come to their casinos located in off-reservation communities, are non-Indian.

King said they are trying to make it clear that alcohol won't be going on the reservation, but will be restricted to the casinos near Thief River Falls and Warroad.

King also cites a survey conducted at the casino as another reason for alcohol at the casino. Ninety to ninety-five percent of guests at the casinos are non-Indians. "In surveys taken, over 60 percent of our guests told us they would prefer to have a drink if they choose to have one. By not offering alcohol, we are taking away the choice of the customer and making their decision to drink or not to drink, for them."

That same survey indicated that they didn't want alcohol on the gaming floor, but should be available in the restaurant and bar. "We should be listening to them," said King, who listed that as one reason the casino wasn't as big as it could be. King also noted that only six of the 17 Indian casinos operating in Minnesota, do not offer alcohol service.

King said he's aware that there is a lot of concern among businesses outside of the reservation. He said they plan to follow Minnesota laws when it comes to alcohol. In addition, he said it will be an amenity that will be priced for profit. King said the average cost for a drink will be $3.

In a letter printed in a local newspaper, Roy said, "The 'bottom line' for the proponents of this action can be summed up in one word: Money. At every community meeting on this issue, the question was always asked, 'What if somebody leaves our casino drunk and winds up getting killed in a car accident?' The answer is always 'we'll have dram shop insurance to cover it.' The question is one of moral and ethical responsibility, the answer is always financial, as though life itself has a price tag on it."

Roy has expressed concerns about sovereignty and jurisdiction of various law enforcement at the casinos. She is concerned that the tribe is organizing its business under the Indian Reorganization Act and placing the tribe squarely under the auspices of the Secretary of the Interior while at the same time proclaiming self-governance. "Our ancestors could have gone for the quick buck and reaped enormous financial gain for themselves by giving in to the allotment attempts of the federal government, but it was more important to them to preserve our homeland for the generations to come after them."

Roy is also concerned about jurisdiction and the whole issue of who will have authority of non-Indian and Indian patrons of the casino. Such jurisdictional issues, and the plan to work with the state agency involved in regulating liquor sales, seems to relinquish the tribes independence. Traditionally, Roy said, the tribe has tried to avoid interference by state agencies. Now it appears that they are inviting interference.

Expansion Plans

King said alcohol is an important component in the Band's expansion plans at the casino near Thief River Falls. He announced that the tribal council has approved a $22 million expansion plan for the casino. The first phase of that plan would include a 158-room three-story motel, a 55,000 square foot indoor water park, small meeting rooms, additional dining areas, a gift shop, and a 75-pad RV park. King said they will be moving dirt around this fall and more construction will take place next spring. Alcohol is a key component, he said, but he thought they could still make it work without it. If it passes, he hopes it will help attract conventions, and allow them to bring in "big-name" entertainment. In the end, he said, the indoor water park will be the biggest attraction. Currently, most of their business is in the summer, but the water park and motel will make the casino a year-round destination for the entire region.

summer not to run for re-election. Heinrichs sat on the council from April 23, 1991 to the present.

Cullen won with a vote total of 676, followed by Conrad Holten with a total of 549 votes, Jerry Unruh with 295 votes, and Roger Meunier with 271 votes. Cullen carried seven of 10 precincts. Holten carried three precincts — 3 (a), 3 (b), and 4 (a).

The Sunday liquor issue was turned down by voters, 996 against, and 832 for. In a very close election, voters turned down the request to grant Sunday liquor licenses in all but one precinct. Voters in precinct 1 (a) voted in favor of the request 109 to 96.

This is, by far, the closest the request has been to passing in recent years. In addition, fewer votes were cast in this election on Sunday liquor than in any other election which included the same issue. The Sunday liquor issue has been defeated by voters in 1977 509 in favor to 1,689 against, in 1982 1,308 in favor to 2,188 against, in 1985 653 in favor to 1,356 against, in 1987 1,210 in favor to 1,313 against, and in 1988 1,495 in favor to 1,988 against.

In all, a total of 1,858 votes were cast in this election. During the November 1997 election, during which voters were asked to vote for city council representatives, a total of 3,766 votes were cast, 2,501 within the city. The November 1997 election, however, included a school board election and levy referendum issue on the ballot.

Cindy Carter enters not guilty plea in horse case

Cindy Rae Carter, formerly of Thief River Falls, has entered a not guilty plea to misdemeanor charges of failure to provide adequate health care for equine, and failure to provide food of sufficient quality and quantity for normal growth of equine.

The charges against Carter stem from a complaint from a local resident last January about dead horses at a farm in Smiley township of Pennington county. An investigation uncovered a total of 15 dead horses.

Last week, a billboard with Holmquist's picture and the sheriff's office phone number was erected at County Road 1 and Highway 175. "The purpose of the billboard is to remind the public that the case is still active and we need their input," said Kittson County Sheriff Ray Hunt. "It also reminds whoever did this that we haven't forgotten."

Officials review leads in Julie Holmquist case

Beginning November 15, the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, Federal Bureau of Investigation and Kittson County Sheriff's Office will be reviewing a number of leads in the Julie Holmquist death investigation.

Work planned includes reinterviewing a number of individuals after potentially important evidence in the case was developed. The BCA and FBI will offer their assistance with this project for up to 30 days.

Holmquist disappeared July 29, 1998 while in-line skating on Kittson County Road 1. Her body was found about one month later. The Ramsey County office of the Medical Examiner listed the cause of death "homicidal violence."

Kittson County Sheriff Ray Hunt stated that there is no new evidence in the case, but they will be reviewing what evidence they do have.

Last week, a billboard with Holmquist's picture and the sheriff's office phone number was erected at County Road 1 near Highway 175.

"The purpose of the billboard is to remind the public that the case is still active and we need their input," said Hunt. "It also reminds whoever did this that we haven't forgotten."

The billboard was a cooperative effort. The Hallock Lions donated $500 dollars for the vinyl sign. Clarice Holmquist, Julie's mother, also helped pay for the sign. Otter Tail Power donated electricity for the sign. PKM dug the posts for the sign and donated a light. Crane Johnson sold the lumber for the billboard at cost. Kurt Fletcher, Strandquist, and Ron Lorenson, Karlstad, allowed the billboard to be erected on their property.

Anyone with information that may help the Investigation is encouraged to call the Kittson County Sheriff's Office at (218) 843-3535.

"The public's patience and cooperation in this effort is greatly appreciated by the Kittson County Sheriff's Office," stated Hunt.

Veterans and community observe Veterans Day

Veterans past, present and future were prayed for and honored Thursday, November 11 at the Veterans Day observance at Lincoln High School.

The featured speaker was Dr. Charles Samuelson. The program also included Gary Klemetson, VFW Post 2793 Commander; Howard Dalager, American Legion Post 117 Commander; Lois Burstad, VFW Ladies Auxiliary President, and Sharon Molstad, American Legion Ladies Auxiliary President. Master of Ceremonies was Bob Reeves. Members of the Lincoln High School Varsity Singers lead the performed the national anthem and the invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Daniel Horn of United Methodist Church.

Dr. Samuelson, a service officer in the American Legion Post 117, is former Lincoln high school teacher and taught at the technical college in Thief River Falls for almost 30 years. He is a veteran of the Korean War, but his speech was about life on the home front during World War II.

He was a high school student during World War II, but his life and every American life was touched by the war effort.

"We too were part of the war and are patriots in every sense of the word," said Samuelson.

He explained blackouts and rations were part of everyday life. The ration for gas was 3 gallons a week, and the speed limits were lowered to save gas. Details like clothing fashions were changed by the war. Women's skirts could not come below the knee and men's trousers could not have cuffs to conserve fabric.

Paul Halvorson, Post Chaplain for VFW Post 2793, salutes during the pledge of allegiance during the Veterans Day observance at Lincoln High School. The program was presented by the local American Legion and VFW posts and auxiliary groups.

Voters turn down alcohol proposal

Wednesday, Voters of the Red Lake Reservation turned down a proposal to allow alcohol at their off-reservation casinos. The measure failed by a two to one margin — 1,680 "no" votes to 860 "yes" votes.

The November 10 advisory vote asked voters to answer yes or no to the question: "I agree that the sale of alcohol should be allowed on Tribal trust lands at the River Road Casino complex located in Thief River Falls, and at the Lake of the Woods Casino in Warroad, and on tribally owned fee lands. This does not include any part of the diminished reservation."

Dan King, tribal treasurer and proponent of the measure, said off-reservation members of the tribe voted about 50-50, but on the reservation it was about 78 percent against and 22 percent in favor of the measure. He said he thought there was still some confusion. Some of the voters thought it meant alcohol could be available on the reservation.

Now that this key issue is settled, King said they need to accept the will of the people and move on. He said they can make the casinos work without alcohol, possibly by marketing it as a family destination.

Proponents hoped that by offering alcohol as an amenity, the River Road Casino alone would make anywhere from $500,000 to $1,200,000 in additional profit per year. They argued that the extra profit would go a long way to help pay for programs sorely needed on the reservation. They also argued that at least 60 percent of the patrons wanted alcohol as an amenity and 90 to 95 percent of the guests were non-Indian.

King noted that of all the tribes operating casinos in the State of Minnesota, only two tribes don't serve alcohol at any of their casinos, the Shakopee Sioux and Red Lake.

Opponents argued that it has been the cultural history and tradition of the tribe not to allow alcohol on the reservation; that the distinction being drawn between on- and off-reservation property was inaccurate as it is all Indian land; and that the bottom line for the proponents of this action could be summed up in one word: Money.

Annual craft shows to be held November 20

Once again, area craft enthusiasts and holiday shoppers will have the opportunity to take in the 23rd annual Holiday Fair on Saturday, November 20 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the City Auditorium in Thief River Falls.

Refreshments will be available at the auditorium, and profits from booth rentals will be donated to the Pennington County Humane Society.

Sixteen crafters will sell their wares at the Country Crafters 8th annual craft sale on Saturday, November 20 at the VFW in Thief River Falls.

The sale will be held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. and feature an assortment of gift and home decorating items.

The event will also include a Kids Korner by Cody Walseth, Carissa Ptacek and Amy

Vietnam vet keeps vow to make a difference

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

It only takes a split second to irrevocably change a life forever.

For Jon Hovde that moment came on January 8, 1968 when the armored personnel carrier he was driving hit a mine in Vietnam. The explosion severed his left arm and leg and two fingers on his right hand. He also suffered broken bones, a fractured skull and burns.

He was pulled from the burning vehicle by a young man from Anoka and taken by helicopter to a hospital in Cu Chi. The medical center was actually a steel quonset with 45 beds and a center aisle that ran the length of the building.

Unconscious for six days, Jon was not expected to live. His wounds were infected, and he had a temperature of 103 degrees. In an attempt to bring the fever down he was covered from head to toe with ice blankets.

Meanwhile, Jon's parents, Ole and Arleene Hovde of Fertile, had been informed of their only son's injury. They shared the news with Jon's three sisters, including his twin Kathy.

Jon had lived in Fertile with his family since he was a year old. His father, a Norwegian immigrant, worked for the railroad, and his mother was a homemaker.

A painfully shy boy, Jon tells of how his twin sister had to raise her hand to ask if he could use the bathroom in the first grade. The timidness didn't subside, and he goes on to tell of the torture of oral book reports in high school.

After graduating from Fertile High School in 1965, Jon moved to California where he worked in construction for his uncle. It was there that he met and dated a girl named Darlene, a friend of his cousin.

While working Jon fell off a roof, breaking his heel in three places, and although he'd received his induction notice, he didn't think he would be drafted.

With the war in Vietnam at its peak, however, his physical condition was disregarded, and he was inducted. John's orders were changed several times before he was finally ordered to Vietnam. He arrived on October 1, 1967.

As Jon hovered between life and death in the hospital bed only a few months later, he was attended by a nurse and two chaplains. The chaplains wrote letters to the Hovdes in Fertile, telling them honestly of their son's grave condition.

When Jon regained consciousness, he was in excruciating pain and kept awake for only minutes between shots of morphine. During one of those waking moments, a chaplain read him two letters. One was from the 16-year-old girl in California who told him that his injuries didn't matter. Darlene just wanted him to come home. His parents expressed the same sentiments, giving Jon Hovde the will to live even though dying would have been easier.

While recovering Jon made three vows. First, he would drive the fastest car in the county when he

From the time he began talking about his experiences in Vietnam, Jon Hovde of Fertile hasn't stopped, speaking to veterans' groups, residents and employees of nursing homes and auditoriums full of school children around the country.

Baudette native presents awards on 'Today Show'

Baudette - On Thursday, November 11, USS Navy Commander Terry Mosher and the Secretary of the Navy presented awards to movie director Steven Spielberg and actor Tom Hanks for their movie, "Saving Private Ryan," on the "Today Show."

The ceremony took place in Ft. Lauderdale, FL aboard the USS Normandy of which Mosher is the executive officer and commander. He is a 1980 graduate of Lake of the Woods School. The Northern Light

Hendrickson begins basic training

Army Pvt. Gabriel A. Hendrickson has arrived at Fort Knox, Ky., to complete basic combat training.

During the eight weeks of training, the soldier will receive instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, tactics, military courtesy, military justice, physical fitness, first aid, and Army history and traditions.

Hendrickson is the son of Garrett Erickson and Juleen Hendrickson, Roseau and 1999 graduate of Roseau High School.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

I hope no one used the 1/2 cup of salt to make the Pumpkin Dessert in last week's Watch. It should be 1/2 teaspoon salt. Please correct your recipe. (Thanks to Mrs. Asp for calling my attention to it.)

Even though the weather is awfully nice for November, it's nippy enough for a bowl of hot soup for evening supper. Here are some soup recipes for you.

This is one of those quick-to-cook soups that are handy to have in your cookbooks:

BEEF NOODLE SOUP

1 pound ground beef
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 cans (14 1/2 ounces each) Italian stewed tomatoes
2 cans (10 1/2 ounces each) beef broth
1 (16 ounce) can mixed vegetables, drained
1 teaspoon dried oregano
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup uncooked medium egg noodles

In Dutch oven or soup kettle, brown beef and onion. Drain. Add tomatoes, broth, vegetables and seasonings. Bring to a boil. Add noodles.

Reduce heat to medium low, cover and cook for 10-15 minutes or until noodles are done. Makes 2 quarts, 6 to 8 servings.

This is a wonderful broccoli soup for you to make for the family, and so nutritious:

BEST BROCCOLI SOUP

2 cups water
4 cups chopped fresh broccoli (1-1/2 pounds)
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup chopped carrots
1/2 cup chopped onion
6 tablespoons butter or margarine
6 tablespoons flour
3 cups chicken broth
2 cups milk
1 tablespoon fresh parsley, minced
1 teaspoon onion salt
1/2 teaspoon garlic powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

In Dutch oven or soup kettle, bring water to a boil. Add broccoli, celery and carrots and boil 2 to 3 minutes. Drain and set vegetables aside.

In same kettle, sauté onion in butter until tender. Stir in flour to make a smooth paste. Gradually add broth and milk, stirring constantly.

Bring to a boil and boil and stir for 1 minutes. Add vegetables and remaining ingredients. Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 30 to 40 minutes or until vegetables are tender.

Makes 2 quarts, 6 to 8 servings.

This vegetable soup isn't so quick to make, but it uses frozen mixed vegetables for easier fixing – the recipe makes a big batch of soup, so there will be plenty to freeze:

VEGETABLE BEEF SOUP

1 beef chuck roast (2 1/2 to 3 pounds)
4 quarts water
1 cup pearl barley
1 1/2 cups chopped onion
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1 tablespoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
1 (28 ounce) can tomatoes with liquid, cut up
1 (16 ounce) bag frozen mixed vegetables
1/4 cup minced fresh parsley
1/2 teaspoon dried basil
1/4 teaspoon dried thyme
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt

Place roast in large Dutch oven or soup kettle. Add water, barley, onion, celery, salt and pepper and bring to boil. Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 1 and 1/2 hours or more, until meat is tender.

Remove meat and cool. Cut into bite-sized pieces. Skim fat from broth and add beef and remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil.

Reduce heat, cover and simmer for 45 minutes or until vegetables are tender. Makes 6 quarts, 15-20 servings.

This is a recipe from a friend of mine in New Jersey – I haven't made it yet, but she has and says it's delicious:

SHCHI (RUSSIAN SAUERKRAUT SOUP)

1 pound sauerkraut, fresh or canned
1 large, firm cabbage
3 tablespoons butter or bacon fat
1 large onion, peeled and sliced
1 rib celery, finely chopped
2 cloves garlic, finely minced
2 cups canned Italian-style plum tomatoes
2 pounds shin of beef or short ribs of beef (my friend used plain, old round steak)
2 quarts beef stock
Salt and pepper to taste
Juice of one lemon
2 tablespoons sugar
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon minced parsley
1 tablespoon minced dill
1 cup sour cream

Drain sauerkraut and empty into a basin of cold water. Rinse well and squeeze dry. Pull apart to remove any lumps.

Remove and discard the core from the cabbage, then shred with sharp knife. Place sauerkraut and cabbage in large kettle.

Heat 2 tablespoons of the fat and cook onion, celery and garlic until onion is translucent. Add to kettle. Add tomatoes, beef, stock and salt and pepper to taste and bring to a boil.

Simmer for about 2 hours or until beef is tender, skimming surface as necessary to remove foam. Add lemon juice and sugar and cook 10 minutes.

Cook flour in remaining tablespoon of fat until golden in color. Stir into the soup and cook for about 20 minutes.

To serve, slice meat and discard bones. Place meat in bottom of a soup tureen. Add soup. Garnish with parsley and dill and serve sour cream separately.

These delicious and quick to fix biscuits will go wonderfully with any of the soups above.

YOGURT-HERB DROP BISCUITS

2 cups Bisquick baking mix
1/2 teaspoon soda
1 (6 ounce) container original plain yogurt
2 tablespoons finely chopped fresh parsley
1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh chives

Preheat oven to 450 degrees. Grease cookie sheet.

Mix all ingredients until soft dough forms. Beat 20 strokes. Do not overmix.

Drop dough by teaspoonfuls onto cookie sheet (12 biscuits). Bake 8 to 10 minutes or until golden brown.

(To make biscuits with no cholesterol, substitute 2/3-cup plain non-fat yogurt for the original yogurt.)

Prairie Grains Conference and Expo Dec. 6-8 in Fargo

How can farmers leverage farm programs within their grain marketing plans? Where is the value in a bushel of wheat, from a baker's perspective? Why does a leading multinational grain company believe its relationship with producers might change? Those are several of many key topics to be addressed at the Prairie Grains Conference and Expo, December 6-8 at the Ramada Plaza Hotel, Fargo, N.D.

The event, aimed at grain producers throughout the region, is sponsored by the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers, Minnesota Barley Growers Association, the North Dakota Grain Growers Association, and Northland Community Technical & College's Farm Business Management Program.

Spring Wheat Bakers will also hold its annual shareholder meeting in conjunction with the event.

Conference registration starts at 9 a.m. December 6. The Exhibit Hall will open at 10:30 a.m., with booths featuring grains-related information. After a noon lunch for registered conference participants, the program begins at 1:30 p.m. with Bill Donahoe, publisher of Modern Baking magazine who will discuss where the value lies in wheat, from a baker's perspective.

At 2:15 p.m., Cornell Slade, North American food grains manager for Cargill, will discuss "The Grain Industry's Future from Cargill's Perspective: How will the Relationship Between Processors and Growers Change." Monday's program will close with a panel discussion featuring three of the region's leading grain marketing experts, followed by an evening reception and music by "Mid Life Crisis."

The program resumes at 8:30 a.m. on December 7, with a briefing on the latest round of negotiations of the World Trade Organization, by Chris Shaffer, spokesman for the U.S. wheat industry at the talks. U.S. Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has been invited to address conference attendees via satellite on the U.S. trade negotiating

Attendees are responsible for their own hotel arrangements. The conference rate at the Ramada Plaza, 1635 42nd St. SW (just west of West Acres) in Fargo, is $65. Reserve your room by calling the Ramada directly at 701-277-9000.

For more information on the conference or association membership, call the MAWG at 1-800-242-6118, or the NDGGA, 1-800-932-8822. Conference and association membership details may also be found online at: www.smallgrains.org.

Grief and holidays subject of seminar

"Coping with Grief and Loss During the Holidays" will be presented on Tuesday, November 16 from 6:30 to 8 p.m. at the Northwest Regional Library in Thief River Falls.

The event, sponsored by First Care Medical Services Hospice, is free, and everyone is welcome. To pre-register, call 681-6189.

Dr. Charles Samuelson was the featured speaker at the Veterans Day observance in Thief River Falls. Samuelson explained to students that war does not just involve the military, it touches everyone's lives.

Veterans observe Veteran's Day

Several German POWs were housed in Crookston and used as laborers in the sugar beet fields. Dr. Samuelson remembers there was some controversy because many area farmers still spoke German and would converse with the prisoners.

Even school children were part of the war effort. Physical education classes included close order marching drills. Children were let out of school to help with the harvest, because there were almost no men around to harvest the crops.

Before closing with a reading of In Flanders Fields, Dr. Samuelson said to the students in his audience, "What can be done to bring world peace? That is a problem for you people, the future generations, to solve. Remember, war is not fought by the military only. It affects everyone. I know. And now, so do you."

RSVP station managers for region to meet

This month, more than 40 RSVP volunteer station managers from Pennington, Roseau, Red Lake, Kittson, Marshall, Polk and Norman counties will meet in Crookston to talk about their role managing and supervising volunteers for the Retired and Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP). RSVP is headquartered at the University of Minnesota Crookston, to coordinate the efforts of volunteers in region one.

Along with RSVP director, Deanna Patenaude, station managers track hours and paperwork and help supervise more than 750 volunteers at 97 sites throughout Northwestern Minnesota. Patenaude says it is an incredible task and the annual management training sessions are an opportunity to answer questions and work out details site-to-site.

"This year we will be meeting at the Golden Link in Crookston in a short, two hour morning session on November 17. Each year we discuss new initiatives within RSVP, specific supervisory responsibilities, management activities, and give a general update on the workings of RSVP in region one, in Minnesota, and even our National volunteer agenda," said Patenaude.

Patenaude says RSVP volunteers represent a variety of ages and backgrounds, many in professional careers, working with countless community causes before, and after, retirement age. RSVP volunteers donate their available time, with no required number of hours in a week. They receive a supplemental insurance policy and Patenaude directly matches their talents to needs within their community.

"One of the joys of being a volunteer is that your time is flexible. Of course, our sites count on their RSVP volunteers, however, volunteers give what they can, when they can. Volunteers tell me again and again, that the benefits of giving, the social contact, the chance to have their skills appreciated, is truly rewarding," said Patenaude.

Patenaude says she appreciates the special effort of volunteer station managers, who give their time to assist with record keeping and other site responsibilities throughout the area.

For more information on volunteer opportunities through RSVP, contact Patenaude at the University of Minnesota Crookston. Her e-mail address is dpatenau@mail.crk.umn.edu, or call at 218-281-8288 or toll free at 1-800-232-6466 extension 8288.

Olson represents farmers at trade conference

Lori Bergland Olson of Thief River Falls has been selected to represent Minnesota farmers at the Northern Plains Producer Conference: On Common Ground, to be held in Fargo, November 15-17.

The Northern Plains Producer Conference: On Common Ground will assemble U.S. and Canadian farmers and ranchers in an effort to tackle agricultural trade issues between the two countries. The conference will include farmers and ranchers from Manitoba, Minnesota, North Dakota, Saskatchewan and South Dakota. The goals of the conference are:

• To identify trade issues and opportunities.
• To develop a mutual understanding of the Canadian and U.S. agricultural industries.
• To establish a regional producer network to formulate solutions.
• To dispel agricultural trade misconceptions.

"I hope that the end result of this conference will be to enhance trade relations between Canada and the United States, especially in the region. Canadian farmers and U.S. farmers should work together, not against each other. They are not any better off than U.S. farmers," said Olson.

Olson is one of 50 farmers from Minnesota who will participate in the conference. She and her husband Lyle farm in Kratka township, Pennington county.

Red Lake Electric sells DBS franchise to Pegasus Satellite

Red Lake Electric Cooperative, Inc., headquartered in Red Lake Falls, has sold its Direct Broadcast Satellite franchise to Pegasus Satellite Communications. The franchise area consists of non-cabled homes in Pennington and Marshall counties, and the 56716 and 56750 zip code areas in Polk county.

Red Lake Electric purchased franchise rights to provide DIRECTV television programming to their non-cabled customers in 1992. The first satellite systems were activated in July 1994, and today, nearly 1,100 homes in the franchise area have DIRECTV programming.

"Our basic goal when we purchased the franchise was to make the rural area a more attractive place to live by providing 'state of the art' television programming," said Ron Kennedy, general manager of Red Lake Electric. "We've accomplished that. The DBS franchise marketplace has evolved in recent years and the franchise is now worth many times what we originally paid for it. Profits from the sale will be used to defer electric rate increases for a number of years."

Pegasus Satellite Television is America's largest independent provider of DIRECTV television programming. Former Red Lake Electric subscribers are still going to be able to get the same DIRECTV programming and customer service that they have grown accustomed to. With its state-of-the-art Customer Care Center and large number of employees, Pegasus will provide customer service 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

"The development of the DIRECTV business has been very good for Red Lake Electric and our customers," Kennedy said. "We are confident that our customers' satellite television programming needs will be met in the future and the franchise sale assures electric rate stability well into the future."

Thinking Warm Thoughts

I've always wondered about those guys down in Miami. You know the ones. You see them in the stands at the Dolphins' games with their shirts off, jumping up and down and waving, their chests painted a garish bright orange color in honor of the home team. What is it, exactly, that drives a full grown adult male to cover his body with blaze orange spray paint and then go out in public? Don't these people have friends and relatives whom they might embarrass or who could at least advise them to do otherwise?

I've always wanted to experience a deer-hunting season like this one. Unseasonably mild temperatures (I think today may have actually set a record) without that traditional November gloom hanging ominously overhead. Three mornings in the woods and I have yet to perform an inventory of my fingers and toes to determine if a frozen digit has cracked off and been left in a stiffened glove or a toe that has been inadvertently yanked off in a hardened cotton sock and thrown into the laundry. Not once have I glanced impatiently at my watch, desperately hoping that my penance in these arctic conditions will soon come to an end and allow me to mumble my 'Hail Marys' into the inviting warmth of my Chevy's heater vent. No, this has been a pleasant season.

It is not, however, without its downside. The unusual warmth brings with it some unaccustomed hurdles for the northern Minnesota hunter. For instance, I'm finding the balmy weather makes it particularly difficult to concentrate on hunting. In fact, the balmy weather makes it downright difficult to stay awake. Now naps themselves are a traditional luxury of this deer hunting season, however a nap in 65 degree weather can easily turn itself into an eight hour slumber, shooting down the bulk of the limited November daylight hunting hours. And when the majority of an eight hour siesta is spent with one's forehead pressed heavily against the barrel of a .270, evening tales of hunting prowess can lack a certain degree of credibility. In short, your buddies are going to have a hard time believing you were tracking a trophy buck all afternoon when the word "Winchester" is permanently pressed in mirror image across the tops of your eyebrows.

My usual November practice of climbing randomly available trees, too, has become an issue. On the Popples and Oaks, for example, the insect populations seem as rejuvenated as I do by this summery weather. Flies, mosquitos, and gnats have arisen again like zombies, working their way around the trees in slow-motion. What, for me, used to be a desperate, clingy climbing style up one of these trunks, my face pressed tightly to the bark for added security, is now a refined, arms-length, mouth-closed approach. The ingestion of the first couple of spiders was not that big a deal, as they simply invoked a raspy coughing fit. But that green caterpillar was apparently a little more than my digestive system could handle. The Jack-Pines don't house as intimidating an array of bugs as the other trees, but the combination of warm weather and gooey sap make them virtually unclimbable. I got the front of my coveralls stuck to a particularly gummy spot the other day and, unable to go up, down, or out without seriously jeopardizing the safety of my position in the tree, I was forced to detach myself through a series of short, jerking motions with my waist. Needless to say, the father and son duo that wandered underneath me at just that moment must have thought I was doing something odd, and possibly illegal, to that trunk, giving a whole new twist to the distasteful notion of "tree-hugger".

Likewise, my wardrobe has taken a few hits from this mild weather. Of course I've got a 'super heavy, sub-arctic, keep you warm anywhere' type blaze-orange outfit, but after Day One of this season that was put back into the closet. My next level down, normally reserved for walking in the woods, worked well for the first few chilly hours of the day, but was still too warm for this year's 9 a.m. temps. I dug out a never been used orange button-down shirt that was given to me as a joke several years back and that worked just fine for the noon conditions of the first two days. However, as mentioned above, today was a record-setter and even that lightweight shirt was more than I needed in the 70 degree weather. Sweat rolled off me in buckets, alerting not only deer, but anything else that was in the woods as to my malodorous presence. I needed to dress down even further. Yet I'd reached the limits of my bright orange ensembles. It was clear what I had to do.

And now, when I see those buffoons in the stands at the Dolphins games, mired in the comfort of their traditionally warm Novembers, I feel some kinship to them. Perhaps they're not as foolish as they look. Perhaps their rotund figures, bathed in bright orange paint, suggest more than an allegiance to the Miami home team. Is it possible that they, like me, enjoy deer-hunting? And perhaps my fanatical support of the Vikings could be toned down just a bit. After all, I've always admired that Dan Marino guy. I think I'll root for the Dolphins the rest of this football season, or at least until I come up with a plan for removing this paint.

D.A.R.E. helps fight substance abuse

Today's schools teach more than basic skills. Though when faced with increasing taxes we sometimes complain that they should be teaching just the basics, we also demand that they teach more than the basics in the hope that students will become productive members of society. How can students become productive members of an increasingly complex world if they aren't equipped to deal with modern problems, such as the presence of illegal drugs? Should we leave the drug education up to parents? Are they knowledgeable enough to deal with the subject of illegal drugs or substance abuse? More importantly, will their children listen to them?

"Maybe" is the best answer we can offer for all of those questions. In the meantime, however, we have to believe that programs like Drug Abuse Resistance Education (D.A.R.E.) can provide the education and the tools students need to avoid illegal drug use.

In the past, detractors have protested that the program is turning our children into snitches. Detractors have now shifted their attack, stating simply that the program does not work because people are still using drugs and we haven't won the "war on drugs". Some criticize the use of law enforcement officers as instructors. Some also say that time would be better spent in math class.

More and more research, however, indicates that D.A.R.E. has been successful in several key areas. Research by Dr. Joseph F. Donnermeyer, professor from the Department of Human and Community Resource Development at The Ohio State University, indicates that D.A.R.E. is effective in several key areas.

Research indicates that D.A.R.E. has a positive impact on reducing substance abuse. According to Donnermeyer's research, however, like all prevention education programs, it is subject to attrition of positive effects if it is not reinforced. The various D.A.R.E. curricula and the visitation programs are small educational interventions in the total lives of young people. Children and adolescents are subjected to constant exposure to using substances through some of their peers, some of the media, and even some of their family members, plus other outlets. At the same time, peers, media and families are the source of messages that promote healthy lifestyles. In the short term, D.A.R.E. appears to enhance the latter and weaken the former. In the long term, the degree of D.A.R.E.'s impact is subject to how much its messages are reinforced.

Research indicates that D.A.R.E.'s strongest short-term impact is on students' attitudes. According to Donnermeyer's research, D.A.R.E. creates greater awareness and knowledge about the dangers of drugs. Second, D.A.R.E. appears to reduce attitudes and intentions about using substances. Third, D.A.R.E. improves students' attitudes about law enforcement.

Research indicates D.A.R.E. is a popular program among students, parents and educators.

D.A.R.E. is a drug and violence prevention program using specially trained, uniformed law enforcement officers in the classrooms. The D.A.R.E. programming consists of a 17-week curriculum to promote self-respect, self-worth and give children the ability to say "No" to drugs, alcohol, tobacco and violence. D.A.R.E. touches over 125,000 students in Minnesota annually. Over 400 officers teach in approximately 1,200 schools across the state.

We can't live people's lives for them. No matter what we do or say, some people will make decisions that will lead them down a destructive path. By keeping D.A.R.E. or programs like D.A.R.E. in the schools, however, we're providing children with the tools they need to make good decisions.

Do you remember a teacher who made a difference in your life?

A couple of years ago already, I attended my 20-year high school reunion. I did so for a variety of reasons. I attended because I didn't have anything to brag about, and was comfortable with who I am and what I've accomplished and not accomplished, not to be threatened by high school classmates who may or may not be millionaires or famously successful.

There was still some curiosity about what my classmates were doing with their lives, but those questions were quickly answered and our conversations drifted toward more interesting subjects, such as a particular teachers who had made a difference in our lives. In terms of the setting and the reason we were gathered together, I think it was probably natural to discuss the teachers, condition of the school and the difference teachers made in our lives. I don't think it's uncommon because I've often heard people talk about particular teachers during 30-, 40-, and 50-year reunions.

We shouldn't be surprised that teachers have had an impact on our lives. Other than our parents and other relatives, who else has spent more time trying to educate us than teachers? I can't think of anyone else.

The 78th Annual observance of American Education Week will be held November 14-20 throughout the nation. At its inception in 1921, the celebration was held for the purpose of informing the public of the accomplishments and needs of the public schools and to secure the cooperation and support of the public in meeting those needs. This need to inform the public and generate support was the result of information indicating that 25 percent of the country's World War I draftees were illiterate and 29 percent were physically unfit, and the result of discussions between the American Legion and the National Education Association.

Today, illiteracy is still a major concern, but the focus of public education is on funding and many other issues, such as violence, and a poor demonstration of values. I don't know if the problems faced by educators are more complex than they were 20-, 30- or 40-years ago. Perhaps they are the same; but today, parents and taxpayers expect and want more for less. They want students to learn all the basics, teachers to teach their students respect and instill in them a good sense of values, but not raid our pocketbook to do so. All I'll say on that subject is that it will be difficult, and the people who are responsible for doing what we expect, our teachers and staff, deserve our support; and please don't forget — most of you are a product of a public education.

This year's theme: Students Today, Leaders Tomorrow, identifies the reason why we should be concerned about education. It reflects the fact that today's schools do more than teach basic skills. They nurture and inspire children. They help shape young minds and equip them with a range of skills for leadership in the 21st century.

Local educators use a number of methods to inform the public of student achievement and the needs of the school. Not all students end up on the crime page or are disrespectful of adults. In fact, I would guess that a small minority attract a great deal of negative attention; and despite efforts to change a perception that a few are many, the misconception remains.

Quite often we're left asking, "What's wrong with education, and forget what's right with education."

Teachers are what's right about education.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

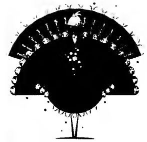
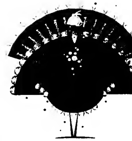
Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.



Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS



To the Editor,

I think that Thief River Falls has the greatest OB Ward. The nurses are very caring and loving towards your new baby. They sing and care for them like they are their own children, or grandchildren. Even after you get home they are still there for you if you have any questions. They deserve this recognition and a great big Thank You.

Sincerely,
Amy Nelson

Chemical Health week planned November 15-21

The TAD Task Force, a program of the Quin County Community Health Services organization, is reminding residents in Northwest Minnesota of Minnesota Chemical Health Week, November 15-21. This event is designed to heighten awareness of the widespread abuse of alcohol and other drugs and the problems associated with tobacco use. It is also a week to encourage individuals to develop attitudes and behaviors that keep them chemically healthy.

The TAD Task Force is pleased to encourage activities to commemorate this year's Chemical Health week. The Task Force is active in Kittson, Marshall, Pennington, Red Lake and Roseau counties. Members include Mary Anderson of Newfolden, Al Anton of Stephen, Kevin Brevik of Red Lake Falls, DeeAnn Leines of Red Lake Falls, Nancy Maurstad of Argyle, Deb Swanson of Thief River Falls, Terry Thoreson of Hallock, Eric Mickelson of Oklee and Lynn Kotrba of Warren. Jill Anderson and Jana Lokstad of Newfolden are youth members of the Task Force.

Many adults responsibly use alcohol socially, or choose to refrain from drinking, but too many others binge drink, regularly abuse alcohol, or use other drugs. Nearly 70 percent of high school seniors admitted to using alcohol at least once during the previous year, according to the most recent Minnesota Student Survey. Such drinking and drug use is involved in a high percentage of car crashes, domestic violence incidents, rapes, suicides, assaults and murders. The toll taken on family life is immeasurable.

The TAD Task Force believes that, together, we can change attitudes and behaviors that encourage or condone drinking by underage youth and excuse abusive drinking and other drug use by adults. No one organization can combat the innumerable problems associated with chemical abuse, but every person and each organization in our community can contribute to diminishing the problems.

Adults can model healthy behavior. Parents can set appropriate guidelines and work with each other to help support young people in making good choices. Organizations can provide information and conduct training.

Anyone interested in assisting in efforts to promote chemical health can contact the TAD Task Force at 218-874-7845.

Construction limits travel on Hwy 2

Minnesota Department of Transportation is cautioning motorists that they must reduce their speed to 55 miles per hour when traveling on Highway 2 between Bagley and Solway. This reduction in speed is to accommodate two-way traffic in the west bound lanes. The east bound lanes have been closed due to construction and will remain closed until construction is complete next year.

Dept. Commander to speak at Legion in Middle River

Dennis Sculthorp
Department Commander

Dennis Sculthorp, Department Commander of the [illegible] American Legion and former Thief River Falls resident, will be the guest speaker at the Middle River Hans E. Liam American Legion membership supper Saturday, November 20, at the club rooms in Middle River.

Sculthorp served in the U.S. Army during the Vietnam era. He is a life member of the Westphal Post 251 in the 10th District.

He has held many positions in Post 251, Commander 1984-1985, vice commander, finance officer, chaplain, housing corps, a member of the executive board for 15 years and is currently the gambling manager at Westphal Post. He is past president of the Past Commanders' Club.

On the District level, Sculthorp was Commander 1988-1989, vice commander, the District's first membership director, chaplain, gaming chair, and served on the executive board. He was Department membership director in 1990-1991, and he served as Department vice commander and is a member of NTTBTNTTI.

He has also served on numerous other committees, has been a delegate to the national convention, and numerous sub-committees.

Sculthorp belongs to Voiture 1281 in 40/8 where he has held many offices including activities chair, Aumonier, Ritual installation team, and installing officer. He is an honorary life member of Anavicus and a member of Amvets.

He has a son Darin who is a charter member of SAL Squadron 251. His daughter Shawn, who was junior past president, now belongs to the senior auxiliary unit.

MPR presents the surveillance society November 15-19

Thousands insisted the Minnesota Attorney General protect their privacy after US Bancorp sold bank customers' data to telemarketers. No one protested the surveillance camera video of Katie Poirer's kidnapping from her workplace except to ask for a clearer picture.

Issues like these on the limits of privacy versus the right to know are addressed in a series of special reports and discussions presented by Minnesota Public Radio on the air and on the Web during the week of November 15 on 90.3 FM News in Fargo-Moorhead and 102.7 FM News in Thief River Falls, and across the state on MPR's 13 News and Information stations and at www.mpr.org.

Elements of the series include several hour-long features, 10 three-minute reports specifically about the concessions we make on our privacy every day, and an eight-part series of reports. Each segment in the series is approximately six-minutes long.

Pennington County to hold hearing on smoking ordinance

Pennington County has filed a public notice indicating its intent to enact an ordinance relating to tobacco sales to minors. A hearing on the ordinance will be held at 5 p.m. on Tuesday, November 23.

According to a memo from Pennington County Attorney Dave Olin, the ordinance's specific purpose is to make sure that Pennington county has a compliance check procedure in place to assure that the establishments in Pennington county are not selling cigarettes to minors.

The City of Thief River Falls already has an ordinance in place. Pennington county has discussed the matter but Pennington county has few facilities that sell tobacco. In his memo, Olin explained that the reason why the county now intends to enact an ordinance. "...the Federal Government has allotted $8 million in Federal block grant money to fund county/non-profit drug and alcohol treatment programs across Minnesota. An amendment to this block grant linked the block grant money to the State's efforts to reduce the rate of illegal tobacco sales to minors. Attorney General Mike Hatch has expressed a concern that failure of all counties to enact this ordinance could result in a loss of these funds."

Sportsman Club to meet November 16

got home. Second, he would not be dependent on the government to make a living, and third he vowed that he would make difference.

Jon married Darlene in June of 1969, and they had two children, a son and a daughter.

Although he had been told by a high school counselor that he wasn't smart enough to go to college, he graduated from Moorhead State College in 1974 with a double major in business and finance.

After college, he took a job with 3M and quickly moved up the corporate ladder. He and Darlene bought a house in the Twin Cities and acquired the cars, the boat and other things associated with the American dream. At that time, Jon believed that making a difference was about career success and money.

While he loved his job at 3M, Jon was plagued with health problems. Recurring infections in his heel bone caused doctors to talk about amputating his right leg.

Not wanting to lose another limb, he made the decision to leave his job at 3M, and the drainage in his heel stopped within two weeks.

Jon and his family moved to Fertile in 1981, and it was there that his vow to make a difference took on a new meaning.

In 1982, Jon was one of four Minnesotans invited to attend the ceremony unveiling the Vietnam Memorial in Washington, D.C. Clark Dyrud of Thief River Falls was another one of the four, and was photographed with Jon standing by the wall of names of those who died in the war.

Up until that time, Jon had suppressed the memories of Vietnam in an attempt to bury them. Once put in the position of having to discuss it, however, he discovered that he could talk about the war.

He's been talking about it ever since to groups of veterans, old folks in nursing homes and children in schools all over the country.

Jon became a member of the Fertile/Beltrami school district's board of education. An advocate for public education, he served as a member of the Minnesota School Boards Association and was elected the organization's chairman.

In making his point with regard to the teamwork involved in making public education successful, he developed an analogy between education and a flock of Canada geese. Unconventionally, he used a goose call to get the attention of his peers, calling them to work together and get into formation for the sake of our nation's children.

He's also been involved in numerous other organizations in his community and across the state.

Last year, from Sunday, November 8, through Thursday, November 12, the St. Paul Pioneer Press ran a five-part story of Jon Hovde's life on its front page. Staff writer Rick Shefchik authored Jon's detailed account of the war, his injuries and his life since that time. It also tells of Jon's search for the two chaplains and the nurse who were by his side at the hospital in Vietnam and of the reunion he enjoyed with his nurse Kay Layman last October.

Through the years, Jon has renewed and made scores of friendships and touched thousands of lives. He speaks from his heart, his compelling story spellbinding for the young and old alike. The shy school boy from Fertile has found his voice, and even he is amazed.

Jon and Darlene Hovde celebrated their thirtieth wedding anniversary in June. They have a beautiful country home near Fertile, and next month they are expecting their first grandchild, a baby they already know is going to be a boy whose middle name will be Jon.

While life is good, there are difficult times as well. Several years ago, Jon had coronary by-pass surgery, and he sees a podiatrist in Crookston every three weeks to have a painful bone spur carved from his right foot.

During the times that aren't so great, Jon reaches for a notebook full of letters he has received from young people. Some of the correspondence is young school children who write "Thank you for coming to our classroom," in second grade scrawl and draw an American flag to go with it. Other letters come from older students, including a high school girl who told Jon that before hearing him speak she had contemplated suicide and now her life didn't seem so bad. These mementos from children all over the state are his driving force.

Jon does nothing to promote himself even though his speaking skills are constantly sought after. While others refer to him as an inspirational speaker, he considers himself just an ordinary guy telling his story.

Last year as the St. Paul Pioneer Press was giving him more coverage than Minnesota's new governor, Jon made his way in an ice storm to speak to a packed house at Kittson County Central's Veterans Day program. In his speech, he paid tribute to Julie Holmquist whose untimely death had not only affected her home town but the entire state.

On Thursday, Jon spoke to a student body of 1,700 youth at Woodbury High School. A couple of weeks ago, he talked to students in Greenbush.

While every talk he gives includes humor and a slide presentation set to what Jon and Darlene now consider to be their song, Garth Brooks' "The Dance," every speech is different as he uses no notes. He also fields questions at the end of his talk. Young children, he says, are fascinated by his hook arm. Older children, however, sometimes leave him with questions to ponder. In one community, a Vietnamese girl asked him if he hated the Vietnamese people. In another town, he was asked for his definition of patriotism.

In defining patriotism for this writer, Jon became emotional, saying "It shouldn't be this hard." He struggled to say that patriotism is a full gymnasium on Veterans Day, a well-attended Memorial Day program. Patriotism, he says, is not an announcer having to tell people to stand and remove their hats to pay tribute to the American flag.

Jon Hovde refuses more interviews than he excepts, and this reporter was truly grateful when he agreed to a visit. However, having known only bits and pieces of his story, I was totally overwhelmed within minutes of meeting him.

Still, he's "my" Vietnam veteran. When he was injured on January 8, 1968, I was a tenth grade student at Fertile-Beltrami High School. His sister, Lana, is a year older than I am, and his twin sister, Kathy, was later a friend and co-worker at the First State Bank. I also knew his mom, Arleene, who still lives in the family home in Fertile.

The scrapbook full of clippings from the hometown newspaper were articles that I had already read more than 30 years ago. The album also contained the telegrams that the chief of police had delivered to the Hovdes, letters regarding Jon's condition written to his family, letters later written on his behalf by nurse Kay Laymon and finally the letters that he was able to write himself. For the first, a pencil was taped to his hand. While it isn't so surprising to many of us, Jon was amazed that his mother and Darlene had saved every letter he sent.

Jon truly believes that the only heroes of Vietnam are those whose names are etched in granite.

Among the names carved into the Vietnam Memorial is the name of the young man from Anoka who pulled Jon from the blazing vehicle on that fateful day in January of 1968. Tom Cowden never received the Bronze Star he was awarded for his actions. He was killed by a mortar less than a month later, and for the past 15 years, Jon has sent flowers to Cowden's mother in Anoka on February 3.

The dictionary defines a hero as "a man or boy admired for his bravery, great deeds or noble qualities."

If Vietnam didn't make Jon Hovde a hero, his actions since certainly have as he tells his story to touch and inspire the lives of others.

For the past year, he's been writing his story in his own words, and the book he hopes to some day publish will be entitled, "Wings On Fire."

Ironically, when I left Jon earlier in the week, the first thing I saw while driving south were a flock of Canada geese flying in V-formation, speaking to me and telling me that veteran and hero Jon Hovde will continue to make a difference.

Work continues on the new America Legion building. During his speech at the Veterans Day program, Howerd Daleger, American Legion Post 117 Commander, encouraged the community to drive by the building and see how the project is progressing. The new Legion building is located at Highway 1 west and Brooks Avenue.

Josh earns all-state honors...

Josh, Andy Larson run in Class A state cross country meet

Josh and Andy Larson of Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Marshall County Central/Tri County turned in solid runs at the 1999 Minnesota Class A boys state high school cross country meet, according to their coach, Kim Jones.

The meet was run Saturday, Nov. 6, at St. Olaf College in Northfield.

Josh Larson placed 23rd in the large field with a 17:01.2 clocking and Andy Larson was close behind with a 26th place 17:08.1 effort.

Top 25 finishers are awarded all-state recognition.

Jones said the performances of the Marshall County Central sophomores was "very good."

State meet runners were greeted by unseasonably warm weather, which explained, in part, an increase in times. Josh ran a 16:09 and Andy went 16:49 while placing second and fourth, respectively, in the Section 8A meet a week earlier. However, this year's clocking over the St. Dlaf course featured o significant improvement for Josh, who had a 69th place 17:38.5 showing as a first-time qualifier year ago.

It was the first state cross country oppearance for Josh, who was among the Section 8A leoders as a freshman before he was hit by late-season illness and wasn't oble to join his twin brother ot the state meet.

"They both ran well," said Jones, co-head coach of the cooperative program, olong with Mitch Harmonning. "I think they both have a great future in cross country and track."

Jeff Brever of Staples-Motley was the boys Class A individual state meet winner in 15:42.1.

Dther individual titles went to Julie Gifford of Tracy-Milroy, girls Class A; Nick Schneider of Benilde-St. Margaret's, boys Class AA; and Kassandra Hendricks of Hutchinson, girls Class AA.

Team champions were Staples-Motley, boys Class A; Deer River/Northland, girls Class A; Hopkins, boys Class AA; and Bloomingtoo Jefferson, girls Class AA.

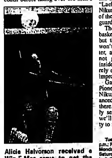
A new cast has been assembled by Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball coach Rick Nikunen in an attempt to reverse last year's 0-22 finish by the Pioneers.

Fifteen of the 17 players listed on the Pioneers' 1998-99 roster were freshmen, but only three of those are on hand this fall. That trio includes 6-6 forward Matt Moen of Fosston, 5-10 guard Jeremy Vacura of Badger and 6-5 forword Jason Pinkney of Pompano Beach, FL. Moen was a full-time starter as a freshman; Pinkney and Vacura were in the starting line-up on a part-time basis.

A fourth sophomoro on hand is Dan Leong, a 6-3 guard from Milwaukee, WI, who played three years ago at Woukesha (WI) Tech.

Freshmen make up the rest of the 12-player preseason roster.

Forwards among the newcomers include 6-5 Kelly Cota, Thief River Falls; 6-4 Nick Wilcox, Newfolden; 6-3 Steve Borgen, Badger; 6-6 Markus Dkeson, Frazee; and 6-4 Omar White, Newark, NJ. Cota has been impressive on the boards in early workouts, and could be in the starting line-up, said Nikunen, when the Pioneers open the season Tuesday against Lake Region in Devils Lake, ND.



First-year guards with the Pioneers include 5-10 Kevin Philion, Red Lake Falls; 6-1 Charlie Nyuraah, Brooklyn Center; and 6-1 Luke Stuckey, Martinton, IL.

"We've got lots of new faces," ocknowledged Nikunen, who was the Northland women's basketball coach before taking over the men's program last year. "I'm really not sure just what kind of team we'll have, but I'm cautiously optimistic. We should be a better team; we look improved at every position."

Last year's ball club was small, and had o propensity for turnovers. "Lack of size hurt," odmitted Nikunen, "and we didn't take care of the ball. We didn't have real good guard play."

The newest edition of Northland basketball isn't overly big, either, but there's reason to believe that won't be as big a problem this winter, according to Nikunen. "We're not going to overpower people inside," he said. "We'll probably rely on jump shots. We're a much-improved shooting team."

Game situations will dictate the Pioneers' style of play, explained Nikunen. "I think we'll be 'balanced," he said. "We'll run when it's there. We're not going to oompletely sell out on the fast break, but we'll be patient when the opportunity to run isn't there.".

Alicie Halvorson received a Win-E-Mac serve to get the Marshall County Central offense started during the Section 8A high school volleyball semifinals.

Girls high school swimming...

First conference meet won by Warroad team

■ Section 8A meet under way

Warroad was the winner in the first North Border Conference girls high school swim meet, held Nov. 5 at Roseau. The pre-meet favorites finished with 471 points, followed by Thief River Falls with 387, Roseau 191, and Crookston 175.

"The team swam very well," reported Thief River Falls assistant coach Tony Deluney. "We took second behind Warroad, who was expected to win."

Chelsea Haviland led the Prowlers with first place finishes in the 200 individual medley and in diving. It was a 1-2-3 Thief River Falls sweep in diving, with Naomi Dlson and Amber Curry finishing behind Haviland.

Thief River Falls efforts also featured sectional-qualifying times by Lindsay Ehrenstrom and Brittany Haviland in the 100 freestyle.

Delaney also cited time drops by Kendra Mooney, Michelle Johnson and Danico Schroeder, along with the 200 freestyle reloy team of Cami Hendrickson, Andi Sorvig, Kristin Naplin, and Chelsea Hoviland.

It was the final regular season outing for the teams prior to the state-qualifying Section 8A meet that began Friday and wraps up with 1 p.m. finals today (Saturday) at Warroad.

Win-E-Mac hitter Gwen Grundyson had this spike attempt blocked by Marshall County Central defender Kristi Kilen during the Section 8A high school volleyball tournament semifinal match at Crookston. The Patriots won the match, played Friday, Nov. 5, by a 3-2 margin, ending a 20-7 season for the Sub-Section 31A champion Nordics.

Winter sports start Tuesday night

LHS girls hockey, NCTC basketball start season

High school girls hockey and college men's basketball will kick off Thief River Falls' 1999-2000 winter sports season Tuesday.

First-year Lincoln High School girls hockey team will play its inaugural game that night against Warroad at 7 p.m. at the Huck Dlson Memorial Civic Center. It's the first of three straight home gomes to start the year for the Prowlers, who will face International Falls Friday and take on Pequot Lakes the following Tuesday, Nov. 23.

Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball team as a Tuesday season-opening gome against Lake Region at Devils Lake, ND. It's one of the few playing dates on the Northland schedule that doesn't feature a men's and women's doubleheader.

The Northland women will make their debut Fridoy with a trip to Manitoba and a game against Providence College that will be the first half of a 6 p.m. twinbill. The men's teams play at 8 that night.

While those teams are opening their seasons, Monday will mark the first day of practice across Minnesota for high school boys hockey and girls basketball. Statewide, boys basketball and wrestling practice begins Nov. 22. Boys swim teams begin workouts Nov. 29.

Meanwhile, fall sports continue for Minnesota high school athletes and teams qualifying for volleyball, football and girls swimming state meets.

A new logo, designed expressly for the first-year Thief River Falls girls high school hockey team, will be seen on the front of the Prowlers' jerseys Tuesday when they make their debut with a 7 p.m. game against Warroad at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. Co-head coaches Troy Henestad and Tim Magnusson, along with members of the team, approved the design for the 1999-2000 season.

Bob Wayne opened the 1999 firearms deer hunting season in the Grygla area, but returned to his home near the Thief River Falls regional airport when he was informed by his father-in-law that this large buck was in the yard. The animal was still there Saturday afternoon, presenting a trophy opportunity.

Marshall Co. Central fall banquet, winter sports meeting will be Nov. 23

Date of the annual Marshall County Central High School fall athletic banquet has been changed to Tuesday, Nov. 23. The event will be held at 6 p.m. at the Newfolden Community Center.

The banquet, originally scheduled to be held Nov. 18, was moved to coincide with the winter sports parent's meeting that will follow the banquet at the same site.

Parents of students involved in winter athletic activities are invited to take part in the potluck dinner, which starts at 6 p.m.

Banquet guest speaker will be Desirse Larson, track coach at North Dakota State University. Fall awards presentations will then be made, with the winter athletic meeting concluding the evening.

VIP holds groundbreaking event

Violence Intervention Project (VIP) broke ground last Tuesday on a $1 million 10,000 square foot facility at 1911 Greenwood Street East in Thief River Falls. Construction is expected to begin in the spring and VIP hopes to move in next October.

Violence Intervention Project is a grassroots advocacy program for battered women and children that covers the seven northwest counties of Pennington, Polk, Marshall, Red Lake, Roseau, Norman and Kittson. VIP provides services for battered women, sexual assault victims, abused children, and includes a child advocacy program, criminal justice intervention general crime victim advocacy, a supportive housing program, the Umbrella Tree Safety Center, and special projects.

In one year, VIP received 1,836

Fosston selected as Millennium City

Fosston - On Friday, November 12, Fosston Mayor Arvid Clementson received a letter from First Lady Hilary Clinton informing him Fosston had been selected as an official Millennium Community.

The designation recognizes local communities and efforts by individuals, business, organizations and local government to better the community.

In addition to being able to use the official Millennium Community logo, Fosston will be listed on a national "Map of Millennium Communities" web site, www.millenniumcommunity.com) where information about the community's projects and events will be shared with other Americans. The Thirteen Towns

Indus NHS chapter wins national award

Indus - For the second time in three years, one of Minnesota's smallest schools has won a national award.

The Indus High School National Honor Society (NSH) has earned one of the Outstanding Service Project awards given to schools from all across the nation. The award was presented recently at the seventh annual NHS conference in Arlington, VA.

The award-winning projects at Indus have centered around helping the less fortunate, with proceeds from the top fundraisers going to the area food shelf. The Baudette Region

F-B computer students win award

Fertile - Second and third year computer students and second year accounting students at Fertile-Beltrami High School were recently presented with a first place Profiles of Excellence award.

Yvonne Halvorson, the school's computer instructor, submitted "Advance Com - Technology From the Up and Coming." The project gives students the opportunity to design and market web page sites for local businesses. Also, Advance Com is a "real" business and its web page designers are compensated [illegible]

New day in girls hockey

Ceremonial drop of the puck preceded the start of the first girls high school hockey game for both Thief River Falls and Warroad Tuesday at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. Cari Clark, representing the School District 564 Board of Education, handled the face-off duties with Lindsay Ehrenstrom of Thief River Falls (left) and Andrene Olson of Warroad. The game was won by Warroad 6-1.

Area non-profits benefit from utility

Operation Round Up grants $11,475

Twenty non-profit community organizations in the area have again benefited from the generosity and community spirit of over 3,000 Red Lake Electric Cooperative customers. Through voluntary rounding up of their monthly electric bill, customers donate pennies monthly which accumulate and provide grant funds.

Operation Round up grants are determined by a five person Red Lake Electric Trust board. Since the Operation Round Up Program began in 1993, $132,080 has been granted. "The Operation Round Up Program has been a very good program," said Ron Kennedy, general manager of Red Lake Electric Cooperative. "The program enables our electric customers to combine pennies each month into a pool of funds which significantly assists area community and charitable organizations."

"The success and publicity of the Operation Round Up Program prompted 40 applications for grants considered by the Trust Board at their October 27 meeting," Kennedy added. "Trust directors evaluate each application and are charged with the task of determining grants. Because there is not enough money to fund all applications, their job is not an easy one."

Christmas gift programs for needy children and families received a total of $2,000 in grants. Five hundred dollar grants were made to the Red Lake County Holiday Gift Program, Christmas for Pennington County, and Toys for Tots of Crookston. A $350 grant was made to Marshall County Christmas Gift Program, and a $150 grant was made to the Marshall County Literacy Council for inclusion of books in the holiday gift baskets. Inter-County Nursing Service was granted $1,000 for home health care services for elderly people. The Oakland Park Nursing Home of Thief River Falls was given $300 for bus expenses for resident outings.

A $425 grant was made to the Crossroads Displaced Homemaker Program. This grant will provide winter driving survival kits for some of their clients. The Thief River Falls Area Food Shelf was given $500 and the Violence Intervention Project of Thief River Falls was granted $1,000. Violence Intervention Project provides advocacy services to victims of violence and domestic assault.

Four senior meal centers were given grants. A $1,000 grant was given to help with establishment costs of a senior meal site in Viking. Five hundred dollar grants to help with established senior meal programs were given to the Sunview Dining Center in Red Lake Falls, the Thief River Falls Senior Nutrition Council and the Middle River Senior Nutrition Program.

Area educators visit about agriculture education

Area educators met Tuesday in Thief River Falls with representatives of Future Farmers of America to discuss the future of agriculture education.

What needs to be emphasized said ADawn Melbye, ag educator in Thief River Falls, is that agriculture education is about the industry of agriculture, not just production.

Joel Larsen, program specialist for Agriculture of the Minnesota Department of Children, Families and Learning, said agriculture education has changed considerably. There are three main areas that educators are focusing on — agri-science, technology in agriculture, and agri-business.

That was the main reason Emily Buxton and Jose Santiago were in Thief River Falls Tuesday. "Agriculture does have a future," said Santiago.

Santiago is the former vice president of the FFA in the Southern Region. Originally from Camuy, Puerto Rico, Santiago promotes FFA and credits it for the many positive changes in his life. Santiago, like many other kids in this generation, believes it is important to be a part of something positive, and bigger than they are.

Buxton, the former Eastern Region Vice President for FFA, is from Warsaw, Ohio, a much smaller community than the one Santiago came from. Like Santiago, Buxton also believes in the future of agriculture education, and points out that there is a lot to be gained from agriculture education. "It's a large field of study that provides many opportunities," she said. Like Santiago, Buxton also promotes FFA as way of providing students practical skills needed in the workplace.

Ron Paggen from Marshall County Central, Bruce Jensen from Kittson County Central, Jerry Robicheau and Lyle Olson from School District 564 in Thief River Falls, were interested in learning what agriculture education had to offer students. In a region where agriculture plays a major role, these schools offer little or no agriculture education programs. (Thief River Falls is just beginning to offer agriculture education.) The educators were also interested in learning about delivery systems.

Buxton and Santiago traveled over 100,000 miles covering 30 states last year while national officers for FFA. In their travels they said they witnessed many different methods of delivery, including the use of internet, I-TV, and teachers traveling from school to school, pulling a trailer behind them.

Dave Hoff, University of Minnesota at Crookston, said to a great extent, the success of a program depends upon the instructor. Every school program will be unique because it relates to the skills and abilities of instructors and available resources.

Many of the educators at the meeting agreed with Hoff, but are gauging interest among students and parents, and want to carefully study ways to provide agriculture education before initiating a program.

Community support brings Viking cafe back to life

by David Hill
Editor

"A cafe sure makes a difference," said one customer of the Town and Country Cafe in Viking.

I commented that I thought the good-sized crowd at tables were probably due to the special — potato dumplings and side pork.

Pam Halvorson, the new operator of the cafe, said everyone seems to be appreciative of the fact that the city has a cafe again, and everyone is anxious to make it work.

Opening of the Town and Country Cafe in Viking last Friday was the result of a real community effort. Viking Mayor Wayne Peters explained that the town wasn't the same after the cafe and store closed a couple of months ago.

Population 95, Viking is struggling against a number of problems. Larger more popular neighbors, and the fact that many of its citizens are seniors are two of the more obvious problems. They lost their gas station years ago, and the elevator was torn down last summer. All that's left is a community center, two churches, an elementary school, and a handful of homes. The city now owns and rents out the post office, and operates the community center, and in addition, owns a number of other buildings. They have tried to breath life into the town. Lately, they helped re-open the cafe, because the town just wasn't the same without a cafe where they could gather, eat a good meal, share stories, play cards and shake dice.

The city has tried a number of things to keep the cafe open including a loan to the previous owner, but he couldn't make it work. After conducting a survey of area residents, local leaders decided to give it another chance. This time, Viking township purchased the kitchen equipment, and the City of Viking purchased the building and rest of the fixtures and equipment. The city hopes to make it work this time by providing the building rent free to the new operator — Pam Halvorson. Peters said the city has nothing to do with the operation of the cafe, except insuring the building and making sure it's up to code. Halvorson is an independent con-

Area residents are supportive of the Town and Country Cafe and Store in Viking. The only restaurant and convenience store in the town, it recently re-opened because the city purchased the building and fixtures, and the township purchased the kitchen equipment. Pam Halvorson, independent contractor operating the cafe, also hopes to soon begin serving senior meals.

Charges pending in false 911 call

Lake Bronson - Charges are currently pending against a Lake Bronson woman who allegedly made a false 911 report about a gunshot victim.

The 35-year-old female faces charges of making a false 911 emergency call that stated that someone had been at a Lake Bronson residence. Once the report had been made, the Kittson County Sheriff's office dispatcher alerted deputies and an ambulance to the scene.

Before the ambulance arrived, the dispatcher had called the residence and was told that an incident had not occurred and that no one had been shot. The female made the statement, she said, because she wanted an officer to come to her house to talk to her. The ambulance call was cancelled.

The incident is under investigation by the Kittson County Sheriff's Department. North Star News

Limitation change for loan gains listed

The Agriculture, Rural Development, Food and Drug Administration, and Related Agencies Appropriations Act, 2000, amended the Agricultural Market Transition Act to increase the payment limitation for marketing loan gains and LDP's from $75,000 to $150,000 per person, for eligible crops produced in 1999.

A payment limitation of $150,000 for all crops, per person, applies to: LDP's (Loan Deficiency Payments); Market loan gains from cash loan repayments at a rate of less than the principal; Only eligible wheat, feed grains, oilseeds, and rice crops produced in crop year 1999.

The Act also sets forth a special provision for producers who marketed a quantity of an eligible 1999 crop and/or did not receive LDP or marketing loan gain because of payment limitation. These producers will now be able to receive LDP or marketing loan gain as of the date that the quantity was marketed or redeemed.

For additional information regarding the limitation change or the special provision, producers should contact their local Farm Service Agency office (Notice LP-1709/MN Notice LP-2252).

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacour@ spacestar.net

Just in case you got your deer and are ready for something more than venison steak now, here are some delicious recipes for all of that fresh venison – at the end are a couple of crock pot recipes for your wild game, too.

Use those less tender cuts of steak to make a double batch of this hearty dish:

VENISON SWISS STEAK
1 pound venison steak or chops, cut into 1 inch cubes
4 tablespoons olive oil or margarine
16 ounce can of tomatoes, chopped
1 onion, wedged
1 bell pepper, seeded and sliced
3 tablespoons parsley, dried or fresh
1/2 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
1 clove garlic, cut in two
1/2 cup flour

Remove bone, fat and sinew from steak or chops.

Dredge meat with flour and sauté meat, onions and garlic in oil or margarine until meat is brown and onions are soft.

Place in oven pan and cover with remaining ingredients. Bake in 350 degree oven for 40 minutes. Serve with favorite bread.

This is a bit more elegant venison dish that would be great for guests:

VENISON STROGANOFF
2 pounds venison steak, cubed
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 pound mushrooms, sliced
1 (7 ounce) can tomato soup
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon paprika
Sprinkle of red pepper
1 tablespoon of dried parsley
2 tablespoons salad oil

Sauté beef and onions with salad oil in a Dutch oven or deep pot until meat has browned. Add paprika and pepper for last 2 minutes. Drain excess fat.

Add remaining ingredients and cook in preheated oven at 350 degrees for 35 minutes. Serve over cooked noodles.

Here how to make a really tasty meal today from last night's leftovers:

LEFTOVER STEAK TREATS
2 squares of round steak (cooked)
1/2 cup grated Monterey jack cheese
2 slices tomato
4 tablespoons bread crumbs
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons Parmesan cheese

Arrange meat on broiler pan and top each piece with tomato, bread crumbs and butter. Sprinkle with Parmesan.

Broil 6 to 8 inches from element for 5 minutes until browned. Serve on toast, bread or buns.

Here's a crock pot recipe for a really delicious venison stew that you can cook all day – remember to marinate the venison overnight before making the stew:

VENISON STEW
2 to 3 pound venison, cut into 1 inch cubes
1 1/2 cups French dressing
2 carrots, pared and cut into 1 inch pieces
1 large onion, coarsely chopped
1 small green pepper, seeded and coarsely chopped
3 stalks celery, cut into 1 inch pieces
1 (16 ounce) can whole tomatoes, mashed
1/4 cup quick cooking tapioca
1 whole clove
1 bay leaf
Salt and pepper

Marinate cubed venison in French dressing for 12 to 24 hours in refrigerator. Drain off dressing and place venison in crock pot. Stir in remaining ingredients.

Cover and cook on low setting for 8 to 10 hours.

One more venison recipe, and this one is also made in a crock pot – it sounds so good I might try it with beef, since I have no venison. Be sure to make the barbecue sauce a day or two ahead of time – before you will want to use it for the venison, and also remember to marinate the meat overnight before making the barbecue. The extra barbecue sauce can be frozen and would be great for beef, pork or chicken:

BARBECUED VENISON
2 to 3 pound venison round, leg or rump roast
1 can (12 ounces) beer
3 cloves garlic
Salt and pepper
2 onions, sliced
3 bay leaves
2 cups barbecue sauce (below)

Trim excess fat from venison. In large bowl, mix beer, garlic, salt, pepper, onions and bay leaves. Add venison. Mixture should cover meat.

Place in refrigerator for 12 to 24 hours, turning occasionally.

Remove venison and onions from marinade and place in crock pot. Pour 1 cup of barbecue sauce over top, cover and cook on low setting for 10-12 hours. Serve with additional barbecue sauce.

Barbecue Sauce:
1 cup finely chopped onion
3/4 cup finely chopped celery
3 tablespoons butter
6 tablespoons sugar
3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
6 tablespoons wine vinegar
3/4 cup lemon juice
3 cups ketchup
3 teaspoons dry mustard
2 teaspoons liquid hickory smoke
Salt and pepper

In skillet, sauté onion and celery in butter. Add to crock pot with remaining ingredients. Cover and cook on low setting for 8 to 10 hours, or on high setting for 3 to 4 hours, stirring occasionally. Recipe makes 5 cups, 1 1/2 quarts. It may be frozen for future.

And wouldn't these taste good with that Venison Stew:

BEER BISCUITS
4 cups Bisquick
3 tablespoons granulated sugar
1 (12 fluid ounces) can beer

Mix Bisquick and sugar together and add beer, stirring to moisten thoroughly. Bake in well greased hot muffin tins in a 375 degree oven (preheated). Bake 20 minutes or until browned. Makes 18 medium biscuits.

Just one more bread to go with the venison – simple and good:

HOT CHEESE CORN BREAD
1 cup yellow corn meal
1 cup flour
1/4 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 1/2 cups shredded American cheese
1 egg
1 cup milk
1/4 cup shortening, softened

Heat oven to 375 degrees.

Sift corn meal, flour, sugar, salt and baking powder. Add cheese. Add egg, milk and shortening.

Beat until smooth, but do not overbeat. Pour into greased 8 inch square pan and bake 30 minutes. Cut into squares and serve hot.

Kittson County man sentenced for stabbings

Joshua Carl Hendrickson, 21, was sentenced this week in connection with two stabbings that occurred earlier this year.

He was sentenced to 192 months in prison and 96 months of supervised release. He was given credit for time served since March 18, 1999. He is also required to pay $28,574.19 restitution to be taken from prison wages.

On March 18 Kittson County Sheriff's Office responded to a 9-1-1 call from a Halma residence. The caller stated that two individuals had been seriously assaulted with a knife. Benjamin Larson, 20, currently of Minneapolis, and Christopher Nelson, 22, Karlstad, were taken to Hallock Hospital and then to Altru Hospital in Grand Forks. Nelson died after arriving at Altru.

In September Hendrickson pled guilty to one count of assault in the first degree and one count of murder in the second degree.

Man in custody accused of making terroristic threats

On November 18, Bobby Earl Lanning, 56, of Vancouver, WA, appeared before Judge Jorgenson in Crookston. Lanning is charged with making terroristic threats. He was also charged with driving while intoxicated and driving after suspension.

On November 17 at 7:30 p.m., he was taken into custody by the Red Lake County Sheriff's Office with the assistance of the Minnesota State Patrol, on a Red Lake County warrant in connection with an October 22 incident.

The Red Lake County Sheriff's Office had received a call that he was at the residence of the person he had allegedly threatened earlier. When he was taken into custody, Lanning was in possession of a .223 Ruger Rifle with a laser site, two clips and 105 rounds of ammunition.

Lanning was taken into custody without incident and is currently being held at the Regional Correction Center in Crookston.

Terroristic threat carries a maximum sentence of five years in jail or a $10,000 fine or both.

His next court date is December 9 in Red Lake Falls. Bond was set at $10,000.

Privacy Protection taking on more importance

Look no further than your computer when you wonder what's driving recent discussion about privacy. Open a search engine for "missing people" and discover that for about $40 you can find out just about anything about someone — address, telephone number(s), spouses, family members, summary of assets, civil judgments, bankruptcies etc.... But it doesn't stop there. Advances in the information and transmission of information via Internet or e-mail makes it possible to access large files and transmit that information in the blink of an eye.

Businesses have been selling and exchanging customer mailing labels for years. It's a common practice and I'm sure most readers have had an experience with this before. As an example, because I own two hunting dogs and enjoy hunting, I purchased a magazine subscription for dog owners. Shortly after I received my first subscription I started receiving catalogs from companies I didn't know existed and had never contacted. Obviously, the company sold a list of subscribers with my name on it to someone else.

As Sen. Roger Moe pointed out recently, there are larger and more intrusive examples. In June, Attorney General Mike Hatch filed suit against a major bank for alleged consumer fraud and deceptive advertising by providing a telemarketing vendor with such private information as Social Security numbers, marital status, home ownership status, occupation, average account balance, credit limits and other customer information.

Although the bank has voluntarily ended the various marketing deals in question, privacy-protection issues continue to generate concern in Minnesota and across the nation. Of particular concern now is the federal Financial Services Modernization Act that attempts to address a variety of issues related to the ongoing consolidation of various financial institutions. With consolidation can come the loss of privacy unless protections are clearly spelled out.

The busy and quick exchange of information is now mainstay for many businesses, including banks and health industry. For two very important reasons, this issue has people agitated. First, there is no right to privacy spelled out in the Constitution or Amendments to the Constitution. It may be hinted at in the Fourth Amendment and by application, the 14th Amendment, but it isn't specifically addressed in the Constitution. Until recently, there was relatively little case law on the subject. Don't get me wrong, there are statutes on the books that address data privacy. But as Sen. Moe pointed out data privacy laws are complicated with the language covering government data alone filling more than 60 pages in state statutes. However, the statutes covering release of information by financial institutions fills up only three pages. As Moe points out, whether the personal data is held in public or private hands, it appears highly likely that greater attention to privacy protections will be high on the agenda in 2000.

The second reason people get so excited about the issues is that with this quick and easy exchange of information it is just as easy for the wrong people to obtain personal information and make a shambles of your life.

In this information age, we are not totally defenseless. When doing business with a company you can tell the company not to sell your name and personal information. You can also ask charitable organizations, which also participate in the selling of subscriber and donor lists, not to sell or give out your name.

For more information on how to protect yourself, call the Minnesota Attorney General's office at 1-800-657-3787.

Technology will help feed the world

by Thomas J. Donohue
President & CEO
U.S. Chamber of Commerce

With Thanksgiving around the corner, it's a good time for us to think about our food supply and how we can increase food security across the world. Much of the battle to conquer world hunger will be fought in labs and research facilities. But an equally important part will be fought in the public policy arena, where we need to advance an agenda that supports innovation and change.

In order to set the stage for world food growth, to encourage peace, and to raise standards of living, we need to first promote a vigorous pro-technology environment in which technological advances are embraced, not resisted. After all, American business has been in the forefront of development methods to improve crop yields, grow plants and vegetables that are richer in nutrients and resistant to disease, and reduce reliance on pesticides.

Unfortunately, anti-technology hysteria has been spreading through precisely the same corners of the world that have most benefited from modern technology. Recently, the target has been genetically enhanced agriculture (GEA).

Just as we stand on the verge of an exciting new era in which we can multiply the amount of world food available, using less land, incurring less cost, and providing more benefit, there are many people — many of whom live in privileged countries with plentiful food — who do not see GEA and GEA research as what it is: a tool to help feed hungry people. These activists have not put forth well-reasoned, sound objections to GEA. Instead, European GEA opponents have successfully protested its introduction, even going so far as to vandalize experimental crop fields.

Anti-technology forces in the U.S., where there has been little opposition to GEA, are borrowing pages from the European handbook and agitating for limits and even bans on it. There is a role for legitimate study and oversight of GEA. But when there are almost 1 billion malnourished people in the world, we cannot allow plain and simple fear and ignorance to prevail. That's why we must prevent GEA opponents from manipulating governments, the media, the courts, and the court of public opinion here in America — and from further distorting the issue abroad.

We also must ensure that regulations governing food production are based on sound science and common sense — not politics. For example, the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) announced in August that it would place restrictions on two widely available and inexpensive pesticides that are used to protect everything from crops to the family dog. By the EPA's own admission, the science involved was "enormously challenging." Unfortunately, the agency was under pressure from the environmental and other groups, and was guilty of a political rush to judgement.

Restricting the use of safe, widely available, inexpensive and useful pesticides, especially when coupled with bans on growing crops that have been genetically enhanced to prevent insect damage, will have serious ramifications. Farmers now will have to use more expensive and hard-to-find alternatives. Higher production costs will be passed on to consumers in the form of higher prices — exactly the wrong direction to go! Instead, to have more food at lower prices, let's insist on a sensible regulatory regime that balances costs and benefits, and uses sound science in developing regulations.

We must also support free trade and an international system that lets us export our products. Trade is important to world food security — it helps countries grow stronger, and improve their citizens' standard of living. That's why it is so critical that we work to knock down barriers between countries.

The Chamber is involved in measures to open up trade around the world. We will send a delegation to the World Trade Organization's Millenium Round of multilateral trade negotiations in Seattle at the end of this month. Our aggressive agenda includes support of measures to further reduce trade barriers, especially for agriculture, and to expand market access. And we have kicked our trade education effort into high gear — we will forge coalitions and spread the pro-trade message all across the country.

The bottom line is that we must take food off the political table and put it on the dining room table. With a pro-technology, sensible regulatory environment, and an open world trade system, we can move forward and achieve this goal.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

GAME, FISH & ENFORCEMENT

by Mike Ramstorf
MN Conservation Officer

The firearms deer season is over but the investigations continue.

Compared to last year, this season was a very busy one. I investigated about 25 calls of trespassing and shooting from a roadway along with numerous other complaints.

Realizing that about 95 percent of the hunters in the field are good, ethical hunters, the remaining 5 percent did not make us, as hunters, many friends this year.

I heard many comments from upset landowners using a lot of words I can't write here while explaining the actions of hunters.

Most of the calls involved people shooting off a road into private posted, or Ag land without permission to even hunt there.

Several landowners and hunters I talked with told me it was the worst season they had seen as far as road hunters. I thought this was very strange. With all the great weather, why would you leave the woods?

Many people that called me were hesitant to turn in the people that were in violation. Some said they were neighbors and didn't want to upset them. I thought to myself, if these people were trying to be a good neighbor to you, would they be hunting on your land without permission or shooting at, or near your buildings or livestock. One person called after he returned home to find a gut pile in his front yard about 20 yards from his deer feeder.

The most appalling call I handled was one where a landowner was assaulted by a trespasser after attempting to write down his license plate to turn into the authorities. This happened in Marshall County near Thief Lake. This case is under investigation by myself and the Marshall County Sheriff's office. The vehicle we are looking for is a 1980's creme Ford Pickup, F250. The suspect was described as late 20's, 6-feet tall, 220-pounds, dark hair and glasses.

If you have any information about the case please call the Marshall County Sheriff's office at 745-5411 or the Turn in Poachers line at 1-800-652-9093. Any and all help in finding this vehicle and suspect is greatly appreciated. We, as hunters, don't need people like this representing us in the field.

On a lighter note, the season went well for most of those who tried. I saw several nice bucks and many successful first time hunters in the field.

With the weather we've had it's hard to imagine snowmobile season is near. If you're interested in attending an adult snowmobile safety class, I will announce the date and time soon. It's a great opportunity to pick up a few safety tips and spend an afternoon with fellow snowmobilers.

Emily Passey, Thief River Falls, will perform with the Junior Symphony during the Greater Grand Forks Symphony Association Youth Orchestras concert on Sunday, November 21 at 2 p.m. in the Community Performing Arts Center, 1420 Fourth Avenue N.W, East Grand Forks. Emily, a student a Franklin Middle School, plays the viola. Three other young people from Thief River Falls, Dan Seyler, Ben Seyler and Anthony Wold, play with the GGFSO Youth Orchestra; which will also be performing in this weekend's concert.

LHS students volunteer to type Christmas letters

Students in the keyboarding classes at Lincoln High School would like to volunteer their time and talent to type Christmas letters for people in the community of Thief River Falls.

Letters will be typed in block style and printed on white stationary unless the writer wishes to bring in their own holiday stationary. In those cases, letters will be printed on the paper of the writer's choice.

The purpose of this project is to give students in Lynn Dyer and Carter Rogalla's keyboarding class, practice keying documents from handwritten script, and provide a valuable "free of charge" service to the community using the computer equipment in the Lincoln High School business lab.

Letters will be keyed on a first come, first served basis. Preference will be given to senior citizens, those who do not have access to a computer, or those who are disabled. Letters should be limited to one typewritten page and a maximum of 25 printed copies per person.

Those wishing to have Christmas letters typed are asked to bring their handwritten letter to Lynn Dyer at Lincoln High School by Wednesday, December 1. Letters will be ready for pick-up Friday, December 10.

New Covenant Quartet performs in TRF Sunday

The community is invited to hear the internationally acclaimed "New Covenant Quartet" this coming Sunday afternoon at the Evangelical Covenant Church of Thief River Falls starting at 3 p.m.

The award winning New Covenant Quartet from Steinback, Manitoba, Canada, is one of the most sought after music groups in the upper Midwest and central Canada because of their outstanding musical ability. Having traveled extensively throughout the Midwestern United States and Canada, they present concerts that have been highly acclaimed by a wide range of audiences. During their concerts of popular Southern Gospel music they also take requests from the audience. It will be an afternoon well worth experiencing. There is no charge and a freewill offering will be taken.

The concert is the main event of the church's annual Fall Harvest Festival. Sandwiches, pie and ice cream will be served following the concert.

New Covenant Quartet will perform at 3 p.m. on Sunday, November 21, at the Evangelical Covenant Church of Thief River Falls. The public is invited to attend.

Canadian Snowcross is postponed

The NTN World Cup Season Opener, scheduled as the first stop on the Canadian Snowcross Racing Association/ASRA snowcross tour, has been postponed.

After every effort was made to make artificial snow in above normal temperatures, it was necessary to reschedule the race, as the marginal snow base would not withstand the 1,000-plus entries.

The rescheduled race will take place December 3, 4 and 5, 1999. This race will also be an Indoor Supersnow-cross Series Qualifier.

All racer entries will be forwarded to the new race date. Racers who are unable to attend the race must notify the CSRA/ASRA office immediately. New competitors who would like to compete at the rescheduled race date should contact the CSRA/ASRA office before December 1, 1999.

Thank Heaven We made it to "27"... "Happy Birthday" on the 19th!

Prowlers lose first-ever game 6-1...

TRF, Warroad girls hockey opponents

Tuesday, the Star Tribune of Minneapolis ran its preseason preview of girls high school hockey. The emphasis was that after young skaters had starring roles when the sport crossed the gender barrier in 1994-95 (the first year the Minnesota State High School League sponsored a state tournament), older, stronger upperclassmen are now the established leaders of the mostly Twin Cities area programs that already have a history.

Girls in Thief River Falls and Warroad were given the opportunity to join the hockey-playing ranks this winter. They made their joint debut Tuesday in front of a good turnout of fans at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center, and found themselves in the same position as the metropolitan teams when they first started. It wasn't surprising, then, that the best player on the ice was a seventh grader. Diminutive Warroad first line center Martha Selvog stole the show with her skating and stick handling skills that produced two goals and sparked the visitors to a 6-1 win.

Maureen Hardwick, a sophomore defenseman, shared the spotlight with Selvog by scoring twice in a 1:49 span to start the game. From the left side of Thief River Falls goalie Melissa Clark, Hardwick finished off early Warroad pressure by flipping the puck into the net at 3:03. At 4:52 she completed a rush by putting the puck over Clark's shoulder.

"We were pretty green at the start – that was pretty obvious," said Thief River Falls co-head coach Troy Hanestad. "They were pretty nervous. It would have been nice to have had a scrimmage before playing our first game."

The Prowlers weren't able to generate much in the way of an attack, but they did tighten up defensively after incurring the early deficit.

"We've been concentrating on playing in our own zone in practice before moving on to the offensive part of the game," explained Hanestad. "We made some adjustments in the defensive zone after giving up those early goals, and I thought we did a pretty good job the rest of the night."

Selvog made it 3-0 at 13:08 of the first period when she stepped around a defender at the Thief River Falls blue line and came in on Clark alone. A nice move to the backhand resulted in a goal.

Another quick start to open the second period made it 5-0 as Andrena Olson scored on a rebound at 1:34 and Kassie Anacabe came right back down the ice off the face-off to score at 1:41.

Selvog added her second goal on another breakaway backhand at 5:22 for a 6-0 game.

Thief River Falls' first-ever girls varsity hockey goal came at 8:44 of the second period when senior wing Jenny Rude pushed a rebound into the net off a scramble in front of Warroad goalie Amber Hasbargen.

Clark, a junior who saw limited action on the Thief River Falls boys junior varsity team last winter, had a busy 38-save night, including several point-blank stops. Hasbargen, a sophomore, wound up with 17 saves.

"It was fun," said Hanestad. "I thought we played well the second half of the game. If we would have played like that at the start, the final score might have been a lot different."

Warroad coach Ron Tveit also found plenty of reason to smile after the game. "It was fun," he said, echoing Hanestad. "It was exciting to be part of something like this. It's a great moment for gender equity. The girls in this part of the state are 4-5 years behind programs in some areas like the Twin Cities, but they have a chance to develop. They're fun to be around; fun to coach."

Scoring

First period - Warroad, Maureen Hardwick (un), 3:03; Warroad, Hardwick (Stephanie DeMars), 4:52; Warroad, Martha Selvog (Meghan McDonald), 13:08.

Second period - Warroad, Andrena Olson (McDonald), 1:34; Warroad, Kassie Anacabe (Carissa Enanude), 1:41; Warroad, Selvog (un), 5:21; TRF, Jenny Rude (Lindsay Ehrenstrom), 8:44.

Third period - none.

Goalie saves - TRF, Melissa Clark 10-11-17–38; Warroad, Amber Hasbargen 3-9-5–17.

Class A girls state high school swimming and diving championships start Monday at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, where Thief River Falls' Chelsea Haviland will be competing in both the diving and 200-yard individual medley, and will be joined in the diving competition by teammate Naomi Olson. The Prowlers' state meet delegation includes, from left, assistant coach Tony Delaney, Haviland, Olson, and head coach Mary Helen Houlihan.

Prowlers' Haviland, Olson in state meet

■ Girls high school swimming

Thief River Falls' Chelsea Haviland and Naomi Olson will be competing in the 1999 Minnesota girls Class A state high school swimming and diving championships beginning Monday. The combination Class A and Class AA event will be held at University of Minnesota Aquatic Center in Minneapolis.

Haviland and Olson will both be competing in the one-meter diving portion of the state meet, an event Haviland won as a freshman in 1998. Haviland successfully defended her diving title at the Section 8A meet in Warroad last week, where Olson advanced with a third place finish.

It will be a double-dip state meet appearance for Haviland, who is also the Section 8A champion in the 200-yard individual medley.

The state meet will start with the Class A diving prelims Monday at 1:30 p.m. when a five-dive round will reduce the field for the three-dive finals.

Class AA diving prelims will be held at 7 p.m. Monday. Swimming prelims are Tuesday, with Class A going at 12-noon and Class AA at 6 p.m.

Swimming and diving finals will take place Wednesday, again with the Class A portion of the meet starting at 12-noon and the Class AA competition beginning at 6 p.m.

This is the third year of the two-class state meet.

In addition to Haviland, the 1999 Class A diving field includes three other 1998 state meet medalists – Lisa Barthel, a senior from Sartell-St. Stephen, who was fifth last year; Leigh Maresh, a senior from Orono, who finished sixth; and Alysse Fisher, a senior from Visitation, who placed eighth.

Haviland faces an even bigger challenge in the 200 I.M., where girls who placed first, second, third, fifth, and eighth in the event at last year's state meet will be in the starting blocks again this week. That group includes defending champion Emily Mondloh, a junior from Fridley, and 1998 runner-up Patti Wegner, a senior from Rosemount who has the fastest qualifying time of 2:11.13. Haviland had a 2:19.85 in the Section 8A meet.

City league basketball meeting is set Nov. 24

Thief River Falls city league basketball organizational meeting will be held Wednesday, Nov. 24, at 7 p.m. at the Black Cat Sports Bar & Grill.

Players and team captains are urged to attend the meeting.

The eight-team league will play Wednesday night games at Lincoln High School December through March.

For additional information, call Kurt Wiseth at 681-8904 or Mike Peterson at 681-2288.

Royals' second half tops NCTC

■ Men's basketball season opener played Tuesday

Personnel shortages, due to injuries and class work, wound up costing the Northland Community and Technical College men's basketball team in the second half of the Pioneers' 1999-2000 season opener Tuesday against Lake Region. The Royals overcame a 39-37 halftime deficit to win 87-70 in a game played at Devils Lake, ND.

"We had some kids missing," pointed out Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "We were a little shorthanded. Our lack of depth really hurt down the stretch. Our legs gave out."

Northland had a 10-point lead early in the early stages. "We played a really good first half," noted Nikunen.

It was still a three-point game with six minutes to play before Lake Region pulled away at the free throw line.

"The final score wasn't indicative of the kind of game it was," Nikunen said. "It was a lot closer than it looks. We did a lot of good things."

Forwards Matt Moen and Jason Pinkney, the only players in uniform that played for the Pioneers a year ago, led the first-game efforts. Moen (Fosston) scored 24 points. Pinkney (Pompano Beach, FL) netted 16 points and pulled down 12 rebounds. Freshman guard Charlie Nyumah (Brooklyn Center) had a 9-point, 7-assist Northland debut.

"Our sophomores did a good job taking charge," mentioned Nikunen. "Our freshmen played well, but they made some freshman mistakes; they'll get better."

Lake Region was led by Fred Smith with 17 points and Tryg Spilde, a Tri-County graduate, with 15.

Northland was 27-for-61 from the field (44 percent) and 8-for-9 at the free throw line. Lake Region went 31-for-60 from the floor (52 percent) and 18-for-22 at the line. The Royals finished with a 34-33 rebound edge. The Pioneers topped the turnover charts 16-9.

$500 to help with training of hospice service providers. The Goodridge Fire Department received a $650 grant for a strap kit for their jaws of life equipment. A $1,000 grant was given to the Newfolden Fire Department to help with the purchase of a new fire truck.

Many children in the area will receive farm safety take-home packets as a result of a $400 grant to the Quin County Community Health Services. The take-home packets are provided to second grade and fifth grade students in the area as a supplement to safety training classes. The Little Brother/Little Sister Program of Thief River Falls was given $700 to help pay for the cost of activities of children from special needs families. Finally, the Thief River Falls/Pennington County Safety Camp was awarded a $500 grant.

The Red Lake Electric Trust Board of Directors consists of Orlan Stolaas, Joyce Johnson, Terry Weiss, Veral Mosbeck and Ron Kennedy. Grants are made at semi-annual meetings in October and March.

Peters explained that the city plans to make the building handicapped accessible.

Residents are also excited about the prospect of home delivered meals for seniors. Peters said the City of Viking has become a partner in the Tri-Community Living at Home Block Nursing Program. It is hoped that within a short period of time, (possibly December 1) senior meals will be available at the cafe, and that meals will be delivered by volunteers to residents who want their meals delivered to their homes.

The Tri-Community Living and Home Block Nursing Program is supported by the communities of Viking, Newfolden and Holt, and several grants including a significant grant from the State of Minnesota. Meals prepared in the future at the Viking cafe for the program will have to meet LSS Senior Nutrition Guidelines. Like senior meals prepared at various sites throughout the state, the suggested donation for a meal is $2.50 but all donations will be accepted. The full price for non-seniors is $4.50.

Wednesday, the city received a $1,000 donation from Lakehead Pipe Line for the purpose of providing senior meals. John Hayes, district manager, said Lakehead Pipe Line was glad to help.

Peters thanked Halvorson for the donation. It will help make a dream come true, he said.

Halvorson is also excited about the cafe and the support she has received. Halvorson has worked at the cafe on and off for about 16 years. The community wants it so much, they've been very supportive, she said.

Because the cafe opened just prior to the start of the deer hunting season, the number of customers at the small cafe have been pretty good.

Halvorson said hunters kept her busy making ham and cheese omelettes all weekend. She added that she was thankful her friend, and her husband and daughter were there to help her through the long weekend.

The cafe is open from 6:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

The cafe also doubles as a store. Halvorson said the shelves are a little bare right now, but they plan to provide a few convenience items. They don't want a big overhead right now. They plan to get into the business slowly.

Pam Halvorson flips burgers on the grill of the Town and Country Cafe and Store in Viking. The cafe recently re-opened. The re-opening was made possible when the city of Viking purchased the building and the township purchased kitchen equipment. Halvorson is operating the cafe as an independent contractor.

MPR surpasses records during member drive

Minnesota Public Radio surpassed its own records when the fall membership drive ended Friday, November 12, with over $890,000 from over 8,000 new and renewing members. The unprecedented success of the drive is attributed in part to the significant increase in the number of people listening to MPR.

The theme for the fall membership drive was "Celebration" as the year 2000 approaches. Anniversaries were recognized. MPR's "A Prairie Home Companion" first broadcast 25 years ago while National Public Radio's popular morning drive time news magazine, "Morning Edition" celebrated 20 years on the air.

contacts from victims of domestic violence, 310 sexual assault victim contacts, 700 contacts with children from battering homes, provides 180 women and children with a safe home, and helps 161 victims of general crime through the criminal justice system in Pennington county.

Funds for construction of the building were obtained from a number of sources. Lowell and Marge Swenson, residents of Thief River Falls, led the capital campaign, contributing $100,000 which allowed for the purchase of the land, and allowed VIP to leverage other grants and awards, including $175,000 from the McKnight Foundation, $50,000 from the Otto Bremer Foundation, $120,000 from the Bush Foundation. The Department of Children Families and Learning committed $50,000 toward the visitation center portion of the building; and the Department of Housing and Urban Development committed $200,000 toward construction of the transitional housing, along with $100,000 in operating funds over three years. Contributions have also been received from individuals, civic organizations and churches throughout the seven-county region.

With approximately $100,000 remaining to be raised, Lowell and Marge Swenson offered an additional contribution of $50,000 if residents and businesses in the region would match their challenge. Contributions to match the Swenson's contribution challenge can be mailed to P.O. Box 96, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

VIP has retained the services of Stegner Phelps Architects of Brainerd, and a construction manager from CAM Project Management, also of Brainerd. Bids for the project are expected to be let in February.

Members of the board of directors/advisory committee are: Jean Heinrichs of Thief River Falls, chair; Leticia Sanchez of Crookston, vice chair; Richard Luedtke of Warren, secretary; Michael Frisch of Grand Forks, ND, treasurer; Michelle Delaney of Warroad; Betty Knoll of Warren; and Mary Farley of Red Lake Falls.

Representatives on the building committee are: Roger Peterson of Thief River Falls, Kenneth Murphy of Thief River Falls, Carolyn Eeg of Greenbush, Sue Mills of Crookston, Al Melby of Thief River Falls, Roger Shaffer of Thief River Falls, Cal Melgard of Warren, Rev. Richard Luedtke of Warren, Bob Kinkade of Ada, Mike Frisch of Crookston, Jean Heinrichs of Thief River Falls, Denise Sevigny of Thief River Falls, Ken Froschheiser of Thief River Falls, and Deanna Sorvig of Thief River Falls.

Area educators visit about agriculture education

Department of Children, Families and Learning, they are looking at the many different methods of delivering agriculture education.

Grant funds

Recently, Thief River Falls School District 564 and the University of Minnesota at Crookston, were the beneficiaries of grant funding from the Minnesota Agricultural Education Leadership Council (MAELC). The funding to Thief River Falls will allow the district to explore the feasibility of a Northwestern Minnesota agricultural sciences magnet school partnering with area schools. The grant to the University of Minnesota at Crookston will allow it to continue an outreach program utilizing the University as a base for bringing agricultural education to area high schools.

Santiago and Buxton

Sanitago and Buxton will spend November 4-24 in Minnesota promoting agricultural education in meetings with agri-business leaders, in schools, with parents, students, and community groups, with legislators and the general public.

"This is the first time that Minnesota has had the opportunity to host National FFA officers and we want to make the most of it," said MAELC member and Minnesota FFA Foundation President Al Krysan.

"I think that this is an excellent opportunity to promote agricultural education in rural and urban areas, and also promote membership in the FFA as a youth leadership opportunity," said Larsen.

Time approaches for taking count

■ Pennington County board hears about plans for the government's census count

With the year 2000 fast approaching, preparations for the census are taking on greater importance. Tuesday, Pennington County board of commissioners heard from Tammy Kassler of the U.S. Department of Commerce, department of the census, who presented information regarding plans for the census and its importance. At stake are billions of dollars of government assistance.

Census 2000 is just around the corner. The census is used as the foundation for many forms of governmental assistance. It also affects legislative boundaries. "It all comes down to money and power. That's what the census is all about," Kassler said.

Kassler said residents will begin to hear more about the census by February. In fact, she claims the U.S. government will become the third largest advertiser by February. Between 1,500 and 1,700 people also will be hired to report the census to the Moorhead office alone. Kassler said her region includes much of the Seventh Congressional district, but her region doesn't follow all of the boundaries of that district.

Tuesday, Kassler asked the Pennington County board to do two things: sign a proclamation of support for the Census, and sign a non-binding partnership agreement. The county board took the request under advisement.

Kassler also wants residents of the county to understand that if they don't fill out the census forms that will be going out, the county will lose federal dollars — as much as $3,000 per person over a decade.

Two types of forms will be going out. The short form has about seven questions on it and will take approximately five minutes to fill out. The long form will take about 30 minutes to complete. It is much more detailed and asks the resident to fill out how much they earn. Kassler said she realizes that many people feel that information is none of the government's business, and are worried that information they put in the form could be put to other purposes. Kassler said "it's all about numbers and names don't matter."

The county board conducted a hearing on a proposed tobacco ordinance, and then in the regular meeting of the county board, approved the ordinance. The ordinance relates to the sale, possession, and use of tobacco, tobacco products, and tobacco related devices in the county and to reduce

Lake Bronson opts to "blow over" Y2K insurance

Lake Bronson - An insurance agent was present at a recent Lake Bronson City Council meeting to discuss insurance on the school building and gymnasium.

After that issue had been discussed and the agent asked the council if it wanted Y2K insurance, Mayor Dale Klegstad responded, "We'll let it blow over." After being told the city had a backup generator the agent pointed out that there could be problems if [illegible] stations don't work [illegible]. Councilman Roger David replied, "We'll just turn the water off, then no problem."

The council was told that Y2K coverage would cost $160 per year for a minimum of [illegible] years. North Star News

TRF farm hosts Christmas tree fundraiser walk

Bitzegaio's Pine Tree Farm will host its fifth annual Tree Walk for Hospice. The Tree Walk will be held Saturday, December 4, and Sunday, December 5. Groups from the area, including adult, youth and children, donate their time and decorations to decorate the trees along the walk.

Twenty trees have been donated by the Bitzegaios and are arranged along a boardwalk built in one of the barns. Buckets with the names of the group which decorated the tree are placed in front of each tree. People strolling through the walk are encouraged to place a donation in the bucket below their favorite tree. A plaque will be awarded to the group that decorated the tree receiving the most donations. St. Bernard's school won last year's plaque.

All money collected during the tree walk will be donated to the local Hospice. The amount collected will be matched up to $500 by AAL 10105 of Plummer of Lutheran Brotherhood. Last year, a little over $1,000 was collected for the Hospice.

Following the event, the trees along with their lights and decorations will be taken to the homes of needy families in Pennington county.

Walk opens

Trees may be seen and monetary votes cast from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, December 4, and from noon to 5 p.m. on Sunday, December 5 during the Bitzegaio's Pine Tree Farm's annual open house weekend. Cookies and coffee and cider will be served, and there will be a fire burning in the barn to warm up to. Lincoln High School Carolers will entertain with their singing Saturday afternoon.

Twenty groups will be decorating trees this year including: Pennington Main and Square, Key Club and Kiwanis, National Honor Society of Lincoln High School, Rose Wold's Day Care, Cindy Krankalo's Day Care, Challenger Preschool and Early Childhood Family Education, Redeemer Lutheran Church Youth, First Baptist Youth, Zion Lutheran Youth, Evangelical Free Church Senior High Ministry Team, Hospice, St. Bernard's School, Lori's Hallmark, Franklin Respect Team, Our Saviour's Christian Academy, Moccasin Garden Club, Girl Scout Troop 81, The Tim Numedahl Family, Lion's Club and Pine Tree Farm. Tree decorating begins Monday evening November 22 with a bonfire for the Chal-

Bitzegaio's Pine Tree Farm will host its fifth annual Tree Walk for Hospice December 4-5. Several groups have decorated the 20 trees donated by the Bitzegaio's and will be on display. People strolling through the walk are encouraged to place a donation in the bucket below their favorite tree. Last Wednesday, students from St. Bernard's decorated their tree. St. Bernard's tree received the most donations.

Northern Watch Reporter

When the good Lord created Don Larson, He broke the mold, creating a true one-of-kind individual.

The 59-year-old man from Oklee has many traits and characteristics that make him the unique individual that he is, and while it is the least significant, his physical impairment is probably what most would notice first when meeting him.

Don has cerebral palsy, a non-progressive disorder of muscle control caused by lack of oxygen to the brain. In Don's case, the disorder is the result of a birth accident, leaving him with affected extremities. For the past two years, he has used a wheelchair to get around. He also has visual difficulties and is legally blind in one eye.

Cerebral palsy did not affect Don's speech. He likes to talk and can tell his life story faster than any reporter can write. When this writer finally got a chance to ask a question, it was, "Where did you get so smart?"

Don attended what he calls the "School for Crippled Children" in Jamestown, ND, a facility that he hails as being "wonderful. . . the best in the world. . . 40 years ahead of its time." There, in a warm and caring atmosphere, he and other children with disabilities were taught not only the three R's but how to concentrate on their strengths instead of their weaknesses.

> "We were taught to 'go for it,' and if we killed ourselves in the process, at least we tried," Don says.

"We were taught to 'go for it,' and if we killed ourselves in the process, at least we tried," Don says. With that kind of encouragement he freely admits, "I've done some crazy things."

Don speaks fondly of those early experiences and talks of meeting other children with handicaps at Camp Courage who had not been given the confidence that his time at Jamestown gave him. "I was appalled," he says. "What a waste."

Don attended the school in North Dakota through the eighth grade when he returned to his home in Oklee. Don attended school in Oklee and Faribault and didn't fit in. While his mother had wisely told him, "Never trouble trouble until trouble troubles you," Don found trouble, and his formal education ended when he was 16 years old.

With regard to intelligence, he isn't modest and says, "I was born that way." He also does a lot of reading and keenly watches the world around him.

Music has been a constant throughout Don's life, and he uses it to express himself through song writing and singing. He learned to play the guitar as a youth with the goal of being good at it. He fulfilled that goal, and his perhaps most pri[illegible] pos[illegible] a bea[illegible] guitar which was handmade by a man from Grand Rapids.

He has a tape recorded during a school program in Jamestown in 1953. The quality of the 46-year-old recording is remarkably good, and features Don at the age of 13, playing the guitar and singing "A Cowboy's Dream" and "Home on the Range."

He says he's been "pickin' and singin'" ever since, and a cowboy at heart, he still prefers those cowboy songs.

In 1992, Don paired up with a school chum from Jamestown to record a tape of eight songs, including seven songs that Don wrote. His friend's name is Jerry Burtts, who Don says is "nothing short of a phenomenon," playing the electric guitar with the use of only one hand.

The pair rekindled their friendship "where it left off" at a 1984 school reunion, and Burtts traveled from Montana to make the recording with Don in 1992.

In a still clear but more mature voice, Don tells some of his life's story in his songs.

A song entitled "Family Bible" gives the listener an idea of the solid upbringing Don received as the youngest of 12 children on a farm.

Other song titles include "Sing Me a Song of the Prairie," "Satisfied Mind," "Slippers with Wings," "Mean Old Minnesota Summer Fallow Blues," "The Last Cowboy Song" and "I Saw the Light."

The recording's signature song, "Fields and Woods," best exemplifies his life story and is, he says, "a tribute to my family."

The song about the joys of growing up exploring the fields and woods near his country home expresses his desire to go back to that simpler time as well as his sadness in knowing that things would never be the same. It was written after the death of his brother and the auction sale that was held prior to the sale of his home farm.

Recalling his profound sadness on the day of that auction, Don says, "I sat on the steps (of his childhood home) and cried like a baby."

Don unashamedly admits that there have been times when life's disappointments have gotten the best of him and he's suffered emotional breakdowns that have required treatment.

In addition to making music, Don has found joy in horsemanship and at one time owned a horse named "Queenie." He has also spent time in Montana, a place he refers to

A cowboy at heart, Don Larson has been "pickin' and singin'" for most of his life and recently completed a tape of mostly original music. Many of his songs are reminiscent of his childhood home near Oklee. The recording's title song, "Fields and Woods," is a tribute to his family, and Larson hopes that the sale of his tapes will help him realize some of his goals for the future.

Jail is full in Polk County

Tri-County Community Corrections, the jail that serves Red Lake, Polk and Norman counties, is full.

Tri-County Community Corrections administrator, Susan Mills, stated that the problem is not temporary. In fact, it has been a problem for a couple of years.

Mills stated that people do not get put on probation instead of serving time when the TCCC facility is full. When the buildings are at capacity, TCCC must pay other lock-up facilities to hold people in custody.

In the last two weeks, TCCC had five people per day at other facilities, stated Mills. For the past three or four months prior to that, TCCC was sending 11 to 12 people to other facilities for lock-up.

Per diem charges average $50 to $55 per person, depending on the facility. Prisoners are sent to the nearest place with room which could be [illegible] Warren, Fergus Falls, Brainerd or Grand Rapids.

The TCCC jail has two buildings which hold 81 adults. The minimum security building is licensed for 49 people. Right now it has about 55 people a day. The medium/maximum security building is licensed for 32 people, but has about 41 people per day.

The jail is in Crookston. Polk County owns the property and the buildings and rents them to the TCCC.

With the help of a Regional Jail Planning Grant from the state, TCCC has hired a consultant to look at the Tri-County system issues and explore the possibility of redesigning or adding on to the facility. The consultant will take a systematic approach looking at arrest rate, length of stays, and other issues that influence the population of the facility.

A final report is expected in January.

State agencies teaming up to listen to area residents

The Northwest Regional Development Commission (RDC) is teaming up with Minnesota Planning to host a public meeting on planning for the region's future. The meeting will begin at 10 a.m. on Saturday, December 4, at the East Grand Forks Legion Club.

Leon Heath, executive director of the Northwest Regional Development Commission, said local legislators and leaders of several state agencies have also been invited to attend the Listening Post.

"I'm hoping that we'll get a good turnout on December 4," Heath said. "Planning our region's future, diversifying our economy and making sure that our communities are healthy and vital is important to us — and to the rest of the state, as well. This is a good opportunity for us to make sure that the people in St. Paul understand the issues up here."

Dean Barkley, director of Minnesota Planning, the state's planning agency, said, "This meeting is really a Listening Post. My colleagues and I want to listen to the residents of northwestern Minnesota. We want you to tell us about the future you want for northwestern Minnesota."

In addition to the Listening Post, Heath said the RDC and Minnesota Planning will also host a meeting for area officials and state officials and state agency representatives. For more information about the Listening Post, call the Northwest Minnesota Regional Development Commission at 218-745-6733.

Minnesota Planning, an 80-employee state agency, develops long-range plans for the state and coordinates strategic planning activities among all levels of government.

Black Magic Duluth race postponed

World Snowmobile Association (WSA) officials and representatives of Spirit Mountain Ski Resort and the Duluth Convention and Visitor's Bureau have jointly announced that the Black Magic Duluth National, the season opener for WSA's Snocross Worldwide Championship, has been postponed one week due to the Midwest's current weather pattern. The event will now be held Friday, December 3 through 5, at Spirit Mountain Ski Resort.

"We just haven't had any cooperation from the weather," according to WSA President Joe Dunean. "Spirit Mountain has been awesome, working constantly to get a track ready and to get snow made. But, with the warm temperatures and lack of snowfall, we just couldn't get an acceptable track built. The weather is supposed to turn later this week, but we'd rather postpone a week and use the weather to our advantage to build a track worthy of the event and the competitors. We are determined to do this right and put on the best show possible."

Competitors can begin pit parking Thursday, December 2, from noon to 10 p.m., with check in from 6 to 10 p.m. Pit parking and check in will resume Friday, December 3 at 9 a.m. and conclude at 1 p.m.

The driver's meeting will be held at 3:30 p.m. Friday, December 3, with practice beginning at 4 p.m. and racing commencing at 5 p.m. The schedule for Saturday and Sunday will run as previously posted, with the driver's meeting at 9:14 a.m., practice at 9:30 a.m. and racing kicking off at 10:30 a.m. both days.

For more information and updates, go online at www.wsa-snocross.com, or call 612-497-0776 and listen to the message.

NCTC Foundation annual meeting on December 2

Northland Community and Technical College Foundation will hold its 1999 annual meeting at 5 p.m., Thursday, December 2, in rooms D61 and D62 at Northland Community and Technical College.

The Foundation will present its annual report, and hold board member elections. All members of the Foundation are invited and encouraged to attend.

The Foundation is a tax exempt corporation that provides scholarships to area students and whose mission is to encourage, enhance, support and recognize Northland Community and Technical College's impact on northwest Minnesota.

Jay Sorenson Memorial Jamboree

The Jay Sorenson Memorial Six Star Jamboree will be held on Saturday, November 27, at the Warren/Alvarado/Oslo gym in Warren.

The schedule for the evening is as follows:

• 5:30 p.m. Badger/Greenbush/Middle River vs. Crookston
• 6:15 p.m. Tri County vs. Fertile/Beltrami
• 6:45 p.m. three-point shooting contest
• 7 p.m. Kittson Central vs. Win-E-Mac
• 7:45 p.m. Warren/Alvarado/Oslo vs. Fisher/Climax

Admission for the jamboree is $3 for adults and $2 for students. Concessions will be provided by the W/O/A letterman club. Universal Screenprint of Thief River Falls is providing the prize for the three-point contest winner.

Starting times for games 2, 3 and 4 are approximate. Everyone is invited to attend.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

What to do with the leftovers is the post-Thanksgiving problem. Today's recipes may help you use up the turkey bounty in a tasty way.

What about an elegant luncheon or light supper dish made with that leftover turkey:

DAYTON'S HOT TURKEY SALAD
4 cups cooked, diced turkey
4 cups diced celery
1 cup toasted slivered almonds
2 teaspoons finely diced onion
4 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup grated Cheddar cheese
2 cups mayonnaise
1 teaspoon salt
2 cups crushed potato chips

Mix all ingredients except potato chips. Place in baking dish.

Top with crushed potato chips and place in preheated oven at 400 degrees for 15 minutes.

For a tasty meal, serve with fruit cups or salad and rolls. Recipe serves about 12 people.

Try using your leftover turkey in these delicious sandwiches for a lunch to be remembered:

COUNT OF MONTE CRISTO
2 slices white egg bread (3x6 inches)
1 ounce mozzarella cheese
1 ounce sliced turkey breast
3/4 ounce sliced hard salami (4-5 slices)
1 ounce Old English cheese
Egg batter made from equal parts of egg and whole cream

Place following in order given on 1 slice of bread: 2 slices mozzarella, 2 slices turkey breast, 4 slices hard salami, 2 slices Old English cheese and another slice of bread.

Dip in egg batter mix and heat on grill until golden brown and cheese melts.

Serve with French fries or fruit cocktail, garnish with pickles, lettuce or other.

This dish will make a great brunch or breakfast dish, as well as a quick supper:

TURKEY STRATA
4 slices white bread
1/2 cup chopped celery
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup salad dressing
2 eggs
1 1/2 cups milk
1 (15 ounce) can cream of mushroom soup
1/2 cup grated cheese

Trim crusts off bread and cube the bread. Place half of the cubes in 8 inch square pan.

Combine turkey, celery, onion and salad dressing. Spoon over top of cubed bread in pan. Arrange remaining bread over top.

Beat egg and milk. Pour over mixture in pan and chill one hour. Pour mushroom soup on top and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake 1 hour at 325 degrees.

If all your holiday guests are still around Saturday, plan to make this delicious dish Friday night and keep it in the fridge until you are ready to bake it for a meal:

TURKEY TORTILLA HOT DISH
3 or 4 cups cooked turkey, cut into pieces
1 cup chicken (or turkey) broth
1 can cream of mushroom soup
2 cans mushrooms
1 pound sharp Cheddar cheese (or half with Monterey Jack)
1/2 cup instant onion
1 can cream of chicken soup
2 cans green chili salsa
1 pint sour cream
1 dozen corn or flour tortillas

Combine onions, soups, broth, salsa, mushrooms and cheese, saving some of the cheese for the top. Cut tortillas into strips.

Layer soup, turkey and tortillas twice. Sprinkle cheese on top.

Refrigerate 24 hours or freeze until ready to use. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees. Serves 10-12 people.

One more recipe for that leftover turkey. This one is pretty fancy but very tasty for those asparagus lovers:

TURKEY-ASPARAGUS DISH
1 package Triscuit crackers, crushed
2 (15 ounce) cans asparagus
3 cups cooked, cubed turkey
2 cans button mushrooms
2 cans cream of chicken soup
1/2 cup mayonnaise
1 small jar chopped pimento

Crush Triscuits and put half in the bottom of a 9x12 inch baking dish. Add turkey, then asparagus.

Combine soup, mushrooms, pimento and mayonnaise and pour over asparagus layer. Top with remaining crumbs and bake at 350 degrees for 45 minutes.

Newfolden plans Community History Fair

Local citizens will share their recollections of Viking, Holt and Newfolden with the Marshall County Central High School Research class at the upcoming History Fair.

The event is scheduled for Friday, December 3, 10 a.m. to noon at the Marshall County Central high school library. Topics will include: local farming/elevators; local veterans stories; church congregations; photos and memorabilia.

Anyone interested in participating is asked to contact Darcy Hestekind or Jill Edin at 874-2256, Tri-Community Living at Home/Block Nurse Program.

NCTC to host open house Tuesday

Northland Community and Technical College will be hosting an open house from noon to 5 p.m. Tuesday, November 30 at the NCTC Aviation Center. The open house will honor Northland's 40th anniversary in the aviation maintenance technology program and recognize National Aviation History Month.

The following is a schedule of displays and events taking place during the open house.

All day there will be tours of the Aviation Center, demonstrations of aviation equipment and refreshments available. There will be displays from NCTC, NCTC Aviation program, NCTC Foundation, UND Center for Aerospace Sciences and Federal Aviation Administration.

Don Brown of the FAA will give presentations at 2 and 4 p.m. There will be helicopter demonstrations at 1 and 3 p.m.

Northland welcomes the community and anyone interested in the aviation field to attend this exciting event.

TRF farm hosts Christmas tree fundraiser walk

Should school boards be held accountable to national standards?

I find it difficult to understand why Jesse Jackson and the national media decided it was important to intervene in the decision of a local school board in Decatur, IL. Are they telling us that school boards all across the nation should be required to adopt the same rules and regulations? Should local and regional differences be ignored? Should the same rules and disciplinary practices apply to students in New York City and Thief River Falls?

The situation began with a bleacher fight during which some non-combatants or spectators received minor injuries. Another spectator filmed the event, which was subsequently broadcast on national television. Shortly after the school board expelled seven students for a period of two years, Jesse Jackson and followers marched into Decatur demanding that the school board reconsider its decision. Of course, he was followed by the national media every step of the way.

Personally, I would consider a two year expulsion rather harsh, but I wasn't there. I don't have all the facts, and I don't live there. Perhaps there are problems or issues in that school district, which if taken in context of the incident, might make the decision of the school board seem very sensible. I don't know and neither do other outsiders; but no, a national figure who couldn't possibly know all the facts had to intervene.

Jesse Jackson and the national media are free to do whatever they want. Nevertheless, their intervention interferes with the decision of people who were elected to make those decisions. I would think that since the school board members were elected, and are not professional politicians or troublemakers, that they generally represent the will of the people in that school district. Their decisions then, should reflect the opinions of their constituency, not a nation of second-guessers. Or should they be held accountable to an entire nation?

Eventually, the school board in Decatur, IL, reconsidered its decision and assigned the students to one year at an "alternative school." That's a decision I think they could have reached on their own.

Energy reserves just keep expanding

by F.R. Duplantier
for Behind the Headlines

"Only a few years ago," recalls Robert Bradley of the Institute for Energy Research, "academics, businessmen, oilmen, and policymakers were almost uniformly of the opinion that the age of energy scarcity was upon us and that the depletion of fossil fuels was imminent. While some observers still cling to that view today, the intellectual tide has turned against doom and gloom on the energy front," Bradley declares. "Indeed, resource economists are almost uniformly of the opinion that fossil fuels will remain affordable in any reasonably foreseeable future."

In a policy report published by the Cato Institute, Bradley points out that the world's abundant reserves of oil, gas, and coal can be supplemented by "an array of unconventional fossil-fuel sources," the most promising of which, he contends, "is orimulsion, a tar-like substance that can be burned to make electricity or refined into petroleum." Bradley notes that Venezuela's orimulsion reserves are equivalent to 1.2 trillion barrels of oil, which "exceeds the world's known reserves of crude oil."

Bradley emphasizes that "technological breakthroughs commercializing the conversion of natural gas to synthetic oil products" could rival the impact of orimulsion exploitation. "The widespread adaptation of gas-to-oil technologies could commercialize up to 40 percent of the world's natural gas fields that hitherto have been uneconomic," he observes, adding that "tar sand, shale oil, and various replenishable crops also have great promise."

Bradley's summary of the good news of energy abundance is indeed cause for thanksgiving. "Despite a century of doom and gloom about the imminent depletion of fossil-fuel reserves, fossil-fuel availability has been increasing even in the face of record consumption," he reports. "World oil reserves today are more than 15 times greater than they were when record keeping began in 1948; world gas reserves are almost four times greater than they were 30 years ago; world coal reserves have risen 75 percent in the last 20 years." Bradley also points out that "advances in production technology are driving down the cost of finding oil" and that "the amount of energy needed to produce a unit of economic goods or services has been declining more or less steadily."

Of course, the greatest resource of all is people, and that's why population increase is to be celebrated, not lamented. Six billion people on the face of the earth? Hurray! Hallelujah! But that's six billion mouths to feed, the misanthropes moan. Yes, it is. But it's also six billion minds capable of discovering new resources and 12 billion hands to extract and refine them. The vast majority of people contribute far more to the world than they ever take away — and that's just in material terms. "Human ingenuity and financial wherewithal, two key ingredients in the supply brew, are not finite but expansive," Robert Bradley asserts, and he's right. The more people there are in the world, the more ingenuity and wherewithal there'll be to make all of our lives better. Be thankful for that. And do your part: Be fruitful and multiply.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

the illegal sale, possession, and use of such items to and by minors. It goes into effect January 1, 2000.

At the outset of the hearing, Commissioner Bob Carlson explained that the county was one of a dozen or so counties in the state that did not have an ordinance and were told to get it done. The state was in jeopardy of losing some funding if the county didn't approve a tobacco ordinance.

The ordinance defines tobacco and tobacco related products and products and sales included in the ordinance, sets forth conditions for licensure, compliance, violations, and penalties.

The ordinance states that from time to time, but at least once per year, the county shall conduct compliance checks.

Pennington County Solid Waste Officer Howard Person announced that the county had received a letter from SwisPennCo indicating that tipping fees at the solid waste processing facility would be going up to $61 per ton.

Person said he had a lot of concerns. Person said SwisPennCo is still trying to work out the penalty phase of some violations last year with the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency (MPCA). He doesn't know how long that will take, but that negotiations could be completed soon. Once that is completed, it is likely that the MPCA will ask the county board to sign off on a stipulation agreement that will allow SwisPennCo and the county to continue to operate. Person explained that SwisPennCo and Pennington County are joint permit holders. Person is asking the county board to consider separating its permit with SwisPennCo. Separating the permit, however, could cost the county as much as $100,000, but would put the county in a position to operate a transfer station if SwisPennCo failed. Another concern is the possibility that the tipping fee increase could mean that some of SwisPennCo's customers could go elsewhere. Under a contract with SwisPennCo the county is committed to ensuring that the company receives at least 8,000 tons of solid waste per year. County commissioners do not want to be in the solid waste business, and are very concerned about use of taxpayer dollars for solid waste.

No decisions were made regarding concerns expressed by Person.

Oklee cowboy tells stories in song

as his "home away from home."

Preferring what he calls the "old cowboy ways," Don claims that people in Montana are friendlier and have better manners. "They go out of their way to help you," he says. He even talks of writing a song about the difference between people here in Minnesota and those cowboy-type folks he fondly recalls. "It would give people around here a good blast," he says. "It (the song) wouldn't be very uplifting, but it's my duty."

Believing that he was probably the state's first disabled horseman, Don has a goal to get out of the wheelchair and back into the saddle. He's found a horse that he would like to buy and has friends who would provide a place for it to stay. "I could do it again!," Don declares when talking about riding a horse, and believing in the therapeutic qualities of horsemanship, he says, "A horse could help me."

Don believes that horses could help others, too, and he dreams of owning a ranch where people with disabilities and mental illnesses could come and stay, benefiting from the setting he would provide. He dreams of being wealthy and "away from welfare."

As he talks, Don weaves the dreams he has for the future into his numerous reminiscings of the past. The good times and bad times are recalled with amazing detail, and he can recall the events of a summer day in 1959 better than most of us can remember yesterday. Where those stories all put into book form, Don says that it would have to be called, "The Sorted History of Don Larson."

With more goals and dreams than most men one-third his age, Don sees his music as a vehicle that can make those dreams come true. He intends to write more songs and hopes to sell copies of the tapes which, recorded in 1992, were just produced last year.

Currently, Don lives in an apartment in Oklee where, surrounded by simple furnishings and cherished mementos, he dreams of escaping the confines of his wheelchair and getting back on a horse. He believes that a personal care attendant could help him realize that goal and argues with social workers about the cost of that type of care versus nursing home care.

Describing himself as a "rebel," Don fully has the capabilities of being a thorn in the side of anyone who tries to label him compartmentalize him.

He's much more than an adult with disabilities. Instead, he's the toddler who conducted music from his high chair. He's the youth who was encouraged to "go for it" at a school for crippled children in North Dakota. He's the young man who explored the fields and woods surrounding his rural home and found freedom and joy on the back of a horse. Don Larson is a man who has experienced all of life. He's known happiness and heartbreak.

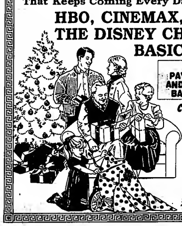
The tape with songs that tell some of the stories of his life is available for sale and can be purchased for $10 by contacting Don Larson at Route 1, Box 5, Oklee, MN 56750.

Eccentric is another word that Don uses to describe himself, and yes, he is out of the ordinary. Like each of us, he's as unique as the snowflake that falls softly from the heavens which sometimes blows and drifts around until it finds that comfortable place it will call home for the duration of its time on earth.

Crop disaster program announced

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced that farmers who have suffered severe crop losses due to natural disasters can begin to sign-up for cash grants starting December 13. To be eligible, farmers must have lost at least 35 percent of their 1999 crops because of natural disasters. The deadline to file applications is February 25, 2000.

"While the economy in general is doing very well, American farmers are still feeling the pressure of low prices, and, in many cases, the effects of natural disasters," said Glickman. "This assistance will help farmers hit by disaster survive until conditions improve."



The fiscal year 2000 agriculture appropriations act provided $1.2 billion for the Crop Disaster program. Eligible farmers will receive an advance payment equal to 35 percent of their projected total payment as soon as their application is approved. Participants will receive their final payment after all applications have been received and approved.

For additional information, farmers can contact their local USDA Service Center or the Farm Service Agency local office, usually listed in telephone directories under "U.S. Government, Department of Agriculture" or on the internet at www.usda.gov.

Area resident attends WTO meetings
Violent protests disrupt need to get message across

by David Hill
Editor

As Lori Bergland Olson of Thief River Falls looked down at the streets of Seattle, WA, Thursday morning all was quite. Gone were the protesters, the barricades and riot police. Nevertheless, Olson was worried that she wouldn't be able to attend meetings planned for that day because of the protests. During the time this interview was being conducted, however, the city of Seattle was still under a curfew and Olson was not leaving her motel room until after 7:30 a.m.

Olson has had a life-long interest in politics and is a member of the DFL party. Some may say she comes by it honestly. Her father is Phil Bergland.

Olson is married to Lyle Olson, Thief River Falls former and School Board 564 board member. Lori knows agriculture and has a keen interest in seeing that family farming remains a viable livelihood. Knowing that the WTO negotiations would be taking place this year, Olson organized a number of meetings to inform area residents of the impact of World Trade Organization (WTO) decisions have on family farming. During the last WTO negotiations in Geneva, Switzerland, Olson said the multinationals had the ear of trade representatives and they have little concern for the family farmer.

How is Northwest Minnesota affected by WTO negotiations and its decisions? Olson said the latest news is that "amber box items" — supposedly protected items such as transition payments or Loan Deficiency Payments — had been placed on the negotiating table. Olson said the U.S. negotiators appear to be ready to give those away, and farmers and the public have no say in the decision.

They talk about leveling the playing field by eliminating all subsidies, but Olson wonders why the United States has to be first. In conversations with foreign farmers, she learned that they thought U.S. farmers were trying to drag them down to their level, which is just the opposite from what U.S. farmers want.

Many European farmers receive subsidies and have a strong voice in their government. There has been a broad consensus among members of the WTO that Europe has to lower its agricultural subsidies.

The truth is, Olson said, is that U.S. farmers would rather be at their level.

Farmers all over the world are having similar difficulties. Olson said upon visiting with farmers from Mexico and Argentina and many other countries, she learned that family farmers are being forced off their land all over the Warm weather delivery?

Post office prepares for holiday season

It was December 1, and to his amazement, Kjell Melvie, United States Postal mail carrier, was delivering the mail in his short pants. It's not a typical December for Northwestern Minnesota.

On Wednesday, the temperature was roughly 20 degrees above the average temperature for this time of year. Throughout the month of November, the average temperature was about 10-degrees higher than the average.

Postal employees would like to remind residents that to ensure a timely delivery, mail their packages and letters early. The Postal office in Thief River Falls is sponsoring a Ship and Save Day which will take place on Thursday, December 9. On that day two postal employees will be in the lobby helping customers with packages. They will also be giving away padded bags and boxes. The post office will be open from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The post office is also reminding customers of extended hours. The post office will be open to 3 p.m. on Saturdays, December 11 and 18.

Veteran earns H.S. diploma the hard way

by Liz Ott
Reporter

Every weekday students across the country go to school. They read books, study maps and complete lab experiments as they work toward earning a high school diploma. For many it is a lot of hard work, but it does not compare to what Lealand Vettleson of Fosston did to earn his high school diploma.

Vettleson is a World War II veteran who graduated from Warroad High School in November 1999 at the age of 79. He earned the degree because of a government law which allows veterans to receive a high school diploma if they served overseas and spent at least four years in the service. He may not have hit the books and had lots of questions fired at him, but he did hit the beaches of the South Pacific and had live ammunition fired at him.

A kid from the sticks

At age 21, Vettleson was drafted into the United States Army before the U.S. had even declared war. At that time, Vettleson explained, you could not be drafted until you were 21.

He joined the Army October 7, 1941. He left his home and farm in Erie (near what is now Goodridge) and reported for duty at Fort Snelling.

"You're from the sticks," Army officials commented when he arrived for duty. Upon inspection of his hands, they also knew he was a dairy farmer.

Perhaps it was because of his experience with animals that he was assigned to a unit that trained and drove horses.

"Who knows if that's why. I didn't know why they did anything," said Vettleson.

After basic training, Vettleson was stationed in Fort Bragg, NC in a test outfit that trained officers on 20-ton guns and other heavy artillery. He recalls how the recoil on the big guns would take the hair off the gunners' legs.

In December of 1942, Vettleson arrived in Washington, D.C. While in Washington he was in the Show Battery that performed for the President and other important officials. He also guarded President Franklin Roosevelt many times at public appearances. The horses of the battery were kept in the same stables where First Lady Eleanor Roosevelt kept her riding horse. Vettleson met the First Lady and describes her as very intelligent and friendly.

Pacific D-Day

Vettleson describes January 9, 1943 as D-day in the Pacific. He ought to know because he was there. It took 21 days to travel 1,200 miles across the ocean to New Guinea. On January 9, they hit the beach at Luzon, the largest island in the Philippines. It took an hour to unload the guns and ammunition. The LSD came in on the tide, so it had to be unloaded before it could return to sea.

"Oh, it was rough going," Vettleson recalls. The Japanese shelled the U.S. troops from 11 p.m. until 4 a.m. that first night.

"The next day we laid a barrage," said Vettleson.

Vettleson was a sergeant in charge of 12 men.

"They were replaced when we lost one...You kind of got used to that."

He said he was glad the war ended when it did. "Because once we got to Japan, we were told to kill everyone."

Vettleson said he does not blame the people of Japan today for what happened during the war, but he knew back then: It was kill or be killed.

"We realized we had to fight for our country."

Vettleson earned three battle

This certificate dated July 15, 1942 was given to Lealand Vettleson from the city of Thief River Falls. It is signed by the mayor and bears the names of the city councilors. It states, "This community takes personal pride in the knowledge that your efforts and sacrifices will prove to be a vital factor in our inevitable victory." Vettleson was drafted shortly before the United States joined World War II. He received his high school diploma last month from Warroad High School.

LHS Choir presents "Spirit of the Season"

The Lincoln High School choirs, under the direction of Darcy Reese, will present their first concert of the school year Monday, December 6 at 7:30 in the high school auditorium. The concert is entitled "Spirit of the Season" and getting people into the spirit of the season is just what the singers intend to do through song.

As visitors enter the school they will be greeted by Lincoln High School Carolers dressed in authentic Christmas colors and fashioned in the traditional caroler outfits. Miriah Johnson, Marnie Schafer, Alicia Vigness, JoAnna Swantek, Jennifer Halvorson, and Sarah Hultgren have 20 Christmas carols to share with all listeners. Visitors will hear familiar carols and some new ones too!

The auditorium will be decorated in reds and whites and lots of lights. The 75 beautiful poinsettias from Bergens nursery in Detroit Lakes will be sold after the concert. The sale of these poinsettias was made possible by a joint effort between the Lincoln High School Choir Boosters and Kmart. Many of the poinsettias have already been pre-sold, but those left after the concert will be sold. The plants are ... [illegible] ... and the money raised form the sale of the plants will go to help defray the cost of the choir's performance tour in New York City in April. Compact discs of "Tour 1998" will also be on sale before and after the concert for $10. The disc features the best selections from Concert Choir during the 1998 school year including selections from the New York City Tour.

The Swingsations and Cool Jazz will bring you back to sounds of the 30's and 40's with selections like Masquerade", "In the Wee Small Hours," and "Take the A Train". A great arrangement of "Kansas City" will also be one of the featured pieces. David Christensen and Rachel Mathson will be featured in two of the pieces along with Brenda Hanson ... [illegible] Stenseth on drums, and Josh Lampe on bass.

Choraliers will be performing three pieces featuring David Edwards as tenor soloist, Cathy Hagen on Piano, and Marisa Hanson on flute. Brenda Hanson joins Cathy Hagen on the piano for

Thank You

I would like to express my thanks to everyone who has helped me to get through the past few months while I was in a coma and hospitalized at Dakota Heartland in Fargo, and now as I recover back at home in Middle River.

Special Thanks to Pastors John and Mary Jorgensen and Pastor Paul Knutson for their visits and words of encouragement, and to all my family and friends who have been there for me with visits, cards, phone calls and prayers.

Also I want to thank all of the area churches that have had me on their prayer lists. Every prayer was truly appreciated. It's the power of prayer that is getting me through this challenge.

"God Bless You All For Your Kindness!"

Let's start thinking about Christmas baking early this year. Even if you don't want to begin baking yet, keep some of these delicious recipes in mind.

Here's a tasty, rich-tasting bar recipe that keeps well for holiday treating:

PECAN DATE BARS

Crust:
1/3 cup cold butter
1 package white cake mix
1 egg

Topping:
1 (8 ounce) package chopped dates
1 1/4 cups chopped pecans
1 cup water
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Powdered sugar

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 9x13 inch pan.

For crust, cut butter into cake mix with pastry blender until mixture is crumbly. Add egg and stir well. Mixture will be crumbly. Pat into bottom of prepared pan.

For topping, combine dates, pecans and water in saucepan. Bring to a boil, reduce heat ond simmer until mixture thickens, stirring constantly.

Remove from heat. Stir in vanilla.

Spread mixture over crust. Bake 25 to 30 minutes. Cool completely in pan on wire rack. Dust with confectioner's sugar when completely cool. Makes 32 bars.

Make these cookies for that cookie exchange or to take to work for a Christmas treat – the recipe makes about 8 dozen cookies:

SOUR CREAM MINT CHOCOLATE COOKIES

1 cup butter, softened
2 cups sugar
2 eggs
1 cup melted semisweet chocolate chips
1 cup sour cream
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
2 teaspoons soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
4 cups flour
Creamy Mint Frosting (below)
1/2 cup crushed candy canes

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. In large mixer bowl, cream butter and sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, 1 at a time, beating well after each.

Add chocolate, sour cream and vanilla. Mix well.

Combine dry ingredients in large bowl. Mix well. Add dry ingredients to chocolate mixture and mix until thoroughly combined.

Drop rounded teospoonfuls of dough 2 inches opart onto cookie sheets. Bake 10-12 minutes or until top of cookie springs back when touched lightly.

Remove cookies to cooling racks and cool completely. Frost with Creamy Mint Frosting and sprinkle with crushed candy canes.

Creamy Mint Frosting
2 sticks (1 cup) butter, softened
4 cups powdered sugar
1 tablespoon milk
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon mint extract

In small mixer bowl, mix butter, powdered sugar, milk, vanilla and mint extract until fluffy.

Wrap this wonderful white fudge in plastic wrap and trim with little bows for a pretty and delicious presentation on a cookie tray:

EGGNOG GIFT FUDGE

3/4 cup prepared eggnog
2 tablespoons white corn syrup
2 tablespoons butter
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Butter a 9x9 inch pan. Lightly butter the inside of a heavy saucepan.

Combine eggnog, corn syrup, butter and sugar in the prepared saucepan. Wash down side of pan with pastry brush dipped in woter frequently to remove sugar crystals.

Cook to 238 degrees on candy thermometer (soft ball stage). Pour into large heatproof bowl and cool to lukewarm (110 degrees). Add vanilla and beat with electric mixer until thick. Spread in prepared pan.

Cut into 36 squares and refrigerate until firm.

Just melt the ingredients for this wonderful fudge – no cooking – recipe makes 2 pounds

GERMAN CHOCOLATE NO-COOK FUDGE

3 (4 ounces each) packages German sweet chocolate, broken into pieces
1 (6 ounce) cup semisweet chocolate chips
1 (14 ounce) can sweetened condensed milk
1 cup chopped pecans
2 teaspoons vanilla
36 pecan halves for top (optional)

Butter 8 inch square pan. Set aside.

Melt German chocolate ond chocolate chips in heovy, small saucepan over very low heat, stirring constantly. Remove from heat.

Stir in condensed milk, chopped pecans and vanilla until combined. Spread in prepared pan and arrange pecan halves on fudge. Score fudge into squares with knife and refrigerate until firm.

Store in refrigerator and bring to room temperature before serving.

Cut these rich bars very small because nobody can eat just one:

NUTTY CARAMEL BARS

1 1/2 cups butter, divided
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 egg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 egg
2 cups flour
1/4 cup honey
3/4 cup packed light brown sugar
1/4 cup heavy (whipping) cream
1 (12 ounce) can lightly salted mixed whole nuts (check contents to make sure they do not have onion or other unusual flavoring on them)

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Butter a 9x13 inch pan and set aside.

In large mixer bowl, beat 1 cup of the butter with sugar until light and fluffy. Beat in egg and vanilla.

Stir in flour until well mixed and press into prepared pan. Bake until edges are brown and center looks dry; about 15 minutes. Remove to wire rack while preparing topping. Do not turn off oven.

In heavy medium soucepan heat remaining 1/2 cup butter with honey until butter is melted. Stir in brown sugar and bring to a boil. Boil without stirring for exactly 2 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in cream and nuts.

Immediately spoon caramel nut mixture evenly over crust. Bake until caramel bubbles, about 10 minutes. Cool completely on wire rack. Cut in 2 inch squares and store in tightly covered container at room temperature.

These lovely little "baskets" hold your favorite fruit preserves – beautiful to look at and wonderful to eat – they'll become a Christmas tradition:

GOLDEN KOLACKY

1 cup butter, softened
4 ounces cream cheese, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
Fruit preserves (raspberry and opricot make the cookies look like jewels)

Combine butter and cream cheese in large bowl. Beat smooth and creamy. Blend in vanilla. Combine flour and salt and gradually add to butter mixture, blending until mixture forms soft dough.

Divide dough in half and wrap each half in plastic wrap. Refrigerate until firm.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Roll out dough, one package at a time, on sugared surface, to 1/8 inch thickness. Cut into 3 inch squares.

Spoon 1 teaspoon preserves in center of each square. Bring up two opposite corners to center and pinch together to seal. Fold sealed tip to ona side and pinch to seal. Place 1 inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets.

Bake 10-15 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool completely on wire racks. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Not so a bountiful harvest, but Thanksgiving still affordable

American Farm Bureau Federation's annual survey of the price of basic items found on American's dinner table on Thanksgiving Day shows an average cost of this year's traditional holiday feast for 10 at $33.83, a modest 74-cent increase from last year's $33.09 average.

Of the items on the AFBF survey, nine increased in price. A 16-pound turkey represents the largest increase, jumping 52 cents to $14.23, or 89 cents per pound. That breaks down to a 3-cent increase per pound.

Other increases on the survey include: a gallon of whole milk, $2.95, up 32 cents; a 16-ounce package of peas, $1.13, up 8 cents; a pound of sweet potatoes, $2.17, up 7 cents; a combined pound of celery and carrots, 80 cents, up 6 cents; a package of two nine-inch pie shells, $1.42, up 5 cents; a half-pint carton of whipping cream, $1.15, up 5 cents; and a 30-ounce can of pumpkin pie mix, $1.61, up 3 cents.

There were some decreases. A 12-ounce package of cranberries experienced the largest decrease, dropping 30 cents to $1.70. Other decreases include: 14-ounce package of stuffing mix, $2.30, down 6 cents; and a 12-ounce package of brown-and-serve rolls, $1.37, down 5 cents.

A combined group of miscellaneous items, including coffee and ingredients necessary to prepare the meal (onions, eggs, sugar, flour, evaporated milk and butter) cost $3, a 4-cent drop from last year's figure.

The overall survey price has increased eight consecutive years, but this year's average is only $5.09 higher than the inaugural 1986 survey price of $28.74.

The Farm Bureau survey is unscientific, but prices reflect actual trends across the nation. One hundred thirteen shoppers from 28 states participated in this year's Thanksgiving dinner price survey. The results are based on the best in-store price, excluding special coupon deals and purchase requirements. The survey menu has remained constant since 1986 to allow for valid price comparisons.

The AFBF encourages farmers to take pride in knowing that the annual feast continues to be affordable. The fact that the Thanksgiving Day meal remains affordable to Americans is little consolation to the farmer struggling to purchase that same meal when commodity prices are down. It's more than ironic that the people who produce much of the commodities needed to make the meals, are among the least able to afford the meals. It's shameful.

"Light up a Life" celebration Sun.

Riverview Community Hospital and the Auxiliary of Villa St. Vincent will sponsor the "Light Up a Life" tree celebration on Sunday, December 5 at 5 p.m. at Villa St. Vincent in Crookston.

The "Light Up a Life" celebration will continue with an afternoon concert on Sunday, December 12 Cathedral of Immaculate Conception. The 4 p.m. concert will feature a combined belle chorale and combined choirs of children and adults.

"Music of Christmas" Dec. 12 in Fertile

The 12th annual "Music of Christmas," sponsored by the Fertile Area Arts Council, will be held on Sunday, December 12 at 4 p.m. at Concordia Lutheran Church in Fertile.

Highlighting this year's concert will be a community choir presenting the cantata, "The Glory of the Lord," along with instrumental solos, duets and ensembles. With its wide variety of holiday music, the cantata will appear to all musical tastes.

Admission will be by free-will at the door.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

Recently 64 office and technical employees of Dakota Clinic, Thief River Falls, petitioned to become represented and unionized by the union of OPEIU. A vote by those same employees was held on Tuesday, November 23, 1999, and was voted down by a vote of 27 in favor and 54 not in favor of representation, therefore putting the ball back into the administration's court.

The reason for my letter at this time is to express my sincere appreciation to those employees who took time out of their busy schedules recently to attend many meetings from both sides of the table to become as informed about this very important decision as they could. I would also like to express how impressed I was with the way most employees handled themselves throughout this extremely intense time and procedure. Today it is even more clear to me that there are some very dedicated and caring people working behind the scenes in that facility who often go unheard from. These are people who truly care about not just the patient who walks through the door on a daily basis, but the fellow employees who work beside them as well. Throughout the entire process, the employees stood behind and have not altered their vision and reason for the petition and [illegible] once again to administration in Thief River Falls and in Fargo.

In closing, I would like to suggest the following: Employees be proud of who you are and know that you have impacted the work place, and remember even without a union you can still be heard. Dakota Clinic, I would suggest you not forget what has just happened. Do not punish your employees for voicing their opinion, but take note of the leaders you have. Employees have shown you they have concerns and have once again placed their trust in you to follow through with recent promises. Don't Let Them Down!

Sincerely,
Terence D. BlackLance
(friend, husband, and patient)

Ashley Hammer performs Christmas recital December 12

Ashley Hammer

Ashley Hammer will be presenting a Christmas recital on Sunday, December 12, at 1 p.m. at Zion Lutheran Church, Thief River Falls. A variety of musical repertoire will be performed, including Italian and Latin literature, Classical Sacred, Broadway/Showtunes, and Christmas literature.

Karen Christensen will be featured with Ashley on two numbers as well. Ashley is the daughter of Lynn and Carol Hammer of Thief River Falls. She attends Lincoln High School where she is actively involved in Concert Choir and Swingsations. Her credits include her delightful portrayal of "Patti" in Lincoln High's production of "Grease", as a Lincoln High School carolet, a representative of the All-State Lutheran Choir, and as a chorus member in the Thief River Falls Community Arts Council production of "The Music Man."

Ashley has been receiving vocal training for the past three years from Diane Johnson. This recital is the result of a grant issued from the Northwest Regional Development Commission — The McKnight Foundation. The public is invited to attend.

Outdoor choral concert, drawing held December 10

Participating Thief River Falls merchants are currently taking registrations for the $500 Holiday Shopping spree that will be drawn for during the Outdoor Choral Concert on Friday, December 10. Individuals must be present to win.

Individuals are invited to take in all the great outdoor events on LaBree Avenue in front of Kezar Music from 5 to 8 p.m. Shoppers may listen to Christmas carols provided by area choirs including the Lincoln high School Concert Choir and Franklin Middle School Choir. Miss Thief River Falls, Katie Christensen, will also be singing various Christmas selections. Shoppers are encouraged to visit the downtown merchants during the musical intermissions for hot cider or hot chocolate.

The grand finale will be the drawing for the $500 shopping spree at 7:45 p.m. Shoppers are reminded that they must be present to win.

Shoppers may register at the following participating Thief River Falls businesses: Ace Hardware, Annettes Fabrics, Chapter 2 Books and Gifts, Falls Liquor, Hall's Floral, Inc., Hardware Hank, Kezar Music, Kmart, Lori's Hallmark, Paint and Glass Interiors, Popplers Furniture, Purdy's Shoes, Randle's Ben Franklin, Scandia House, and Thrifty White Drug.

For more information contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720.

Jam session Dec. 5 in Fosston

The monthly country music jam session will be held on Sunday, December 5 beginning at 1 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

Following an afternoon of listening to individuals and small groups, a potluck supper will be served at 5 p.m., and a jam session will take place in the evening. Spectators are welcome.

Rams skate by Prowlers 7-1

Forty seconds into the game a picture-perfect scoring play gave Thief River Falls a 1-0 lead over defending Class AA state champion Roseau in the 1999-2000 boys high school hockey opener for both teams. But that was the Prowlers' only contribution to the highlight film in a 7-1 loss at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

The early deficit didn't bother the Rams, who out-shot the Prowlers 11-2 en route to a 5-1 first period lead. The shot differential was 27-7 and the scoreboard spread was 6-1 after 30 minutes.

With defense and goaltending listed as the Prowlers' strong points this winter, those numbers didn't make Thief River Falls coach Scott Berglund a very happy camper. "Our goaltending left a lot to be desired," he said. "If Mike Dowers is on, it's a 2-1 game."

Dowers, an All-Section 8A pick a year ago, didn't get a whole lot of help, either, as the Prowlers allowed the Rams to skate virtually untouched through the Thief River Falls zone. "We didn't move our feet," pointed out Bergland. "After we gave up the second goal, we stood around the next eight minutes."

Thief River Falls started the season with a bang when defenseman Casey Enge steered a nice 2-on-1 goal mouth feed from Brady Anderson past all-state goalie Jake Brandt in the first minute of play.

It was a lead that lasted until 5:15 when sustained Roseau pressure eventually led to a goal by Joe Adams, who took a centering pass in the slot and quickly converted it into a 1-1 tie.

David Klenta beat a screened Dowers with a wrist shot from the top of the slot at 9:14 to put Roseau up 2-1.

The Rams put it away by scoring three goals in a 2:53 span late in the first period. Luke Erikson jumped on a loose puck, spun and scored from the face-off circle to the left of Dowers at 12:44, while Erik Fabian and Klema were given touch-free access through the offensive zone for goals at 13:22 and 14:37, respectively. Klema's second goal of the period came on a power play.

Casey Thompson squeezed the puck through the short side while stationed at the edge of the crease at 3:34 of the second period and Ryan Fevold flashed a nifty move on the end of a Roseau rush at 1:47 of the third period to kick in running time.

"You take away the first period and it's not too bad of a game," said Bergland. "We'll get better."

The Prowlers play their next three games on the road – at Warroad Tuesday, followed by a Twin Cities trip for games at Blake Friday and St. Paul Johnson Saturday (Dec. 10-11).

Scoring

First period - TRF, Casey Enge (Brady Anderson), :49, Roseau, Joe Adams (Ross Miller-Bobby John Byfuglien), 5:15 Roseau, David Klema (Luka Erickson), 9:14, Roseau, Erickson (Klama-Josh Grahn), 12:44, Roseau, Erik Fabian (Erickson-Klama), 13:22, Roseau, Klema (Miller-Grahn), 14:37.

Second period - Roseau, Casey Thompson (Adams), 3:34.

Third period - Roseau, Ryan Fevold (Byfuglien-Paul Hokanson), 1:47.

Goalie saves - TRF, Mike Dowers 10-11-9, John Sylvester x-x-1, TRF game total 30, Roseau, Jake Brandt 1-5-5–11.

Boys, girls high school basketball...

LHS, NCTC tournaments are set

Pairings have been set for three upcoming eight-team high school basketball tournaments in Thief River Falls.

Things start with the ninth annual Northland Community and Technical College-KTRF-Pepsi Invitational boys tournament Dec. 7, 10 and 11. Tuesday quarterfinals will be followed by a schedule break before the semifinals are played Friday and the finals on Saturday.

Area boys teams heading to Northland for the event include Bug-O-Nay-Ge-Shig, Red Lake Falls, Kittson County North, Climax/Fisher, East Grand Forks Sacred Heart, Goodridge, Red Lake County Central, and Grygla-Gatzke.

The fifth annual Northland Community and Technical College-KTRF-Pepsi Invitational girls tournament will be played Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, Dec. 14, 16 and 17.

Girls teams scheduled to appear at Northland include Marshall County Central, Kittson County North, Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, Red Lake County Central, Stephen-Argyle, Tri-County, and Thief River Falls.

At Lincoln High School, the 17th annual boys Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic will take place Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Dec. 28, 29 and 30. That is a slight change in the original tournament dates.

The Russ Smith field will include Fertile-Beltrami, Marshall County Central, Kittson Central, Stephen-Argyle, Clearbrook-Gonvick, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River, Tri-County, and Thief River Falls.

Elks Hoop Shoot to be conducted on Sunday in Lincoln gymnasium

Thief River Falls' 28th annual Elks Hoop Shoot Contest city championships will be held at 1:30 p.m. Sunday, Dec. 5, in the Lincoln High School gym.

The event, designed for boys and girls ages 8-13, features winners from competition at Franklin Middle School, Challenger Elementary School, St. Bernard's, and Our Saviours Christian Academy.

Contest officials invite the public to watch the competition.

Six city champions will move into the area finals, scheduled to begin at 3 p.m. at the same site the same day.

Over 3 million youth throughout the country participated in last year's Elks Hoop Shoot. Competition is held for boys and girls in three age groups: 8-9, 10-11 and 12-13. Each contestant receives 25 shots. Best scores move through four tiers of competition to qualify for the national finals.

TRF girls begin year with 55-43 win over W-A-O

Thief River Falls turned a 25-23 halftime deficit into a 43-33 third quarter lead and went on to beat host Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 55-43 Tuesday in girls high school basketball.

The Prowlers jumped out to a 16-7 first quarter lead, but ran into second quarter foul trouble in the 1999-2000 season opener for both teams.

"All things considered, I was pleased with the performance," said Thief River Falls coach Jeff Loe.

Center Sara Jensen scored 16 points and guard Chelsea Haviland had 12 for the Prowlers, who shot 45 percent from the field (21/47), made 12 of 18 free throw attempts and finished with a 33-29 rebound edge.

The Ponies' offense featured Patti Meyer with a game-high 19 points, including a 10-for-10 showing at the free throw line, and Lisa Amundgaard with 10 points. Warren-Alvarado-Oslo shot just 28 percent from the floor (14/50) and behind Meyer, had a 12-for-17 free throw night.

Both sides had some first-game turnover problems, with the Prowlers losing the ball 26 times and the Ponies 22.

Wolverines victim of Nordics' experience

A veteran Marshall County Central team had a big edge over an inexperienced Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke squad Tuesday in the 1999-2000 girls high school basketball season opener for both teams. The Nordics' seasoned line-up collected a one-sided 66-36 over the Wolverines in a game played at Goodridge.

"We played pretty well," said Marshall County Central coach Alice Dahl. Her team lost just two seniors off a squad that went 9-15, but will have to go without starting point guard Alicia Halvorson. The sophomore floor leader was lost for the season due to an injury suffered in the Section 8A volleyball tournament. "Losing Alicia hurts," noted Dahl. "I think we'll be all right, but I don't like to make predictions. We'll just take it one game at a time."

Kayla Gast is filling the gap at point guard, and Tiffany Bring went 4-for-5 from three-point range in a 14-point game at the other backcourt spot.

"Our guards played well," mentioned Dahl, whose team was led by Tera Davidson's 18 points. Kristi Kilen, the other part of the potent front line duo, wound up with 8.

Meanwhile, Justin Lunsetter takes over a Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke program that has just one returning regular – senior DaNae Wiseth, a senior who wasn't part of the box score in the opener. Natalee Holte and Anna Anderson, who scored a team-high 16 points in the opener, played varsity ball as freshmen last winter.

"We have a real young team," pointed out Lunsetter, who served as an assistant coach under Mike Gast the past four years. Gast stepped down at the close of the 1998-99 season that ended at 10-13. "That's not the way I hoped we would start," offered Lunsetter."

Marshall County Central, ahead at the quarter stops 14-9, 33-15 and 52-26, was 26-for-55 from the field (47 percent) and made 9 of 15 free throw attempts. Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke struggled through a 13-for-48 shooting performance (27 percent) and went 7-for-12 at the line. The Wolverines were out-rebounded 30-21 and they topped the turnover charts 27-20.

Red Lake Co. Central girls basketball...

29-point win starts Mustangs' season

A strong Red Lake County Central defense shut down the Tri-County offense Tuesday as the Mustangs beat the Wildcats 56-27 in girls high school basketball at Karlstad. It was the 1999-2000 season opener for both teams.

Defensively we played well," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Nikunen. "We had a hand in their face most of the night."

The Mustangs built quarter leads of 10-2, 19-11 and 35-16.

Tracy Rosten had an 11-point, 9-rebound game for the winners. The numbers were reversed for teammate Heather Schiefert, who scored 9 points and pulled down 11 rebounds. Sylvia Hilgeman matched Rosten's 11-point scoring total. Afton Hanson of Tri-County led all scorers with 16 points. She picked up seven of those in the final quarter.

Red Lake County Central returns a veteran line-up from a team that went 18-6 a year ago. "We've got eight seniors – the most we've ever had," noted Koivisto, "and they'll all play."

The Mustangs are strong inside with the 5-11 Schiefert and 5-10 Rosten, but that doesn't translate into a half-court game, according to Koivisto, who said, "We'll try to run, again, if we can."

Tuesday, Red Lake County Central was 22-for-57 from the field (39 percent); 10-for-16 at the free throw line; and came out a 40-24 winner on the boards. Tri-County struggled with 10-for-50 shooting from the floor (20 percent) and had a 6-for-16 showing at the line.

"We hope to be in every game," mentioned Koivisto.

Third period goals lift TRF JV by Roseau 4-1

Thief River Falls scored three third-period goals, two of them coming in the final 1:33 of the game, to shatter a 1-1 tie and beat Roseau 4-1 in season-opening boys junior varsity high school hockey Tuesday.

Robby Anderson scored a pair of goals, while Dane Kjono and Bailey Nordin both scored once for the winners.

Ben Owen made 19 saves for the Prowlers, who put 28 shots on the Rams' net.

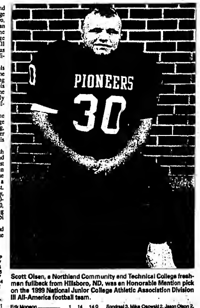
Olsen is on All-America list

■ Northland fullball earns national honors

Scott Olsen, a Northland Community and Technical College freshman fullback from Hillsboro, ND, has been been listed as an Honorable Mention selection on the 1999 National Junior College Athletic Association Division III All-America football team, it was announced this week by school officials.



Olsen rushed for 1412 yards this fall, averaging 156.9 yards per game and 6.4 yards per carry. His rushing total ranked third in the nation; his yards per game ranked No. 2 on the national chart. He was the only freshman runningback on the All-America squad.

Behind Olsen, who led the Minnesota Community College Conference in rushing and scoring, the 6-3 Pioneers won their first-ever outright Northern Division title this fall.

Northland started the season with wins over Central Lakes 28-26 and Fergus Falls 16-8. The Pioneers lost to Ridgewater 31-7 in Week 3, then completed its swing through the MCCC Southern Division with a 21-14 victory over Minnesota West.

In Northern Division play, Northland out-scored Hibbing 50-43, then lost to Vermilion 30-20, before finishing with title-clinching wins over Itasca 21-7 and Mesabi Range 24-16.

Ridgewater ended the Northland season with a 19-9 decision in the MCCC state playoff semifinals.

Scott Olsen, a Northland Community and Technical College freshmen fullback from Hillsboro, ND, was an Honorable Mention pick on the 1999 National Junior College Athletic Association Division III All-America football team.

TRF program makes progress

■ High school wrestling team is improved

There should be more wins this winter, but Thief River Falls will still have trouble with the stronger programs during the 1999-2000 high school wrestling season, according to head coach Rick Yanke.

"We had three wins last year (3-16 dual record)," pointed out Yanke. "If everything goes right, I think we can win eight matches this year. We're on the right track, but I think we'll need another year before we're able to wrestle with the really good teams."

The Prowlers had just one senior on the team last year, and have just one again this season – Juston Anderson.

"Our numbers are up a little bit, but we're still young," noted Yanke. "We'll start the year with some open spots because of injuries, but by Dec. 10, we should have all the spots filled."

Returning letermen include juniors Mike Hagen, Jeremy Lian, Josh Mattison, and Carson Comstock; sophomores Beau Abrahamson, Jon Swanson, and Philip Hermanson; along with freshmen Chris Lian, Jeremy Anderson, Ryan Poissant, and Davin Martell.

Anderson (112 pounds), Abrahamson (125), Swanson (152), and Jeremy Lian (heavyweight) are expected to be the Prowlers' leaders this year. Swanson was the Thief River Falls MVP a year ago; Abrahamson led the team in takedowns, and Anderson recorded the most pins.

"Those guys had some success last year, and they've worked hard over the summer," explained Yanke. "They're showing good leadership."

Rest of the wrestlers reporting for the start of drills include juniors Josh Horn and Mike Bauer; freshmen Darrin Momerak and Mike Strutz; eighth graders Colt Bergeron, Ryan Mattison, Chris Bergeron, Dan Christianson, and Ben Lofgren; seventh graders Josh Heverland, Adam Lian, Ben Poissant, Parker Comstock, and Ryan Lee; plus sixth graders Mike Mattison, Dain Roadfeldt, Justin Brooks, Cory Jnnes, Mancy Peralta, Daniel LeDuc, Stephen Horn, and Derek Mosloff.

The Prowlers start the year by participating in the Wadena-Deer Creek Invitational today (Saturday).

Gators have a history of success

■ B/G-MR girls face challenge in 1999-2000

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River girls high school basketball coach Tom Neibauer says his program is again in the Rodney Dangerfield mode – as in not getting any respect. Despite averaging 17 wins a season since the cooperative was initiated eight years ago, the Gators rarely receive pre-season recognition when the favorites are picked.

"We're always competitive, but nobody ever really gives us a chance," said Neibauer. "But that's okay. We don't have a lot of all-state type players. We just have to play a better game than the teams who have more talent than we do. It's always a team effort for us."

This year the Gators do face a challenge to match last year's 19-5 team that lost four key seniors to graduation, including the entire front line.

"We've had good post play in the past, but we graduated all three kids last year," pointed out Neibauer, who still has some size to work with, although it's an unproven commodity.

Alison Holmes, a 5-9 senior who averaged just 4 points per game a year ago, is the top returning scorer. Other seniors on band include 5-3 Tara Severts, 6-0 Allison Johnson, 5-10 Trudy Klegstad, 5-10 Larissa Holm, and 5-8 Tara Schenkey.

With little offense returning, points may be a little harder to come by this year. That will put more emphasis on the Gators' pesky full court pressure defense. "We'll always press," promised Neibauer, who isn't selling this team short. "We're never picked to finish very high, but we seem to win more than we lose," he said.

Area residents are not used to seeing ice jams on the Red Lake River in December, but given the unusual weather this year, residents should be prepared to expect the unusual. Pennington County Law Sheriff's department has not received any reports of residents having to leave homes because of the flooding, and at this time, have not had to take any official action. Locally, the water levels at the reservoir dam have been lowered in an attempt to break the jam. This photo was taken Tuesday afternoon, November 30.

Santa Lucia Festival Dec. 11 in Crookston

Winter darkness comes to light when Santa Lucia and her court light-up the Santa Lucia Festival at Trinity Lutheran Church, 205 South Broadway in Crookston, on Saturday, December 11, at 2 p.m.

Santa Lucia, Sarah Westhed, daughter of Mark and Elizabeth Westhed of Fertile, and her attendants, dressed in white and carrying candles will enter to the song "Santa Lucia".

The celebration focuses on the folk legend of St. Lucia of Sicily, arriving in Sweden at the time of a famine, providing gifts and food. She was seen with a crown of light around her head, a symbol of light and hope.

The program will be filled with Swedish-American Christmas music. Highlights of the program will include vocalists, a men's chorus, UMC choir, instrumentalists playing.

Agassiz Swedish Heritage Society welcomes everyone to this joyous celebration.

There are many legends surrounding St. Lucia, one being that she was martyred for her Christian faith. In Sicily, so the story has it, there was a young woman who gave her dowry away to the poor and confessed herself a Christian. For this she was accused of witchcraft and put to death. Another legend tells of a famine in medieval days. As a glowing figure dressed in white, Saint Lucia came across a lake in the province of Varmland, Sweden. She brought gifts of food to the starving people. The legends may vary, but Lucia shines as a symbol of light and hope in all of them.

In Sweden, St. Lucia Day comes on December 13 and initiates the Christmas season. It is joyously celebrated early in the morning. Nearly all offices and schools and community groups in Sweden have selected a Lucia. Lucia dresses in a white gown with a red sash and wears a crown of lighted candles.

The Goodridge Area Historical Society, Inc. will sponsor an open house at the Brown House on Dec. 9, 10 and 11. On Thurs., Dec. 9, children and faculty from Goodridge School will tour the home between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m. The house will be open to the general public on Fri., Dec. 10 from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and on Sat., Dec. 11 from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. The house will be decorated for Christmas with a main floor Victorian tree and an upstairs tree decorated with ornaments depicting old toys made by Goodridge School third graders. A story about the Brown House and Goodridge Area Historical Society, Inc. will appear in the December 8 edition of The Times.

Sunflower seed sacking, potluck at sanctuary

Wetlands, Pines and Prairie Audubon Sanctuary, located five miles east and three miles south of Warren, will sponsor a sunflower seed sacking and potluck on Saturday, December 4, from 11 a.m. until 3 p.m.

The sacking will begin at 11 a.m. in the morning and continue until 3 p.m. in the afternoon. The potluck supper will start at approximately 3:10 p.m.

Visitors are encouraged to come early and hike through the sanctuary and then help with the sacking, or to just come for lunch. This event is open to Audubon members and the public.

FANS add two races to 2000 race schedule

F.A.N.S. (First American North Star) racing series has added two additions to their race schedule for the 2000 season.

F.A.N.S. and PowerMadd Motorsports has announced that the Albertville Lake Race will be back and better than ever this season. The race, scheduled for January 8 and 9, 2000, will take place on the same lake that the old ISOC Albertville race was on — but this year, the hosts will present a guaranteed purse of $10,000 plus the FANS 70 percent payback, which should make the total purse worth over $25,000.

F.A.N.S. has also secured a "new" race which will be held in Watertown, SD. The Dakota Sioux Casino will be working with F.A.N.S. to host the Sioux 200 on February 19 and 20. This race will be a true cross-country with snocross dash to be run after the cross-country portion each day (similar to the Ironman 250 which will again be held in Thief River Falls, on January 22 and 23). The Dakota Sioux Casino will add a $10,000 guaranteed purse to F.A.N.S. 70 percent payback which could also make this race total purse worth over $25,000.

F.A.N.S. owners and officials had a "fabulous" first year out and are looking to make their second season even more rewarding than last season. Along with their dedicated sponsors from last season: Dayco Belts, Christian Motors, Woody's, Team Fast/Injex Oil, Roetin Industries, Orion Industries, Carver Performance/Fox Shocks, Energy Release products, and Bristow's Polaris. F.A.N.S. has added several new sponsors to their team: Rydo Fx, Amoco, Universal Screenprint, Featherlite Trailers, Stud Boy, Tekrider Safety Vests, RV Sports, Tony Dorn Inc., and the Messenger of Stephen. With these sponsors, a wonderful crew of officials returning from last season and the addition of Tom Lawrence as the new F.A.N.S. race director, the First American North Star Series is well on its way to another successful year.

Firewood cutting permits available at Agassiz refuge

Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge is issuing wood-cutting permits valid from now through the 1999-2000 winter season. Woodcutting is used as a management tool to promote habitat diversity and in some areas to enhance oak-ash-elm tree growth on the refuge.

A refuge map shows the designated cutting area and a list of permit conditions are available at the refuge office. Wood cutters are requested to cut all standing live and dead aspen, balsam poplar, and willow. All other dead or live standing tree species are not authorized to be cut and removed for firewood. The refuge road and access areas to the wood cutting area usually are not snow-plowed, making access to the area difficult and at most times, impossible. Permittees need to check with refuge personnel if and when the roads and access areas may be snow-plowed. Wet conditions may prevent access to the area until freeze-up.

Wood cutting and hauling are permitted during daylight hours. The permittee must be present during any wood cutting or hauling activity and have in possession the wood cutting permit. Helpers are allowed and encouraged for safety purposes. Only the assigned entry/exit roads may be traveled when utilizing the refuge to cut wood. Firearms, bow and arrows, alcoholic beverages or any other illegal items are not permitted. There is a 10-cord limit for each permittee. Items are not permitted. There is a 10-cord limit for each permittee. Wood is for personal use only. Cost of the permit is $25.

Interested persons may contact Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge at 218-449-4115, extension 214 or stop at refuge headquarters located 11 miles east of Holt on Marshall County road 7. Inspection hours are Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., excluding holidays.

Lincoln High School choir was rehearsing recently for their concert entitled "Spirit of the Season," which will be held 7:30 p.m., Monday, December 6, in the Lincoln High School auditorium. The students are under the direction of Darcy Reese.

LHS Choir presents concert

a four hand Choralier finale. These 27 9th graders have been working very hard since the beginning of the year and are anxious for everyone to hear their new sound.

Varsity Singers have five selections to share with the audience. They have two Christmas favorites entitled "Carol of the Bells" and "Shepherds Awake". An instrumental ensemble consisting of Amber Morkrid on bassoon, Marisa Hanson on flute, Zak Olson on conga drums, Anthony Wold on bass, Brenda Hanson and Cathy Hagen on pianos will end the Varsity set with a Rene Clausen selection entitled "Psalm 100". This beautiful pastoral selection has various meter changes that challenge the singer and make for a very beautifully flowing piece. JoAnna Swentek also accompanies the choir on cello to a hauntingly beautiful selection entitled "When I Am Silent."

The 86-voice Concert Choir has been very busy preparing some very challenging pieces for this concert including a french Christmas "Noel" and a secular piece entitled "The Road Not Take" based on the poem by Robert Frost. "Lo How A Rose", written by composer Sarah Miller, will open this portion of the concert. Dr. Miller worked with the choir in early October and helped them to shape her piece. The spiritual "Soon-Ah-Will Be Done" will close this portion of the concert.

The mass choir consisting of 136 voices will take the stage to end the evening with three mass selections. The Lincoln High School Chamber Orchestra will accompany the singers on Bach's "Jesu Joy". A familiar piece to everyone, this selection will warm the hearts' of all listeners. The mass choir will also perform the beautiful Christmas selection "O Holy Night."

The Lincoln High School Choirs meet every day for 50 minutes and work on a variety of literature. Some of the various styles represented throughout the year include sacred, secular, classical, conteroporary, Renaissance, Baroque, spirituals, ballads, and world music. The vocal jazz group Swingsations meets two and one-half hours a week and instrumentalists are added the last week to two weeks before the concert and practice between 2 to 3 times with the vocalists before the performance.

The admission to the concert is free so plan now to bring a friend with you and attend this very festive concert. See what talented youth the City of Thief River Falls has and show your support by being a part of their audience. The doors to the auditorium open at 6:45 p.m. so get there early to get your perfect spot.

The choir will also be performing this concert in Greenbush on December 12 at 7 p.m. at the Blessed Sacrament Catholic church. All are welcome.

Leelend Vettleson says he cannot even get his arm to fit into his old Army uniform. Vettleson served in the United States Army from 1941 to 1946. Because of his overseas service he was able to earn his high school diploma.

Area resident attends WTO meetings

world by low commodity prices.

Experiences like these have forced many to recognize the need for stronger coalitions between farmers all over the world. Olson noted that some unusual alliances are being developed as well. Even the environmentalists, many of whom have been opposed to some farming practices, she said, have to understand that huge corporate operations are going to be interested in only the bottom line.

Olson explained that current trade problems between European countries and the U.S. provide another example of what the WTO is all about. European countries do not want to accept genetically engineered food and beef. Olson said the U.S. went to the WTO court and won an important battle which declared the items were non-trade barrier items and to be barred from trade, the European countries would have to prove that they were unsafe.

Olson has been in Seattle since the start of negotiations on Saturday. She explained that she brought her sons along, ages 13 and 15, and have done some "touristy" things, but has also participated in numerous meetings. She demonstrated with labor representatives on Tuesday, but was not part of the groups that committed so much vandalism everyone is hearing about in the media. Olson said there were probably 50,000 demonstrators in the city and about 40,000 of them represent labor. Of all of these people, she believes only a few hundred have made it difficult for everyone.

Everything was peaceable until some of the protesters became violent, she said. There was some really ugly stuff going on east of the WTO. It got to the point where residents were being pushed out of their homes.

Olson said a local network reporter interviewed a young man with a mask who was looting a GAP store. The brash youngster said he didn't care or know anything about the WTO.

The situation went from one extreme to another. Police weren't very effective when the riots broke out, she said, but they got a handle on it the next day. Precious little was going on downtown after that and it has angered many of the peaceful protesters who were just trying to get their message out.

The protests disrupted many of the meetings and events scheduled during the week. Olson said she had hoped to hear Charlene Barshefsky, the U.S. Trade Representative, but Barshefsky was prevented from leaving her hotel by the Secret Service, which did not think it safe enough for her or Secretary of State Madeleine Albright.

Olson said on Wednesday she wanted to take her sons to see the mountains, but couldn't rent a car anywhere in downtown Seattle. To rent a car they had to take a bus to the airport. Olson said that apparently they weren't close enough to the bus stop and the bus passed by. She and her sons began running after the bus, but were stopped by police who told them, after an explanation from Olson, that there would be no more running after the bus.

Olson said she planned to leave on Friday. She was planning to attend a number of meetings on Thursday during what is called "Food and Ag Day", but that was in jeopardy because of a rumor that Marshal law had been declared.

It has been a good experience, Olson said. She learned how important it is for U.S. farmers to become more organized, and learned more about farmers all over the world. She said she wished U.S. farmers had more representation at the negotiations. She noted that Sen. Paul Wellstone and Congressman Collin Peterson were in Seattle for negotiations, along with Ted Winters (the only Minnesota legislator at the event). In contrast, the North Dakota Governor, Ag commissioner, and several other North Dakota officials, thought it important enough to attend.

The World Trade Organization (WTO) consists of 135 member nations. During the last week, trade representatives and ministers are conducting negotiations (in secret) in Seattle, WA. Protesters and lobbyists flocked to Seattle in an effort to influence those negotiations.

(The WTO was established in 1995. It is the only international organization dealing with the global rules of trade between nations. Its main function is to ensure that trade flows smoothly, predictably and freely as possible — www.wto.org.)

stars for hitting three islands. When the war ended in August 1945, he stayed in Manila for six more months waiting to go home.

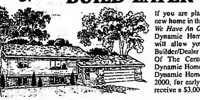
He recalls the natives of the Philippines were friendly, but some were primitive by American standards. They would offer fresh fruit in exchange for cigarettes or candy bars.

Back on the Farm

In February 1946, Vettleson ended his military service and returned to his father's farm. He later bought his own farm near Trail and married Phyllis Clemenson on September 6, 1946.

Together they had five children: Julie Vettleson is a state inspector in Rochester; Lawrence farms near Oully; Scott is a teacher in Richfield; Marlys Knutson is a teacher in Warroad; and one son died in infancy.

He worked construction until 1972 when he was diagnosed with an equilibrium problem and was forced to retire. He was a resident of Thief River Falls from 1958 to 1977.



It was his daughter Marlys who told her father that he could receive his high school diploma. Since she works in the Warroad school district, it made sense for her to make the arrangements for Lealand to graduate. She was hoping to have the graduation ceremony on Veterans Day, but Vettleson was unable to attend that day.

On November 12, 1999, Lealand Vettleson received his high school diploma. He may not have earned it in a traditional way, but he definitely earned it.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU

A sincere thank you to everyone that remembered me on my 80th birthday, and to all that attended the open house at the Heritage Center. An extra thanks to my four granddaughters as servers and kitchen crew. Also, a special thank you to my family for making it a special day to remember.

Ragna Haroldson

CARD OF THANKS

Sincere thanks to all who contributed to the benefit recently held in my behalf at Westaker Church. Thank you to friends from Westaker and Bethania of Newfolden, and from Hegland and Bethesda of Strandquist, which were involved in the planning and serving of the meal. Thank you to the AAL branches for matching funds, and to those that provided musical entertainment. My family and I felt very blessed and encouraged by the fellowship of so many friends. We sincerely appreciate all who came and shared with us.

In Christian love,
Marlene Rokke

Input sought on Red River Basin plan

Water plan discussed at meeting in TRF on December 16

The North committee that helped develop the recently completed Minnesota Red River Basin Water Quality Plan will be reconvening on December 16 in Thief River Falls to provide input for the development of Minnesota Water Plan 2000. The North committee and the meeting in Thief River Falls, is one of several committees scheduling meetings this month. The Minnesota Water Plan 2000 is being developed by the state Environmental Quality Board (EQB) as part of Governor Ventura's Water Management Unification Initiative.

The meeting in Thief River Falls will take place from 6 to 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, December 16 at the Red Lake Watershed District office, 102 North Main Street, Thief River Falls. Other committee meetings will take place in Detroit Lakes, Fergus Falls, and Bagley. The Bagley meeting will take place between 6 and 8:30 p.m. on January 6 at the city hall. The local committees will provide the information they collect at these meetings to the Red River Basin Committee, which is made up of local committee members, during a meeting on January 24, 2000. The Basin Committee will pass on those recommendations to the EQB for development of its plan.

Residents and stakeholders who did not participate in the basin planning process are invited and encouraged to attend this round of meetings. Minnesotans who care about the state's lakes, streams and drinking water, should use this opportunity to shape Minnesota Water Plan 2000.

The EQB is charged with developing a 10-year water plan for the state, which is due by mid-September 2000. This plan will focus on the state's major river basins, including the Red River Basin. Inter-agency teams have been developed by the EQB in the various major river basins to seek public input on the development of the plan.

The local planning committees and interested parties will provide guidance on water related goals, objectives, 10-year targets and environmental indicators to the Red River Basin inter-agency team. After successfully completing the Red River Basin Water Quality Plan-1999, the timing is right for the local planning committees to contribute fresh information on what citizens throughout the basin feel are priority issues to address in a statewide plan.

For more information on the upcoming local planning committee meetings, the Red River Basin Water Quality Plan - 1999, or Minnesota Water Plan 2000, please call Lisa Scheirer of the MPCA's Detroit Lakes office at 218-847-1519.

Christmas Eve dinner plans?

Reservations for the annual Community Christmas Eve Dinner in Thief River Falls are now being accepted. Last year, over 470 people attended the dinner and reservations need to be made soon.

Turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, stuffing, and all the fixings will be served beginning at 5 p.m. but take-out begins at 4 p.m., at the Evergreen Eating Emporium on Christmas Eve, December 24. Reservations should be made in advance with the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720.

You don't have to be from Thief River Falls to attend the Christmas Eve Dinner. The free meal is sponsored by many local merchants, but donations and a free-will offering will be accepted. At the conclusion of the event, any funds left beyond the cost of the meal and preparing the meal are donated to charitable organizations and/or used for next year's meal.

With so many taking part in the meal, many volunteers are needed. Volunteers are needed to deliver meals, serve meals, wash dishes, prepare meals and much more.

Anyone interested in volunteering to fill one of the many tasks are also asked to contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720. Volunteers who would like to deliver meals must have a large cooler to haul the meals.

The number of people attending the dinner and/or receiving delivered meals, has increased each year. The Chamber of Commerce and organizers would appreciate having reservations for the dinner as soon as possible.

Grant awarded to Northwest Medical Center project

Northwest Minnesota Foundation has awarded a technical assistance grant for $3,650 to Northwest Medical Center on behalf of the Northwest 8 Mental Health Initiative. The purpose of the grant is to create an innovative work-based support system for mentally ill persons residing in the counties of Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, Norman and Mahnomen.

"What we're trying to do is quite unique," said Dr. Steve Levinson of Northwest Medical Center. Levinson explained that the mental health division at the hospital has for years used work therapy as a tool in the treatment of mental health patients.

The work therapy program, which was established in 1987 and later expanded with assistance from the Northwest Minnesota Foundation, includes Northern Lights used bookstore business, two ice cream vending wagons (started in 1993), and a new food concession business.

Levinson said the favorable impact that therapeutic work has had on the lives of mentally ill residents of Pennington county suggests that opportunities for therapeutic work should be created for mentally ill persons throughout the region.

This technical assistance grant is providing funding to secure a consultant to conduct a market study and feasibility plan for integrating therapeutic work with consumer-driven mental health resource centers.

The goal of the project is to develop a blueprint for a viable, fiscally-sustainable system that builds on Northwest Medical Center's experience and strengths, appeals to and empowers consumers, and promotes their recovery, independence and ability to live more productive, satisfying and dignified lives in and as part of their own communities.

With the technical assistance grant, Northwest Medical Center hired the consulting firm of MetaDynamics to assist in the evaluation. They will identify possible business niches, trends or changes in communities and

Generosity and volunteers help Humane Society mark anniversary

by Elizabeth Ott
Northern Watch reporter

This month the Pennington County Humane Society marks its second anniversary and it owes many thanks to volunteers, donations, grants and memberships.

Finding homes

The PCHS works closely with local and area law enforcement. The PCHS does not have a shelter yet and instead operates out of the Thief River Falls city pound. The PCHS started with volunteers who helped show animals that were in the city pound and also helped clean the kennels and runs at the pound. Their efforts have reduced the incidence of disease in the pound by 70 percent.

In the past, animals had to be destroyed if they were not claimed from the pound or adopted within a specific time frame. Now the PCHS takes animals from the pound that have not been adopted out and finds foster homes for them.

"Law enforcement did the best they could to adopt out animals when they were in charge of the program," says PCHS president Vicki Heckman. "I think it was a good time for us to come in there."

Heckman also noted that the PCHS does not have a "no kill" philosophy. It recognizes that there are certain instances when an animal is not adoptable, such as one who has a history of biting, or is too sick or injured to make a recovery.

"But for those who are adoptable, we're going to work night and day to find them a home," said Heckman.

PCHS has also worked with the Violence Intervention Program to find emergency shelter for a VIP client's dog. PCHS also found temporary shelter for a woman's cats when her husband threatened to harm them; then referred the woman to VIP.

Grants and donations

When an animal is brought to the PCHS, its vaccinations are brought up to date. Then, its picture is taken for posters and ads. The animals also have to be fed and may need medical care. All of this costs money, but PCHS receives no public funds to help carry out its mission. Instead, it relies on grants, donations and memberships.

The organization was fortunate to receive three grants and has just received notification of a fourth from the Minnesota Foundation. The first grant was $2,000 from Haimsa of Boston, MA for vet care and supplies. The second was a $5,000 grant from the Summerly

Foundation in Dallas, TX for emergency vet care and vaccines. The third was $6,000 from PetsMart Charities of Phoenix, AZ for a spade and neuter program.

An anonymous benefactor has pledged $10,000 a year for three years. Romal Burtness of Thief River Falls recently donated $1,000 and another family in town send a donation on a monthly basis, said Heckman.

She also added that many area philanthropists have been asked to donate to the organization, and she is hoping to hear from them soon.

Volunteers

"All the money in the world is not going to do a thing if we don't have the volunteers in the organization," said Heckman.

The organization depends on volunteers to take the animals' pictures, help with publicity, and care for the animals.

The stories of people who have given of their time and resources are heartwarming.

A woman from Badger baked a turkey, shredded the meat and brought it to a PCHS member to feed to the dogs in foster homes on Thanksgiving. She also brought blankets to keep the animals warm this winter.

Vickie and Mike Jackson from Warroad sent a letter explaining why they were donating to the PCHS.

According to the letter, their dog Lizzie had worn down her canine teeth and broke a top tooth while chewing on sticks. They took her to Dr. Joe Schneider in Roseau who made arrangements with Roseau dentist Dr. Robert Larson to do a root canal and put in a silver filling. Dr. Schneider and his wife Diana provided the anesthesia for the procedure.

Neither doctor charged the Jacksons for their services. All they asked was $30 for the anesthesia and suggested the Jackson make a contribution to the PCHS.

The Jacksons also help the PCHS by receiving e-mail notices of animals available for adoption and posting them in Roseau County.

Goodridge High School teacher, Joan Ambercrombie is having her students make blaze orange vests for the foster dogs. That way, when they are being walked by their foster families, people will know by the vests that these dogs are up for adoption.

Employees at Northern Lights Bookstore also help the PCHS by delivering posters of animals for adoption.

There are two programs in which almost anyone can participate, and they don't cost a thing, or take much time.

The first is Cans for Canines. Participants simply recycle their empty cans to Evans Steel on Highway 32 north of Thief River Falls and tell them the cans are for the Humane Society.

The second is Homeless Homer. Participants in this program save the proof of purchase from brand name pet foods and treats. (Similar to the Box Tops for Education program for schools.)

For more information on these programs, to make a donation of time, services or funds, become a member or to adopt a pet, write to Pennington County Humane Society, P.O. Box 64, Thief River Falls, MN 56701, or call (218) 681-8045.

Copper enjoys a turkey dinner on Thanksgiving, thanks to Humane Society volunteers. Copper is a 1-1/2 year old male collie/chow mix available for adoption. He sits, shakes hands and is very friendly.

Konickson convicted in oil pollution case

Randy Lee Konickson, vice president of Plummer Excavating, Inc., was sentenced Thursday, December 9 to two years probation and 100 hours of community service for violating the Oil Pollution Act related to a ruptured underground pipeline. Konickson was sentenced by Judge John Tunheim in Minneapolis.

Konickson and Plummer Excavating both pled guilty to violating the Oil Pollution Act by negligently discharging crude oil into waters of the United States in quantities that may be harmful. Plummer Excavating awaits sentencing.

In September of 1998, Konickson had ordered an employee of Plummer Excavating to bury rocks in a field adjacent to the company's Plummer facility. He admitted that he knew the field contained buried pipelines, yet he failed to obtain a One-Call excavation ticket prior to digging. When the company employee struck a crude oil pipeline with a backhoe, Konickson failed to notify the appropriate law enforcement and pipeline authorities.

The pipeline ruptured as a result of a gash and caused nearly 5,200 barrels or 218,000 gallons of crude oil to spill into the field and eventually into a county drainage ditch that flows into the Clearwater River. As a result of the crude oil leak and corresponding noxious fumes and fire hazards, authorities evacuated the town of Plummer.

DNR investigating illegal elk kill

Charges are pending against two Lake Bronson men in connection with the possible illegal taking of a bull elk near Lancaster.

Area Department of Natural Resources officials received several tips that an elk had been illegally taken in late August of early September.

DNR conservation officer Don Murray, who is heading the investigation, did not release the names of the suspects because the case is still under investigation.

Two search warrants were executed Friday, December 3, at two Lake Bronson residences. Officials seized elk meat, deer meat and an elk hide. The seized items were sent to a lab for investigation. Lab results are expected in two to three weeks, at which time formal charges are expected.

Murray stated that the elk was not from the Grygla herd, but from a Manitoba herd that had migrated south to the Lancaster area.

Do You Believe In Miracles? In Happy Endings? In New Beginnings? In Joyous Reunions? In Love At First Sight?

On behalf of 341 lost, abandoned, unwanted and mistreated animals who have been placed in loving adoptive homes in the past year, the members of the Pennington County Humane Society wish to express a very sincere and heartfelt "Thank you!" to all who have played a part in making these miracles a reality.

During the Christmas season and as we move on to a new year and a new millennium, please take a few moments to consider how you can help us to help homeless animals in our area.

What You Can Do
• Join the Pennington County Humane Society!
• Volunteer your time and work with the animals – walking dogs, providing TLC, cleaning kennels, taking phone calls, transporting animals for veterinary care, providing foster care, helping at PCHS events, public speaking, and much more. We desperately need volunteers!
• Make a tax deductible financial contribution. Every donation to PCHS, large or small, helps animals in need.
• Arrange for your group or organization to have a fund-raiser to benefit PCHS.
• When its time for you to look for a new pet, adopt one from PCHS.
• Be part of the solution. Spay or neuter your pets to be sure they do not add to the staggering number of unwanted animals. And be sure to license or tag them so they can be identified should they become lost.

For every lost, abandoned, unwanted and mistreated animal in northwestern Minnesota and those cats and dogs fortunate enough to find a new home in 1999, The Pennington County Humane Society wishes you and your pets a very Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

ECFE Tour of Lights Monday

Challenger Preschool programs invite families with preschool children to enjoy a school bus trip around Thief River Falls on Monday, December 13, to view holiday lights and decorations.

The bus will leave Challenger at 6:30 p.m., and participants are encourage to dress in warm clothes and bring an ice scraper.

Following the tour, hot cider will be served and Santa will make a visit to the preschool center.

To reserve a place on the bus, call Challenger Preschool at 681-8670 by noon on Monday, Dec. 13.

Local students travel on Northwest Airlines trip

High school students from around the area recently participated in a Duluth excursion with members of the Student Services office from Northland Community and Technical College.

Twenty students traveled to Duluth where they toured the Northwest Aviation Maintenance base and received information on aviation careers. The trip was open to all female and minority high school juniors and seniors, and was funded by the Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Applied Technology grant.

Those participating included: Chelsey Bergman, Alvarado; Melanie Branchaud, Red Lake; Beth Erickson, Warren; Melissa Farder, Alvarado; Amber Fogelson, Mahnomen, Indosa Hurder, Bagley; Autumn HighElk, White Earth; Mike Hill, Red Lake; Darren King, Redby; Twila Klasen, Bemidji; Linda Kuehn, Twin Valley, Jennifer Loud, Red Lake; Cheryl Lunos, Warren; Judy Miska, Euclid, Lauri Richards, St. Hilaire; Sully Smith, Ponemah; Dwight Stately, Redby; Angel Stevens, Bugley; Lace Thompson, Waubun; and Alicia Vasek, Angus.

The students were accompanied by high school staff, including Penny Cairn, Bagley, Tawana Fairbanks, Red Lake; Renell Fogelson, Waubun; and Jolee Habedank, Twin Valley, and Northland staff including Gene Klinke, Susie Dowers, Lynn McGlynn and Kelsy Blowers.

Blowers is the director of the New Venture Center at Northland, which provides support services to students in non-traditional careers. She was pleased with the success of the trip, and said, "We had a good turn-out and I am very pleased with the number of students interested in the aviation industry. Northwest Airlines was very accommodating and I think the students were impressed with the facility."

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

More Christmas baking ideas for you this week – not only cookies this time, but other goodies too.

If you don't like those candled fruit Christmas breads, try one that has chocolate in it:

CHOCOLATE WALNUT COFFEE RINGS

6 1/2 to 7 cups flour, divided
1/2 cup sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon
2 packages active dry yeast
1 cup butter
1 cup milk
1/2 cup water
2 whole eggs
2 egg yolks
2 cups semi-sweet chocolate chips (1 12 ounce package)
1 cup walnuts, chopped
1/3 cup packed brown sugar
Vegetable oil
Glaze:
1 cup powdered sugar
5 to 6 teaspoons milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Dash of cinnamon

In large mixer bowl, combine 2 cups flour, granulated sugar, salt, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon and yeast. Set aside.

In small saucepan, combine butter, 1 cup milk and water. Cook over medium heat just until very warm (120 to 130 degrees), stirring occasionally.

Gradually add milk mixture to flour mixture, beating until well blended. Beat in whole eggs, egg yolks and 1 cup flour. Stir in 2 1/2 cups flour or enough to make stiff dough.

Cover with waxed paper and towel and let stand at room temperature for 20 minutes.

In small bowl, combine chocolate chips, walnuts and brown sugar. Set aside. Grease 2 large cookie sheets.

Sprinkle work surface with 1/2 cup flour. Turn dough onto surface and sprinkle with another 1/2 cup flour. Knead 2 to 3 minutes, until dough is smooth and elastic. Add additional flour if necessary to prevent sticking. Cut dough in half.

On flour surface, roll 1 dough half into 16x10 inch rectangle. Sprinkle with half of walnut mixture to within 1/2 inch of edges. Roll up like jelly roll, beginning at long side. Moisten edge with water and pinch seam together to seal.

Place seam side down on prepared cookie sheet, shape into circle, pinching ends together to seal. With scissors or knife, cut dough at 1 1/2 inch intervals almost to center of ring, twisting ends up to expose the filling. Brush with oil and cover with plastic wrap.

Repeat with remaining half of dough and filling. Refrigerate 2 to 24 hours.

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Remove dough from refrigerator and carefully remove plastic wrap. Let stand at room temperature for 10 minutes.

Bake 25 to 30 minutes until golden brown. Cook completely on wire racks.

For glaze, mix all glaze ingredients until smooth. Add additional milk if necessary for consistency. Drizzle over rings.

Just in case the bread above is too much for you, how about these easy muffins to share with friends:

CRANBERRY PECAN MUFFINS

1 3/4 cups flour
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 cup milk
1/4 cup butter, melted
1 egg, beaten
1 cup chopped fresh cranberries
1/3 cup chopped pecans
1 teaspoon grated lemon peel

Preheat oven to 400 degrees. Grease or paper line 36 mini muffin cups.

Combine flour, brown sugar, baking powder and salt in large bowl.

Combine milk, butter and egg in small bowl until blended. Stir into flour mixture just until moistened. Fold in cranberries, pecans and lemon peel. Spoon into muffin cups, filling almost full.

Bake 15 to 17 minutes or until pick in center comes out clean. Remove from pans and cool on wire racks. (If using regular-sized muffin cups, bake 18-22 minutes.)

Here's another quick bread I just had to give you – the delicious taste of peanut butter in a bread – bow tasty – what a wonderful breakfast it would make with a cup of hot coffee:

PEANUT BUTTER BREAD

2 cups flour
1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup chunky of creamy peanut butter
1/2 cup light or dark corn syrup
2 eggs
1 cup milk

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour 9x5x3 inch loaf pan.

In medium bowl, combine flour, sugar, baking powder, soda and salt.

In large bowl, with mixer at medium speed, beat peanut butter and syrup until smooth. Beat in eggs, 1 at a time. Gradually beat in milk. Stir in flour mixture just until moistened.

Pour into prepared pan and bake 50 to 55 minutes or until toothpick in center comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes in pan and then remove from pan and cool on rack.

Here is a big batch of quick fruit cake-like bars for that sudden holiday emergency:

FROSTY FRUIT BARS

1 cup sugar
1/3 cup shortening
1/3 cup butter, softened
1/4 cup orange or pineapple juice
1 egg
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup raisins
1 cup candied fruit
Powdered Sugar Glaze (below)

Heat oven to 400 degrees. Grease 15x10 inch jelly roll pan.

Mix sugar, shortening, margarine, orange juice and egg in large bowl. Stir in flour, soda, salt, cinnamon and nutmeg. Stir in raisins and fruit and spread in pan.

Bake about 15 minutes or until top springs back when touched. Cool slightly.

Spread with Powdered Sugar Glaze and decorate with bits of candied fruit, if desired. Cut into bars when cool.

Powdered Sugar Glaze:
1 1/2 cups powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon vanilla
2 to 3 tablespoons milk

Mix all ingredients until spreading consistency.

How about a tender, old-fashioned, soft cookie that melts in your mouth – one of those "simple-y" delicious ones:

COLORFUL SOUR CREAM COOKIES

1 cup sugar
2/3 cup butter, softened
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 eggs
1/2 cup sour cream
2 3/4 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Yellow and green food color
Raisins or nuts

Heat oven to 375 degrees. Lightly grease cookie sheet.

Mix sugar, butter, vanilla and eggs in medium bowl. Stir in sour cream. Stir in flour, soda, salt and nutmeg.

Divide dough in half. Tint one half with yellow food color and the other half with green food color.

Drop dough by heaping teaspoonfuls onto cookie sheet. Press raisin or nut into center of each cookie. Bake 8-10 minutes or until light brown.

Makes about 6 dozen cookies.

No baking when you make these special treats for the holidays:

MALTED MILK CLUSTERS

1/4 cup natural flavor instant malted milk powder
3 tablespoons milk
1/4 cup white corn syrup
1 tablespoon butter
1 1/2 cups milk chocolate chips
5 cups Cocoa Puffs cereal

Heat malt powder and milk in large saucepan over low heat, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened.

Stir in syrup and butter. Heat to boiling, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in chocolate chips until melted. Quickly stir in cereal, 2 1/2 cups at a time.

Drop by rounded tablespoonfuls onto waxed paper-lined cookie sheet. Refrigerate at least 1 hour. Store in refrigerator.

Singles Christian Fellowship to hold holiday gathering

The monthly meeting of the Fosston and Area Singles Christian Fellowship will be held on Sunday, December 12 at 3 p.m. at the Embassy Community Center in Fosston.

A short business meeting will be held, and officers for the new year will be elected. A sing-along will feature holiday music. Also, there will be a gift exchange for those who wish to participate, and the Embassy Center's gift box for the food shelf will be out. The event will conclude with a potluck supper.

Rural communities should emphasize building relationships

(Editor's note: The following comments were distributed by the University of Minnesota Extension Service. I believe rural residents have always worked together to solve their problems. I have difficulty defining what is meant by the use of the phrase "social fabric". I do agree that there is a greater sense of distrust, but believe it is more of a result of the ability to observe world events much more readily, and a natural defense to losing a way of life — not just a financial loss, but the sense of loss that comes from having to move from one's home or added pressures that come from having to take on a second or third job. Nevertheless, I present the following editorial comments, as always, as food for thought.)

Community development in rural areas has historically meant building "things" such as new schools or recreational centers. But in the future, rural areas should emphasize strengthening relationships and working together, says a sociologist at Iowa State University.

"The most effective community development in the future will result from cooperation, sharing and building alliances," says Paul Lasley, who spoke at a recent meeting sponsored by the University of Minnesota Extension Service.

We're witnessing a "tearing of the social fabric in rural America that's been going on since the 1980s," Lasley says. "Social change in the rural Midwest is creating distrust — many people no longer trust each other."

"Doing the right thing is being replaced by emphasis on the profit motive," Lasley says, "and many people have a fear of being taken advantage of. We need to ask if we're creating a rural culture where no one wants to live."

Unfortunately, Lasley says, he doesn't expect the farm crisis to disappear anytime soon. "We need to distinguish between a 'farm crisis' and a 'long-term chronic problem,' which is what we really have," he says.

"We're going through a long-term restructuring of rural American that's broader than just farming. It is painful and difficult for many people, and there are no quick solutions," he says.

"Rural areas need to focus on strengthening relationships, sharing, cooperating and networking," Lasley says. "In order to strengthen rural communities and rural culture, people must devote their energies to working together, getting to know and helping each other, and learning the 'art of neighboring.'"

Lasley spoke at the annual Crop Pest Management Short Course on the University of Minnesota's St. Paul Campus, November 22, 1999.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

As Mayor of the City of Lake Bronson I feel I must make contact with the citizens of the area because of what I feel was irresponsible reporting by Lori Bothum in the November 25, 1999 issue of the North Star News, which was reprinted in part in the November 27 edition of the Northern Watch. I feel she led the general public to believe we are not concerned about the Y2K problem because we were not interested in additional insurance.

We have discussed the Y2K problem at many previous meetings. We do have a concern as to what can happen. We have contacted our suppliers such as Ottertail Power Company, Wikstrom Telephone Company, the Kittson County Sheriff's office, etc.... They have worked hard to decrease the chance of major problems with the New Year. They do not expect to have any concerns that would decrease their service to the public. We (I) do believe there should not be a major problem. Also, if we weren't concerned we would not have gone ahead with making contingency plans. We do have contingency plans, which we will use if needed.

We are enclosing in home billings, some simple steps for individuals to be prepared for the Y2K problem in their homes. Residents have also received information previously from the Red Cross regarding being prepared.

At the recent meeting, I asked why should we spend $720 for two years of insurance if it is not needed. Our insurance agent also said we are well insured at the present time. The decision not to carry the extra insurance was made at the previous council meeting. That is when I stated, "We'll let it blow over." Bothum also quoted Council Member Roger Davis as saying, "We'll just turn the water off then no problem."

I would like to let everyone know that I made this statement not Council Member Davis. The comment was made while discussing the generator. The generator can be hooked directly to the lift station. (We have only one lift station in this community.) If we have a problem the water can be shut off to prevent an increased problem with the sewer system. Corrections can then be made to the lift station without worrying about the water.

I have known Lori personally for a number of years and have always enjoyed her reporting. This time it was not accurate. I believe she owes Council Member Davis an apology as well as the citizens of Lake Bronson for this type of reporting.

Sincerely
Dale Klegstad
Mayor of Lake Bronson

(Editor's note: It is the policy of The Times/Northern Watch to allow individuals criticized in a letter to the editor, an opportunity to respond in the same edition as the letter critical of the individual. That is the case with the following two letters.)

To the Editor:

I apologize for attributing a comment to Councilman Roger Davis that was made by Mayor Dale Klegstad during a recent council meeting and regret any inconvenience it may have caused to either of them or the council or the city. Discussions and the city's preparations for Y2K have been duly reported in the previous issues of the North Star News.

Sincerely,
Lori Bothum

To the Editor:

Too Little Too Late. My husband Miles was a World War II veteran, gave up three-and-half years of his life to serve in the armed forces (inducted July 1942, and discharged January 1946), was paid $30 a month but advanced to where he was paid $50 a month, was shipped overseas to England via Scotland, and was in the third wave on the Normandy landing. His buddy was killed beside him when he stepped on a land mine. What a welcome! My husband had his ear drum blown out and ligaments on one leg torn permanently. I couldn't count the times he went to a chiropractor, and he always wore a knee brace.

He didn't take a medical discharge because he thought it would interfere with his getting a job. Losing half of his hearing was a traumatic thing, requiring that he ask me many times what so and so said.

Now after all these years they want to give veterans high school diplomas, and there's talk of a memorial in Washington, DC. Statistics of veterans dying by the numbers every day are mind boggling.

My husband died in 1987. He would have been on "Cloud Nine" if he would have gotten a high school diploma when he got out of the service.

I say this is too little, too late.

Sincerely,
Bernice Knutson
Viking

To the Editor:

I think there is something people should realize concerning the Profiles of Learning, School to Work and block scheduling. The two go together like a hand and a glove. Other school districts have not made a decision to go to block scheduling. It is not voluntary and it is not a choice.

The governors of almost all 50 states took federal money to implement the Profiles of Learning, School to Work, and block scheduling goes with it. Even if your school board voted no on the whole issue, they have no say. It will be put in all the schools now or a few months from now. Your superintendents, principals, and teachers cannot even speak out against the Profiles, School to Work or block scheduling or they could lose their jobs.

Our state has been given millions of dollars already to "market" the Profiles and School to Work to the people of Minnesota. Why does it need to be marketed? Because it must be drilled into the minds of all Minnesotans that this is all "voluntary." The truth is, it is "forced."

In approximately two years the funding for the Profiles and School to Work will run out. Where will the money come from? From "all" the business people that took federal dollars to participate in the School to Work program. Of course, they will be able to "volunteer" their monies to support the Profile and School to Work, and if they don't, they'll "be volunteered."

The Big Jump

I had a High School classmate who's imagination ran a little, shall we say, on the "active" side of things. Sporting a waist length, tangled frenzy of bright orange hair and publicly displaying a rabid affinity for herbal teas and Shakespearean drama, Sandy never seemed to fit well into any of our more socially accepted teenage norms. As peers, we made it a point to keep her safely at arm's length, regarding most of what she said or did with skeptical, sidelong glances. Apparently the path she followed, however, served her quite well as she went on to pursue an Ivy League education, captaining the women's hockey team there, and later becoming a successful attorney. The rest of us became very good at skeptical, sidelong glances and still struggle with our day to day existence. It was decades ago, from this knowing, self-assured, somewhat different classmate that I first became aware of the "Big Jump" theory. Had I been paying better attention back then, I might have seen this mild December weather coming.

Back in the late 70's, with communicative technology advancing by leaps and bounds, we Americans were having our eyes globally opened to mysterious ways of other countries. Specifically, in the years following President Nixon's unprecedented visit to the southeast corner of Asia, we were given a brand new look into the heretofore unseen Chinese culture. From politics to religion to food, we received our first views of a lifestyle totally unlike our own. One of the most fascinating parts of daily Chinese life was their exercise regimen. Every morning an entire country would awaken and, en masse, go out into the streets and courtyards and parks to perform a ritualized form of physical exertion. Millions and millions of people undertaking the same motions and movements in clock-like synchronicity. As somewhat flabby Americans, we were unaware or ignorant of whether it was Tae-Chi or Tae-Kwon-Do or Tae-Bo. The only ritualistic "Ties" we were familiar with were the morning effort to "Tie ones' shoes" or the "Tieing on of a good one" the night prior. We watched our TVs in rapt amazement as an entire Chinese nation worked out in unison before our eyes.

"They all do that little jump at the same time," pointed out a concerned Sandy one day in school. We all gave her our usual skeptical sidelong glance, hoping the eye contact would not invite any further discussion.

"That's almost a billion people jumping up and landing at the same time," she continued, undeterred. "That's a lot of weight on a fairly concentrated area of the earth; a force like that has got to have some effect."

Sandy went on to explain that this seemingly inconsequential hop occurs 3 or 4 times during the course of the morning exercise routine. Multiply that over such a huge number of people and factor in the incredible age of the Chinese culture and you've got a recipe for a subtle but inexorable shifting of the earth's axis.

More skeptical, sidelong glances.

"The exponentially increasing population will speed up the effect," she continued, "and eventually our tilted little planet will straighten and sit upright, creating a more consistent, equal climate year-round causing a meteorological moderation. If you want to maintain present historical weather patterns," she concluded, "it's your duty to counteract the effects of well-intentioned Chinese exercise by jumping everyday. Every little bit helps. Jump! Jump!"

One more well-rehearsed sidelong glance and away we walked, leaving Sandy and her brightly colored mop of hair in the wild machinations of mid-jump. Where did she get such preposterous ideas?

Twenty years later, I sit here, gazing glumly out the window at yet another painfully mild December. Is this the northern Minnesota I should expect in the 21st century? Is the prospect of open water going to be a near-Christmas phenomenon in the millennium ahead?

I catch a glimpse of my reflection in the window pane. It is a skeptical, sidelong glance I see. Don't be silly, the look suggests. Weather patterns cannot be generalized over the period of a few years. This is simply a blip in the big scheme. Cold Decembers will return.

Yet, behind that reflection I see a stubborn cluster of dried oak leaves, tenaciously clinging to a low-lying branch. They are a vaguely familiar fiery orange color and remind me of advice I received and ignored years ago. There is little to lose, I guess, and the exercise might actually do this flabby American a little good. After all, this isn't some horribly strenuous aerobic workout. It only takes a moment or two and then I can return to the safety of my powdered sugar doughnut. Just a little hop to start, making sure my balance is still what it used to be. Then a little higher with a little more force. Do you own a snowmobile? An ice-auger? Perhaps a pair of cross-country skis? Join with me then, everyday. We should be able to straighten this mess out. Jump! Jump!

Pancakes with Santa Dec. 12

The Embassy Community Center in Fosston will sponsor its annual "Pancakes with Santa" on Sunday, December 12 with serving taking place between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

The menu will include pancakes, sausage and beverages, and a free will offering will be accepted benefiting the center's general fund. Special music will be provided, and Santa Claus will be present to give treats to children in attendance.

Beneficial interest requirements rescinded for LDP's

State Executive Director Tracy Beckman announced recently that the beneficial interest requirement for loan deficiency payments has been rescinded for eligible crops produced in 1999. The announcement particularly affects producers who have marketed a quantity of eligible 1999 crop and did not receive loan deficiency payment because of the loss of beneficial interest.

County office personnel will now allow eligible producers who marketed a quantity of an eligible 1999 commodity to receive a loan deficiency payment. Payment for quantities will be based on the date the commodity was fed, used for seed, or sold. Previous to this announcement, producers requesting loan deficiency payment for 1999 crops must have had beneficial interest in the crop on the date payment was requested.

Producers who are affected by this change must make application for loan deficiency payment by the final loan availability date for the applicable crop.

The Farm Service Agency in an earlier announcement increased the payment limitation limit for marketing gains and loan deficiency payments was increased from $75,000 to $150,000, per person, for eligible crops produced in 1999.

Producers are encouraged to contact their local county Farm Service Agency office for additional details on this change.

PTSP sponsors Challenger Yearbook

Parents, Teachers, Students in Partnership (PTSP) will again be sponsoring a Challenger Yearbook.

The yearbook will be a special millennium fanfare 2000 package. A 3-D cover will bring a new dimension to the Year 2000 (3-D glasses included). It will also feature "What's Up" and "A Big Year." The eight-page "What's Up" insert will feature news photos, captions, quizzes and polls that create interactive learning. The Big Year autograph section will use bold colors and graphics to capture attention. The spacious design will allow students to write down their thoughts on various topics and still have plenty of room for friends' autographs.

It will have a soft cover with individual and candid shots. Pictures will be black and white.

No orders will be taken after January 1, 2000. Checks should be made payable to PTSP. You will be able to place your order during the Christmas programs at Challenger the week of December 13-17.

Yearbooks will be arriving in May. For more information call Lori Weeding at 681-2345.

Why Choose the Local Pharmacist vs. the Big Chain?

Choosing the right pharmacist is a tough decision. But if you look for the pharmacist who's interested in the kind of service and pharmacy care that keep you coming back... the choice is much easier.

I own and operate my own pharmacy. I'll take the time to get to know you and your health care needs... because it's my job to make sure you get the service you deserve.

Why choose your local Medicine Shoppe Pharmacist? Because I sell only health-related products and I have the time for what's really important – your health care needs.

project revenues and expenses for work opportunities identified. They will also assess the feasibility of Community Resource Centers.

NMF Interim Executive Director Jean Dowling notes that the partnership behind this project constitutes a new level of collaboration between members of the mental health community in northwest Minnesota. "The project builds upon an innovative idea which has been tried and tested in Pennington county with the Foundation's help," she said, "and it represents an attempt to replicate a therapeutic model proven to be effective. We're excited to have the concept expanded in other areas of the region."

The Northwest Minnesota Foundation is a charitable foundation committed to improving the quality of life for residents of northwest Minnesota. To achieve this mission, the Foundation focuses its financial resources and activities toward two principal goals: increasing economic growth and business development and increasing the capacity of individuals and organizations to shape the region's future.

The Northwest 8 Mental Health Initiative is an alliance of eight counties, two private not-for-profit mental health providers (Northwest Medical Center and Northwestern Mental Health Center, Crookston), and the State-operated Regional Treatment Center in Fergus Falls, that have pooled resources in an effort to develop and implement innovative community-based strategies for reducing the need for institutional care, and improving the lives of mentally ill persons. The Initiative, which was formed in 1998, is funded by the Minnesota Department of Human Services.

NCTC to offer welding program

The Custom Training and Continuing Education (CTCE) department, in conjunction with, Northland Community and Technical College, has announced an outgoing welding training partnership with Polaris Industries of Roseau.

The program, which has been in the works for more than two years, has developed specific manufacturing training to fit the needs of Polaris employees. The first two facets of the training program this fall.

According to Shari L. Olson, Dean of CTCE, the program and its instructors are receiving excellent reviews. "The first two training sessions, Basic Blueprint Reading and Advance Symbol Reading, lay down the principals for advanced welding," she explained. "This program is designed to provide welders with more skills to enhance their abilities, and create higher quality finished products."

Northland College Welding Instructor Dennis Wilkens and CTCE Manufacturing Specialist Chad Coucette were heavily involved in the development of the program, and are being praised for their efforts. "Dennis teaches the classes once a week. He is an excellent instructor and Polaris officials, and their employees, are applauding the program. We look forward to the future of this partnership and continuation of working with talented instructors like Dennis," said Olson.

Five arrested in connection with Warren incidents

On December 9 the Warren Police department and Marshall County Sheriff's department arrested three juveniles and two adults in connection with reports of burglary and vandalism received from numerous downtown Warren businesses December 5-7. All of the incidents are believed to have taken place the weekend of December 4-5.

Two juveniles were charged with criminal damage to property and theft. One juvenile was charged with assaulting a peace officer, escape from custody, minor consuming and disorderly conduct. One female adult, Richelle Allison Boman, 20, was charged with minor consuming, fifth degree assault and theft.

One male adult, Michael Allan Boman, 18, was charged with receiving stolen property (fire arms), terroristic threats, and tampering with a witness, and one count of theft.

The investigation is continuing, although the businesses reporting damage or burglaries included: Warren Pharmacy, C.J. Floral, Vern's Standard, Tri-County Valley Opportunity Council office, the Warren Post Office, Edgar's Ag Service, and a private vehicle.

Regional race opener moved to Spirit Mountain

The World Snowmobile Association (WSA) has announced the season openers for their Wisconsin and Minnesota Regional Snocross Championships have been relocated due to the continuing lack of adequate natural snow cover and cold temperatures in the Midwest.

The openers will now be combined into one joint event, the WSA Spirit Mountain Regional Snocross, held this coming weekend, December 11-12 at Spirit Mountain Ski Resort in Duluth, site of the just completed Black Magic Duluth National WSA Snocross Worldwide Championship season opener. Points will be awarded for both championships.

For further updates and information regarding the WSA's Regional Snocross Championships, go to www.wsa-snocross.com.

TRF boys rally, but lose 65-52 season opener

Things didn't start so well for the Thief River Falls boys in the Prowlers' 1999-2000 high school basketball season opener Tuesday against Kittson Central. But a game comeback, even though it did not produce a win, left head coach Bob Johnson satisfied with the first-night effort.

The Wolfpack led 16-7 at the end of the opening quarter and doubled the visitors 38-19 through 16 minutes. The Prowlers chopped the difference to 47-38 by the end of the third quarter and were within two points with 5 1/2 minutes to play before the comeback fizzled.

"We started out kind of shaky as far as the offense goes," acknowledged Johnson. "We got good looks at the basket, but we just didn't connect. We came out in the third quarter and played the kind of basketball we're capable of playing. Overall, I thought it was a good start (to the season), except for the loss."

The high-scoring Kittson Central twosome of Aaron Austin (29) and Mitch Deere (22) combined for 51 points.

"Defensively I thought we played well," noted Johnson. "Austin and Deere got their points, but they had to work hard for every basket."

Justin Skjerven scored 15 points and Nate Sorvig had 10 for the Prowlers, who committed 11 of their 16 turnovers in the first half.

"I think we're going to be competitive," said Johnson. "We're better shooters and we're quicker than we were last year."

According to Johnson, Sorvig and Ben Myers give the Prowlers an inside game, while Skjerven and Brian Loe provide an outside scoring punch. Luke Erickson, John Sjoberg and Seth Harlow played well off the bench in the opener, he said.

The Prowlers began the season without injured Josh Gallagher.

A battle under the basket during the Thief River Falls vs. East Grand Forks girls high school basketball game Tuesday included Nikki Tvedt (12), Meghan Nelson (45), Sara Jensen and Erika Hudson (42) of the Prowlers, along with Lindsey Hanson (22), Brittany Hanson and Hope Ekern (24) of the Green Wave. Tvedt was called for a foul on the play as she made contact from behind as Lindsay Hanson was shooting. Thief River Falls beat East Grand Forks 63-49.

Fast start lifts TRF past EGF

Early-game success with a press led to a 14-point Thief River Falls lead just 3:23 into the game, and that proved to be the winning margin Tuesday as the Prowlers beat East Grand Forks 63-49 in girls high school basketball.

The Green Wave opened with a fast break lay-up by Lisa Kouba, but that was the only lead of the night for the visitors. The Prowlers' Ayla Donlin answered with a 3-point basket from the top of the key. The next 13 Thief River Falls points came off six East Grand Forks turnovers, including a 3-pointer from the side by Erika Hudson that was followed by a Sara Jensen basket off a rebound that made it 16-2 with 4:37 still to play in the first quarter.

East Grand Forks did settle down after that. The Green Wave began to solve the Prowlers' press, forced some turnovers themselves, and hit the offensive boards hard as they chopped the difference to 19-15 by the end of the first quarter.

"We came out like gang-busters," noted Thief River Falls coach Jeff Loe, "but most teams will eventually adjust to a press."

Thief River Falls cut off the East Grand Forks comeback by scoring the first seven points of the second quarter. Jensen slipped inside for the first basket, then a five-point possession reestablished the Prowlers' scoreboard control when an intentional foul was called as Donlin headed toward the basket on a fast break. She made both free throws, and Hudson sank a 3-point shot from the corner on the ensuing inbounds play to make it 26-15.

The first half ended on maybe the Prowlers' best play of the night as Nikki Tvedt put a perfect pass in the hands of Meghan Nelson to complete a clock-beating fast break that made it 37-25 at the horn.

East Grand Forks was back within six points both early and late in the third quarter, with Kouba scoring on a fast break at the buzzer to make it 51-45.

Hudson thwarted the last of the East Grand Forks rallies by opening the fourth quarter with a 3-point basket from the side. Nelson followed with a free throw, then Donlin scored on a drive and a free throw to make it 58-45 with 4:59 remaining.

Hudson and Donlin both had impressive games, finishing with 21 and 18 points, respectively. "Erika was 3-for-3 from 3-point range," noted Loe. "That's nice to see. Ayla played very well for the second straight game; she ran things and made some good things happen."

Kouba scored 16 points and Brittany Hanson had 14 for the Green Wave.

Thief River Falls was 25-for-52 from the field (48 percent) and 9-for-16 at the free throw line.

"We shot well at times, and not to well at other times," offered Loe. "I thought our offensive execution was better than it has been."

East Grand Forks went 18-for-55 from the floor (33 percent) and 13-for-27 at the line, where the Green Wave was 11-for-15 in the first half, but only 2-for-12 in the second half. They missed all seven fourth quarter attempts.

"We got in some foul trouble," said Loe. "We got caught reaching in with our hands. We quit moving our feet."

Thief River Falls finished with a 36-32 rebound edge, but the Prowlers were beat on the offensive end 19-11. They also wound up with more turnovers, 20-16. Half of those East Grand Forks turnovers came in the first quarter.

The win improved the Prowlers' record to 3-1.

Hoard has six goals in 7-1 TRF win

■ Prowler girls win fourth straight hockey game

Freshman Steph Hoard scored six goals and added an assist Tuesday to lead Thief River Falls past Park Rapids/Menahga/Nevis 7-1 in girls high school hockey at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

Hoard had a hat trick in a 7 1/2-minute span of the first period to stake the Prowlers to a 3-0 lead, then scored two second goals to make it a 5-1 game through 30 minutes.

Final Hoard goal came at 3:03 of the third period. Jenni Gonsorowski completed the Thief River Falls scoring.

It was the fourth straight win for the Prowlers, who have out-scored the opposition 25-3 since losing a 6-1 season opener to Warroad back on Nov. 16.

"Things are going well," acknowledged Thief River Falls co-head coach Tim Magnuson. "We're playing positions really well. We're scoring some goals, and we're holding down the shots by the other teams."

Hoard has been racking up the goals, but there is a strong supporting cast, too, noted Magnuson. Hoard skates on a line with Gansorowski, a senior, and Abbie Houske, a sophomore.

The Thief River Falls offense has been complemented by players like senior defenseman Dede Dally and junior goalie Melissa Clark, who have been consistently solid in the Prowlers' zone, pointed out Magnuson.

Neat Thief River Falls outing will be a rematch with Warroad, scheduled Tuesday at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center.

Scoring

First period - TRF, Steph Hoard (Lindsey Nordhagen-Jenni Gonsorowski), 3:43; TRF, Hoard (Gonsorowski), 6:32; TRF, Hoard (un.), 11:06.

MCC boys win opener 53-47

Marshall County Central boys high school basketball coach Ron Ueland figures offense will be the Nordies' strength during the 1999-2000 season. It was the defense, however, that highlighted a first-game 53-47 win over Warroad Tuesday at Newfolden.

"Offensively we've got some kids who can put up some numbers," said Ueland. "They run the floor real well. We should be able to score some points."

But the defense overshadowed the offense in the opener. "We played better defense than offense," said Ueland. "That was a surprise. But that's okay, too."

The Nordies led 11-8 at the end of the first quarter. It was tied 24-24 at halftime, with Marshall County Central back on top 37-34 at the close of the third quarter.

"It was two pretty good teams going at each other," said Ueland. "It was a real intense, hard-fought game. Not real polished, but a good effort."

Tyler Ryba, a 6-3 junior, played well at both ends of the floor, according to Ueland. He scored a game-high 17 points and forced Mike Peterson, Warroad's leading scorer with 15 points, to work hard for his baskets.

David Wilcox, a 6-2 senior, added 12 points to the Nordics' offense. "David is a top-notch player," mentioned Ueland. "He will get his points."

The Marshall County Central offense also features sophomore brothers Josh and Andy Larson, who haven't slowed up since running in the Class A state high school cross country meet this fall. "Josh and Andy can run up and down the court for 32 minutes and not break a sweat," Ueland said.

Marshall County Central, 11-13 a year ago, started the season with a 35 percent shooting performance from the field (19/55) and a 13-for-26 effort at the free throw line. Warroad shot 39 percent from the floor (19/49) and made 8 of 17 free throw tries. The Nordics had a 36-19 rebound advantage, but also had more turnovers, 19-11.

"We should be able to play with anybody on the schedule," said Ueland.

Scoring

	1	2	3	4	T
Warroad	8	18	10	13	47
Marshall Co. Central	11	13	13	16	53

Warroad - Ryan Timmer 4, Kevin Moran 6, Jon Russell 4, Mike Peterson 15, Joey Johnson 1, Justin Knebel 10, Rick Cole 1, Matt Thunder 3, Alex Koephet 3.

MCC - Dustin Jarshaw 2, Tyler Ryba 17, Andy Larson 4, Josh Larson 4, David Wilcox 12, Barry Pederson 1, Jacob Distel 4, Zach Holthusen 2.

Prowlers finish swim season with banquet

Awards were presented to members of the 1999 Thief River Falls girls high school swim team at the Prowlers' annual banquet held Sunday, Dec. 5.

Chelsea Haviland was named hardest worker and most versatile; Kristina Dahle was selected Rookie of the Year; Jenny Sorvig was given the Spirit Award; and Brittany Haviland received the Personality Award.

Awards with multiple recipients included most improved – Erica Goethe, Carli Cota and Michelle Johnson; and most dedicated – Andrea Olin, Kristin Naplin, Jenny Sorvig.

Head coach Mary Helen Houlthan issued athletic letters to seniors Julie Chrzanowski, Lindsay Ehrenstrom, Naomi Olson, Andi Sorvig, Jenny Sorvig, Naplin, Olin; juniors Sara Casberg, Alexis Klockman, Danica Schroeder; sophomores Amber Curry, Chelsea Haviland, Jenny Lindquist; freshmen Brittany Haviland, Jenny Heaton, Tiffany Sorenson, Johnson; eighth graders Cami Hendrickson, Kendra Mooney, Dani Sorvig and Cota; along with student managers Elizabeth Dahle and Sam Kezar.

Chelsea Haviland won her second straight Class A state diving title this fall. Naomi Olson was also a state meet qualifier in diving.

Thief River Falls girls are 2-2 following win over Green Wave JV

Thief River Falls junior varsity girls high school basketball team evened its record at 2-2 Tuesday with a 42-36 win over East Grand Forks.

Katy Olson and Brenda Kopari scored 8 points apiece for the winners, who led at the quarter stops 11-10, 25-16 and 34-27.

It was the second straight win for the Prowlers, who had quarter leads of 15-12, 24-18 and 36-26 en route to a 50-41 Saturday (Dec. 4) win over Badger/Greenbush-Middle River. Thief River Falls scoring was led by Kelsey Christensen and Kopari with 8 points each.

The River River Falls lost a 52-49 overtime game to Warren-Alvarado-Oslo in the 1999-2000 season opener, then fell to Crookston 64-43 in a game that found the Pirates ahead at the quarters 23-7, 34-19 and 49-29. Brooke Brekke netted 11 points to lead the Prowlers' scoring in the opener; Kopari had 10 against the Pirates.

TRF JV boys start year with win over Wolfpack

Ten Thief River Falls players put their names in the scoring column Tuesday in a season-opening 64-35 boys junior varsity high school basketball win over Kittson Central.

Joquin Westerman scored 12 points to lead the winners, who were ahead at the quarter stops 12-8, 27-14 and 39-25.

■ Finals Friday, Dec. 17 - seventh place, 3:30 p.m.; consolation, 5 p.m.; third place, 7 p.m.; championship, 8:30 p.m.

Sara Jensen of the Prowlers had inside position on Brittany Hanson of the Green Wave for a first half lay-up in Tuesday's Thief River Falls vs. East Grand Forks girls high school basketball game. The Prowlers won 63-49.

Warroad boys blank Thief River Falls 3-0

Warroad snapped a scoreless tie late in the second period, then iced the game with back-to-back goals late in the third period Tuesday for a 3-0 boys high school hockey win over visiting Thief River Falls.

Cory Monshaugen scored at 10:19 of the second period to break the stalemate, then Mitch Thortsen scored at 9:27 and 10:44 of the third period to clinch it.

Thief River Falls goalie Mike Dowers kept it close with a strong 17-save game. Warroad netminder Brian McFarlane faced just 13 shots.

The Prowlers, who lost at home to Roseau 7-1 in the 1999-2000 season opener a week earlier, had another tough time of it offensively, but head coach Scott Bergland liked what he saw defensively this time [illegible] around.

"We played much better than we did a week ago," said Bergland. "Michael (Dowers) played well. He did a good job keeping things to the outside."

There were some opportunities to get on the scoreboard, but the Prowlers were unable to convert those chances into goals, according to Bergland. "We had three or four golden chances to put the puck in the net," he said, "but we couldn't capitalize."

Scoring

First period - none.

Second period - Warroad, Cory Monshaugen (Justin Skogman), 10:19.

Third period - Warroad, Mitch Thortsen (Tyrone Cole), 9:27; Warroad, Thortsen (Albert Hasbargen), 10:44

Goalie saves - TRF, Mike Dowers 10-6-1—17; Warroad, Brian McFarlane 4-4-5—13.

TRF wrestlers prepare for dual debut Dec. 16

Thief River Falls, after opening the 1999-2000 high school wrestling season at the Wadena-Deer Creek Invitational Saturday, will now be idle until a Thursday, Dec. 16, dual at Larimore, ND. The Prowlers' home opener is scheduled Tuesday, Dec. 21, against Warren-Alvarado-Oslo.

Coach Rick Yanke took 10 wrestlers to Wadena, with injuries forcing the Prowlers to vacate three weight classes – 130, 145 and heavyweight.

"We ended up in last place, two points behind Long Prairie-Grey Eagle," pointed out Yanke. "We had approximately 20 points more than a year ago, which is a step in the right direction. Our conditioning is down a little from where I think it needs to be, but we are continuing to work hard in the practice room, and it will pay off in the future."

Thief River Falls place finishers in the season-opener were Jon Swanson, second at 152 pounds; Beau Abrahamson, third at 125; Miko Hagen, fourth at 119; Colt Bergeron, fifth at 103; Jeremy Anderson, sixth at 112; and Gavin Martell, sixth at 140.

Wadena-Deer Creek won team honors with 192.5 points, followed by Bertha-Hewitt/Verndale 186, Badger/Greenbush-Middle River 164.5, Perham 143, Pine River-Backus/Pequot Lakes 121, Sauk Centre 92, Long Prairie-Grey Eagle 73, Thief River Falls 71.

Huskies' bench plays big role in tournament win

It's nice to have a bench. With starter Travis Scheef sidelined by a thigh bruise, Goodridge coach Eric Mickelson filled out the Huskies' starting line with Casey Jones. The 6-7 sophomore took advantage of the opportunity with a 23-point, 11-rebound game that helped beat East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 52-43 In Tuesday's opening round quarterfinals of the ninth annual Northland Community and Technical College-KTRF-Pepsi Invitational boys high school basketball tournament.

"We're going to do better than last season," said Mickelson, whose 4-18 squad of a year ago had just one senior. In addidon to Scheef, the Huskies' returnees include Chad Johnson, last year's leading scorer, Dustin Marquis, Chancey Halvorson and Averre Marquis.

"We've got some experience, and we've got some good quickness," noted Mickelson. "We'll be better than .500."

Sacred Heart doubled Goodridge 14-7 in the first quarter, but the Huskies were within 21-18 at halftime, and they began the fourth quarter with a 33-30 lead.

Goodridge helped its cause with a 15-for-21 free throw night. Sacred Heart was 7-for-14 at the line.

Nate Bonderud led the Eagles with 17 points.

In other first round results at Northland:

■ Gavin Nordby scored 24 points and Alex Holte had 16 as Grygla-Gatzke beat Red Lake County Central 68-41. The Eagles had quarter leads of 12-8, 29-22 and 47-30. Karl Vigstol scored 15 points for the Mustangs, who were just 2-for-14 at the free throw line.

■ Red Lake Falls jumped out to a 28-2 first quarter lead and beat Bug-O-Nay-Ge-Shig 85-46. Four Eagles hit double figures, led by Ben Largis with 18 points and Danny Gagner with 17. Derek Jackson had a 14-point game for Bug-O-Nay-Ge-Shig.

■ Climax/Fisher beat Kittson County North 52-41 behind a 17-point game by James Midboe. The Knights led at the stops 14-8, 30-22 and 40-29. Michael Hill scored 10 points to lead the Cougars.

RLCC girls fall 52-50

In a see-saw battle to the final horn, Red Lake County Central wound up on the down side of a 52-50 girls high school basketball match up with Fosston Tuesday at Oklee.

"It was a real good effort," said Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto. "They're the team we have to beat to get through the sub-section."

Red Lake County Central started with a 13-10 first quarter lead. Fosston went ahead 28-24 at halftime and had a slim 40-39 edge to start the fourth quarter. It remained close through the final eight minutes.

The Mustangs had a chance to win or tie at the end after gaining control of a rebound off a missed Fosston free throw with seven seconds left. But the Greyhounds' defense and the clock wound up forcing a rushed shot that was off the mark at the horn.

Nicole Sundbom and Casey Francis led the winners with 17 and 15 points, respectively. Francis hit three shots from 3-point range.

"We did what we wanted to do – we shut down (Kelly) Roysland," explained Koivisto, "then Francis hits the threes..."

Sylvia Hilgeman scored 16 points and Heather Schiefert had 10 for the 1-1 Mustangs.

Both teams shot 42 percent from the field, with Red Lake County Central going 18-for-43 and Fosston hitting 22 of 52. The Mustangs were 11-for-16 at the free throw line, where the Greyhounds went 4-for-8. Fosston out-rebounded Red Lake County Central 27-18.

"The rebounds hurt," noted Koivisto. "We don't get out-rebounded that often."

Scoring

Wolverines beat Bears

Anna Anderson scored 24 points Monday and Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke held off a late Lake of the Woods rally to win a 47-46 girls high school basketball game played at Grygla.

The Wolverines trailed 12-9 at the end of the first quarter, but went ahead 24-20 at halftime and had a 41-31 third quarter advantage. They were still up 10 with two minutes left when the Bears charged back.

Lake of the Woods made it a 47-46 game with 20 seconds left, but could not regain possession of the ball.

Heather Hanson led Lake of the Woods with 22 points.

"Better, but we're still not satisfied," was the way first-year head coach Justin Lunsetter described the Wolverines' performance that followed a one-sided Friday (Dec. 3) 100-18 loss at the hands of highly-regarded Kittson Central. His one-word description of that one was "terrible."

Goodridge/Grygla-Gatzke was 20-for-43 from the field (47 percent) and 6-for-13 at the free throw line against Lake of the Woods. The Bears went 19-for-49 from the floor (39 percent) and 6-for-16 at the line. Turnovers were even at 12-apiece.

It was first win in three starts for the Wolverines.

Scoring

Warroad wins overtime game vs. TRF boys JV

A 3-0 Thief River Falls lead turned into a 4-3 overtime loss at Warroad Tuesday in boys junior varsity high school hockey.

Mike Kimball, Dane Kjono and Robby Anderson scored the Thief River Falls goals. Warroad pulled even at 9:24 of the third period and scored the game-winner with just 12 seconds left in overtime.

Thief River Falls, 1-1, got a 22-save effort from goalie John Sylvester. The Prowlers put just 12 shots on net.

Henry Boucha is the subject of a newly released book called "Henry Boucha: Star of the North" written by Mary Halverson Schofield. Schofield will appear on KTRF's Coffee Time program on Friday, December 17, and will sign books at Chapter Two book store in Thief River Falls on Saturday, December 18.

TRF native writes book on Henry Boucha

Mary Halverson Schofield, for Thief River Falls resident, has written a biography about Henry Boucha, Native American hockey hero. Schofield will be in Thief River Falls this weekend.

Schofield will appear on KTRF's Coffee Time 9:30 a.m. Friday, December 17, and will be signing copies of her book at a Thief River Falls book store, Chapter Two, from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. on Saturday, December 18.

"Henry Boucha: Star of the North" details the rise of Boucha from a remote upbringing along the shores of Lake of the Woods, and chronicles his phenomenal, unparalleled ascent during Warroad's run in the Minnesota State Tournament. It follows him through two U.S. National Teams that take him behind the iron curtain and to a Silver Olympic Medal in Japan, and includes his all-to-brief, Detroit Red Wings and Minnesota North Stars, NHL stardom.

"Star of the North" spans continents, a war, being Indian, love, hate, triumph and the brutal attack which shattered his career.

Schofield is also the author of "River of Champions," which is now in its second revised printing. "River of Champions" was nominated for the Minnesota Book Award.

"Henry Boucha, Star of the North" may be ordered from SnowShoe Press, P.O. Box 24334, Edina, MN 55424 for $1 .95. Please enclose $1.50 for postage for the first book and an additional 50 cents for each additional book. "Star of the North" is also scheduled to be available at the Barnes and Noble, and B. Daltons book stores before Christmas.

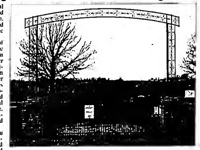
Clearwater Evangelical Church on National Register



Clearwater Evangelical Norwegian Lutheran Church and Cemetery of Equality township, Red Lake county, has been placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

Debbie DuChamp, secretary of the Clearwater Heritage Association, said the association originally requested the listing over 13 years ago, and after many meetings, an application for listing in 1999 was prepared. On November 18, 1999, the application was approved. "This denotes the property as worthy of preserving and commits us to join in a national movement which aims to preserve, for the benefit of future generations, our cultural heritage," said DuChamp.

DuChamp noted that this is a rare event as the only other site listed in Red Lake county is the Red Lake County courthouse in Red Lake Falls.

The Clearwater Evangelical Norwegian Lutheran Church parish, located in Equality township of Red Lake county, was organized on February 21, 1898 with the help of Rev. A.A. Oppergaard. Rev. Oppergaard stayed with the parish for seven years and then returned to Norway.

Charter members of the congregation were: Ole Jare, Hege Jare, H.B. Rendal family, Ole Rendal family, Osmond Legvold family, Saave Stornasll family, Olav Berkland family, Jens Bolstad family, Maren Iverson family, Osmond Brekke family and A.A. Rolandson family.

The cemetery across the road from Clearwater Evangelical Lutheran church in Equality township, Red Lake county, was placed on the National Register of Historic places along with the church.

A sign above the door at Clearwater Evangelical Lutheran church in Equality township, Red Lake county, indicates that the church was organized in 1898. The church has been placed on the National Register of Historic Places.

The congregation held services in private homes for the first couple of years. Following fund-raising efforts, Rev. Skogen, pastor from 1909 to 1911, designed the church. The corner stone for the church was laid on July 10, 1911, and the church building was completed in 1914. In 1944, the congregation began using only English for services and school. Around 1986-87, the parish voted to close the church due to the declining number of church members and financial problems. Pastor Steven Sparley was the last pastor to serve in the church. In 1995, the Clearwater Heritage Association was formed and was sanctioned by the church board. Following the closing of the church, numerous and on-going maintenance improvements were made to preserve the building. Despite the maintenance improvements, there remains some immediate needs, including reshingling of the steeple with rounded shingles, which would be in keeping with the original design. The basement area also needs to be cleaned up.

DuChamp said the Clearwater Heritage Association was organized for the purpose of preserving the past for the benefit of future generations and our cultural heritage. Listing of the church on the National Register of Historic Places makes it possible to create more awareness about the Norwegian Heritage that was central to this rural community. Other landmarks in the area have all been lost, namely Roland Store, Clearwater Creamery, Lillo Post Office, and many farm homesteads.

"It is imperative we put a stop to the loss of these structures, so future generations can get a sense of the dedication of their ancestors to make a successful life in America," said DuChamp.

The board of directors of the Clearwater Heritage Association will be scheduling a time for the dedication ceremony. Signs designating the building and cemetery as historic places, can now be purchased and installed.

Card of Thanks

THANK YOU

We wish to thank Dr. Jim Langland and Dr. Patel and nurses of Northwest Medical Center for the loving care given to my husband and father, Norman Leader, in his illness. Thank you to Pastor John Wollanzien for his comforting words and to Grace Hammer for the beautiful solos. To the VFW and American Legion for military honors. For the memorial cards and flowers, for food brought in and for the ladies serving the noon meal. Thank you all. God bless you.

Strandquist man arrested on conspiracy to commit arson

MAPE employees could go on strike

Strike vote by state employee group could mean strike could begin as early as December 28

Approximately 50 employees in Thief River Falls are members of the Minnesota Association of Professional Employees (MAPE) who could go on strike. For the first time in 18 years, a major bargaining unit of state government voted to strike after refusing to accept a contract. The strike was sanctioned by 68.7 percent of the members voting. Nearly 5,200 of the 7,200 members of MAPE made their voices heard in the election.

If MAPE goes on strike it won't be until a 10-day cooling-off period is completed, as required by law. If it does take place, it could take place as early as December 28.

A news release from MAPE stated that negotiations usually occur during this time period and it is hoped that a settlement can be reached.

"This is not just about solary," said Deb Schadegg, MAPE president, "but entails 40 non-wage issues which the state refuses to discuss. These issues range from travel policy to recognition of employees who work 65-hour weeks without overtime compensation. MAPE employees have given state government over $10 million this year alone, in lost vacation and sick leave, to fill positions that remain vacant during the hiring cycle."

According to the news release, wages are not significantly different in the positions of state and union negotiators. The state is offering a 2.5 and 3 percent salary increase in each year of the contract period, while MAPE has suggested 4 percent increases in each year. The difference is an increase of approximately $10 million that exists in the current budget and does not require a new appropriation or taking funds from the $1.6 billion anticipated revenue surplus.

"We certainly hope that the state's negotiators come to their senses and reopen the discussions," said Jim Monroe, MAPE executive director. "We don't want a strike, particularly at the beginning of the new millennium when taking computer and data processing professionals off local units of government, school districts, health services, and other service delivery agents will be adversely affected by a strike."

Monroe said that if a strike occurs, it is the intent of the union to stop work with the fewest number of people as possible in areas that will most damage the state's ability to function and deliver service.

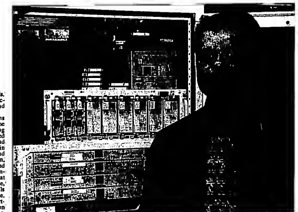
College unveils $500,000 Computer Operations Center

New Computer Operations Center at NCTC keeps college humming

The Computer Operations Center at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls unveiled its new facility to students, faculty and staff on Thursday. The new center has more than $500,000 worth of equipment and specialized infrastructure.



Students at NCTC have access to over 176 computers in seven computer labs. The network consists of 4,300 feet of multi-mode fiber optical cable and approximately 900 category five connections for computer access. Currently, NCTC is sharing two private T-1 1512 KBS connections. In addition, a wireless link to the airport campus was installed. With this connection, students, staff, and faculty at the airport facility have the same access as students, staff and faculty have at the main campus located on Highway 1 East.

The entire Networking Operations Center and its cabinets are temperature-controlled areas. Wireless sensors feed information into a laptop at all times and reports the current, high, and low temperatures and will page the operator when the temperature is in a danger zone. During the sub-zero temperatures Thursday in Thief River Falls, the air conditioners were still operating to keep the cabinets cool.

The new facility makes it possible to provide support for dial-in access to internet and e-mail from apartments and homes off campus. The college rents laptop computers to students. Students who rent the laptops have free access to internet and e-mail. All employees at the college have free internet and e-mail service.

In addition, the Computer Operations Center manages six servers that perform the day-to-day tasks of college departments, including payroll, student records, financial aid, all business functions, student assessments, and much more.

The Computer Operations Center will also be a part of the Connect Minnesota Project, acting as a hub for and providing shared community services for courts and human service departments in Warren, Baudette, East Grand Forks, Red Lake Falls, Crookston, Thief River Falls, Hallock, and Roseau. It will also serve the criminal justice information system that includes East Grand Forks Police, the State Patrol in Thief River Falls and Erskine, Crookston Police, Roseau County Sheriff's department, Red Lake BIA, Kittson County Sheriff's department, Pennington County Sheriff's department, Lake of the Woods Sheriff's department, and Marshall County Sheriff's department.

John Bohnenkamp, network administrator and computer operations manager at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls, provided tours of the new $500,000 computer operations facility at the college.

Fire damages School in TRF

Shortly after responding to a false alarm at Challenger Elementary school, fire officials received a report of a fire in the front entryway of the Franklin Middle School swimming pool.

Fire officials received a report of the fire at Franklin Middle School at about 5 p.m. on Thursday, December 16. A cardboard box filled with clothing, and garbage in a garbage can were on fire. Officials are investigating.

There was smoke damage to the hallways of the school and damage to a nearby pop machine.

According to Franklin Middle School officials, classroom schedules would not be disrupted by the fire.

Roseau Watershed District named 1999 Watershed District of the Year

Roseau River Watershed District was named the 1999 Watershed District of the Year by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources at the Minnesota Association of Watershed District's 29th annual meeting held recently in Alexandria. This award is presented annually to the watershed district that exhibits the ability or willingness to work in partnership with a variety of organizations and individuals.

The Roseau River Watershed District was recognized for demonstrating leadership in adopting an inclusive planning process where all interested parties are invited to the table to participate in developing watershed plans. In addition, the watershed district has supported a comprehensive watershed planning approach, has been promoting innovative flood damage reduction projects, developed their own watershed-wide streamflow data collection network, created a full-time administrator position, and formed a 10-member international flood committee that includes five Minnesota members and five Manitoba members.

Farrell Erickson, Badger, chair of the Roseau River Watershed District said, "We are very pleased to receive this statewide recognition for all of the hard work of the watershed district the past several years. Working with people is the key to our success as a watershed district."

In addition to Erickson, the board of manager for the Roseau River Watershed District includes Ray Moser, Roseau, Allison Frislie, Lancaster, LaVerne Voll, Salol, and LeRoy Carriere, Roseau. Recent past managers include Steve Erickson, , Roseau, Robert Severson, Wannaska, and Kelman Kviem, Roseau.

Storekeeper honored for contributions

Gerald Sjulestad was recently honored by the Goodridge Area Historical Society, Inc. for his contributions to the history of the area. For many years, Sjulestad has been the proprietor of Sjulestad's Store located 12 miles southeast of Goodridge.

by Kathi Carlson
Northern Watch Reporter

Going into Goodridge to observe the town's holiday lighting ceremony wasn't quite appealing enough for Gerald Sjulestad. He required a little more coaxing, and his family actually had to resort to trickery to get him to attend the event and, afterwards, the Goodridge Area Historical Society's annual meeting.

Gerald didn't know that he would be one of the honorees at the gathering on November 28 and presented with a plaque recognizing him for his "contributions and dedicated service to the history of the community." Also honored at the annual event was Allen Jones who will be featured in an upcoming issue of the Northern Watch.

When it comes to the history of the Goodridge area, Sjulestad is a delightful walking, talking treasure of the community.

The oldest of six children, Gerald was born on September 18, 1912 to Ivan and Ingaborg Dahle Sjulestad on the family's farm southeast of Goodridge. While he's moved several times during his lifetime, it hasn't been more than a few miles from that original homestead where he was baptized.

At the age of seven, Gerald started school at the Northstar Township school. He also received his religious training at the school and was confirmed there in Norwegian by Rev. Hoyum.

Gerald's first teacher was Hannah Tollefson, and he recalls a few of his classmates' names — Gladys Loiland, Janet Trontvet, Mabel B[illegible]e and Mary Rush. The fact that he only remembers girls' names must reveal something of his personality.

While he didn't care much for sports in school, Gerald says the teacher insisted that he participate in baseball and volleyball.

When he was 15, his father became ill, ending Gerald's formal education as he took over the family farm. He also learned carpentry skills as he worked with his uncle, Ole Dahle.

> I should have started out with a movie camera. It really would have been something to see! — Gerald Sjulestad

As a youth, Sjulestad says he enjoyed carpentry, blacksmithing and chores as well as riding horse, playing music with his dad and chewing snoose. Then as now, learning to drive was also a rite of youth, and he recalls that back then the driver's license he had to apply for cost only [illegible].

Young ladies were also a part of his life, and he says he dated a few girls before meeting Rose Eidelbes at a dance at Highlanding. Gerald married Rose who, coincidently, had been raised on the homestead where he had been born.

Gerald and Rose moved to the present Sjulestad farm in 1944, and for 20 years or so farmed his section while renting another half section from neighbor George Homme. In addition to grain farming, the Sjulestads milked cows and raised pigs, sheep, chickens, turkeys and geese. To supplement their income, Gerald did blacksmithing and cut lumber, and the couple sold eggs. He also spent several winters during the early 1950s working as a welder in eastern Minnesota's iron ore mines.

In about 1963 illness caused Gerald and Rose to make the decision to quit farming and begin a new venture as storekeepers. Because the Erie store had closed, they saw the need for a country store, and with customers already coming to the farm for eggs, opening a store seemed like a logical thing to do.

The two-room house that the couple's oldest son, Sonny, had moved onto the farm when he got married was moved across the farm yard and became the Sjulestad Store.

Gerald hauled his own groceries twice a week for 23 years, going through five vehicles before vendors finally began delivering groceries and supplies to the store on a weekly basis.

Over the years, neighbors and family members helped out at the store, and while it wasn't very often, Gerald and Rose had the opportun-

Art show being developed by NWRDC

The Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission is announcing a new direct program, the Northwest Minnesota Art Show.

The new art show is an exciting addition to the Arts Council. This program was developed in direct response to an on-going need expressed by visual artists in the region. Artists in the area currently do not have a good multi-county exhibit that showcases their work and allows them to network with each other and gain recognition. In order for the exhibit to be a success the council is looking for a non-profit group to help co-sponsor and host the event in its community.

Any organization interested in being a co-sponsor need to complete a brief application form and submit it by January 14, 2000. The exhibit is planned for one long weekend in late April or early May 2000 depending on restrictions of the selected host site.

Artist who are interested in participating in the exhibit can call to request an entry form brochure. The exhibit will be juried and the amount of work selected will depend on the number of entries and the location of the exhibit. The council anticipates a large number of works will be accepted. High school students and adults with a permanent residence in the seven county area will be eligible to enter. The counties represented are Kittson, Marshall, Norman, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake, and Roseau. Awards of $1,500 will be distributed in adult and student categories. The Arts Council is working to arrange several purchase awards also.

For more information on the Northwest Regional Art Show, contact Mara Wittman, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 115 South Main, Warren, MN 56762, (218) 745-6733.

Grants available for performing and visual artists

The Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission is accepting applications for grants of up to $750 for adult individual artists and $500 for student artists.

Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, these programs provide artists with grants for specific projects which contribute directly to their creative and professional growth and development. Upcoming deadlines are February 15, March 15 and May 15, 2000.

Artists may apply for assistance with costs associated with the production and presentation of work, professional training and mentorship including training in other states or countries, supplies related to specific projects and other services. Applications are encouraged from individuals working in literary, performing or visual art.

Artists must be Minnesota residents who have resided in the seven county area for at least one year prior to the deadline dates. Counties included are: Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Norman.

Application guidelines and forms are available from Mara Wittman, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 115 South Main, Warren, MN 56762, (218) 745-6733.

Hockey season over before it begins

Indus -The hockey season at Indus High School was over before it began this year as the board of education of School District 363 voted recently to cancel the 1999-2000 season schedule.

The vote does not drop the program all together but leaves the door open to resume the sport next year. However, Indus will not play any games this year.

Participation was the problem, and Coach Kevin Erickson told the board that he only has five players for a sport that requires six players on the ice at a time. The Baudette Region

Holiday Inspiration

I saw some Christmas lights the other evening while I was driving East along the Rainy River. No big deal, you're thinking, it's December and if I was driving around and actually didn't see any Christmas lights it might suggest that I was either asleep at the wheel or had a frozen carrot stuck in each eye. Actually, what made the sighting of these particular lights significant was not so much their seasonal quality, but their geographical position and the fact that I could see them twice at the same time. Double vision! You shudder, assuming I've gone from Christmas Scrooge to Holiday Stooge, climbing behind the wheel after one too many Egg-Nogs. No, I assure you that my teetotalling wife gets the driver's seat after every holiday gathering. These lights really were notable, though. Let me explain before I get too far afield.

Driving East along the Rainy at this time of year offers a unique perspective. There are Christmas lights decorating houses on both sides of the river. The lack of foliage allows a clear view across to Canada in many locutions and the residents there seem to recognize this, placing decorations so that they can be seen by U.S. residents living on or traveling along Highway 11. I can only assume that these Canadians have lights on the other sides of their houses, as well, offering a festive glow to their own countrymen, and that the U.S. houses offer a similarly electric greeting to the north. I'll have to drive the Rainy River-to-Ft. Frances loop soon to find all this out for sure, but for the moment I am pleased to know that there's someone from that foreign country who is at least a little bit concerned with my Christmas well-being.

What makes this year even more special, however, is the mildness of the season. On any other mid-December night, the Rainy River would be a jumbled collection of frozen ice chunks and wispy snow drifts offering little more than wintry intimidation. Yet, on a calm evening like the one that found me driving along Highway 11, the inky black surface of the unfrozen river reflected, in perfect double image, every tiny twinkle that shone from the far shore. Like a Rocky Mountain post-card highlighting grandiose peaks in the stillness of a mountain lake, even the most modest of holiday displays became dazzling light shows, worthy of a road-side stop and stare.

And as I stopped and stared, it occurred to me that, perhaps, there was more to the yuletide panorama that lay before me than just lights. I turned the car heater up a notch and pondered the possibilities.

Perhaps this truly sublime Christmas gesture was an initial step towards international outdoor reconciliation. The embarrassingly fuzzy warmth I felt within was the direct result of a powerfully Christian Canadian display and the reflection that awed me now came from as obvious a token of the past decade's contentious fishing disputes as one could imagine- the Rainy River itself! Maybe it was time, with new, equalized fish and game laws in the works, to let bygones be bygones and enter the new year with a fresh attitude. Perhaps the baby Jesus figurine in my mantelpiece manger scene should be waving a U.S. flag in one hand and a Canadian flag in the other. Perchance, I could even learn a few Christmas carols in French!

Or, perhaps, the lights before me flashed the potential for logical thinking, as in a light bulb over one's head. The source of this brilliance came from the Canadian side and shone down on the common ground of the river. Who says all good ideas have to originate in the U.S.? Having clamored for years to claim our legal right to a shared resource, perhaps we, as Americans, should take a bright notion from the other side and show we know how to use it. They've gone to greater lengths to insure the future of border-waters fishing, maybe we should follow suit and consider something a little more radical in our millennium limits than an embarrassing six Sauger summertime-only reduction.

Or, perhaps, I considered, as the wholesomeness of my personal paranoia slowly returned, that this was simply another well-crafted MNR trap. Anyone foolish enough to pause along the narrowness of a Highway 11 shoulder for more than 30 seconds will most certainly find himself flattened like a Christmas lefse beneath the treads of a speeding Boise Cascade pulp truck. What better way to eliminate American opposition than to lure us into this death-trap under an inspiring yuletide premise. I spied the approaching headlights in my rear-view mirror, hitting the accelerator just in time to avoid becoming holiday road-kill.

As I drove west along the river, back towards home, I pondered the possibilities. International-Christmas spirit? Heavy-handed message from some obscure fish deity? A devious ministry ambush? Perhaps they were just some well-placed lights.

LSS Caregiver Discussion Group

Lutheran Social Service Caregiver Discussion Groups will meet Tuesday, December 21.

The first meeting will be held at 10 a.m. at Trinity Lutheran Church in Thief River Falls, and the evening meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. at the Thief River Falls Public Library.

The meeting is for family members who are caring for loved ones who are chronically ill, disabled or frail elderly.

KSRQ special Christmas program set

Unique Christmas programming will be featured December 24 and 25 on KSRQ radio in Thief River Falls. KSRQ is the campus radio station of Northland Community and Technical College and will offer listeners several special holiday programs.

Don Howe, KSRQ station manager, says they have looked for programs that are a little different from what is being offered elsewhere. "All of the special programs we are offering are perfect for Christmas enjoyment. We have selected programs from St. Olaf and Concordia Colleges, a selection of holiday favorites by Trisha Yearwood, and, for those who are looking for something that is a real change of pace, I think they would really enjoy the World Music Journal Christmas Special. This is a series of programs featuring Christmas favorites from around the world," Howe said.

KSRQ's holiday programming begins at 11 a.m., December 24, with the Christmas special featuring Trisha Yearwood. The half-hour Concordia College concert will be featured at 2 p.m. on Christmas Eve and Christmas Day. The St. Olaf College concert is scheduled for 3 p.m., December 24, and 1 p.m. Christmas Day. The program featuring Christmas music from around the world, World Music Journal Christmas Special, is a two-hour presentation that will be heard at 7 p.m. on Christmas Eve and 4 p.m. Christmas Day. The holiday programming will feature non-stop commercial-free Christmas music throughout Christmas Eve and Christmas Day.

KSRQ FM is located at 90.1 and is a non-commercial public radio station serving northwestern Minnesota and northeastern North Dakota with alternative programming. The radio station recently added its voice to the world by broadcasting everyday over the world wide web, viewed at www.northland.cc.mn.us.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere

There's still plenty of time to do some more Christmas baking and candy-making. In fact, it's even more fun now that it's closer to the holiday.

Here's another one of those very old-fashioned fudges that are so good at Christmas time – this one sounds a lot like the old recipe I use every year, and there's nothing better:

COCOA FUDGE

2/3 cup cocoa
1/8 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup butter
3 cups sugar
1 1/2 cups cream
1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine cocoa, sugar, salt and cream. Bring to a boil and reduce heat to medium. Cook to 234 degrees without stirring. Remove from heat and add butter and vanilla. Do not stir.

Cool to lukewarm, about 110 degrees. Add walnuts if desired. Beat by hand until thick. Spread in buttered pan and let cool completely or overnight before cutting.

I also make a marshmallow crème fudge for those who like that more mild kind – It's an entirely different flavor – but also very good:

EASY NO-FAIL FUDGE

3 cups sugar
2/3 cup evaporated milk
1 (7 ounce) jar marshmallow crème
1 teaspoon vanilla
3/4 cup butter
1 (12 ounce) package chocolate chips
1 cup chopped nuts
Dash of salt

Combine sugar, butter and milk in heavy pan. Bring to full rolling boil, stirring constantly.

Continue boiling 5 minutes over medium or medium low heat, stirring constantly to avoid scorching. Remove from heat and stir in chocolate chips until melted. Add marshmallow crème, nuts and vanilla.

Beat until well blended. Pour into greased 9x13 pan.

A little more modern recipe, you'll love this one – just be sure to cook it long enough to "set" properly:

MICROWAVE PECAN PENUCHE

2 cups pecans (and/or walnuts)
1/2 cup butter
2/3 cup brown sugar
1 (14 ounce) can sweetened condensed milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Microwave pecans about 6 minutes, stirring every 2 minutes, until lightly browned.

In large casserole or other microproof container, microwave butter 1 minute. Add brown sugar and condensed milk and microwave 7-9 minutes until full rolling boil. Cook more, if necessary, until mixture is thickened and golden brown. Beat about 5 minutes with mixer, until mixture is smooth and shiny. Add vanilla and nuts. Pour into greased, 8 inch square pan. Chill until firm, 2 or 3 hours, and then cut into small squares. (650 watt micro oven was used, adjust time according to your oven.)

These can be called cookies or they can be called candy, but everyone calls them "yum-yum, good":

DATE BALLS

1 pound pitted dates, chopped
1 cup sugar
2 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
3 cups crispy rice cereal
Coconut or walnuts

Add eggs, sugar and butter to chopped dates. Cook until thick, then cool.

Mix and add vanilla and cereal. Shape into balls and roll in coconut or chopped walnuts.

Easier to make than those fancy cookies, but just as tasty – great for carolers or visiting schoolmates:

PEANUT BUTTER CUP COOKIES

1 cup butter, softened
3/4 cup brown sugar
3/4 cup white sugar
2 1/4 cups flour
1/3 cup cocoa
1 cup chocolate chips
19 peanut butter cup candies, cut up
3/4 cup peanut butter
2 large eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix butter, peanut butter, sugar and vanilla until light and fluffy. Add eggs one at a time.

Add flour, cocoa, soda and salt and mix until smooth. Stir in chips and chopped peanut butter cups.

Drop by teaspoonful on ungreased cookie sheets. Bake at 350 degrees for 13-15 minutes.

One more utterly delicious Christmas cookie, cherry and chocolate – don't forget to leave one for Santa:

CHERRY KISS COOKIES

1 cup powdered sugar
1 cup butter
2 teaspoon maraschino cherry juice
1/2 cup chopped and drained maraschino cherries
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
2 1/4 cups flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
Chocolate kisses or stars

Combine powdered sugar, butter, cherry juice and almond extract. Blend well.

Add dry ingredients and then stir in cherries.

Shape into 1 inch balls and place 2 inches apart on cookie sheets. Bake 8 to 10 minutes at 350 degrees.

Immediately after baking, top with chocolate kiss or chocolate star.

Regional crop clinics scheduled for January 4-7

Crop producers and agri-business persons are invited and encouraged to attend one of the four regional crop clinic scheduled for northwest Minnesota January 4-7.

U of M offers grain marketing course

A course that provides six days of intensive marketing training for grain producers will be available at Moorhead at the Best Western Red River Inn on February 16-17, March 1-2 and March 15-16.

The course is designed for producers who have a basic knowledge of grain marketing, but wish to enhance their skills. There is room for 60 producers. The University of Minnesota Extension Service is the sponsor.

A key objective of the program is to help producers learn to sell their grain for higher prices, thus increasing their total farm income. Another objective is to encourage the development of marketing clubs to further advance the marketing skills of participants.

Subjects covered include basic and advanced marketing strategies, financial planning and farm budgeting, fundamental and technical analysis, and supporting successful marketing clubs. Speakers will come from universities and the private sector. They include Bill Tierney of Kansas State University, Bob Wisner of Iowa State University and Elwynn Taylor of Iowa State.

Prescription drug companies need a wake-up call

For several years now I have heard stories about senior citizens traveling to Canada to combine a vacation with a trip to the drug store. Many prescriptions cost significantly less (as much as 50 percent less with the favorable exchange rate) in Canada. Senior citizens make that trip because they are on fixed incomes can't afford to pay the high price of prescription drugs and, in some cases, purchase necessities.

In their defense, drug companies say the high cost of prescription drugs in the United States are based on what the market will bear, the high cost of research for new drugs, and advertising and promotion expenses needed to sell the drugs.

Options to help reduce the cost of prescription drugs are beginning to appear, but proposals to reign in the high cost of prescription drugs with legislation will do little to advance the cause of drug research or the health industry.

Yes, I know I'm relatively young, healthy, and gainfully employed. If our roles were reversed I might believe just the opposite. In fact I probably would try to take that occasional trip to Canada to obtain less expensive prescription drugs.

Recently, I received some information from the Minnesota Board on Aging that puts the plight of seniors in perspective. The example provided as follows: "Janet lives in St. Paul on $767 a month in Social Security, and she has health problems typical of many older Americans: diabetes, asthma, glaucoma and high blood pressure. Her income coupled with the high cost of drugs prompted Janet to do what many low-income seniors do — cut down on recommended dosages to save money.

"'I used to try not to use my asthma inhalers, so I didn't have to pay to have them refilled,' said Janet."

Combine the cost of prescription drugs with other typical costs, such as insurance, and seniors don't have much to live on.

The point of the news release and example from the Minnesota Board on Aging however, was to point out a new program called Senior Drug Program of the Minnesota Department of Human Services. If you qualify for the program, you pay only $35 a month for drugs and the program picks up the rest of the costs. (To learn more about the program and determine whether you're eligible, call the Senior LinkAGE line at 1-800-333-2433.)

The point? It's an example of one program that can do more to help seniors than years of arguing over the benefits and costs of legislating drug prescription prices. The downside of implementing another assistance program, however, is that rides on the back of taxpayers again.

Since these companies are often owned by investors, I'm sure that if the complaints continue, they'll eventually hear those complaints, and act on them. Because of their high-priced prescription drugs, these companies will soon see that people are fed up and are exercising their options, which include purchasing herbal remedies, generic brands, or lower costing drugs in foreign countries.

It's a fact that large drug companies are interested in making a profit. Losing that profit often gets their undivided attention.

POLICIES

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

A new millennium! The start of another 1,000 years. It's really something if you think about it. But I'm a farmer and our new millennium right now doesn't look so promising. How could this be in a time when our economy is going like gangbusters?

But it is bad, very bad. My town where I live by is really just a skeleton of its former self. The school has steadily dwindling numbers and has a hard time staying open at times. The churches are in the same shape. There are no dairy farmers left in the township, and the grain and livestock farmers are getting fewer, older, and further in the hole. Our hope for the future, our youth, are looked at like fools if they even think about looking at a career in agriculture. Our school doesn't even offer any Ag curriculum. At the same time we are seeing overcrowding in our cities, in their schools and transit systems. It is a real rat race.

I find it hard to see all this happening around me. I realize that change is inevitable, but I hope things will change as well. I sometimes wonder if people really understand how fragile their food supply is. I know the grocery stores are packed with everything a person could ever want, but what if something disrupted their supply, e.g. war, trucker's strike, farmers going broke, widespread drought, or monopoly takeovers? How long could a family survive on their own? How do we dare to let our food supply be manipulated at all? But it is. What is wrong with our system to allow all this to happen?

I believe it is like most situations where the "almighty dollar" is in control. Big Ag companies want to make as many of these "almighties" as they can. Free trade allows them to get more commodities at even lower prices and more profit. Consolidations and takeovers make them bigger, more monopolistic, and powerful. We need to start pointing fingers, and we should be pointing them straight up to where the price should be.

But enough about the situation or blaming or bitching, or even talking about how bad it is. We need to act, and we need to do it now at the start of this new millennium.

I believe the situation is simple if we allow it to be. We, as farmers need and deserve a fair price for our produce and we need help to get it. We need help from the consumer, who should know that the food they are buying was paid for at a fair price to American farmers and not imported from somewhere. They should know what was sprayed on the Wheaties they are eating or the hormones that may be in their hamburger. We need our legislators to pass legislation to allow us to get a fair price, not from the government in some elaborate scheme of payment formulas, but from the marketplace directly. As a farmer I believe we at least deserve a minimum wage for our commodities. There is a minimum wage standard for employees set by the government. Why couldn't there be a minimum wage standard set for commodities? This doesn't have to mean on every bushel produced, but it should be on a set number of bushels at least. With the technology of today, we are able to get a pretty close idea of how many farmers we have and how many bushels of any commodity we use, domestically and for export. I challenge both the legislators and grain buying companies to make contracts with the American farmer for a set amount of bushels at a set price. This would both guarentee our supply and give a fair price.

S.O.S. Is what I call it. I don't know exactly what it should stand for, maybe Help, or Scrap Old System, or Save Our Society, or how about Six On Six thousand. That's $6 on 6,000 bushels of wheat. That's it. That's my whole program idea. Simple? Yes. Too simple? Maybe, but could it be worse than what we have now? Set the dollar and bushel amounts and make a contract with the American farmer for all commodities. I challenge you, Collin Peterson, Rod Grams, Paul Wellstone, Jesse Ventura, Byron Dorgan, Kent Conrad, Earl Pomeroy, and Harvest States, Cargill, ADM, Continental, and others to make this happen. I challenge you, the American farmer to accept no less. Together we can turn this around.

Sincerely,
Scott Peters
Viking, MN

To the Editor:

There are very few issues I will respond to when I read Letters to the Editor as I feel every citizen has a right to their opinion and one vehicle to express that opinion is through a Letter to the Editor. However, I am compelled to respond to a letter that appeared in the Northern Watch on Saturday, December 11. It was signed A Concerned American, Dawn C. Neuschwander. I'm compelled to respond because the letter contained many Incorrect statements and I feel the need to respond to those issues.

First of all, block scheduling is a totally volunteer process. There are no Minnesota Statutes or rules or federal laws that say a school district must implement block scheduling. It is totally voluntary and is not in any way, shape or form forced upon a school district.

Secondly, school-to-work is a program that Thief River Falls has had for a number of years and will continue to have. This initiative is driven by businesses that are requesting more comprehensive articulation between what we're teaching students and the kinds of skills they need to be successful in the world of work and in post-secondary education. It is an initiative that is well founded in research and has the support of businesses across the United States. It is not contingent upon block scheduling being implemented as a block schedule is totally separate from any kind of curricular issue and school-to-work is a curricular issue.

Another incorrect statement is that the Profiles of Learning, as defined by the State of Minnesota, is a Minnesota initiative. It is not a federal initiative. Goals 2000 is a federal initiative, but the Profiles of Learning, as they have been developed, is a Minnesota initiative and there are no federal dollars earmarked for Minnesota for the Profiles of Learning.

One additional comment, businesses do not receive dollars to implement the School-to-Work Initiatives. They do not get dollars from the federal government or local school districts to help with costs for students who may want to do job shadowing, internships and other partnerships that exist between the school district and businesses.

Block scheduling and the School-to-Work initiative are, in fact, local decisions. They are not mandated and our School Board does have a say in those initiatives as to whether or not they will be part of our curriculum and whether or not they will be part of our school.

I respect the individual's comments in her letter. However, I do believe it is important when people do write a letter to the editor that they do have their facts correct.

Sincerely,
Jerry W. Robicheau, Ph.D.

Speakers named for annual football clinic

Featured speakers for the 17th Annual Coaches Clinic have been announced at Northland Community and Technical College.

Northland Athletic Director Rick Nelson, and Head Football Coach Dan Willoughby, are hosting the event on behalf of NCTC, and are excited to announce this year's speakers for the event to take place January 29, 2000.

Headlining the event is Roger Thomas, athletic director at the University of North Dakota and former head coach of the Fighting Sioux. Thomas will reflect on his 20-plus years of professional and collegiate coaching experience as he discusses the "Passing Game and Humor in Athletics."

Also presenting is Jim Guetter, head football coach of the nine-man state champions, the Stephen/Argyle Storm. Guetter will be talking about "Motivation and Working With Young Athletes Who Want to Achieve Success."

Additional speakers include: Dave Kuehn, head football coach at Crookston Central, and the staff of the Dakota Clinic Sports Medicine staff, headed by Bonnie Davidson, and Mike and Jody Crocket.

Additional information will be announced as the clinic date nears.

The 17th Annual Coaches Clinic is open to coaches and fans who pre-register by January 25, 2000. The cost to attend is $15 per individual, or $50 for a coaching staff of four or more people. For more information, or to register, contact Rick Nelson at 218-681-0725.

Outlaw race held December 18-19 in Baudette

With the cancellation of the first two races because of a lack of snow and ice, N Star has joined First American North Star Series racing to put on a last minute lake race this weekend, December 18-19.

The race will take place in Baudette beginning Saturday morning at 10 a.m. They have put together a one and one-half mile lake lemans. Classes will be determined by the entrants. Manufacturers have been notified and pros as well as amateurs will be on hand for spectators to watch the "first race of the season."

Registration will take place Saturday morning at the VFW in Baudette from 7 to 9 a.m. Anyone wanting to pre-register may call the PANS corporate office at 218-222-3810 or fax to 218-222-3809 or contact the N Star office at 218-253-4811 or fax to 218-253-4844.

WSA race in Otsego postponed due to weather

Due to the unusually warm and snow-free westher pattern continuing in the Midwest, World Snowmobile Association (WSA) officials and local promoters have announced the second round of the Snocross Worldwide Championship has been postponed. Originally scheduled for this coming weekend, December 18-19, at the Otsego County Fairgrounds in Gaylord, MI, the Castle Racing/HJC Michigan Challenge will be rescheduled to another weekend after the Holiday Season, and further information will be announced soon.

IN TIME OF LOVE
Lonely is the home without you
Life to us is not the same
All the world would be like heaven
If we could have you back again.
A light from our household gone
A voice we loved is still
A place is vacant in our home
That can never be filled.
May the love of God every
Care for our loved one who is gone
And bless with consolation
The happy hours we once enjoyed
How sweet their memory still
But death has left a vacant place
This world can never fill.
How dearly we loved you
And prayed you might live
But Jesus just beckoned
And we had to give.
God gave us strength to bear it
And courage to fight the blow
What it has meant to lose you
God alone will ever know.

MPCA seeks public comment for feedlot rule

The Minnesota Pollution Control Agency seeks public comment on proposed revisions to Minnesota Rule Chapter 7020 and proposed minor changes to Minnesota Rule Chapter 7002 as it relates to feedlots. A regional hearing is scheduled for Wednesday, January 26, 2000 in Crookston at the NW Ag Research Center, U of M Youngquist Auditorium, 2900 University Ave., 1 mile north of Crookston at the junction of highways 2 and 75. Hearings are scheduled at 2:00 p.m. and again at 6.00 p.m.

People are invited to comment in writing on the proposed rule revision from December 20, 1999 through January 19, 2000. An administrative law judge also will hold public hearings on the proposed rule revisions at locations around the state. All interested persons are encouraged to present their views in writing or at a hearing.

Rule Chapter 7020 governs animal feedlots, manure storage areas and pastures, handling and utilization of animal manure and associated process wastewater.

The proposed amendments to Chapter 7020 primarily address manure storage, handling and land application; manure runoff from open-lot feedlots; and design and construction standards. They include revisions to definitions, the permitting process, manure-management processes and technical standards.

Public Comment Period

During the 30-day public comment period, individuals may submit written comments to the administrative law judge or to the MPCA. Copies of all comments received by the MPCA are forwarded to the administrative law judge who conducts the public hearing and considers citizens' comments in his final report.

Please submit comments to: Administrative Law Judge Allan W. Klein, Office of Administrative Hearings, 100 Washington Square, Suite 1700, Minneapolis MN 55401-2138, or to Mary Osborn, Minnesota Pollution Control Agency, 520 Lafayette Road N., St. Paul, MN 55155.

Copies of the official rule language may be obtained in several ways:
- in the State Register:
- at the State Register web page, http://www.comm.media.state.mn.us/monmag/srmain.htm;
- by calling the MPCA Feedlot Service Center toll-free at (877) 333-3508; and
- at the MPCA's web page, http://www.pca.state.mn.us/hot/feedlot-rules.html

People wishing to comment should make their comments as specific as possible. Please include the following:
- your name and address;
- the rule number that identifies the portion of the proposed rule that is of concern (Example: part 7020.0300, subpart 11, definition of "domestic fertilizer");
- the reason the proposed rule language is of concern; and
- alternative rule language that would address the concern.

Public Hearing

All interested persons also can present their views at the hearing. An administrative law judge will conduct a series of hearings around the state. Written public comments also will be accepted after the hearing. The due date for comments will be announced at the start of the hearing.

For more information about the public comment process or the hearings, contact Julie Swiler at (651) 296-6706 or toll-free at (800) 657-3864. Or, call the Feedlot Service Center toll-free at (877) 333-3508.

Peterson will host several meetings

Congressman Collin C. Peterson will host a series of meetings in the district to discuss potential changes to the existing farm bill.

"I hope to hear from farmers and others who understand first-hand how the farm bill has affected them," Peterson said. "I plan to take this input back to Washington, D.C. and present it at future House Agriculture Committee hearings."

Hearings on the farm bill will take place after the new year.

Peterson will host meetings at the following locations:
- 1 p.m., Wednesday, December 29 at the VFW in Fergus Falls;
- 7 p.m., Wednesday, December 29 at the American Legion in Morris;
- [illegible] a.m., Thursday, December 30 at the city auditorium in Roseau;
- 2 p.m., Thursday, December 30 at Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls;
- 7 p.m., Thursday, December 30 at the VFW in Ada.

Toward True Reconciliation.

A Comment on Lutheran-Roman Catholic Relations.

You may have heard that a declaration was signed that claims to resolve a key difference between the Lutheran Church and the Roman Catholic Church. What you may not have heard is that more than 45 percent of the Lutheran church-bodies in the world did not support the declaration.

The Lutheran Church–Missouri Synod is the oldest and second-largest Lutheran church-body in the United States. We would like to explain why we could not support the declaration.

We rejoice that we have much in common with our fellow Christians in the Roman Catholic Church. Because of what we have in common, we are committed to working toward true reconciliation of our important differences. We could not support the declaration because it does not actually reconcile the difference between us concerning the most important truth of Christianity.

What is that truth? God loved the world so much that He sent His Son, Jesus Christ, to live a perfect life in our place and to die for our sins. God declares us to be totally righteous and completely forgiven because of the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ. God gives us eternal life as a free gift through trust in Christ alone.

The Roman Catholic Church teaches that something more than trust in Christ is necessary for us to be saved. It teaches that we are able to merit, through our works, eternal life for ourselves and others. We believe this teaching obscures the work of Jesus Christ and clouds the central message of the Bible.

Therefore, despite what has been reported in the public media about the Lutheran-Roman Catholic declaration, very significant differences remain in regard to how we understand salvation, a fact that the Roman Catholic Church acknowledges.

We pray for genuine reconciliation of differences among Christians. Our church is intent on working for the day when the pure Gospel of Jesus Christ is proclaimed with one voice. We will continue to work toward true reconciliation.

MAPE employees could go on strike

"Unfortunately, during a strike of this nature many innocent people will be hurt in the process," said Monroe. "But the intent of a strike to bring work-stoppage and affect the delivery of service. People will be affected and we regret the inconvenience this is going to cause to many who are simply caught in the process. This does not have to happen. We have requested binding arbitration but the state has refused our offer three different times."

This is the first strike sanctioned by a state employee group since the AFSCME strike of 1981.

Groups affected in Thief River Falls would include employees of the state auditor's office, located in the county court house, some corrections employees, employees with economic security, and employees of various departments at Northland Community and Technical College, and office of technology and economic security, which is located at the college.

-ity to get away to enjoy fishing or vacationing in Arizona.

Since his wife's death about ten years ago, Gerald has continued to operate his store. All of his six children — Edward "Sonny," Yvonne, Howard, Cheryl "Soots," David "Dave," and Joni — and their families live nearby.

Business has changed Gerald says, and he attributes fewer customers to competition from large Thief River Falls stores and the fact that so many of the areas women have gone to work in town (Thief River Falls) in recent years.

At 87, he walks with a cane, and to accomodate his gait, his sons have replaced the steeper porch steps on his house with a railed wooden stairway that features long steps and short risers. From the bottom of the steps, it's a short jaunt on sidewalk to the store where he greets his customers seven days a week. According to son Dave, who lives in the same yard, Gerald's lights are usually on by 5 a.m.

As in his youth, Gerald enjoys working. A few years ago Dave says that he encouraged his dad to go into Goodridge on Thursdays for a special senior meal followed by an afternoon of card playing. Gerald, however, declined. "What would I want to do that for?" he asked Dave and let his son know that such activity was for "old" people.

In addition to his six children, Gerald has 24 grandchildren, 32 great-grandchildren and two great great-grandchildren, and he says that his home will be filled to capacity on Christmas eve for the family's traditional gathering when he always provides the turkey and the lutefisk and the others bring the trimmings. "It's a lot of people!" says Gerald's daughter-in-law Mary Ann. "We go through 25 to 30 pounds of lutefisk alone." Dave says. "Santa always visits," Mary Ann adds, "and has something for everyone!"

With obvious pride, Gerald lets one know that his big family and close-knit neighborhood are the rewards of a long life. On November 28, members of the Goodridge Area Historical Society, Inc. let him know that they think he is quite special too.

Eyes twinkling, Gerald says about his 87 years, "I should have started out with a movie camera. It really would have been something to see!" Something tells us, he's right about that.

Many Post Offices close early on Christmas eve

Many Post Offices throughout North Dakota (zip code areas 580-588), South Dakota (zip codes 570-577) and Northwestern Minnesota (zip code areas 565 and 567) will close their retail window operations early on Christmas Eve, December 24. The decision will be dictated by the community's needs, and hours of retail window operation will be posted in the lobby of your local post office.

All collection and transportation routes will be adjusted to run two hours early. Last minute package pick up and shipping via overnight Express Mail service will be available prior to the early closing.

The Christmas Eve schedule will not impact the delivery of mail on December 24. All incoming packages, cards and letters received in local post offices on Christmas Eve will be delivered. Throughout much of the United States, postal employees will continue to deliver Express Mail packages on Christmas day.

Water line break leaves Red Lake Falls without

Early Friday morning, officials isolated a break in a water main that left Red Lake Falls without water Thursday.

Red Lake County Sheriff Al Morken said Friday morning that they are still asking residents to conserve water at least until Saturday. In addition, there was no school Friday.

Sheriff Morken said city crews did an outstanding job of finding the leak, and isolating it sometime early Friday morning. He said the leak was located next to the Klondike bridge next to the river. The leak drained both of the city's water towers into the river rather quickly, Morken said.

Morken said the city has contingency plans in place in the event of a fire. In the event of a fire, fire crews from Plummer and Oklee would be called to assist.

The cause of the leak has not been determined. Repair crews were expected to begin repairing the water main on Friday. When the leak was discovered crews isolated the leak and began filling the water towers.

Motorists warned of construction on Highway 2

The Minnesota Department of Transportation (Mn/DOT) is warning motorists traveling on U.S. Trunk Highway 2 between Bagley and Solway in northern Minnesota to be alert for slowing and turning traffic.

According to Duane Hill, Mn/DOT project engineer, this particular area is designated as a construction zone although work is suspended for the winter. Hill cautions, "the east bound lanes in this area are closed and traffic is merged into the west bound lanes for a 10-mile stretch. Drivers are warned that extra patrol will be in the area on a periodic basis to enforce the 55 mile per hour speed limit." Hill added, "the speed limit in the cross-over areas is 40 miles per hour but motorists should slow down and take extreme care under winter road conditions."

Mn/DOT would also like to make drivers aware that the zone is also designated as an immediate tow-away zone meaning any stalled cars along the roadside will be towed as soon as possible.

Merry Christmas to all

Kennedy woman's holiday treasures - a visual "kalas"

Christmas is a time when we can transform our surroundings in a wonderfully magical woy — twinkling lights, treasured keepsakes and new creations artistically combined to create a festive haven.

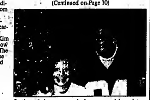
Entering the home of Cathy and Dick Johnson of Kennedy is like stepping into a fairyland as Christmas collectibles fill every nook and cranny of every room.

Christmas has always been Cathy's favorite time of year and she's been collecting decorations throughout the couple's 37-year marriage.

She particularly has a love for Santas and one could not venture to guess how many she has in her collection. In every size and made from every medium, the jolly gift-givers dominate the three-bedroom home.

Cathy's latest acquisition was a five-and-a-half-foot porcelain Father Christmas so exquisite he nearly takes one's breath away.

About six years ago, Cathy and her daughter, Kim Plaine of Hallock, were at a Cavalier, ND craft show when they discovered a pair of porcelain Santas. The woman offering them for sale was the cousin of the artist from Texas who had created them. Cathy and Kim purchased the two Santas, and for Cathy it turned out to be the beginning of a collection and special friendship.



Through the years Cathy has ordered several more of the unique porcelain-faced figures from Delores Bonlie of Texas.

Each doll is dressed in a robe of velvet with complementing undergarments made of rich fabrics such as satin or brocade. Fur trims some of the clothing while elegant cording adorns other attire. Accessories and delicate gloves make each figure a wonder in itself.

The large Father Christmas Cathy ordered from Delores this year is about twice as tall as the previous dolls she had purchased and is one of only two figures that the Texas woman has made. To make him even more special, he was delivered personally by Delores and her husband, Ernie, in June, and the friendship that the two women had fostered long distance was sealed.

This week a box arrived from Texas containing a real pocket watch and a simple note saying that Delores had added a pocket watch to her Father Christmas and she thought that Cathy's "Father Dial" should have one too.

Legislators to present ideas on farm crisis

State Senator LeRoy Stumpf will be joining Congressman Collin Peterson at community meetings in Roseau and Thief River Falls next week.

On Thursday, December 30, the two men will be at the Roseau City Auditorium at 9:00 a.m., and at the Northland Community and Technical College in Thief River Falls at 2:00 p.m.

"Collin and I are looking for some constituent input before the federal and state legislative sessions get going next year," Stumpf said. "We have a great deal to discuss."

Congressman Collin Peterson said, "Since 1996 our farmers and rural communities have experienced the changes set forth in the "Freedom to Farm" bill. As a senior member of the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Agriculture, I will have the opportunity to present my thoughts on possible changes to the Farm Bill when I return to Washington, DC in January."

The state has a projected $1.6 billion surplus that Legislators and the Governor will determine how to distribute. Stumpf has previously commented that the biggest part of the surplus should be returned to taxpayers, with a smaller portion going toward improvements in education and roads. Most importantly, Stumpf advocates for more state help for farmers.

"Farmers are still hurting, so we should continue last year's cuts in agricultural property taxes and target a good chunk of the rebate to farmers," Stumpf said.

Environment and natural resource issues will also be of great interest to northwest Minnesotans in the coming session, Stumpf said. In 2000 the state Department of Natural Resources will present proposals for the future management of Consolidated Conservation lands, gray wolf population management, the payment of overdue ditch assessments on state land and the use of All-Terrain Vehicles in state forests. The DNR will also seek fee increases of $2 for hunting licenses and $1 for fishing licenses.

"I hope people can come and give us their opinions on these issues and anything else they'd like to discuss," Stumpf said.

USDA sets next CRP sign-up for January-February

Agriculture Secretary Dan Glickman has announced that the next Conservation Reserve Program (CRP) general signup will be held during a four-week period from January 18 through February 11, 2000, in USDA local service centers across the nation.

"This is an opportunity for farmers and landowners to participate in a cost-effective, voluntary program to improve their land, water, and wildlife resources and lock in a multi-year payment based on local rental rates," Glickman said. "It is also an opportunity for participants with contracts expiring next fall to make new contract offers."

USDA will continue to evaluate and rank eligible CRP offers using an Environmental Benefits index (EBI), which is based on the potential environmental benefits gained from enrolling the land in the CRP.

Decisions on the EBI cutoff will be made after signup 20 ends. The EBI cutoff used in previous signups may not be used for this one. The cutoff is decided after analyzing the EBI numbers of all the offers.

Those who would have met previous signup EBI thresholds are not guaranteed a contract under signup 20.

"CRP is a highly successful and competitive program," said Dlickman. "I encourage all landowners to find out about the EBI before the February 11, 2000, deadline and to consult with local USDA experts on steps they can take to maximize EBI points and increase the likelihood that their bid will be accepted."

The EBI in place for the 20th signup is very similar to the EBI used for last year's signup.

The Farm Service Agency is authorized to maintain CRP enrollment up to 36.4 million acres. Approximately 31.5 million acres will be enrolled in CRP contracts as of October 1, 1999. About 400 thousand acres currently subject to CRP contracts will expire on September 30, 2000. The contracts awarded under signup 20 will become effective on October 1, 2000.

NWRDC awards arts funds

Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) recently awarded funds for arts programs in northwestern Minnesota.

With funding provided by the Minnesota State Legislature, awards totaling $10,450 were given for local regional arts development projects, and $880 was given for one Artist in the Schools projects. Also with Minnesota State Funding, one public art award wss funded for a total of $5,500. With funding provided by the McKnight Foundatian, $500 was awarded for one student artist project.

Under the Local Regional Arts Development program, Valley Community Theater of Halstad will receive $1,000 for the production of "Weekend Comedy" March 10-12, 18-19. The Thief River Falls Arts Council was awarded $1,900 for the production of "On Dolden Pond" on June 30-July 1, 2000, and $2,100 for the production of "Greater Tuna" on June 8-10, 2000. Warroad Summer Theatre will receive $1,850 for the production of "On Golden Pond" on March 23-26, 2000, and $2,100 for the production of "Oklahoma" August 2-6, and 9-13. Two Rivers Area Theatre, Red Lake Falls, was awarded $1,500 for the production of the "Odd Couple" February 18-20.

Under the Artists In the Schools program, Badger School District was awarded $880 for the sponsorship of a pen and ink and painting residency with Shelly Wokasch on March 6, 7, 13, 14, 15. The public display of the art work created by students will be on display in Badger businesses from May 15-29.

Under the Public Art Program, the City of Fosston was awarded $5,500 for Andy Nelson to create an outside mural on the theme of "the past meets the future."

Under the NWRDC/McKnight Student Artist Program, Annika Reynolds of Gary was awarded $500 to participate in a European tour for voice and flute in July 2000.

For more information on the above programs, upcoming deadlines or for information on how to apply for an arts grant, contact Mara Wittman, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 115 South Main, Warren, 56762; or call 218-745-6733.

Miner's Inc. purchases store

SuperValu store in TRF changes hands

Miner's Incorporated, a Duluth, Minnesota based retail grocery chain, has purchased the former SuperValu Foods located in the Northland Plaza Shopping Center in Thief River Falls. The sale is scheduled to be completed next week. Miner's will operate the supermarket under the trade name, "Super One Foods."

Super One Foods has been a leader in saving customers money by reducing high overhead costs and quantity buying from its suppliers. The Super One Foods format is designed to reduce overall grocery prices to the lowest total food cost for area customers.

Many area shoppers are already familiar with Super One Foods. Miner's operates a Super One Foods supermarket in Grand Forks, ND.

Miner's Inc., is a third generation family owned grocery business, which started in Grand Rapids. In addition to its Grand Forks Super One Foods location, Miner's Inc. also owns 14 other supermarkets in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan under the Super Ones Foods banner. The Company operates three other Minnesota supermarkets under the tradename "U-Save Foods" and a Piggly Wiggly supermarket in Duluth.

Santa Claus paid a visit to the Law Enforcement Center in Thief River Falls Tuesday, December 21 to distribute gifts to some special children. Santa had a little help from his friend Wandy Mattson, coordinator of Christmas for Pennington County, and several volunteers. Santa and his helpers distributed holiday gifts to 342 children in 144 families. Christmas for Pennington County is an annual event which is made possible through the contributions of many individuals and businesses.

56 give blood during Grygla/Gatzke/Skime blood drive

A total of 63 people volunteered to donate blood and 56 were able to give during the Grygla/Gatzke/Skime blood drive on December 16. Four of the donors gave blood for the first time. Sponsoring a blood drive during the Christmas holiday season is a very important responsibility. Because many donors are busy with holiday activities, they sometimes forget to allow time for donating blood.

Ralph Rundell coordinated the drive which was sponsored by the Lions and Lioness. Others who assisted were: Ione Aune, Roy Nordby, Loren Lusignan, Ardell Roen, Mildred Klemar, Alva Sparby, Phyllis Wikert, Delores Saul and Hazel Holthusen. Space to hold the drive was provided in the community center.

United Blood Services extends appreciation to those who participated at the Grygla/Gatzke/Skime blood drive for their patience since the drive was one of the first blood drives to use a newly implemented computer system.

Donations will help meet the needs of many patients in 43 areas hospitals served by United Blood Services. Blood is for sharing; you have truly given the "Gift of Life" this holiday season.

SOUPÇON

Sherry LaCoursiere
email: lacoure@spacestar.net

Since this Watch will be out December 23, I can still give you some more recipes for the holidays. Here they are – the final Christmas recipes for this year – just a mish-mash of some good things you might like to try for your Christmas feasting this year.

This treat is a tradition in many homes after Christmas Eve church services – maybe you would like to try it – it would make a wonderful first course for Christmas Eve or Christmas dinner:

OYSTER STEW

1/4 cup butter
1 1/2 cups sliced mushrooms
1/2 cup chopped onion
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon white pepper
1 pint shucked oysters, liquid reserved
4 cups milk, scalded
2 cups light cream or half and half
Lemon slices
Chopped fresh parsley

Melt butter in large saucepan over low heat. Add mushrooms and onion. Cook and stir until tender, 3 to 5 minutes.

Stir in flour, salt, Worcestershire and pepper. Cook until bubbly and stir in oysters with liquid. Add milk.

Cook until simmering and oyster edges curl. Stir in cream and heat through.

Garnish with lemon slices and parsley. Serve immediately.

Recipe serves 8.

What a nice prelude to that holiday feast – something warm in the tummy to get the chill out:

HOT MULLED CIDER

1/2 gallon apple cider
1/2 cup packed light brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons balsamic or cider vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cinnamon stick
6 whole cloves
1/2 cup applejack or bourbon (optional)

Combine all ingredients except applejack in large saucepan. Bring to a boil. Reduce heat to low.

Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in applejack. Pour into warmed punch bowl.

Yogurt makes these dips less filling and the perfect accompaniment for the beverages – serve with fresh vegetables and/or low fat crackers or chips:

CHUNKY CHILI DIP

2/3 cup plain nonfat or low fat yogurt
1/3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1/4 cup finely chopped green pepper
1/4 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons finely chopped green onion
1 tablespoon horseradish

In medium bowl, combine yogurt, mayonnaise, pepper, chili sauce, onion and horseradish, mixing well. Cover, chill before serving. Makes 1 1/2 cups.

SPLENDID SPINACH DIP

2 cups plain nonfat or low fat yogurt
1 (10 ounce) package frozen chopped spinach, thawed and squeezed dry
1/3 cup finely chopped fresh onion
2 tablespoons low fat mayonnaise
1 (1.4 ounce) package instant vegetable soup mix

In medium bowl, combine yogurt, spinach, onion, mayonnaise and soup mix. Mix well. May serve immediately or refrigerate up to 3 hours. Makes 3 cups.

CREAMY TERRAGON DIP

1 cup plain nonfat or low fat yogurt
1 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 tablespoon chopped green onion
1 tablespoon snipped fresh parsley
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon dried tarragon, crushed
Dash of freshly ground pepper

In medium bowl, combine yogurt, mayonnaise, onion, parsley, lemon juice, tarragon and pepper, mixing well. Cover and chill up to 24 hours before serving. Makes 2 cups.

Here's another tasty beverage to serve before the feast, this one is a very pretty cold treat:

SPICED RED WINE

Make grape ice ring
1/2 cup sugar
1/2 cup water
1 (750 ml) bottom Burgundy wine, chilled
2 cups white grape juice, chilled
1 cup peach schnapps, chilled

Combine sugar and water in small saucepan. Bring to a boil, then boil, stirring constantly, until sugar dissolves. Cool to room temperature.

Cover and refrigerate until chilled, about 2 hours.

Combine wine, grape juice, schnapps and sugar syrup in punch bowl. Float grape ice ring in punch bowl.

Grape Ice Ring:
2 pounds assorted seedless grapes
Lemon leaves (optional)

Fill 4 cup ring mold with water to within 3/4 inch of top. Freeze until firm, about 8 hours or overnight.

Arrange clusters of grapes and leaves on ice in a decorative manner, then fill mold with more water. Freeze solid, about 6 hours. To unmold, dip bottom of mold briefly in hot water.

One more appetizer, these not only look good, but taste great too:

HAM AND CHEESE ROLL UPS

1 (16 ounce) package cooked ham
1 (3 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
3/4 cup light sour cream
5 (9 inch) flour tortillas
4 green onions, sliced (1/4 cup).
1 cup shredded Monterey Jack or Cheddar cheese
1 cup prepared salsa

Combine cream cheese and sour cream. Spread 1/5 of the mixture on each tortilla.

Layer ham, onions and cheese on each tortilla. Roll up and wrap each tortilla in plastic wrap.

Refrigerate for at least 1 hour. Cut into 1 inch slices and place on a plate. Serve with salsa for dipping, if desired.

Not Christmas Again, But Christmas Still

Working on and around Lake of the Woods, you just don't get too excited about the Christmas season. That's not offered with any kind of an apologetic tone, it's just that Christmas offers no greater humanitarian possibilities than any other day of the year. We're always thinking Christmas up here. In short, every day is Christmas on Lake of the Woods. No, no, this isn't some gushy tribute to the Eighth Wonder of the outdoor world; I've had quite enough seasonal gush for one holiday, listening to local radio as it falls into its annual abyss of incessantly shallow yuletide tunes. Yeecchh. I think I'd rather watch a week's worth of Jimmy Houston reruns with my eyelids sewn open than listen through another country legend's updated, twangy version of "Da Tirty Point Rudolph". Back to the original point. Reminders of the compassionate, religious and open-hearted character of Christmas seem to swirl around us on a regular basis up here. So forgive me if I don't get all gushy.

For instance, a certain religious tone manages to occupy nearly every excursion out onto the big lake, regardless of the date. On an occasionally rough, January bombardier ride, for example, you'd almost swear that Billy Graham was hosting an inspirational gathering in the back of the antiquated machine, based on the number of "Jesus Christs" that rumble forth as we bounce and jostle our way over particularly rough sections of trail. Or even in the middle of July, a full six months distant from that magical December 25th date, it has always impressed me how quickly self-avowed agnostics and atheists will see "the light" as we nose through the Gap into the teeth of a freshening 30-mph northwest wind. The first 8-footer crashes over the cabin roof, the automatic bilge pumps kick in, and a convincing "Oh my God!" spits forth from the entire, awe-stricken, now-converted, crew behind me.

Geographical references, too, lead me to believe that a Lake of the Woods experience inspires on a level like that of Christmas. For example, several hours into a trip, it is not unusual for me to hear sincerely confused inquiries as to whether we are fishing Lake of the Woods or 'The Dead Sea', that legendary Mideastern body of water so appropriately nestled in the homeland of Christianity. I can only conclude that the overwhelming spiritual nature of the northwoods trip has performed some powerful, time and space transition in these people's brain, causing them to believe they are drifting ever-closer to the birthplace of Jesus.

Even the Christmas Story itself offers some fairly consistent daily connections to lake life around here, keeping the yuletide spirit alive twelve months a year. An easy argument can be made that we are the humble equals of those biblical shepherds, keeping a close eye on our finny flocks. We may not have three truly "wisemen" amongst our local ranks, but if you throw 52 of us half-witted guides into the same boat, we're probably on a collective par with 4 or 5 primates of well above-average intelligence. Gold, Frankincense, and Myrrh? Heck, I'm always bearing gold-- hammered gold with a leech is my best color! I see Myrrh everyday (Myrrhlin is his given name), he's one of my fellow guides at the resort and he's got a mystical knack for leading us to the big ones. And Frankincense? Well, I guess that's how one qualifies for "wiseman" status cause I don't have a clue about that stuff. There are other daily parallels concerning 'questionable conception' and 'barnyard animals' that crop up in both the Christmas story and our daily routines, as well, but I guess you have to be a prophet or something to discuss them publicly. We'll just leave it alone in this family oriented Christmas discussion.

Oh, and how about "Christmas Island"? It's a tiny little chunk of mud and rock up north of Big Island that barely supports the single, well shaped Spruce tree that grows there. On a snowy day like today, the name probably sounds like an obvious choice. However, Christmas Island was labeled by the long line of guides that came to fish its inviting little rock shoreline. It seems that when fishing times got particularly tough, like during a nasty June Mayfly hatch or an exceedingly sluggish September transition period, a guide could take his guests to this out-of-the-way honey hole and always, always expect good things to happen. Kind of like a perpetually available gift. Kind of like one more chance to salvage something good out of a bad situation. Kind of like a little Island of sanity amidst an occasionally overwhelming sea of despair. Kind of like Christmas.

A Visit from the Christ Child

by Pere Robert
for Marla, Ida, Isabel, Maxine and Crozet

'Twas the morning of Christmas, when all through the house
All the family was frantic, including my spouse;
For each one of them had one thing only in mind,
To examine the presents St. Nick left behind

The boxes and wrapping and ribbons and toys
Were strewn on the floor, and the volume of noise
Increased as our children begun a big fight
Over who got the video games, who got the bike.

I looked at my watch and I said, slightly nervous,
"Let's get ready for church, so we won't miss the service."
The children protested, "We don't want to pray:
We just got our presents, and we want to play!"

It dawned on me then that we had gone astray,
In confusing the purpose of this special day;
Our presents were many and very high-priced
But something was missing - that something was Christ!
I said, "Put the gifts down and let's gather together,
And I'll tell you a tale of the greatest gift ever.

"A Savior was promised when Adam first sinned,
And the hopes of the world upon Jesus were pinned.
Abraham begat Isaac, who Jacob begat,
And through David the line went to Joseph, whereat
This carpenter married a maiden with child,
Who yet was a virgin, in no way defiled.

"Saying 'Hail, full of Grace,' an archangel appeared
To Mary the Blessed, among women revered:
The Lord willed she would bear (through the Spirit) a Son.
'Said Mary to Gabriel, 'God's will be done.'

"Now Caesar commanded a tax would be paid,
And all would go home while the census was made;
Thus Joseph and Mary did leave Galilee
For the city of David to pay this new fee.

"Mary's time had arrived, but the inn had no room,
So she laid in a manger the fruit of her womb;
And both Joseph and Mary admired as He napped
The Light of the World in His swaddling clothes wrapped.

"Three wise men from the East had come looking for news
Of the birth of the Savior, the King of the Jews;
They carried great gifts as they followed a star -
Gold, frankincense, myrrh, which they'd brought from afar.

"As the shepherds watched over their flocks on that night,
The glory of God shone upon them quite bright,
And an angel explained the intent of the birth,
Saying, 'Glory to God and His peace to the earth.'

"For this was the Messiah whom prophets foretold,
A good Shepherd to bring His sheep back to the fold;
He was God become man, He would die on the cross,
He would rise from the dead to restore Adam's loss.

"Santa Claus, Christmas presents, a brightly lit pine,
Candy canes and spice eggnog are all very fine;
Let's have fun celebrating, but leave not a doubt
That Christ is what Christmas is really about"

The children right then put an end to the noise,
They dressed quickly for church, put aside all their toys;
For they knew Jesus loved them and said they were glad
That He'd died for their sins, and to save their dear Dad.

Marshall-Beltrami Annual Christmas Poem released

Cheryl Sistad, manager
Marshall-Beltrami SWCD

Another year has slid away from us and it's time once again for our Annual Christmas Poem. (What else can you do at five in the morning when you can't sleep, but have silly rhymes dancing around in your head?) So here goes - this one is to the tune of "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer".

You know Roseau and Kittson, Polk and Beltrami
There's Red Lake, Pennington and Marshall you see.
But do you recall
The most "legendary" SWCD of all...

The Marshall-Beltrami SWCD office
Had a very busy year.
And when you hear about it
You'll stand up and cheer.

After a lot of meetings
(And this was no small feat)
The Beltrami County Wetland Plan
Is just about complete.

Then after the CRP sign-up
NRCS came to say.
"Help write some of the tree plans.
That's over 80,000 trees your way!"

Using the Red Lake Game Fund
We came up with this new plan.
To cost-share on some more trees
And control erosion where we can.

The Ag. BMP Loan Program
Helps our landowners you see.
Buying equipment or installing projects
With engineering help from the JPB.

We've done a lot of education
And promotional activities abound.
Then we had the distinction
Of the "Most Humorous" float around!

Then at the state convention
The Buffer Council let it slip.
That in Area One.
We're the best at installing buffer strips.

The year is almost over
But before it's done.
We want to wish you a Merry Christmas
And a Happy New Millennium!

INFOCON Teachers Get Technology Training at UMC

The Northwest Minnesota INFOCON, is providing technology training to kindergarten through 12th grade teachers in its 13-member group.

INFOCON, comprised of public and private K-12 schools in northwestern Minnesota, received a grant from the MN Department of Children, Families and Learning in the amount of $250,000. This money provides schools with laptop computers and teachers with technology training at the University of Minnesota, Crookston.

Prior to training, the teachers completed a survey of skills and experiences with technology and are now attending sessions conducted by the UMC faculty and staff skilled in using technology applications in the classroom. UMC student aides provide hands-on assistance. The software used in the training is the latest version of Microsoft Windows and Office 2000. Proper usage of the Internet and e-mail are also covered in the classes. The teachers will be re-surveyed in May to determine the effects of the training.

It is expected that both teachers and their students will utilize technology in classroom activities such as research and analysis, writing, group projects and presentations.

Sessions began in September and will run through February to provide the training to almost 200 teachers. Each school received three laptops under the grant, which provide the mobility necessary for the teachers to participate in the hands-on training at UMC and practice at home or school between sessions.

Some teachers had not previously used a computer in the classroom and were presented with a variety of applications.

Jane Sims, UMC coordinator for the project, noted "The teachers are enthusiastic about learning new ways to help their students learn. They are excited about technology applications in their classrooms and bringing the outside world in."

INFOCON members are Climax-Shelly Public Schools, Win-E-Mac Public Schools, Red Lake Falls Public Schools, St. Phillip's School (Bemidji), Cathedral School (Crookston), Holy Rosary School (Detroit Lakes), Sacred Heart Elementary School (East Grand Forks) St. Michael's School (Mahnomen) St. Joseph's School (Moorhead) St. Mary's Mission School (Red Lake) St. Joseph's School (Red Lake Falls), St. Bernard's School (Thief River Falls), Sacred Heart High School (East Grand Forks).

Prowlers pin 59-18 dual loss on Ponies...

TRF wrestlers win home debut

Last-minute line-up adjustments by Thief River Falls head high school wrestling coach Rick Yanke paid dividends Tuesday as the Prowlers beat Warren-Alvarado-Oslo 59-18 in their 1999-2000 home debut.

It was a 12-6 match when Yanke saw an opportunity to insert freshman Mike Strutz into the line-up at 125 pounds. That pushed Beau Abrahamson, Ryan Poissant, Adam Lian, and Gavin Martell up a weight class, and also filled all 13 spots that otherwise would have included one open slot.

Strutz turned the chance to wrestle into a second period pin. Abrahamson matched that at 130 and Lian would up with a forfeit at 140. Those 18 points turned what was expected to be a competitive dual into a one-sided affair. It also made amends for a disappointing showing in a 52-28 loss to Larimore in the Prowlers' previous outing.

"I was expecting a little closer match," confessed Yanke, who watched the two teams split two down-to-the-wire encounters a year ago. "I think our kids used the match at Larimore to motivate them tonight."

Pins by Colt Bergeron and Zach Anderson provided Thief River Falls with a 12-0 head start, and the win by Strutz was a key development, according to Yanke. "That was a big win," he said. "That got the ball rolling."

Thief River Falls sophomore Philip Hermanson produced the biggest crowd response of the night with a sudden second period reversal that not only got him out of a pin situation but put the Ponies' Brett Lindenberg on his back at 160.

"Philip has done that in the past," explained Yanke. "He can come from behind. It's scary, but it's exciting to watch."

TRF 59, W-A-O 18

103 - Colt Bergeron (TRF) def. Dane Soram 2:51; 112 - Zach Anderson (TRF) def. Ryan Lindenberg :40, 119 - Adam Soram (W-A-O) def. Mike Hagen 2:59, 125 - Mike Strutz (TRF) def. Kirk Hanson 2:49; 130 - Beau Abrahamson (TRF) def. Ben Hamrik 2:16, 135 - Aaron Knoll (W-A-O) def. Ryan Poissant :36, 140 - Adam Lian (TRF) by forfeit; 145 - Josh Gornowicz (W-A-O) def. Zach Olson 3:07; hwt - Jeremy Lian (TRF) def. Hugo Otero :37.

Thief River Falls' Mike Hegen was turned upside down by Adam Sorem of Warren-Alvarado-Oslo during Tuesday's high school wrestling duel in the Lincoln gym. Sorem recorded a pin in the 119-pound match, but the Prowlers beat the Ponies 59-18.

Nordics post fourth win, 73-44

Four Marshall County Central scorers hit double figures Tuesday as the Nordics picked up a 73-44 boys high school basketball road win at East Grand Forks Sacred Heart.

David Wilcox led the winners with 17 points. Tyler Ryba had a 16-point, 10-rebound game and Jacob Distel turned in a 14-point, 8-rebound effort as Marshall County Central built quarter leads of 13-9, 35-17 and 49-29.

"We sort of dominated the game," noted Marshall County Central coach Ron Ueland. "We're bigger and better than they are. But we still made our share of mistakes both on offense and defense."

Marshall County Central shot 46 percent from the field (32/69) and went 8-for-12 at the free throw line. Sacred Heart was 17-for-52 from the floor (33 percent) and 5-for-7 at the line. The Nordics dominated the boards 42-22. The Eagles topped the turnover charts 21-17.

It was the fourth straight win to start the year for the Nordies, who will compete in the Thief River Falls Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic starting Tuesday. "We're pretty pleased," mentioned Ueland. "Potentially we can be a better team than I thought we would be."

Prowlers facing tough teams

■ Thief River Falls girls hockey squad is 5-4

Wins are harder to come by now, but it's not because of a drop in the performance level of the Thief Rive. Falls girls high school hockey team, according to co-head coach Troy Hanestad.

The first-year program was 4-1 after a 7-1 win over Park Rapids/Menahga/Nevis on Dec. 7. Since then, the Prowlers lost to Warroad 5-1 (Dec. 14), rallied from a 4-2 third period deficit to beat Duluth Central/Denfeld 5-4 in overtime (Dec. 16), fell to Brainerd 7-2 (Dec. 18) and dropped an 8-1 Tuesday decision at Moorhead.

"I think we're still getting better and better every game," said Hanestad, "but we're in the toughest part of our schedule right now. Brainerd and Moorhead are two established programs. Actually, I thought we played pretty well in both games. We have nothing to feel bad about."

It will be another challenge Tuesday when the Prowlers face a solid Fergus Falls team in a 1 p.m. game at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. That will be followed by a Monday, Jan. 3, rematch with Moorhead in Thief River Falls.

Steph Hoard, although slowed by a back problem, remains the Prowlers' top scoring threat with 18 goals. Eight-goal scorer Jenni Gonsorowski has also been a key contributor on offense, according to Hanestad.

Goalie Melissa Clark has been steady in the nets. She missed the Brainerd game, giving Amber Gilbertson her first start of the year. "Amber stepped in and did a nice job," said Hanestad.

Thief River Falls host to Russ Smith games

A 1-2 Thief River Falls team will play host to the 17th annual Russ Smith Northwest Holiday Classic boys high school basketball tournament Tuesday through Thursday, Dec. 28-30.

The Prowlers, whose latest starts include a 71-56 home court loss to Crookston (Dec. 10) and a 69-61 road victory over Warren-Alvarado-Oslo (Dec. 14), will meet Tri-County in the final Tuesday tournament quarterfinal game.

The event features both varsity (main gym) and junior varsity (auxiliary gym) games. Varsity match-ups that are scheduled for 3:15, 5, 7 and 8:45 p.m. each day will determine the pairings in the junior varsity portion of the tournament that will have games at 1:15, 3, 5 and 6:45 p.m.

Thief River Falls had strong first half performances against both Crookston and Warren-Alvarado-Oslo. The difference was, a 32-31 halftime lead disappeared over the final 16 minutes against the Pirates, while a 32-18 intermission spread provided enough cushion to withstand a third quarter rally by the Ponies. The Prowlers clinched the win with 13-for-22 free throw shooting, including a clutch 7-for-8 showing at the line by Nate Sorvig in the final two minutes.

"Overall, we've been playing pretty well," said Thief River Falls coach Bob Johnson. "Defensively, we've played well in the first half against both teams. The third quarter has been a nemesis. We need to put four quarters together."

Three-point shooting keys Fertile-Beltrami win over RLCC girls

Fertile-Beltrami out-scored Red Lake County Central 22-6 from behind the three-point circle Monday and finished with a 58-54 girls high school basketball win over the visiting Mustangs.

Tanya Erickson scored 23 points to lead the Falcons, who doubled Red Lake County Central 16-8 in the first quarter, but led only 31-29 at halftime and had a 48-43 edge to start the fourth quarter. The Mustangs had a chance at a tie or a win in the final 20 seconds, but instead, turned the ball over and then watched Fertile-Beltrami ice it with a pair of free throws.

The loss dropped the Mustangs to 4-3. "We're not playing real well right now," admitted Red Lake County Central coach Rick Koivisto.

Four Red Lake County Central scorers finished in the 10-to-12 point range, led by Heather Schiefert with a dozen. Tracy Rosten had an 11-point, 13-rebound game.

Fertile-Beltrami had a 50 percent 22-for-44 shooting night. But the Falcons were just 8-for-18 at the free throw line. Red Lake County Central went 20-for-44 from the floor (45 percent) and 12-for-19 at the line. The Mustangs had more rebounds (30-23) and more turnovers (19-10) than the Falcons.

Red Lake County Central will be back on the court Jan. 4 at Clearbrook-Gonvick.

Mustangs struggling to find some offense

Red Lake County Central boys high school basketball coach Chris McLean had one item on his Christmas wish list this year: a scorer capable of igniting the Mustangs' offense that has struggled through a 1-5 start. A 71-48 Tuesday loss at the hands of Climax/Fisher in Oklee marked the fifth time Red Lake County Central has failed to crack the 50-point barrier.

"Our biggest problem is that we're searching for someone to step up and do some scoring," explained McLean, whose team has had trouble overcoming the graduation losses of top scorers like Mark Lorenson and Nick Waldal off last year's 12-12 squad.

Karl Vigstol, a 6-3 senior who netted a game-high 22 points against the Knights, has been a consistent point-producer, but nobody else has been able to match his production, according to McLean. Darren Vanek, a 5-9 senior, is the lone returning starter from a year ago. Vigstol, Cole Mickelson and Heath Rosten also have varsity experience, but Rosten went down with an ankle injury Tuesday.

"We're not going to blow anybody off the court," acknowledged McLean, "but they (Mustangs) work really hard, and they're very eager to learn."

After opening the season at the Northland Invitational in Thief River Falls where they lost to Grygla-Gatzke 68-41, beat East Grand Forks Sacred Heart 49-45 and fell to Kittson County North 58-46 in the consolation final, the Mustangs dropped a one-sided decisions to Fertile-Beltrami 67-37 and Red Lake Falls 77-57 before taking on the Knights, the Northland champion.

Strong rebounding helped provide Climax/Fisher with a 22-7 first quarter lead and a 37-15 halftime cushion.

"We got beat in every phase of the game," said McLean. "They (Knights) shot well and rebounded very well. The first half rebounds are what broke it open; they got a lot of second shots."

Climax/Fisher finished 19-for-57 from the field (33 percent) and 19-for-24 at the free throw line. Red Lake County Central went 17-for-43 from the floor (40 percent) and 13-for-21 at the line. The Knights held a 30-25 rebound edge over the Mustangs, who topped the turnover charts 13-7.

The Mustangs will be idle until Jan. 7, when they play Marshall County Central in Plummer.

Northland women fall prey to strong Minneapolis start

Minneapolis raced to a 43-26 first half lead en route to a 69-55 win over Northland in a Dec. 11 Minnesota Community College Conference women's basketball game played at Thief River Falls.

It was the fourth straight loss after back-to-back season-opening wins for the Pioneers.

Northland shot 34 percent from the field (21/62) and went 10-for-13 at the free throw line. Minneapolis shot 47 percent from the floor (30/64) and made 7 of 10 free throws while out-rebounding the Pioneers 37-33. There were 44 turnovers in the game, 23 of them committed by Northland.

The Pioneers' Shanna Keskitalo recorded a double-double with 12 points and 12 rebounds.

Grygla-Gatzke loses to Warroad by 68-44

Grygla-Gatzke trailed from start to finish Tuesday in a 68-44 boys high school basketball loss at home to Warroad.

"We got behind early and just could never catch up," said Grygla-Gatzke coach Vern Johnson, whose team lost for the third straight time after opening the year with a pair of wins.

Warroad had quarter leads of 12-10, 28-23 and 43-33. It was a five-point game with five minutes left before necessary defensive gambles by Grygla-Gatzke opened the door for the the winners to pad their lead down the stretch. "We expanded our defense, and you know what can happen when you do that," mentioned Johnson.

Alex Holte scored a game-high 25 points for Grygla-Gatzke. "Alex had a nice game," noted Johnson. "We're asking him to do a lot of things for us, and he's responding."

Michael Peterson led Warroad with 18 points.

Grygla-Gatzke shot only 38 percent from the field (21/56). Warroad, meanwhile, shot 54 percent (29/54). At the free throw line, Grygla-Gatzke was 10-for-16 and Warroad made 8 of 11. The winners finished with a 31-24 rebound edge. The Eagles had more turnovers, 16-12.

Following a holiday break, the Eagles return to action Jan. 4 at home against Roseau.

Scoring

Hockey JV boys feature a three-game win streak

A recent four-game stretch for the Thief River Falls boys junior varsity high school hockey team began with a 5-3 loss to Blake, but was followed by wins over St. Paul Johnson 5-1, Brainerd, 5-1 and Bemidji 7-4.

Travis Collins, Cliff Juhl and Danny Almquist scored goals against Blake.

Josh Oryskiewicz picked up a pair of goals against Johnson, with Brian Newton, Mike Kimball and Paul Leister scoring one each.

Two-goal performances by Robby Anderson and Bailey Nordin, along with a single goal by Kimball, produced the win over Brainerd.

In the seven-goal effort against Bemidji, Leister and Kimball scored two goals each, while Anderson, Gryskiewicz and Almquist had one each.

Goaltending duties went to Ben Owen in the Blake and Brainerd games; John Sylvester in the Johnson and Bemidji contests.

Thief River Falls junior varsity is 4-2.

MCC girls play well in loss to Wolfpack

Marshall County Central lost a 68-50 girls high school basketball game to Kittson Central Tuesday at Newfolden, but Nordies coach Alice Dahl was anything but displeased with her team's showing against the highly-regarded Wolfpack.

"I was really happy with our performance," said Dahl. "We had some un-forced turnovers that hurt. If we could have eliminated some of those, it could have been a lot closer."

Jamie Visness collected 18 points to lead a group of four double figure scorers for the winners, who led at the quarter stops 18-10, 32-18 and 56-37. Kristi Kilen had a 16-point game for the Nordies, but she was their only double digit scorer.

Kittson Central shot 42 percent from the field (25/59) and made 12 of 16 free throw attempts. Marshall County Central shot 33 percent from the floor (20/61) and was 6-for-9 at the line. The Nordics out-rebounded the Wolfpack 24-20, but also had more turnovers, 25-16.

The loss dropped the Nordies to 3-5. "We're not where we want to be," acknowledged Dahl. "We've lost some close games."

The Nordies will return from a holiday break with a Jan. 4 game at Warroad.

AURI board commissions hemp study

It's been touted as a crop with great potential and it may be inching closer to being planted in Minnesota. Now a study commissioned by AURI will help determine what the potential really is for industrial hemp in Minnesota.

The study will examine the critical market, technical and business aspects necessary to determine the economic viability of production and value-added processing in Minnesota.

"Minnesota needs to better identify what the real-world market and value-added processing opportunities are for industrial hemp," says AURI executive director Edgar Olson. "By accessing national expertise on hemp and fiber markets, we intend to provide Minnesota farmers with valuable insights that will help them make good decisions about hemp as a possible new crop."

The study, funded by AURI, will focus on market opportunities that currently exist as well as areas where markets are most likely to be developed in the next five to 10 years. Production and processing needs will also be studied.

"If and when the federal government approves industrial hemp as a commercial crop, AURI will be working with the Minnesota Department of Agriculture and the University of Minnesota to give Minnesota farmers and industry a competitive advantage in this area," said Olson.

The study should be completed by March of 2000.

Mike Barry of Pennington Main and Square provided refreshments for the Christmas Programs at Challenger Elementary school this year. Other businesses and organizations contributing to the event included Northern State Bank and Parent Volunteers.

Now is the time for year-end tax planning

Tax legislation enacted in 1997 and 1998 will continue to play a major role year-end tax planning this year and in future years. While some of the provisions came into effect in 1999, others will not become effective until 2000.

Several things can be done to minimize taxes due for this year if action is taken now.

One of the most common strategies used to reduce tax liability is to shift income into the following tax year, and while this does not work for some, it can be an effective technique for others. Taxpayers using the cash method of accounting to report income are afforded a great deal of flexibility because income is taxed the year it is received. Delaying the receipt of year-end income is advantageous if collecting it will push the taxpayer into a higher tax bracket.

Those who are self-employed can delay year-end building so payment is not received until the following year. Employees who receive year-end bonuses might try to negotiate with their employer to receive the bonus in January. Generally, the employer can still get the deduction if the bonus is paid within the first 75 days after the new year.

Maximizing deductions is also an important element of year-end planning and is particularly important when deductions must exceed a percent of adjusted gross income. This is the case with medical expenses and miscellaneous itemized deductions. Medical deductions must exceed 7.5 percent of adjusted gross income before any deduction is allowed. Those near the threshold should pay all outstanding medical and dental bills now. Those thinking about getting new glasses or contacts should also purchase them now, adding the cost to other medical expenses. Also, trips to the doctor, dentist and pharmacy amount to a 10 cents-per-mile deduction. Employees should pay up subscriptions to professional trade journals and professional dues that come due at the end of the year instead of waiting until January. If possible, register and pay for education that will help maintain job skills.

Charitable giving is another way of reducing income. A gift made by check at the end of the year qualifies for a deduction in the year that it was written even if the charity does not receive it until the following year. Taxpayers who are close to the standard deduction amount may want to consider giving larger charitable gifts in alternating years to maximize the benefits of itemizing deductions. Timing donations is an effective way to take advantage of the higher standard deduction amount and not lose the charitable contribution deduction altogether.

The new tax legislation has provided for some additional IRAs where taxpayers can put away some extra money. Although some of these IRAs don't create an immediate tax savings because contributions are not deductible, they all provide for tax-deferred savings on the earnings. Contributions to a traditional IRA or Roth IRA can be made at any time before the due date of a tax return. However, for those who are planning on making a contribution to an Education IRA, the contribution must be made by December 31. Taxpayers are encouraged not to let this college savings opportunity pass them by.

There are several options that can be used to reduce tax liability. The key is to plan early and staying in contact your tax professional throughout the year. This is especially important for those selling investments at the end of the year or having other large increases to year-end incomes. These people may be required to increase their final estimated tax payments.

To obtain help in locating a professional tax practitioner, access the National Assn. of Tax Practitioners (NATP) member listing at www.taxprofessionals.com or call NATP at 1-800-558-3402, Ext. 3.

Soybean production conference scheduled January 25 in Crookston

Soybean production and marketing will be the focus of a Soybean Production Conference scheduled for January 25 in Crookston.

The University of Minnesota Extension Service and the Minnesota Soybean Research and Promotion Council are sponsoring the conferences. They are designed for producers and others involved in the soybean industry. Registration will open at 8:30 a.m., and the program will run from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the University of Minnesota - Crookston, Sahlstrom Hall Conference Center.

Production topics will include genetically modified soybeans, disease management, and weed biology and management. Some locations will also have sessions on iron chlorosis, soybean cyst nematode, and fertilization and inoculation.

Marketing topics will include price outlook and GMO acceptance, technology fee, limiting input costs, marketing new and old crop soybeans, contracting and weather outlook.

University of Minnesota Extension faculty members in agronomy, plant pathology, soils, applied economics, biosystems and ag engineering, and entomology will make presentations and answer questions.

The registration fee is $10 per person at the door and includes handout materials and lunch. For further information, contact the county extension office.

Cathy's Christmas Collection grows by leaps and bounds

This curly-haired angel dressed in blue and white graces Cathy Johnson's dining room. She is one of several figures hand made by Deloria Bonlie of Texas.

This table top Santa Claus dressed in ivoy and gold was a gift. He is one of hundreds of Santas that range from just inches in height to a few feet to life-size.

A Santa Claus dressed in bishop's clothes greets guests as they enter Cathy's home. His deep wine-colored robe is made from velvet. He too was made by Deloris Bonlie.

Father Olaf was the name that Cathy's brother suggested for the figure in honor of their father. He saw the doll after being diagnosed with cancer and before he died last summer. The fact that her brother named him further adds to the figure's sentimental value.

Father Olaf stands beside the living room Christmas tree which is covered with hundreds of ornaments, many of them Santas.

Fifteen additional decorated trees of various sizes can be found throughout the house each decorated with a special theme, and interesting groupings occupy every tabletop, shelf and area that isn't walked in or sat on. Pine garlands hang from the ceiling's beams, and there are lights and more garland everywhere. Christmas prints replace the pictures that regularly hang in the Johnson home, and most of the artistic holiday floral displays were made by Cathy.

While Santas are her favorite collectible, Cathy also has numerous angels, including a beautiful porcelain-faced one made by her Texas artist friend.

A collection of Santa cookie jars and teapot are among the collectibles lining the countertop space in the Johnson kitchen. A tray of Santa mugs wait to be filled with beverages for guests, and the large dining room table is usually ready for entertaining with settings of Christmas china.

What is especially unique about Cathy's decorating style is her ability to blend her interesting combination of collectibles. Top-end pieces found only in the finest stores are mixed with craft show purchases and discount store finds with every individual piece looking like it belongs in exactly the spot she placed it whether it be in the living room, a bedroom or the bath.

Cathy usually begins decorating her home for the holidays around the second week in September with groupings and placements varying from year to year. The transformation to Christmas is a complete turnaround from the blue and yellow hues that dominate the home's decorating theme throughout the rest of the year.

Husband Dick, an over-the-road trucker, appreciates her endeavors as does the rest of her family. Their daughter, Kim Plaine, lives with her family in Hallock and shares her mother's enthusiasm for seasonal decorating. The couple's son, Scott, and his family live in Superior, WI. The [illegible] has eight [illegible] [illegible] with family, Cathy enjoys entertaining friends and neighbors. For the past six years a dozen or so friends have gathered at Cathy's house for a holiday party which has been dubbed "Cathy's Kalas." Kalas is the Norwegian word for feast or treat. The festive atmosphere in the Johnson home makes a perfect backdrop for the annual gift exchange and potluck meal.

Others are always welcome to stop by and enjoy the sights at the Johnson house, too. Recently, Cathy entertained a group of Kennedy senior citizens, offering them cider and cookies following their tour of her home.

Passersby also receive a visual treat as an outdoor display of lights includes a huge dimensional angel and other figures.

Between Christmas and New Year's day, Cathy's collectibles will be packed away for another year and stored on palettes in the couple's basement until next Sept. when she will arrange the treasured keepsakes once again to be shared with family and friends.

While the home will seem bare for a few days, Cathy's heart will be filled with memories of this year's holiday as well as anticipation of Christmases to come.

Cathy Johnson and her granddaughter Caitlin sit by the life-size Santa in Cathy's living room. Cathy's brother dubbed the figure "Father Olaf." She plans to move Father Olaf into her bedroom during the off-season.

What Santa collection would be complete without a Santa at his workbench and Mrs. Claus serving tea? These two characters are between one and two feet tall.

Figurines and stockings are displayed on a shelf in the living room. A plaque on the wall states simply "Santa Collector."

In one alcove of Cathy's house there is a collection of figurines representing Santas from around the world.

Grams continues efforts to block unfair dairy laws

As the House of Representatives completes its work on the year-end spending bill, U.S. Senator Rod Grams, and Sen. Herb Kohl (D-WI) continued their effort to remove unfair dairy provisions from the bill. The two have battled to defeat attempts to keep the U.S. Department of Agriculture from implementing reform of the federal milk marketing orders and to extend the northeast interstate Dairy Compact, a price-fixing cartel that has increased milk prices for producers and consumers.

Grams stated, "As the House nears completion of the year-end spending bill, I have pledged that when it comes to the Senate, I will delay its consideration for approval because unfair dairy provisions were stuffed into it. The provisions distort markets, lowers prices for Minnesota farmers and cause consumer prices to rise all around the country. They put the interest of politicians ahead of consumes. That is wrong."

The Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact, which has been in effect since July of 1997, is a regional price-fixing cartel, which benefits only those producers within its boundaries. Grams called it a patently unfair, unabashed attempt to distort basic principles of market forces. Problems caused by the existing Compact include higher prices for consumers, resulting in decreased consumption and surplus production, which has driven down the prices of milk products, including butter, cheese, and milk powder for Midwestern producers. Those who are hurt the most are dairy farmers outside the Compact region - particularly in the Midwest - and consumers. Grams introduced legislation earlier this year to block not only the Northeast Interstate Dairy Compact, but other compacts that were in the process of being formed, such as in the Southeast.

Grams explained that those provisions were defeated in the past when brought to the Senate floor for consideration, but it now appears that politics is interfering with good policy. "While most Senators want to adjourn for the year, I will not leave without ensuring everyone in this body knows what has been done to Minnesota dairy farmers in the dark of night. If these provisions are to be attached, it will not be in a rush and hush Washington style - it will be out in the open, with the strongest objection and dissension from this Senator," said Grams.

St. Hilaire gets new ice warming house from Scout

Aaron Miller, who is aspiring to attain the rank of Eagle Scout, recently completed his Eagle Scout project and donated the warming house to the City of St. Hilaire.

The 12-foot by 16-foot warming house has vinyl siding, plexiglass windows, shingles, and benches and electrical wiring inside. Miller is a member of Troop 59, which is sponsored by Zion Lutheran Church. He personally spent 109 hours on the project and organized the efforts of about 37 other people to complete the project. With other people, he spent another 230 hours working on the project.

Miller said the project cost was estimated at over $3,200. Funds and materials were donated by the City of St. Hilaire, St. Hilaire Community Club, Thief River Falls Elks, Thief River Falls Eagles, St. Hilaire Lions, VFW, Northwest Grain, Bob Miller, Steve Miller, Lloyd Borgeron and Bruce Skaliky of St. Hilaire, and Kenneth Winkler of Fosston.

Fire destroys mobile home in Riverview

On December 21 at 11:04 a.m., the Thief River Falls Fire department was called to a fire at lot 78 in Riverview Trailer Park.

The home was a rental unit, but the owner of the home, Dean Philipp, was doing some repairs on the home when the fire started. The fire department estimates home was a total loss. There were no injuries.

The fire department was on the scene for about two hours.

USDA sets next CRP sign-up

competitive EBI under the general signup by enrolling the most environmentally desirable land under CRP's continuous signup program," Glickman said. Under the continuous signup, relatively small amounts of land serving much larger areas, such as filter strips, riparian buffers, and grass waterways, can be enrolled at any time.

Normal eligibility requirements apply, but the competitive nature of the EBI is waived because of the highly environmentally desirable nature of the practices available.

The CRP is designed to improve the Nation's natural resource base. Participants voluntarily enter into contracts with USDA to enroll erodible and other environmentally sensitive land in long term contracts for 10 to 15 years. In exchange, participants receive annual rental payments and a payment of up to 50 percent of the cost of establishing conservation practices.

The program protects millions of acres of American topsoil from erosion. By reducing water runoff and sedimentation, it also protects groundwater and helps improve the condition of lakes, rivers, ponds, and streams. Acreage enrolled in the CRP is planted to resource-conserving (vegetative) covers, which make the program the major contributor to increases in wildlife populations in many parts of the country.

Baudette health center receives MDH grant funds

LakeWood Health Center, Baudette, was one of 13 rural Minnesota hospitals recently awarded grants from the Minnesota Department of Health's Rural Hospital Planning and Transition Grant Program. The goal of the program is to preserve and improve access to health care in rural areas.

"These grants help local hospitals continue to provide the health services their communities need," Minnesota Commissioner of Health Jan Malcolm said recently. "I'm pleased to present these grants to hospitals that are working so creatively to maintain quality health care."

The grant program, enacted by the legislature in 1990, is administered by the Office of Rural Health and Primary Care. The program assists small (fewer than 50 beds) rural hospitals and their communities in developing strategic plans for preserving access to health services, and implementing transition projects to modify the type and extent of services provided.

LakeWood Health Center, Baudette, received a $25,000 grant for teleradiology needs.

MN wheat growers name new president, discuss trade

Ron Anderson, Hallock, was named president of the Minnesota Association of Wheat Growers at the organization's annual meeting held recently in Fargo, N.D.

Anderson replaces immediate past president Pete Kappes, Ada. Kappes steps down as a MAWG director after serving on the board for nine years. During that tenure, Kappes also was active in the National Association of Wheat Growers, serving as an officer of the National Association of Wheat Growers Foundation, which oversees many of the educational and leadership programs offered through the MAWG.

Mike Bruer, Alberta, was named first vice president of the MAWG board. Richard Magnusson, Roseau, was named second vice president. Gaylen Affield, Fergus Falls, was named secretary-treasurer. Also serving on the MAWG board are Tim Dufault and Donna Ulseth, both of Crookston.

At the MAWG annual meeting, members approved farm policy resolutions for 2000, addressing issues related to domestic farm programs, trade, value-added agriculture, research, taxes and grain transportation. Among the resolutions, MAWG members voted to continue to support the 1996 "Freedom to Farm" law, but only if all remaining provisions essential to the law are implemented immediately, including crop insurance reform, a better safety net, aggressive trade policies and harmonization of pesticide laws with Canada.

The MAWG held its meeting during the Prairie Grains Conference, a joint event involving the MAWG, the Minnesota Barley Growers Association, and the North Dakota Grain Growers Association. Among the speakers at the meeting was Chris Shaffer, a Washington state wheat producer who serves as a spokesman of the U.S. wheat industry at the World Trade Organization negotiations. Shaffer, who also serves as chairman of U.S. Wheat Associates (USW), the export development arm of U.S. wheat producers, briefed conference attendees about U.S. wheat industry involvement in the opening WTO ministerial meeting in Seattle, and objectives for when the negotiations continue next month in Geneva.

USW positions on five trade issues important to U.S. wheat — economic barriers, export subsidies, state trading export monopolies, unilateral sanctions, and biotechnology — are explained on USW's website http://www.uswheat.org.

Mini medical school to visit TRF Jan. 6

Medical science from University of Minnesota will makes its way to Thief River Falls Thursday, January 6, for a traveling version of the university's Mini Medical School.

Dr. Tim Ebner, professor and head of neurosciences at the university, will teach students about the human brain in a lecture titled "The Three-Pound Universe in Your Head." He will describe how the brain functions in health and in diseases such as Alzheimer's disease. Our understanding of the brain is changing, thanks to advances in molecular and cellular biology. Changing genetic sequences or growing new brain cells may someday cure diseases of the nervous system that are now incurable or treated with traditional therapies.

The university launched Mini Medical School in October, and it was met with overwhelming popularity. More than 3,000 participants inquired just three days after the six-week course was announced.

Co-sponsored by the Minnesota Hospital and Healthcare Partnership (MHHP), this Mini Medical School tour will spread the excitement throughout the state with stops in Mankato, Brainerd, Grand Rapids, Duluth, St. Cloud, Willmar, Marshall and Fergus Falls.

"We encourage anyoe who has an interest in or curiosity about the brain to join us for this Mini Medical School session," Ebner said. "But we have to warn you, it will make a mini-neuroscientist out of you."

MHHP is a trade organization representing Minnesota's 142 hospitals and 22 health systems. MHHP develops policy, conducts advocacy efforts and provides services designed to assist members in caring for the health of their communities. The university's Academic Health Center comprises the schools of medicine, dentistry, nursing and public health and the colleges of pharmacy and veterinary medicine.

Space is limited, and registration is required. Call Jeny Stumpf at the university, 612-624-1923, or Maureen Bruce at MHHP, 1-800-462-5393 by Thursday, December 30.
